

Of Ourselves.

As an evidence of the extreme kindness to us of the good people of this community, we mention that, at an early hour yesterday, we had not a copy of that day's issue left in our office.

From the commencement of the publication of the "News" (two weeks ago), the patronage of the people, both as subscribers and advertisers, has been steadily and largely increasing.

THE CONVENTION of the People of South Carolina, to assemble on the thirteenth of September, and the delegates to which are to be elected one week from Monday next, will be invoked to subjects of very grave importance.

There is one thing favorable in the present condition of our State. There are no parties, no feelings of personal or political hostility, to pull men beyond a sense of propriety.

In transcending these, however, and entering upon the field open by the inquiry what shall be the relations between the races thus brought into contact in the relations of natural equality,

There has been so much nonsense published lately concerning DAVIS and his trial, that we have no doubt the public has had quite enough of "reliable" information on the subject.

It is not evident what are the measures competent to secure us against such a calamity. We have no experience to guide us; the subject has been little illuminated by the lights of intellect.

RADICAL Northern papers assail the President's appointments of Provisional Governors, and thus undertake to destroy confidence in his administration.

would have acquired power. Except in a single instance, we can recall no case where one of these Executives has shown a serious degree of unwisdom, or lack of patriotism, and that we shall probably soon hear further from it.

IS ANOTHER COLUMN will be found, copied from the Memphis, Tenn., Daily Commercial, a proposition for holding a convention of delegates from the Southern States, to declare the sentiments of their constituents, and their own, upon their late and present relations to the General Government.

This course is urged as necessary to disabuse the public mind of the erroneous impressions made upon it respecting the disposition of the South, by gross misrepresentations, exaggeration, and all those means of deception resorted to by vicious correspondents to mislead the convictions of the Northern people.

Previous to the evacuation the general business of the city could have been put down as only trifling, for though there was an appearance of bustle, of transportation of merchandise, traffic, and other matters that denote mercantile occupation, it really did not exist to any extent.

It is estimated that there are now at least 80,000,000 copies of the Bible in existence, and yet but a small number are of its contents.

It is said a human body has twenty-eight miles of drainage through its seven million pores. That isn't enough to cleanse some we have seen.

Queen Victoria took a pleasure trip by rail recently, and she was strewn on the top of the car to prevent her temper being affected by the heat.

A negro barber was tarred and feathered last week, in Greenport, L. I., for insulting a white lady.

Andrew Thompson lately shot and killed Mary Elmore, at Smyrna, Del., because Mary loved somebody else better than she did Andrew.

There are said to be seventy-four divorce cases awaiting trial at LaCrosse, Wisconsin. Every complainant is said to be a soldier or a soldier's wife.

A New York paper, contrasting the North with the South, says that labor in the former goes on like clock-work. Exactly—striking all the time—Exchange.

A gentleman in Fairfield, Maine, is inquiring for his pantaloons and fourteen hundred dollars in the pockets, taken from his bed-room in the dead of night, recently.

The Phoenix Bank defaulting teller, Jenkins, didn't want to tell how much money he had taken, for fear it would make the officers of the bank feel bad. Tender-hearted Jenkins!

The exports of petroleum from January 1st to July 14th of the present year, were 13,335,217 gallons, for the same time last year, 5,444,094 gallons. So much taken from the whale oil trade, which the whales will not regret.

A French company has determined to establish a line of first-class packets between France and America. They are to be at least 900-horse power, and perform the voyage between Brest and New York in less than ten days.

Conciliation, and not confiscation, is what is needed to win back the South and send her forward in a new career of prosperity, says the N. Y. Com. Advertiser. This is a hard pill from a Republican doctor, for radicals to swallow.

A witness in the Police Court at Troy, a few days since, answered "no" so persistently to questions put to him, that the suspicions of the Judge were excited, and on making inquiries he found the fellow was a Dutchman who did not understand another word of English.

The Richmond Bulletin says: "It has pleased God to bless the Southern States with the most abundant and wonderful corn crop ever known, and we are, therefore, saved from all danger of famine and suffering for want of food.

A census taker up in Otsego county, N. Y., in his return has the following item, which is given literally: "Remarks on the influence of the interest controls the Man—Religion has become a collateral issue—The god Bachus becomes a fire in every hearth! and card playing becomes the pastime of Christian homes."

