WEDNESDAY, JAN. 1, 1902.

A happy New Year to all of our readers!

This section is certainly having a general variety of weather.

Dr. A. S. Todd, of Stantonburg, spent Christmas in the city with his family.

A large number of visitors spent the holidays in the city with friends and relatives.

E. P. McAdams, of Santa, Ga., spent last Sunday in the city visiting relatives.

If hard winters are followed by good crop years, the farmers will be happy next year.

J. N. Watkins and family, of Greenville, spent the past week in the city with relatives.

After the Christmas holidays and activity in business, matters are comparatively dull now.

Henry S. Todd and Dr. Archer, of Columbia, spent the holidays in the city with relatives.

If an early winter makes an early spring it will come in about the first of next March.

If you contemplate buying any flour, be sure to read the new advertisement of D. C. Brown & Bro.

Miss Nevie Newell, who spent the Christmas holidays in Greenville, returned home yesterday.

B. O. Evans & Co. have a new advertisement in this paper, to which your attention is directed.

The north bound trains on the Southern Railway continue to run late on account of the heavy travel.

In their new advertisement Julius H. Weil & Co. announce a great clearance sale. Read it carefully.

If you turned over a new leaf this morning, don't quit, but keep it pure and white throughout the year.

The "matrimonial fever" is almost an epidemic in this section, and the physicians can do nothing with it.

Somebody has troubles all the time. The men who have calendars to give away are in for it just at this writing.

The Anderson Dispensary sold about $1,650 worth of liquor on Christmas Eve. Does that look like hard times?

Who is it that is not now prepared to say that the firing of cannon crackers on the public streets is not a nuisance?

J. Clarence McFall, of Danville, Va., came to the city last week to spend the holidays with his mother and other relatives.

Find out the name and number of your School District before you come to make your tax returns. This will save time and trouble.

Prof. J. Scott Murray, of Mercer University, Macon, Ga., spent the past week in Anderson visiting his mother and other relatives.

George Miller, of New York, and Reed Miller, accompanied by his sister, Miss Caro, of Birmingham, Ala., are in the city visiting relatives.

In their new advertisement the C. F. Jones Company present the compliments of the season to their many friends. Read what they say.

William D. Sifton, aged 25, was killed near Easley on Christmas Day. It is supposed he jumped the train near the home of his father-in-law, Elias Day.

Superintendent Walton and Prof. Daniel, of the Anderson Graded Schools, attended the Southern Educational Convention in Columbia last week.

W. W. Hunter, of Pratt, Texas, who left this County about 25 years ago, is visiting friends and relatives in this section, and is warmly welcomed by all of them.

Rev. T. C. Lyon will preach at Roberts Church next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The friends of the congregation are cordially invited to attend the services.

The many friends of Mrs. W. M. Sherard are delighted to know that she has about recovered from her recent severe illness and is able to resume her duties in the Postoffice.

Our young friend, George A. Martin, who has been in California for the past seven months, has returned to his home in this County, and is warmly welcomed by his friends.

Rev. O. J. Copeland requests us to announce that he will preach at Mountain Creek Church next Sunday at 8 o'clock p. m., instead of at 11 o'clock a. m., as was first announced.

Next Monday is Saleads and, as it is the first in the new year, it will no doubt attract a large crowd to the city. The Judge of Probate has several tracts of land to sell at public outcry.

Mr. N. L. Fant, mail agent between Walhalla and Belton, is taking a fifteen-days' rest. Mr. John F. Calhoun, of Clemson College, is running in Mr. Fant's place.—Keowee Courier.

Married, at the home of the bride's father, J. T. Busby, on Thursday, December 26, 1901, by Rev. John Attaway, Mr. Chas. Gray, of Hart County, Ga., and Miss Mamie Busby, of this County.

Christmas was very quiet in the city, except for the constant explosion of varied fireworks. All business was suspended from Wednesday morning until Saturday morning, and there were many pleasant and happy social occasions at nearly every home. The dispensary was also closed for three days. There was but little drunkenness, and the police force made but few arrests.

Married, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Annah Norris, in this city, on Tuesday, December 24, 1901, by Rev. S. J. Cartledge, Mr. P. H. Barton, of Lavonia, Ga., and Miss Marie Norris.

A. L. Adams, of Anderson, is visiting relatives and friends here. Pete is one of the Herald's old-time boys, and we with a host of other friends, are always glad to see him.—Laurens Herald.

The people of Augusta sympathize deeply with Anderson in that thrifty city's trial. The people there are of the right kind of material, however, and will master the situation.—Augusta Chronicle.

