THE LATEST WAR NEWS.

Special to the Intelligencer. COLUMBIA, S. C., April 12, 5 p. m. The Committee on Foreign Relations cannot agree upon a report. The Democratic members stand for independence of Cuba and armed intervention. There will be no report to-day from the Committee, which means that nothing will be done for the present. There is an understanding that the Committees are awaiting to hear from Gen. Lee.

The Republicans are rallying to the support of McKinley and his policy of not recognizing Cuban independence. Gen. Lee will likely be called before the Committee.

The Madrid dispatches indicate that quiet prevails there.

The Republican steering Committee of the House presents resolutions to the House Foreign Committee declaring that Cuba ought to be free and independent and directing the President to forthwith terminate hostilities in Cuba and secure stable and independent Republican government, and authorizing the President to use the army and navy for the purpose of carrying these resolutions into effect.

AGUST KOHN.

Special to the Intelligencer.

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 12, 8 p. m. The Democratic leaders of both Houses stand unanimously for immediate intervention, coupled with recognition of the independence of Cuban Republic.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has practically agreed on the Foraker resolutions with Cuban government admitted and the Maine incident inserted in the preface. The House favors the same resolutions practically.

Senator Pasco, of Florida, introduced a resolution authorizing the President to extend aid to the destitute Americans who have been driven from Cuba.

AGUST KOHN.

W. J. Bryan has been suggested as a candidate for Governor of Nebraska.

If every South Carolina farm owner will strive to have his land sustain its tillers he will see the price of cotton boom prosperously and a more contented toiling people than they can now dream of.

Municipal elections took place in many of the States last week, and the Democrats made heavy gains. The Democrats were successful in both Cincinnati and Chicago. Let the good work go on.

There is no denying the fact that there is more patriotism in the South than in any other section of the United States. To-day thousands of volunteers are ready to march to the front in defense of the Nation's honor.

Advices from Southwest Texas state that Spanish agents are inciting ignorant Mexicans and getting them ready on both sides of the Rio Grande to invade Texas should war be declared. Texans are preparing to dispatch them the moment they begin invasion.

President Hartzog, of Clemson College, has announced through the papers that at a recent meeting of the faculty of the College they determined to hold a farmers' institute meeting this year in every county that may wish it. He requests that the Farmers' Association in each county notify him at once if they wish to have one, so they can make all necessary arrangements for it.

Still another industrial exposition is to be held in this country before the present century expires, and Philadelphia is to be its site. A measure appropriating the handsome sum of $500,000 to this proposed enterprise has recently passed the upper branch of the national House of Representatives and is now pending in the lower branch. There seems to be no doubt that the measure will be duly enacted into law. The present decade is destined to be known in the history of this country as the decade of great industrial enterprises.

The eulogy of Senator Tillman on his late colleague, Senator Earle, of South Carolina, was, owing to the relations of the two men during years of rivalry in State politics, one of the most remarkable ever delivered in Congress. It was a manly tribute to the part of Senator Tillman, who said he gave it because he felt that if he failed to do so the history of the fame and virtues of Gen. Earle would lack the important testimony that he alone could give, and added that while his might not be the highest tribute paid, none could be more sincere and heartfelt.

Every true friend of the South Carolina Military Academy regrets the unfortunate affair that occurred in that institution last week and which has resulted in the expulsion of sixty-four of the cadets by the Board of Visitors. We are, and have always been, a strong friend of this grand old institution, and the action of the Board may be for its future good. But perhaps, like the unfortunate cadets, the members of the Board have been a little too extreme. We fully realize that strict discipline, in a military school especially, is right and proper, but boys will be boys, the world over, and we believe that all of them could have been dealt with in some other way that would have impressed the lesson on their mind throughout their lives. Four of the expelled cadets are from this County; we know them personally, and all of them are high-toned, worthy young gentlemen from among our best families. We have no doubt that the other sixty cadets are their equals in every respect. We believe all of them would have submitted to a severe punishment without a murmur. Cadet Cantey may have acted from conscientious motives, but we believe he made a fatal mistake in reporting his fellow cadets when he was not on guard duty. It seems he had done this frequently, and it was natural that he would soon be discovered and treated with contempt by his fellow cadets. Even in the common schools throughout our country a tale-bearer among the pupils is always despised by his companions. These cadets have not yet reached mature manhood, and we sincerely hope that the Board of Visitors will reconsider its action and reinstate the sixty-four cadets.

Col. R. A. Thompson has retired from the Courier at Wallhalla, having sold his interest. Messrs. Jaynes, Shelor, Smith & Steek compose the new firm that will continue the publication of the Courier, and it is safe to say that they will continue to keep it up to its former high standard. Col. Thompson is one of the oldest journalists in the State. In 1842 he entered the old Pendleton Messenger office, where he served his apprenticeship as a printer. Seven years later he became one of the publishers of the Messenger. In 1853 he removed to old Pickens and assumed editorial charge of the Courier, which was removed to Wallhalla in 1868. For more than half a century he has been continuously in journalism, and has made an enviable record. May Heaven's richest blessings continue to attend him through his declining years. To the gentlemen composing the new firm we extend the right hand of fellowship, and wish the Courier continued success.