Mr. Fowler, the phonologist, writes to Mr. Garrison the abolitionist: "I rejoice that you were enabled to go to Fort Sumter to help raise our noble flag on that renowned old ruin. It must have made you feel that God is on the side of the right, and that truth ultimately will prevail."

The National Intelligencer says the danger to the country, as far as indicated now, lies in the agitation, the denunciations, the distrust, the misrepresentations, the exactions, the threats which some radicals constantly persist in leveling against the South—as if their purpose was to drive that people from us and into the utter darkness of confusion, degradation, and despair.

Attorney-General Speed's opinion rendered to Secretary McCulloch upon claims for cotton captured by Sherman in Savannah, decides that all cotton taken by military forces in insurrectionary districts is captured property, within the meaning of the statute of 1862, whether owned by loyal men or not.

VARIOUS ITEMS

Compiled haphazardly for the Daily News.

Ice is made by machinery in Augusta, Ga. A youth of 85 married a maiden of 75 in Xenia, Ohio, last week.

Washington is described as at the extreme of dullness. An Augusta paper says none of the ladies of Georgia are secessionists.

The Louisville Journal speaks of the abduction of Sanders as petty larceny. Seventy tons of mail matter are daily assorted in the N. Y. postoffice.

The Richmond Whig calls ex-Senator Foot's last letter a "slip-flap." Gen. Early, in Washington, is said to be drunk early and late.

A New York financier suggests a 3 per cent. consolidation of the national debt. The reports of negro behavior at the South are thought to be highly colored.—Boston Post.

"Show your spirit" is the slang for bring out your whiskey in New York. An unimpudent traveler writes that it will take a long time yet to settle Connecticut.

There is a close fight between Nebraska and North Carolina for emigrants. The Red River expedition was a real attack of "the army worm" on the cotton crop.

The new financial theory—"A national debt is a national blessing in disguise." Slavery is no longer an institution in this country, but the nigger is an immense one.—Preston.

Gen. N. P. Banks has been admitted to practice as a lawyer in New Orleans. The burning of Barnum's Museum brought the poor whale to such grief that he blubbered.

A young woman died from excessive laughter in New York last week. The Connecticut Legislature raised their pay to $3 per day.

A beautiful young girl in Michigan has eloped with and married her father's negro coachman. Great mortality among the negroes at Macon, Georgia.

The Taunton Gazette thinks the Atlantic cable isn't yet dead broke. But the stockholders will be. Colt's pistol factory at Hartford finds it necessary to run twenty hours per day to fill its orders.

A man in Burlington, Vt., has eloped with three women. His friends are anxious for his safety. Man is said to be a being of many trials, but Jeff Davis complains that he can't have one.—N. Y. Sat. Press.

Anna Dickinson says she has as much right to make a speech as to make a pudding. She cannot do either. A German young woman in Chicago sought to poison her husband, and was quite unhappy at the ill-success of her attempt.

Fifty thousand idiots or imbeciles are supposed to exist in Great Britain.—English Paper. Great many more.—Charleston News.

Josh Billings writes from Cape May: "There is one church here, but it won't hold but so fu that nobody don't go out of politeness." It is the fashion in Paris now to have a pet monkey attired in costume and trained to act as a footman. Four legs is not always the rule.

A dissatisfied tax payer characterizes the revenue laws as an imposition and the assessors as "imposters." A man who had lost $1500 at faro, was prevented by the police from hanging himself to a lamp-post in a street in New York.

Queen Victoria took a pleasure trip by rail recently, and she was strewn on the top of the car to prevent her temper being affected by the heat. A negro barber was tarred and feathered last week, in Greenport, L. I., for insulting a white lady.

Andrew Thompson lately shot and killed Mary Elmore, at Smyrna, Del., because Mary loved somebody else better than she did Andrew.

There are said to be seventy-four divorce cases awaiting trial at LaCrosse, Wisconsin. Every complainant is said to be a soldier or a soldier's wife.

A New York paper, contrasting the North with the South, says that labor in the former goes on like clock-work. Exactly—striking all the time—Exchange.

A gentleman in Fairfield, Maine, is inquiring for his pantaloons and fourteen hundred dollars in the pockets, taken from his bed-room in the dead of night, recently.