M. N. Mitchell and family, of the Belton section, will move in a few days up into Oconee County, in the Oakway section. We commend them to the confidence and good will of the people of their new home.

On Christmas Day, at Orrville, Mr. C. D. Dean and Miss Lizzie Evans were married, Rev. W. B. Hawkins performing the ceremony. The attendants were Mr. Jas. Dean and Miss Mary Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Dean.

The annual dance given by The Chiquola German Club last night at the Hotel Chiquola was a brilliant success. It attracted a large crowd of visitors from neighboring towns and cities, and was a most enjoyable occasion.

Miss Edna Norryce, of Anderson, who has been visiting Mrs. J. B. Badger, returned to her home Saturday. During her stay here, she made many warm friends, who regretted to see her leave.—Aiken Journal and Review.

W. C. Pettit, second hand in the spinning room of the Belton cotton mills, dropped dead while on duty last Friday at 7 o'clock, with heart disease. Mr. Pettit was about 30 years old. He leaves a wife and one child to mourn his death.

Lawrence H. Carlisle, the efficient agent of the Southern Railway at Union, S. C., spent last Sunday in the city with his father and other relatives. He was on his way home from Marion, S. C., where he had been attending the marriage of a friend.

Chiquola Lodge, Knights of Pythias, will meet to-morrow (Thursday) evening at 8 o'clock. It had been decided to have a public installation of officers and indulge in some refreshments at the conclusion of the meeting, but both have been postponed to a later date.

D. Levy and family, who have been living in Anderson for several years, left a few days ago for New York, where they will make their home in the future. Mr. Levy has been engaged here in the mercantile business, which will be continued at his old stand under the management of Isaac Faus.

The Governor and Comptroller General, by the power vested in them, have extended the time for paying State and County taxes until March 1st. Throughout the State not more than one-half of the people had paid their taxes, and the extension of the time will be greatly appreciated by them.

Dr. W. B. Cherry, an old and honored citizen of Seneca, died on Tuesday morning, Dec. 24th, of pneumonia, after an illness of a few days. The deceased was 86 years of age, and had many old friends in Anderson County who will regret to hear of his death. His remains were brought to Pendleton and interred in the Episcopal cemetery.

At the home of Mrs. Carrie Hampton, on Thursday, December 25, 1901, at 7 o'clock p. m., Mr. M. B. Roe and Miss Estella Hampton, both of this County, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by Rev. W. B. Hawkins. After the marriage ceremony the bride and groom and invited guests partook of some most delicious refreshments.

Mr. Edward R. Haynie, of Greenville, and Miss Jennie Bowie, youngest daughter of James A. Bowie, of this city, were married at the home of the bride on Christmas Day, Rev. M. B. Kelley performing the ceremony. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left the city for Greenville and were tendered a reception that evening at the home of the groom.

Supervisor Major attended the Good Roads Convention in Greenville last week. He was introduced as "the best Supervisor in the State," and Railroad Commissioner Wharton followed this up by saying that he always knew when he came into Greenwood and Anderson Counties by the good roads. He further said that a blind man could tell the difference.—Greenwood Index.

At a regular communication of Herman Lodge, No. 116, A. F. M., held at Starr on December 21st, the following officers were elected to serve the ensuing year: J. L. McGee, W. M.; J. T. Adams, S. W.; W. T. Chambers, J. W.; R. D. McMahan, Treas.; J. L. Bryan, Sec.; J. M. Brooks, S. D.; Augustus McGill, J. D.; D. G. Rampey, Tyler; W. W. Adams and E. Davis, Stewards.

On Christmas Day Newton Kelly and Edward Acker, who live in Belton Township, got into a shooting affray, with shot guns at close range. About a dozen shots were fired and both parties were perforated with shot. The shot were small, however, and neither of them were seriously hurt. Several bystanders were slightly wounded. An old grudge and whiskey were the cause of the affray.

For the benefit of the musical education of Miss Caro Miller and her mother, Reed Miller, a concert will be given by these young amateur artists at the Opera House this evening. Their brother, Geo. A. Miller, will assist them. A most pleasant evening's entertainment may be anticipated by all who attend, and we bespeak for these young people a liberal patronage. Admission prices, 25, 35 and 50 cents.

The Greenville Mountaineer of Dec. 25th says: "The friends of Rev. Wilton R. Earle, of Aspen, Colorado, will regret to learn that his condition grows more serious, and that little hope is entertained for his recovery. A surgical operation was deemed necessary, but the attending physicians did not think he could survive the shock." The many friends of Mr. Earle in Anderson County will be pained to hear of his serious condition.