Here are some facts gathered by an exchange about cotton that every one interested in the production of cotton would do well to study. The 9,900,000 bale crop of 1894-95 sold for $228,000,000. The 7,000,000 bales produced in 1895-96 sold for $292,000,000. The crop of 1896-97 amounted to 8,750,000 bales, sold for $327,000,000. Or the big crop of 1894-95 sold for $41,000,000 less than the succeeding year's crop, although it was nearly 3,000,000 bales larger. The crop of 1896-97 sold for $199,000,000 more and was over 1,000,000 bales less. Thus it will appear that the larger the crop the less it sells for and a 7,000,000 bale crop is really worth more to producers than a 10,000,000 bale crop. Or the more cotton the less money, a verification of the well known law of inverse proportions. Moral—Plant more corn, sow more wheat, raise more to eat.

Only seven per cent. of those persons who entered the Klondike region during the past year have been able to earn a living; no new discoveries of placers have been made during the eight months preceding November 2 last; all old claims have been taken up; there is no chance for employment for any large number of people in any capacity; there is not now, nor likely to be within twelve months, any adequate means of supplying food and shelter for the people now in Alaska or in the northwest territory, and the lawless characters are banding together for the purpose of robbery—such are the reports received from Captain Ray, the representative of the war department at Dawson City. And yet a rush has already been begun for that country, where there is nothing to eat, no work to do, and no security for life or property.

In another column we publish the latest news we could get in reference to the war situation. The President's message is a lengthy document and throws the entire responsibility on Congress. It is hard to predict what will be the result, and it may be several days yet before Congress takes final action. The Democrats favor immediate recognition of Cuban independence and the Republicans are divided.

The war department reports show that there are in the United States ten million men of military age, of which number two-thirds are available for service in the army. In South Carolina there are 153,000, of which 75 per cent. are available and all could be concentrated in 48 hours.

Handsome New Train.

The magnificent train of the Seaboard Air Line, known as the "Atlanta Special," which runs south from Washington to Atlanta, Ga., and which equipment was originally built by the Pullman Palace Car Company, is now being completely overhauled and rebuilding at the Portsmouth Shops. There is sufficient equipment for five trains. The first train will leave to-night on No. 42 to the line between Washington and Atlanta, when another train will be taken off and run in the shops. Thus in a short while the entire five trains will be rebuilt, and one train will be always in the shops being overhauled, repainted and varnished, hence the equipment will be always fresh and new. This train, up to the present time, has been considered one of the finest trains that has ever entered the depot at Atlanta or Washington. The new train, which comes from the shops is to be by far the handsomest train ever seen in the State of Virginia. This train, complete, is composed of mail, express, baggage, second-class coach, first class coach and two Pullmans. The day coach of this palace on wheels from outside apparatus is exactly like a Pullman sleeping car, seats seventy-four people. It is equipped with standard Pullman trucks from the mail car to the last sleeper and vestibule from end to end. The new color is a dark olive green with silver trimmings, with the name of the train in script letters on the side of each coach. The train is equipped with pinch light gas, having a sufficient number of chandeliers to enable the passengers to read in any part of the train. The train is heated by steam and the day coaches equipped like unto Pullman sleepers with lavatories and other conveniences. This train will be backed down to the Union Station tomorrow, and it will be a grand opportunity for the patrons of the line and the citizens generally to see one of the handsomest trains that has ever gone over the rails of any railroad. Vice President M. J. McLean, doing everything he can to make the Seaboard Air Line a model road in every possible way and he is being ably assisted by his energetic and hustling General Passenger Agent, Mr. Anderson, in looking after the patrons of the line.—Virginia and Pilot, Norfolk.

Waco Shiftings.

As I have seen nothing in your columns, Mr. Editor, from this town I will endeavor to try and give you a few thoughts. The health of our community is fine, and the farmers are all busy preparing for another crop of five (or two) cent cotton. Mr. Earle (passing) from Honora Path, gave our country a flying kick Sunday. Come again, Earle, those girls won't bite you. Miss Alma Spearman, one of your city's most charming sweet girls, spent a short stay with my friend, Mr. Bolt, last week. Our school is in a most flourishing condition under the management of Prof. Geo. T. Baker. He seems to please both the pupils and the young ladies. Last Saturday was opening day with our successful merchant, Mr. R. H. Jolly, and the display of all those beautiful goods brought many people into our town. You must not forget that it is April 80 if you get an April fool, and don't know who sent it, ask —; he can tell you as he goes rattling. Quite an enjoyable entertainment was given to the young people of this community last Thursday night at the residence of Mr. P. H. Brown. Everything was enjoyable, especially the magic lantern scene, which Mr. Baker took so much pains to exhibit.