The Phoenix Bank defaulting teller, Jenkins, didn't want to tell how much money he had taken, for fear it would make the officers of the bank feel bad. Tender-hearted Jenkins!

The exports of petroleum from January 1st to July 14th of the present year, were 13,335,217 gallons, for the same time last year, 5,444,094 gallons. So much taken from the whale oil trade, which the whales will not regret.

A French company has determined to establish a line of first-class packets between France and America. They are to be at least 900-horse power, and perform the voyage between Brest and New York in less than ten days.

Conciliation, and not confiscation, is what is needed to win back the South and send her forward in a new career of prosperity, says the N. Y. Com. Advertiser. This is a hard pill from a Republican doctor, for radicals to swallow.

A witness in the Police Court at Troy, a few days since, answered "no" so persistently to questions put to him, that the suspicions of the Judge were excited, and on making inquiries he found the fellow was a Dutchman who did not understand another word of English.

The Richmond Bulletin says: "It has pleased God to bless the Southern States with the most abundant and wonderful corn crop ever known, and we are, therefore, saved from all danger of famine and suffering for want of food.

A census taker up in Otsego county, N. Y., in his return has the following item, which is given literally: "Remarks on the influence of the interest controls the Man—Religion has become a collateral issue—The god Bachus becomes a fire in every hearth! and card playing becomes the pastime of Christian homes."

Mr. Fowler, the phonologist, writes to Mr. Garrison the abolitionist: "I rejoice that you were enabled to go to Fort Sumter to help raise our noble flag on that renowned old ruin. It must have made you feel that God is on the side of the right, and that truth ultimately will prevail."

The National Intelligencer says the danger to the country, as far as indicated now, lies in the agitation, the denunciations, the distrust, the misrepresentations, the exactions, the threats which some radicals constantly persist in leveling against the South—as if their purpose was to drive that people from us and into the utter darkness of confusion, degradation, and despair.

Attorney-General Speed's opinion rendered to Secretary McCulloch upon claims for cotton captured by Sherman in Savannah, decides that all cotton taken by military forces in insurrectionary districts is captured property, within the meaning of the statute of 1862, whether owned by loyal men or not.

His cell is so situated that he can see from his window the whole interior of the fort, and he was recognized by acquaintances of the Seventy-first. A fourth prisoner is a British captain, a blockade runner; and a fifth party who refused to take the oath of allegiance. Regan is allowed to take an hour's walk each day, attended by a guard.

STEPHENS AND REGAN AT FORT WARREN.—The Boston Traveler of a late date says: There are now but five prisoners at Fort Warren. Vice-President Stephens for the last ten days has been released from close confinement, and is permitted to walk wherever he pleases in the fort between reveille and retreat, and even ascend the ramparts. He is always unguarded, and seems to appreciate his relief from his dungeon.

Another prisoner is Mr. Regan, the late Confederate Postmaster-General. A third is Charles Chesire, formerly one of the Supervisors of Brooklyn, N. Y., who is in close imprisonment for frauds practiced in the recruiting department, his sentence being six months' imprisonment and fine of twenty thousand dollars.

His cell is so situated that he can see from his window the whole interior of the fort, and he was recognized by acquaintances of the Seventy-first. A fourth prisoner is a British captain, a blockade runner; and a fifth party who refused to take the oath of allegiance. Regan is allowed to take an hour's walk each day, attended by a guard.

His cell is so situated that he can see from his window the whole interior of the fort, and he was recognized by acquaintances of the Seventy-first. A fourth prisoner is a British captain, a blockade runner; and a fifth party who refused to take the oath of allegiance. Regan is allowed to take an hour's walk each day, attended by a guard.

His cell is so situated that he can see from his window the whole interior of the fort, and he was recognized by acquaintances of the Seventy-first. A fourth prisoner is a British captain, a blockade runner; and a fifth party who refused to take the oath of allegiance. Regan is allowed to take an hour's walk each day, attended by a guard.

His cell is so situated that he can see from his window the whole interior of the fort, and he was recognized by acquaintances of the Seventy-first. A fourth prisoner is a British captain, a blockade runner; and a fifth party who refused to take the oath of allegiance. Regan is allowed to take an hour's walk each day, attended by a guard.