Cook's Hotel at Iva, ten miles south of this city, on the S. V. R. R., was burned last Friday night. The building was owned and occupied by J. A. Cook. Very little of the furniture was saved, and the members of the family and the guests lost nearly all of their personal effects. The fire, it is believed, originated from a defective stove flue. Mr. Cook had $3,500 insurance on the building and its contents, but the loss will exceed that sum.

Married, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. M. R. Parker, in this city, on Thursday, December 26, 1901, at 9 o'clock a. m., by Rev. H. R. Murchison, assisted by Rev. S. J. Cartledge, Rev. W. J. Wyley, of Donalds, and Miss Julia Parker. Misses Mary Parker, Katherine Crayton, Lois Hill and Eunice Hill acted as maids of honor. It was a quiet marriage and witnessed only by a few intimate friends and relatives of the bride and groom.

Do you remember the winter of 1855-56? Some of the older people say that it started in very much like this one. December was a cold, rough month. The last Friday night of the year there came a 12-inch snow. That was followed by three or four other snows and sleets during January. All that month and up into February the ground was continually covered with snow. It did not all melt in ravines and shady places until March.—Carolina Spartan, Spartanburg.

Dixie Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, of this city, have just issued a most interesting and handsomely printed booklet entitled "Dixie," a copy of which has been kindly presented to us by Mrs. Sarah M. S. Quattlebaum, the efficient Secretary of the Chapter. Among other articles the booklet contains some valuable and exceedingly interesting historical papers, and the original roll of the Palmetto Riflemen, the first Company of brave volunteers who went into the civil war from Anderson. It is a publication that will surely be read with very high interest by every person who may be so fortunate as to get a copy of it.

Yesterday afternoon there was a wreck on the Southern Railway near Broadway trestle, about four miles east of the city. It happened to the passenger train due here from Belton at 3:40 o'clock. The train was made up of a loaded coal car, an oil tank car, a combination mail and express car, and two passenger coaches. Just beyond the trestle is a very abrupt curve in a cut, and here all the cars, except the engine and one passenger car, were derailed and turned over against the bank. The train had a number of passengers, but remarkable to say, not one of them or any one of the train crew were injured. The track was badly torn up for a distance of fifty feet or more. The wrecking crew and section hands soon reached the scene and will clear the track to-day. At an early hour this morning it is not known what caused the wreck.

The hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. McGill, in Rock Mills Township, on Christmas Day, was the scene of a beautiful, quiet, home wedding, when their eldest daughter, Miss Maude Palmer McGill, and Mr. James A. Stewart were united in marriage. The beautiful, impressive ceremony was performed at 3:30 o'clock p. m. by Rev. O. J. Copeland, in the presence of members of the respective families and a few invited guests. It was our good fortune to be one of the latter, having had the pleasure of riding out there with our good friend, the officiating minister. At the hour named the happy couple marched into the tastefully decorated parlor, which had been darkened by closing the blinds and then brilliantly lighted by several lamps, which lent additional beauty and solemnity to the scene. Immediately after the ceremony a most sumptuous feast of good things were spread, which were heartily enjoyed by all present. The bride is a most excellent and popular young lady of her old home section, and the groom, who is a prosperous and energetic farmer of the Starr section, is fortunate in winning her hand and heart. May Heaven's richest blessings be their portion through life.

On Christmas Day, about 3 o'clock p. m., Twine Thompson was shot and killed by Tom Rutledge. Both parties are negroes and live near the eastern suburbs of the city very near each other. The shooting occurred in a field between their houses. The difficulty seems to have originated from the fact that Thompson tied his cow in Rutledge's field. The latter called to Thompson and ordered him to take the cow away, which, Rutledge says, he refused to do, and advanced on him with an open knife, when Rutledge fired, the shot killing him instantly. Rutledge started to the city to surrender to the sheriff, claiming that he killed Thompson in self-defense. In the meantime Deputy Dillingham had heard of the killing and started for the scene. On the way he met Rutledge, whom he brought in and lodged in jail. That afternoon Coroner Banister held an inquest over the remains, and the verdict of the jury was that Thompson came to his death from a gunshot wound at the hands of Rutledge, and that Pink Wallace, another negro, was accessory after the fact. The dead negro held in his hand loosely an open knife and Wallace is suspected of having placed it there. Wallace was arrested and lodged in jail.
