LOCAL MATTERS.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE.—The steamer Matanzas, which was advertised to sail for New York on Saturday, has been detained, and will not leave until further notice.

ACCIDENT.-About 10 o'clock vesterday morning Mr. Christopher Zeely, a workman employed on a building, fell from the second story to the ground, and, striking upon his knee, split open and fractured the bone. Assistance was at once procured, and the injured man taken to his house.

A SERIOUS AFFRAY .- A difficulty occurred on Monday, about eight miles from Chester C. H., between Joshua Carter and Wesley Davis, in which the latter was stabbed, it is feared mortally, in the breast. Carter was arrested and lodged in is ... Mr. Davis, at last accounts, was still alive, with but little chance of recovery. The difficulty grew out of a quarrel in which other parties were in-

THE CHARLESTON CLUB HOUSE .- This house has now been thoroughly refitted and furnished as a place for public entertainments. The large hall is admirably adapted for society dinners or suppers, and was recently secured for this purpose by the Board of Commissioners of the Market for their annual dinner. The Club House has every convenience possessed by the other Halls of the city, and its location renders it a suitable place for balls, parties, or any public entertainments. THE THEATRE .- At the Theatre, last night, the andience was the best of the season. The company are now accustomed to their new scene of action, and the community is learning to appreciate the efforts being made for their entertainment. Leap Year went off without a hitch, and was warmly applauded throughout. Particular praise was given to the sprightliness of Miss Clifford as Miss O'Leary, to the grace of Miss Vance as Flora Flowerden, to the humor of Clifford as Dimple, and to the dignity of Mr. Templeton as Walker. with great spirit and effect. To-night the programme is the Seven Sisters and he Limerick Boy. The famous Black Crook will be produced next week.

THE ELECTION IN THE INTERIOR .- Voting has evidently affected the brains of some of the newly fledged at the country precincts and induced them to believe that when they became voters they were also lawgivers. At Winnsboro' a colored conservative who did not believe in the blessings of radi- 570.66. calism was threatened with violence by some members of the Union League, and was compelled to Gadsden seventy-two black Republicans, who were singular forgetfulness. They could not remember the names under which they registered, and the able assistance.

THE OLD TRADE OF CHARLESTON.-Among the hotel arrivals of the past few days it is pleasing to note the faces of many old and valued customers of Charleston, those staunch friends to the Paimetto city, who still adhers to their former allegiance, and believe that goods can be purchased as cheap here as at the North. Their presence in the city has caused a little spirit of trade, which has brightened the faces of our business men, lightened their stocks, and caused a few more shipments of goods to be made. Mr. John Tyson, of Ansonville, Anson county, N. C., is one of these headquarters, and though she is now in the days of her adversity, he has not forgotten her. It is the merchants of this class that are expected to and have never found her wanting. Mr. Tyson is one of the old supporters or the Charleston trade, her with the city by the sea.

BLUE RIDGE RAILROAD .- A meeting of the Stockholders of the Blue Ridge Railroad Company in South Carolina was held on Thursday, 21st inst., at the Mayor's office in this city.

W. H. D. Gaillard, Secretary, read the minute of the last meeting, which were confirmed.

Board of Directors, which was approved and ordered to be printed. The Report of the Superintendent, Secretary and Treasurer was read and ordered to be filed. Hon. Edward Frost offered the following reso nesotred. That the Stockholders of this Company have undiminished confidence in the importance of the Blue Ridge Railroad, and of its ultimate success. That they approve of the efforts now being made by the Board to insure its early completion, and authorize and request the Board to continue such efforts.