His cell is so situated that he can see from his window the whole interior of the fort, and he was recognized by acquaintances of the Seventy-first. A fourth prisoner is a British captain, a blockade runner; and a fifth party who refused to take the oath of allegiance. Regan is allowed to take an hour's walk each day, attended by a guard.

His cell is so situated that he can see from his window the whole interior of the fort, and he was recognized by acquaintances of the Seventy-first. A fourth prisoner is a British captain, a blockade runner; and a fifth party who refused to take the oath of allegiance. Regan is allowed to take an hour's walk each day, attended by a guard.

His cell is so situated that he can see from his window the whole interior of the fort, and he was recognized by acquaintances of the Seventy-first. A fourth prisoner is a British captain, a blockade runner; and a fifth party who refused to take the oath of allegiance. Regan is allowed to take an hour's walk each day, attended by a guard.

His cell is so situated that he can see from his window the whole interior of the fort, and he was recognized by acquaintances of the Seventy-first. A fourth prisoner is a British captain, a blockade runner; and a fifth party who refused to take the oath of allegiance. Regan is allowed to take an hour's walk each day, attended by a guard.

His cell is so situated that he can see from his window the whole interior of the fort, and he was recognized by acquaintances of the Seventy-first. A fourth prisoner is a British captain, a blockade runner; and a fifth party who refused to take the oath of allegiance. Regan is allowed to take an hour's walk each day, attended by a guard.

His cell is so situated that he can see from his window the whole interior of the fort, and he was recognized by acquaintances of the Seventy-first. A fourth prisoner is a British captain, a blockade runner; and a fifth party who refused to take the oath of allegiance. Regan is allowed to take an hour's walk each day, attended by a guard.

tion appointed either by the President or Secretary of the Treasury, to examine claims in the question and to make restoration of the proceeds of such of this cotton as may belong to loyal claimants.

Southerners in Mexico. LETTERS FROM AN EX-REBEL OFFICER. The St. Louis Republic publishes the following:

Having seen various reports as to the names and number of those officers of the Confederate army who went to Mexico, I submit the following, having been one of the party, and returned to this city yesterday, from Monterey.

General Taylor, upon whose staff I was when the war closed, determined to take his parole and join his family in Europe. With this view he went to Galveston with his staff, June 9th, where he met President Johnson's proclamation; and being exempted from the amnesty, from having been a graduate of West point, he at once determined to leave the country by way of Mexico.

He left Galveston on the 15th on horseback, leaving with me three pack mules, and reached San Antonio on the 19th, where we met General Shelby with a force of about three hundred men; also Generals E. K. Smith, Price, Wilcox, of Mississippi, Hays, Frank Gordon, Jackson, Governors Allen and Moore, of Louisiana, and Governor Marral, of Texas. The whole party left San Antonio on the 20th, and traveled without interruption, reaching Eagle Pass on the 25th.

We were treated civilly, yet were closely watched by the Liberal party, who were in possession of the Texas Rangers. From here we pushed on rapidly to Monterey. Some of the party report having been stopped by robbers, though I saw none.

We reached Monterey, July 2, and found the place occupied by the French, one thousand strong; the liberal general having fallen back upon Monclova with five thousand men. He was a member of the Cotton Bureau, and was a man of fight, but upon the approach of the French he fled rapidly to Monclova. The French treated us with great kindness, and they seem to look upon their trip to the mountains as a summer excursion.

They keep no pickets nor guard in the city. Every house is open to the French, and they assemble at midnight, when all Monterey is in arms, and enjoys itself. The odd nights the theatre is opened and again all Monterey is present.

At Monterey we found General Preston, of Kentucky; General Hindman, General Hardiman, of Texas; T. C. Reynolds, of Missouri; Colonel Broadway, of the Cotton Bureau; besides many colonels and officers of lesser rank. At this place the party dissolved. General Smith went to Havana, General Magruder to Germany, where his family is; General Price to Rio, all by the way of the city of Mexico, as the roads to Tampico and the Matamoros are in the possession of robbers. Besides these are a weekly line of steamers from Vera Cruz to Liverpool, by the way of the Cape Verde Islands.

Ex-Governor Trusten Polk left San Antonio on the 25th of June, and I heard of his reaching Eagle Pass in safety. General John B. Clark, Sr., in company with an ex-Senator from Louisiana, also passed through San Antonio a few days after General Taylor.

