The farmer is the greatest multi-millionaire in this country. In ten years he has exported $7,032,000,000 worth of stuff, and he is capable of much greater things than that. The farmer as a power in the land has no equal.

There is hardly a week but that we notice where some child has killed himself or killed his playmate by the accidental discharge of a gun or pistol. Carelessness is a sin in parents who permit their children to play with such deadly weapons.

It begins to look as if the European powers were quietly backing Uncle Sam in the Panama affair. Commerce is not by any means the only impelling motive for this. Europe would be delighted to see the United States strain the Monroe doctrine to the breaking point.

War between Russia and Japan is now regarded as practically inevitable, and official circles in Washington expect to see it begin almost any day, unless great changes come in the situation. A war between these two nations will no doubt greatly advance the price of all food products.

The defeat of the proposed Hammond County to be constructed from portions of Edgefield and Aiken counties, shows how difficult the formation of new counties is. It is pretty hard to get enough people to agree to the radical changes necessary to bring about the formation of a new county, the sole purpose being frequently for the benefit of a single isolated interest or locality.

It is passing strange that the farmers of this county do not plant broom-corn. This is a crop as easily grown as sorghum and commands as ready cash as cotton. It requires little work in cultivation or harvesting. The seed will pay all expenses of both, and the broom-corn is worth nearly $200 a ton, and has to be shipped here from the West.

The information comes from Boston that Hon. Richard Olney is a candidate for the Democratic Presidential nomination. He has consented to allow his friends to boom his name, for they tell him that he never will have a better opportunity to gain the nomination, and that the chances of a New England candidate being elected were never better.

The New York World has started a canvass to have the next Democratic national convention meet in that city. It offers $5,000 toward the fund for the purpose of securing an amount that will rent Madison Square garden for the convention. The only Democratic convention ever held in New York was thirty-six years ago. The paper claims the convention is important to New York and to the Democracy.

annual meeting of the Good Association will be held in Columbia January 17. The officers association have sent invitations to supervisors and commissioners of the State, and since the organization of Anderson County will be represented in the meeting.

was nan, of the U. S. Agriculture, who has been on the subject of agriculture last spring, has been in the State, and he says he will reach this in a few years, and advise farmers to begin at once to turn their attention to other crops. He recommends alfalfa (lucerne) for hay and for hog pasture, sorghum for fodder and silage, improved varieties of corn and kafir corn for grain. Bermuda grass for pasture, rape for green feed in winter time, but clover, hairy vetch and winter grains for winter pasture. His department has planned extensive experiments with these crops in this State this year.

Gen. James Longstreet, the last Lieutenant-General of the Confederate Army with the exception of Gen. John B. Gordon, died in Gainesville, Ga., last Saturday afternoon from an attack of acute pneumonia. He had been ill only two days. Gen. Longstreet was born in Edgefield district, S. C., Jan. 8, 1821, and was, therefore, nearly 83 years of age. His parents moved to Alabama and he was appointed to the National Academy from that State, where he graduated in 1842. He won distinction in the Mexican war, and when the Civil war began he enlisted on the Confederate side and was immediately made Brigadier-General. He had an important part in many of the battles of the war, and was known as "The Old War Horse." He was most highly esteemed by all of his soldiers, and his death will be sad news throughout the whole South. Some years ago he was appointed United States Commissioner of railroads, with headquarters at Washington, which position he held till the time of his death. He is survived by his wife, four sons and one daughter. His remains were interred at Gainesville, which has been his home since the war.

Lowndesville News.