St. Cecilia's Day.—St. Cecilia is generally regarded as the stroness of music, but the reason for her holdin. This office has never satisfactorily been explaine. She is generally represented in the old paintings . singing and playing on some musical instrument, or listening to the performance of some angelic v. stant. The old records state that St. Cecilia was a ... coman lady of good family who, having been educ. ded as a Christian, succeeded in converting her h and brother to Christianity, and afterward sh. ved with them the honors of martyrdom. Account. differ as to her death, some stating that she was | 6 - 15 12 demption and if its requirements in that boiled in in a cauldron, while others assert that she was left for days to expire, after being half decapitated. From some inexplicable cause the practice was introduced of having concerts on the 22d of November, the day dedicated to Saint Cecilia, and she was universally regarded as the patroness of all musical entertainments. The concerts given on the 22d gradually gave place to the more fascinating dance, and the votaries of Terpsichore have, for some years, celebrated each recurring anniversary by a St. Cecelia Ball. The St. Cecilia Society of this city have long been in the habit of giving annual balls on this day, and though the war and its consequent evils have a sadly impaired their resorces, they still adhere to the old practice. BRICK CLEANING .- It is an old and true saying that "the fashion of this world passeth away," and having looked on ruins until their beauty, poetry and romance have been thoroughly exhausted, it is pleasing to note that a change is being made in statute, they must exercise it in good faith; and the scenery. The pick-axe has been laid at the where the statute is positive and definite, they are root of the old walls, and they are now fast crumbling before the blows dealt by Afric's sturdy sons. For some time this necessary labor has been abandoned, but it is pleasing to notice that there are law, the Commissioners have no power to aid him, some property owners who yet believe in the ultimate prosperity of our city, and are determined to aid practically in the great work of reconstruction. The burnt walls and chimney stacks that have so long presented anything but a picturesque appearance, are gradually disappearing before the attacks of the ebon laborers, and in different parts of the city neat piles of bricks are to be seen in the place of the old ruins. At the corner of East Bay and Laurens street preparations are now being made for rebuilding, and the old ivy clad house so long known as Madame DuPre's seminary may soon rise from its ashes an improvement on its former the land. The Sea Island Tax Titles.

A TEST QUESTION.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.-Before His Honor Judge Bryan. - Ex parte Ephraim M. Baynard, Executor of Wm. E. Baynard, vs. the United T. Corbin; for the plaintiffs, Messrs. W. Whaley

Mitchell and Clancy. This was a case of appeal from the decision of the Direct Tax Commissioners, with reference to lands on the Sea Islands which have been sold for taxes, and derives great importance from the fact that it has been made a test question for a large class of similar cases which have arisen during and since the war. It will be remembered that the General Assembly at its last session appropriated five thousand dollars for the purpose of securing a thorough legal investigation of the subject.

The chief features of the case, as stated by Wm. Whaley, Esq., counsel for defence, are as follows: That William E. Baynard, in his life time, owned Muddy Creek, Spanish Wells, and Braddock's Point. He also owned other real estate, which was either redeemed from the Tax Commissioners of restored by the Bureau. The whole amount of taxes due by Mr. Baynard, including the penalty and costs, did not amount to the sum of $790, and was paid by the sale of Muddy Creek, which was the place first sold for taxes. Then followed the sale of Spanish Wells for $900, and Braddock's Point for $1000. It appears from the evidence that the property was sold on the 1st of October, 1863; that the time for redemption expired on the 1st of December, 1865, and that Mr. Baynard's application to the Bureau, dated 29th September, 1865, was transferred, by order of General Saxton, to the office of the Direct Tax Commissioners on the 21st November, 1865. Thereupon, direct application was made to the Commissioners by Mr. Baynard, through his Solicitor, in November, 1865, and before the expiration of the time limited by law. The Commissioners refused the application for redemption on the ground that Mr. Baynard had not complied with the provisions of the law, whereas the circumstances do show that he did comply in spirit, and in fact, and in accordance with the universal construction given to statute law.

The grounds of appeal taken by the learned 1. That the application to the Freedmen's Bueau was for restoration, and when said application was transferred to the Tax Commissioners, it was due and sufficient notice to them of an appli cation for redemption. 2. That the memoranda and schedule of plants tions filed by the Solicitor of Mr. Baynard with the Tax Commissioners was proper notice to them of an application for redemption.

3. That the application of the solicitor was th The after piece Po-ca-hon-tas, which was played application of the principal in the case, and, under the law, unquestionably sufficient.

4. That the sale of Braddock's Point and Spanis Wells was illegal and void, in view of the fact that the previous sale of Muddy Creek had produced the amount necessary for the payment of the entire tax on the entire property.

5. That the sale being illegal in part, was The counsel in a concise and eloquent manner tion was made and prepared to satisfy the claims against the property. The learned counsel cited analogous cases in the books, quoting the decisions of the Circuit and

Supreme Courts in determination of the chief points of his argument. We omit these authories, as not being matters of general interest. The llowing were his concluding remarks:

Your Honor, I am done. If I have trespass upon your patience, or occupied your attention for an undue length of time, it is because of the great interests at stake in the decision of this great interests at stake in the decision of this case. In its various bearings it is a case of grave importance, and one which has commended itself not more to my judgment than to my feelings. When we turn our eyes so Beaufort, that lovely spot, where, in times past, has been congregated so much of the representative wealth and intelligence with which we are familiar, and think of the sad contrast between the present and a happy past, how that fair land has been blighted, its palace homes desolated, and its people driven abroad, it is impossible to dwell upon the theme with any other than a melancholy remembrance, or to feel that we shall not receive justice wherever our solemn cause is heard.