The French admire Shelby very much, and were anxious he should join their service. From what I saw, and from what the Duke of Ekleghen told me, I think Shelby will be offered a Brigadier-General's command, if he will accept it. They allow enlistments for one year and upwards, in the cavalry, and give them fifty dollars per month.

General Taylor, Monterey, owing to the blockade of the roads, and at Matamoros, General Magruder to Germany, where his family is; General Price to Rio, all by the way of the city of Mexico, as the roads to Tampico and the Matamoros are in the possession of robbers. Besides these are a weekly line of steamers from Vera Cruz to Liverpool, by the way of the Cape Verde Islands.

Ex-Governor Trusten Polk left San Antonio on the 25th of June, and I heard of his reaching Eagle Pass in safety. General John B. Clark, Sr., in company with an ex-Senator from Louisiana, also passed through San Antonio a few days after General Taylor.

The French admire Shelby very much, and were anxious he should join their service. From what I saw, and from what the Duke of Ekleghen told me, I think Shelby will be offered a Brigadier-General's command, if he will accept it. They allow enlistments for one year and upwards, in the cavalry, and give them fifty dollars per month.

General Taylor, Monterey, owing to the blockade of the roads, and at Matamoros, General Magruder to Germany, where his family is; General Price to Rio, all by the way of the city of Mexico, as the roads to Tampico and the Matamoros are in the possession of robbers. Besides these are a weekly line of steamers from Vera Cruz to Liverpool, by the way of the Cape Verde Islands.

Ex-Governor Trusten Polk left San Antonio on the 25th of June, and I heard of his reaching Eagle Pass in safety. General John B. Clark, Sr., in company with an ex-Senator from Louisiana, also passed through San Antonio a few days after General Taylor.

The French admire Shelby very much, and were anxious he should join their service. From what I saw, and from what the Duke of Ekleghen told me, I think Shelby will be offered a Brigadier-General's command, if he will accept it. They allow enlistments for one year and upwards, in the cavalry, and give them fifty dollars per month.

General Taylor, Monterey, owing to the blockade of the roads, and at Matamoros, General Magruder to Germany, where his family is; General Price to Rio, all by the way of the city of Mexico, as the roads to Tampico and the Matamoros are in the possession of robbers. Besides these are a weekly line of steamers from Vera Cruz to Liverpool, by the way of the Cape Verde Islands.

Ex-Governor Trusten Polk left San Antonio on the 25th of June, and I heard of his reaching Eagle Pass in safety. General John B. Clark, Sr., in company with an ex-Senator from Louisiana, also passed through San Antonio a few days after General Taylor.

The French admire Shelby very much, and were anxious he should join their service. From what I saw, and from what the Duke of Ekleghen told me, I think Shelby will be offered a Brigadier-General's command, if he will accept it. They allow enlistments for one year and upwards, in the cavalry, and give them fifty dollars per month.

General Taylor, Monterey, owing to the blockade of the roads, and at Matamoros, General Magruder to Germany, where his family is; General Price to Rio, all by the way of the city of Mexico, as the roads to Tampico and the Matamoros are in the possession of robbers. Besides these are a weekly line of steamers from Vera Cruz to Liverpool, by the way of the Cape Verde Islands.

Ex-Governor Trusten Polk left San Antonio on the 25th of June, and I heard of his reaching Eagle Pass in safety. General John B. Clark, Sr., in company with an ex-Senator from Louisiana, also passed through San Antonio a few days after General Taylor.

The French admire Shelby very much, and were anxious he should join their service. From what I saw, and from what the Duke of Ekleghen told me, I think Shelby will be offered a Brigadier-General's command, if he will accept it. They allow enlistments for one year and upwards, in the cavalry, and give them fifty dollars per month.

General Taylor, Monterey, owing to the blockade of the roads, and at Matamoros, General Magruder to Germany, where his family is; General Price to Rio, all by the way of the city of Mexico, as the roads to Tampico and the Matamoros are in the possession of robbers. Besides these are a weekly line of steamers from Vera Cruz to Liverpool, by the way of the Cape Verde Islands.

Ex-Governor Trusten Polk left San Antonio on the 25th of June, and I heard of his reaching Eagle Pass in safety. General John B. Clark, Sr., in company with an ex-Senator from Louisiana, also passed through San Antonio a few days after General Taylor.