Ways and Means to Pay for a War.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The members of the ways and means committee of the House are busily engaged with the treasury officials in the work preliminary to drafting a war revenue measure to be introduced in Congress immediately upon the opening of hostilities with Spain. An increase in the internal revenue tax on beer from $1 to $2 a barrel and a large increase in the tax on manufactured tobacco, including cigars and cigarettes, has been practically agreed upon. Bank checks, bills of exchange, drafts, deeds, mortgages and other papers of this class, patent medicines and nostrums in all probability also will be added to the list.

A rough estimate of the receipts to be derived from these sources is that the increase on these articles alone will approximate, if not exceed $100,000,000 a year. A bill providing for a temporary loan of $100,000,000 and a permanent loan of $300,000,000 to $500,000,000 at 3 per cent., payable in coin, has been prepared by the ways and means committee and will be immediately introduced in case of war.

Some things are past finding out. The love for whiskey is what staggers a man.

TO LOVERS OF GOOD BEEF.

I HAVE contracted with J. J. Pretwell for fresh meat in one hundred Fine Stall Fed Cows—no Bulls—for market during the Summer months. Everybody knows that stall fed Beef is far superior to Beef fattened on grass. In addition to handling the kind of Beef, I have the only dry air Refrigerator in the City that keeps the meat perfectly dry, thereby saving all the natural taste and sweetness; for Beef stored in a damp Refrigerator is sticky, clammy, and no matter how much ice you use, or how long you keep it, it will never get tender or taste natural. Hoping the public will appreciate my efforts to serve them with something extra fine. I am respectfully, F. M. BUTLER.

NOTICE.

THE management of the Equitable Life Assurance Society in this territory is desirous of securing the services of a man of character and ability to represent its interest with Anderson as headquarters. The right man will be thoroughly educated in the selling of life insurance and the art of successful soliciting. There is no business or profession not requiring capital which is more remunerative than a life agency conducted with energy and ability. Correspondence with me, who desire to secure permanent employment and are ambitious to attain prominence in the profession is invited. W. J. RODGER, Rock Hill, S. C.

The Silverton Standard editor views spring through this glass: "From tailor's bills, doctor's pills—deliver us. From want of gold, wives that scold, maidens old and widows bold—deliver us. From seedy coats, protested notes, billy goats and sinking boats—deliver us. From modest girls with waving curls and teeth like pearls—deliver us, never mind." The matches used in Lima, Peru, are all imported from Sweden, there being no factories in that country. The sound of a bell which can be heard 15,000 feet through the water can be heard through the air only 456 feet.

C. S. MINOR and THE 10c. STORE.

WHERE is another House that either would or could stand to absolutely fling away from one-fifth to one-half the price of a whole staple line of Goods, such as they do in their—

Glassware Sale

For six solid weeks and never flinch? There are people who cut a price here and there to advertise, but when you get there the goods have gone up. But MINOR absolutely flings 'em to the winds. Yes, let her go, Galager, until April 29. Then, and then only, shall this rampant, rip-roaring, competition-killing, cutting and slashing celebration sale of Glassware stop. Yes, it has been decided to run her right on till April 29th, and then stop her for good.

They tell you, "Hit ain't so; they can't 'ford it." Eh? Well, just come and see for yourself. MINOR has been doing these things that can't be 'forded for nine years, and every now and then he has to have more room. He's the out-swelled man I ever saw. Why, if he keeps on at this rate it will soon take the whole town to hold him! And what's the secret of it all. Spot Cash. Underbuy—Under sell. Pay the money down. Let the next man do the same thing. Prices and value do the work. Long time and long profits ain't in it. Listen, here's a tale of woe to benighted competition:

Coats' best six-cord Spool Cotton that we can sell at 2c. a Spool. Regular Table Tumblers 10c. set of six. Heavy Well Rope 28 feet for 10c. Half-gallon Pitchers 13c. each. Cream Pitchers 5c. Salts and Peppers 2c. each. Best Baking Soda, new supply, 2 1/2 lb. 100 lbs. Plug Tobacco 17c, 19c, 20c and 22c; the latter price buys as good as you have been buying for 30c. or more. Do you like to pay double price for your quid? If not, come right on. Handsome Decorated Parlor Lamps, with fancy decorated chimneys, 35 kilometers high, during this sale 24c. Reflecting Side Lamps, complete, large size, 23c. Those pretty little Night Lamps 19c. Lamp Chimneys 2c, 3c, 4c, 8c, to 10c for the 15c goods. Hand and Stand Lamps 10c, 15c, 17c, 18c, etc. Those large Vase Lamps 79c, 89c to $1.19. Heavy yard-wide Sheetting 3 1/2 yard; finer goods 4c. Spring and Summer styles in Calicoes 31c. Special prices to the trade in our Wholesale Department.

Yours always truly,

C. S. MINOR AND THE 10c. STORE.

Remarkable Rescue. Mrs. Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption, and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption; she bought a bottle, and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use, and after taking six bottles found herself sound and well; now does her own household work, and is as well as she ever was. Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at Hill-Orr Co's. Drug Store. Large bottles 50c. and $1.00.
