Killed by Accidental Discharge of Pistol.

T. Y. Cox, an operative in the Belton Cotton mill, was killed Thursday afternoon by the accidental discharge of his pistol which he was in the act of cleaning. He and a companion, Henry Stowe, were together and both had just cleaned their weapons when young Cox began snapping his pistol to see if it would work. It seems that he was ignorant of the fact that there was still a load in it, and when he snapped it the weapon was discharged and the bullet penetrated the young man's heart, producing instant death. Mr. Cox was a young man about 18 years of age.

Death of Mrs. Eliza Skelton.

Mrs. Eliza Skelton, one of the oldest and most highly esteemed residents of the city, died at her home on North Main street Friday night. Her death was due primarily to the infirmities of old age, she having been a little more than 85 years old.

Mrs. Skelton was a daughter of the late Aaron Vandiver who lived in the Neal's Creek section of the county. She was married in her young womanhood to John W. Skelton, who died in 1894. No children were born of this union. She leaves a sister surviving her in Texas, and the only other near relatives her niece, Mrs. J. P. Sullivan, and J. K. and W. A. Vandiver, nephews of this city.

Mrs. Skelton was a woman of strong convictions and was a devoted member of the First Baptist Church of this city where the funeral exercises were held Sunday afternoon. Rev. F. E. Estes conducted the exercises in the absence of Dr. Chapman. The interment was in Silver Brook cemetery.

Death of John W. Shearer.

John W. Shearer died at his home in Rock Mills Township Friday night. He had been in failing health and his death was not unexpected.

Mr. Shearer was 74 years of age. For the greater part of his life he had been a resident of the Roberts section of the county where he devoted himself to farming. During the last two years of his life he went to the front and did active service in the field. He was a staunch Mason, being one of the oldest members of Hiram Lodge of this city. Mr. Shearer is survived by his wife, who before her marriage was Miss Louise Gaines, and by the following children: J. W. and W. H. Shearer, of this city, and Mrs. James A. Shirley, of the county. Mrs. Mattie P. McClure, another daughter, died several years ago.

The funeral services were held Saturday morning from the residence, after which the remains were brought to the city and interred in Silver Brook cemetery.

Flagman McKenzie Crushed to Death.

James J. McKenzie, a flagman on the Columbia and Greenville railroad, was crushed to death between the cars Wednesday afternoon at Williamston. The train had stopped on the siding to take on a car, and the young man fell in his first attempt to make the coupling. Then he gave a signal to the engineer to move ahead, and as the train advanced he proceeded forward to the center of the track to adjust the knuckle of the coupling to which he intended coupling the car he was picking up. He failed to notice that the car behind was rolling toward him, and before he could get out of the way the two cars came together, crushing the unfortunate man between them. Mr. McKenzie was so terribly crushed that death resulted almost instantly. He is a son of W. G. McKenzie, formerly of Piedmont, and a young man of about 28 years of age.

Col. Patrick for Adjutant and Inspector General.

The announcement that Adjutant and Inspector General Frost will retire from politics at the expiration of his present term brings into prominence the gentlemen who will probably be candidates to succeed him. Col. J. M. Patrick of this city, assistant to Gen. Frost, announced some time ago that he would be in the race in case of Gen. Frost's retirement. Col. Patrick has made a good official and the people of the State could not do better than to bestow this honor upon a worthy and capable man.

The Columbia State of Sunday says: "Col. Jno. M. Patrick, the efficient and courteous assistant adjutant general, has also been mentioned as the 'logical candidate.'" Col. Patrick has had charge of annual inspections, and has demonstrated his fitness in a technical way. He has also given his time to the encampments and has displayed not a little executive ability. He is very cordially liked and would make a strong race, as he did three years ago when he opposed Gen. Frost in the race to succeed Gen. Frost.