The French admire Shelby very much, and were anxious he should join their service. From what I saw, and from what the Duke of Ekleghen told me, I think Shelby will be offered a Brigadier-General's command, if he will accept it. They allow enlistments for one year and upwards, in the cavalry, and give them fifty dollars per month.

General Taylor, Monterey, owing to the blockade of the roads, and at Matamoros, General Magruder to Germany, where his family is; General Price to Rio, all by the way of the city of Mexico, as the roads to Tampico and the Matamoros are in the possession of robbers. Besides these are a weekly line of steamers from Vera Cruz to Liverpool, by the way of the Cape Verde Islands.

Ex-Governor Trusten Polk left San Antonio on the 25th of June, and I heard of his reaching Eagle Pass in safety. General John B. Clark, Sr., in company with an ex-Senator from Louisiana, also passed through San Antonio a few days after General Taylor.

The French admire Shelby very much, and were anxious he should join their service. From what I saw, and from what the Duke of Ekleghen told me, I think Shelby will be offered a Brigadier-General's command, if he will accept it. They allow enlistments for one year and upwards, in the cavalry, and give them fifty dollars per month.

General Taylor, Monterey, owing to the blockade of the roads, and at Matamoros, General Magruder to Germany, where his family is; General Price to Rio, all by the way of the city of Mexico, as the roads to Tampico and the Matamoros are in the possession of robbers. Besides these are a weekly line of steamers from Vera Cruz to Liverpool, by the way of the Cape Verde Islands.

Ex-Governor Trusten Polk left San Antonio on the 25th of June, and I heard of his reaching Eagle Pass in safety. General John B. Clark, Sr., in company with an ex-Senator from Louisiana, also passed through San Antonio a few days after General Taylor.

The French admire Shelby very much, and were anxious he should join their service. From what I saw, and from what the Duke of Ekleghen told me, I think Shelby will be offered a Brigadier-General's command, if he will accept it. They allow enlistments for one year and upwards, in the cavalry, and give them fifty dollars per month.

OBITUARY.

Scidion has weeping attendants, and a host of plaintive sorrow over a subject worthy of lamentation from the demise of Mrs. RACHEL BARRITT.

This estimable lady was the wife of the late ISAAC BARRITT, and, like her honored spouse, claimed a Charleston as her birth-place, and clung to its people and its associations with faithful fondness.

A journeyer for several years in the city of Montreal, Canada, she was there on the 15th of August, aged 64 years, and died of a fever which she caught in that city.

The years of her earthly pilgrimage were prolonged to three-score and five, and served amply to develop a character of noble and noble elements out of which it was with a noble and noble guarantee of grace and excellence by which it was adorned.

More than thirty years have passed away since her home was stricken by the same fatal complaint, and she found herself a lone widow, and with the presence of two children, under circumstances peculiarly trying and afflictive. How nobly did she rise up to the full measure of her allotted trust!

She generously and self-sacrificingly did she merge all considerations pertaining to her own individuality in the lofty and purifying purpose of surrendering all the rich endowments with which God had gifted her, as a willing offering on the altar of her children's welfare. Alas! the heart of the devoted mother was thus dashed to bleed afresh. A son, the loveliness of whose nature drew him close to the hearts of all with whom he came in contact, sank by slow and wasting disease into the sleep of death!

Oh! how much of rich promise in all the opening beauties of manhood was curtaired ever for ever in the grave of this darling son, the beloved subject of our grief. Acquainting us with this added blow to the heart of Mrs. BARRITT, it but served to educe the fullness of that grace of fortitude which had transmuted itself through her trials and sorrows into a noble and noble guarantee of grace and excellence in the disclosure of her heart to the yet living claimants upon her affection. A daughter, long and still an invalid, evoked the rich treasures of her mother's heart, and in the presence of her mother's grief, she ministered in offices as gentle as they were unceasing to our departed friend.

Her noble and noble guarantee of grace and excellence in the disclosure of her heart to the yet living claimants upon her affection. A daughter, long and still an invalid, evoked the rich treasures of her mother's heart, and in the presence of her mother's grief, she ministered in offices as gentle as they were unceasing to our departed friend.

Her noble and noble guarantee of grace and excellence in the disclosure of her heart to the yet living claimants upon her affection. A daughter, long and still an invalid, evoked the rich treasures of her mother's heart, and in the presence of her mother's grief, she ministered in offices as gentle as they were unceasing to our departed friend.