Major D. T. Corbin, United States District Attorney, in reply to the argument of the counsel in the defence, made the following points: Under the provisions of the law imposing the tax of $363,570 66 on South Carolina, and the acts amendatory thereto, the land of the plaintiff was sold December 1, 1863. It is especially noted in advance that the constitutionality of the Acts of August 5, 1861, and June 7, 1862, and Acts amendatory thereof, is not in question. Nor is there any question as to the as-sessment and collection of the tax, the time and manner of the sale, or the title passed by the sale, No such questions are mooted, and nothing will be said of them in the argument. The Act under which the land was sold provides respe. are complied with, then the petitioner is entitled in redeem; if not, the law must take its course. Land sold for delinquent taxes may be redeemed by "a minor, non resident, alien, &c.; by the guardian, to stee or other person having charge of the person of estate of such person," at any time within two years after the sale thereof in the following manner:

1. He must appear in his own proper person before the Board of Tax Commissioners. 2. If a citizen, he must take the oath to support the Constitution of the United States. 3. He must pay the tax and penalty with interest from the date of the President's proclamation at the rate of fifteen per centum, together with the expenses of sale and subsequent proceedings. The Tax Commissioners, appointed under the Act of June 7, 1862, are ministerial officers, and are bound to the faithful performance of all duties as such. Where discretion is given to them by the bound to abide by its provisions. As to the manner of redemption, they have no discretion. Where an applicant fails to comply with the terms of the and he, therefore, cannot redeem.

It has not been pretended, in the argument of the counsel for the plaintiff, that the petition was a petition to redeem. Then it does not conform to the law. But if it were, can that be regarded as a personal appearance before the Commissionersan appearance attended by the payment of money or the taking of an oath-things essential to be done before an individual can redeem? No Court would dare to nullify a law by such a construction. What does the petition ask? The application filed with General Saxton asks for a "return" of n the old walls at the corner of Meeting and with special functions—namely, the care and con-

Suppose, however, it was received by the Commissioners, is this a compliance with the law? Most assuredly not. Hence where is the right to redeem? The Commissioners only could have endorsed that paper as they did the one presented by Mr. Whaley at their office-namely, "Sold Deember 1, 1863, for taxes, and now redeemable by ninors." This information the petitioner was bound to notice, as it was a matter of record. But having obtained it, could he redeem his land un der any different rule than the one given by the Statute? Certainly not. The paper left by the counsel for the plaintiff was not a petition to re deem, not a compliance, and hence secured n right.

But suppose the paper handed to the Tax Com missioners by the counsel before the 1st of December, 1865, had been an application to redeem What then? He is not "the guardian, or trustee or other person, having charge of the person or estate of the minor " He cannot take the oath for them : if he could be did not offer to do so : and be must still pay the tax, interest, nepalty and expenses within the two years limited by the statute, efore he can redeem. Did he do this or offer to do it? No claim is made that he did.

Finally, the United States District Attorney 1. That it was not within the power of the Com issioners to allow the redemption of the land of the petitioner after the 1st of Eecember, 1865; and

2. The appearance and tender of the money for taxes, interest, &c., not having been made prior to December _, 1865, the time for redemption passed, and the petitioner has no remedy in this form of

Is Stimulation Necessary?

This question is practically answered in the affirm tive by thousands of physicians every day. Sometime they prescribe the ordinary forms of alcohol; sometime tinctures which are simply inferior alcohol, more or les medicated; but no small proportion of the faculty give the preference to HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS as the most carefully prepared medicinal stimulant a present known. It is impossible for prejudice itself t be blind to the marked success with which this extraordinary tonic and alterative has been administered in cases of Dyspersia during the last twenty years. If it were possible to canvas the whole country for cases in which it had effected a cure of this obstinate and agoniz ing disease, they would number millions. PHILADELPHIA UNIVERSITY MEDICINE AND SURGERY.

THE PHILADELPHIA UNIVERSITY Of MEDICINE AND SURGERY was organized in 1848. Chartered by the Legislature, February 26, 1853. Marne changed by a legislative enactment to the Eclectic Acdical College, of Philadelphia, in 1860. In 1868 it phrenase de the Pennsylvania Medical College, established in 1342, and the Philadelphia Medical College, which had previously been merged into the Pennsylvania Medical College. Fn 1864 it purchased the Penn Medical University. The Trustees of the separate schools united, peditioned and obtained a special Act of the Legislature, consolidating these institutions and changing their names to that of the Philadelphia University of Medicina and Surgery, March 15, 1865. All these various Acts are published in the statutes of Pennsylvania. The cost of the 1 uilding and museum was over one hundred thousand dollars. It will be observed that the University, as now organized, is the legal representative of the four Medical Colleges that it has absorbed. It is a liberal school of medicine, confined to no dogma, nor attached to any medical cliques, but embraces in its teaching everything of value to the profession.