The marriage of Miss Lily Louise Hucklebee to Mr. William Whitmore Thompson, last Wednesday evening, the 27th ult., in the Methodist Church, was an occasion in which the friends of the contracting party felt an especial and close interest. The wedding was beautiful in every detail, even unto our famous wedding cake, which was fully up to the most ideal standard. The Church was beautifully decorated, the colors being white and green. The bridal ceremony opened with the wedding march, played by Miss Zula Brock, of Anderson, at which the doors opening on the side aisles were opened and the two little flower girls, little Misses Loma Cooley and Murphy, of Anderson, marched up the aisle, opening the gates through which the bridal party passed. Then followed the nuptials, Messrs. Gordon Spicer and Roscoe Moseley, who took their stand on each side of the altar. Then came the attendants in the following order: Messrs. Mark Spicer and Gamewell Hucklebee, who were met on the altar by Misses Ella Floyd and Ella May Kay; Messrs. R. J. Hutchison and Ellis Hucklebee, who were met by Misses Louise Murphy, of Anderson, and Annie Barber, of Gambrell, of Honea Path, and Rev. L. E. Wallace, who were met by Misses Helen Barber and Sallie Mann; Messrs. Ralph Mason and Jack Cooley, of Williamston, who were met by Misses Montague Hucklebee, a niece of the bride, and Leslie Meloy, of Greenwood; Messrs. Mark J. Cooley, of Honea Path, and Frances Morrah, of Mt. Carmel. The attendants formed a semi-circle. Then came the bride, leaning on the arm of her maid of honor, Miss Annie Lon Power, of Augusta, and the groom on the arm of his best man, Mr. R. H. Moseley, meeting in front, where the ceremony was impressively performed by Rev. R. W. Barber.

The bride was a picture of dignified and lovely womanhood. She wore a beautiful gown of crepe de chine over white satin, and carried a lovely bouquet of brides roses and ferns. The bridesmaids' gowns were white orquid with lace and ribbon trimming with green sashes, and bore upon their arms lovely ferns.

The little flower girls wore pictures of loveliness in white orquid. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hucklebee. Her personal beauty is enhanced by a rare charm of manner, and her fine qualities have drawn about her a circle of devoted friends.

Mr. Thompson is equally as popular as his lovely bride, and a young man of sterling qualities. Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride on Main Street. The many presents they received show the high esteem in which the young couple are held.

Those who attended the wedding from out of town were Mrs. Linder, of Hartwell, Ga.; Mrs. Cooley and son, of Williamston; Miss Mary Lewis, of Pelton; Mrs. Annie Moss, Mrs. Laura Watson, of Anderson; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Prince, of Williamston; Mrs. Rob Moseley, of Ninety-Six; and Mr. Treseott, of Augusta.

Dr. J. L. Fennel, of Waterloo, was married the 23rd to Miss Allie Mildred Anderson, of that place. They arrived here on the 24th, where they spent the holidays with the groom's parents. Dr. Fennel is a rising young physician, and has won for his bride a lovely young woman, and happily does she combine all the graces and charms of the sweet womanly woman.

Dr. Jacobs Thanks His Friends.

Thornwell Orphanage, Clinton, S. C., Dec. 23, 1903.

My dear Mr. Langston—I have just received from Mr. Thomas A. Ruffin, Jr., a check for $5, and also a large box of various supplies for the orphanage, the donation from about twenty of our Anderson friends.

This contribution, he tells me, we owe to your untiring efforts in behalf of the orphanage. Now I want to thank you, first of all, for the great pains you have taken, and then through your paper I hope you will also let me have the privilege of thanking these generous friends for their donations to the needs of our orphanage, a list of whom is enclosed. This aid sent is gratefully appreciated and thankfully received, but what is more to the purpose, it will greatly help our orphan household. The family is now a large one, two hundred and thirty in all, and to care for them is no light task. I feel profoundly grateful to the friends for their help, and earnestly pray the richest blessings of God upon the generous donors.

Gratefully yours, W. I. Jacobs.

Was in Bed Four Weeks With La Grippe.

We have received the following letter from Mr. Roy Kemp, of Angola, Ind.

"I was in bed four weeks with la grippe and I tried many remedies and spent considerable for treatment with physicians, but I received no relief until I tried Foley's Honey and Tar. Two small bottles of this medicine cured me and now I use it exclusively in my family." Take no substitutes.—Evans' Pharmacy.