Her noble and noble guarantee of grace and excellence in the disclosure of her heart to the yet living claimants upon her affection. A daughter, long and still an invalid, evoked the rich treasures of her mother's heart, and in the presence of her mother's grief, she ministered in offices as gentle as they were unceasing to our departed friend.

Her noble and noble guarantee of grace and excellence in the disclosure of her heart to the yet living claimants upon her affection. A daughter, long and still an invalid, evoked the rich treasures of her mother's heart, and in the presence of her mother's grief, she ministered in offices as gentle as they were unceasing to our departed friend.

Her noble and noble guarantee of grace and excellence in the disclosure of her heart to the yet living claimants upon her affection. A daughter, long and still an invalid, evoked the rich treasures of her mother's heart, and in the presence of her mother's grief, she ministered in offices as gentle as they were unceasing to our departed friend.

Her noble and noble guarantee of grace and excellence in the disclosure of her heart to the yet living claimants upon her affection. A daughter, long and still an invalid, evoked the rich treasures of her mother's heart, and in the presence of her mother's grief, she ministered in offices as gentle as they were unceasing to our departed friend.

Her noble and noble guarantee of grace and excellence in the disclosure of her heart to the yet living claimants upon her affection. A daughter, long and still an invalid, evoked the rich treasures of her mother's heart, and in the presence of her mother's grief, she ministered in offices as gentle as they were unceasing to our departed friend.

Her noble and noble guarantee of grace and excellence in the disclosure of her heart to the yet living claimants upon her affection. A daughter, long and still an invalid, evoked the rich treasures of her mother's heart, and in the presence of her mother's grief, she ministered in offices as gentle as they were unceasing to our departed friend.

Her noble and noble guarantee of grace and excellence in the disclosure of her heart to the yet living claimants upon her affection. A daughter, long and still an invalid, evoked the rich treasures of her mother's heart, and in the presence of her mother's grief, she ministered in offices as gentle as they were unceasing to our departed friend.

Her noble and noble guarantee of grace and excellence in the disclosure of her heart to the yet living claimants upon her affection. A daughter, long and still an invalid, evoked the rich treasures of her mother's heart, and in the presence of her mother's grief, she ministered in offices as gentle as they were unceasing to our departed friend.

Her noble and noble guarantee of grace and excellence in the disclosure of her heart to the yet living claimants upon her affection. A daughter, long and still an invalid, evoked the rich treasures of her mother's heart, and in the presence of her mother's grief, she ministered in offices as gentle as they were unceasing to our departed friend.

Her noble and noble guarantee of grace and excellence in the disclosure of her heart to the yet living claimants upon her affection. A daughter, long and still an invalid, evoked the rich treasures of her mother's heart, and in the presence of her mother's grief, she ministered in offices as gentle as they were unceasing to our departed friend.

Her noble and noble guarantee of grace and excellence in the disclosure of her heart to the yet living claimants upon her affection. A daughter, long and still an invalid, evoked the rich treasures of her mother's heart, and in the presence of her mother's grief, she ministered in offices as gentle as they were unceasing to our departed friend.

Her noble and noble guarantee of grace and excellence in the disclosure of her heart to the yet living claimants upon her affection. A daughter, long and still an invalid, evoked the rich treasures of her mother's heart, and in the presence of her mother's grief, she ministered in offices as gentle as they were unceasing to our departed friend.

Her noble and noble guarantee of grace and excellence in the disclosure of her heart to the yet living claimants upon her affection. A daughter, long and still an invalid, evoked the rich treasures of her mother's heart, and in the presence of her mother's grief, she ministered in offices as gentle as they were unceasing to our departed friend.

Her noble and noble guarantee of grace and excellence in the disclosure of her heart to the yet living claimants upon her affection. A daughter, long and still an invalid, evoked the rich treasures of her mother's heart, and in the presence of her mother's grief, she ministered in offices as gentle as they were unceasing to our departed friend.

Her noble and noble guarantee of grace and excellence in the disclosure of her heart to the yet living claimants upon her affection. A daughter, long and still an invalid, evoked the rich treasures of her mother's heart, and in the presence of her mother's grief, she ministered in offices as gentle as they were unceasing to our departed friend.