Tickets.—Tickets to the full course of lectures $120, or $60 for each session. For the summer or preparatory course $25. Graudating fee $30. To aid young men of moderate means, the University has issued five hundred scholarships, which are sold to first-course students for $75. and to second-course students and clergymen for $50, each constituting the holder a life member, with the perpetual privileges of the lectures, and all the teachings of the school. The only additional fees are a yearly dissecting and marticulating tacket, each of which is $5.

The Advantages of Scholarships.—The student holding a scholarship can enter the College at any time during the year, attend as long as he chooses, and re-onter the institution as frequently as decired.

It requires no previous reading or study to enter the University on scholarships, hence, all private tuition fees are saved.

University on scholarships, hence, all private tuition fees are saved.

Students, by holding scholarships, can prosecute other business a part of the time.

The candidate for graduation can present himself at any time, and receive his degree as soon as qualified.

In case a student should half a scholarship and not be able to attend lectures, it can be transferred to another, thus preventing any loss.

Parents, guardians or friends of students wishing to parchase scholarship for them a year or more before their attendance at the University, can secure them by advancing one-half the price and paying the balance when the student enters. Physicians and benevolent men can bestow great benefit upon poor young men by presenting them a scholarship, and thus enabling them to obtain an honorable profession.

The Faculty embraces seventeen eminent physicians and surgeons. The University has associated with it a large hospital clinic, where every form of medical and surgical disease is operated on and treated in the presence of the class.

Collage Building.—The College building, located in Ninth street, south of Walnut, is the finest in the city. Its front is collegiate gothic, and is adorned with embattlements and embrasures, presenting a novel, bold, and beautiful appearance. The facade is of brown stone, ornarcented by two towers, rising to the elevation of eighty feet, and crowned with an embattled parapet. The building contains between fifty and sixty rooms, all supplied with water, gas, and every other convenience that modern improvement can contribute to facilitate medical instruction. Only five hundred asholarships will be issued, and as two hundred agad fifty are now sold, those who wash to secure one should do so at once. Money can be remitted by express, or a draft or check sent on any National Bank in the United States, when the scholarship will be returned by mail, signed by the President of the Board of Trustees, JOSEPH S. FISHER, ESQ., and the Dean of the Faculty, W. PAINE, M. D. All orders for scholarships or other business of the University, should be addressed to Professor W. PAINE, M. D., Philadelphia, Pa.

A NEW WORK JUST ISSUED BY W. PAINE, M. D. Professor of the Principles and Practice of Medicine and Pathology in the Philadelphia University of Medicine and Surgery; author of Paine's Practice of Surgery; work on Obstetrics and Materia Medica, author of New School Remedies; an Epitome of Eberlic's Practice of Medicine; a Review of Homeopathy; a Work on the His tory of Medicine; Editor of University Medical and Surgeal Journal, &c., &c. It is a royal octavo of 960 pages and contains a full description of all diseases known in medicine and surgery, including those of women and children, together with their pathology and treatment by all the new and improved methods. Price $7; postage 5 cents. Has rapidly distinguished itself for its wonderful restorative and curative qualities. Under its stimulative influence, and by its penetrative agency, this health invigorating cordial excites a general beneficial reaction, and disperses the impermeable obstructions which prevent access to other remedies. While gradually reducing the accompanying constriction which attends the malady, it reproduces the essential warmth and elastic vigor of the respiratory vessels, which, by this remedial combination, promotes the healing process by which relief and cure is effected.

Hemorrhages are arrested and cured, with every other concurrent disorder.

As usither parcotic nor emetic properties of any kind are employed in this Pulmonic Compound, and the most assiduous attention given to the quality and medical value of each component article which constitute it, it is softently and conscientiously recommended for its safety and reliability, without restriction in generous, wholesome diet, or apprehension of renewed cold from its effects. cents.

Tin Roofing and Guttering, C. DUCREUX'S PATENT

For Instantaneous Detachment of Horses from Carriages.

This ingenious and very useful invention, which has been patented in the United States, France and England, is now offered by the subscriber, to the public, feeling assured they will find it, upon examination, one of the greatest inventions of the age. Prominent among its advantages are:

First—The facility with which horses may be harnessed to or unharnessed from a Carriage, also rendering it unnecessary for the person unharnessing to pass between or behind the horses as is customary, thus avoiding any liability of being kicked.

SECOND—In case of a horse falling, he may be loosed from the carriage in one second, without the driver leaving his seat. It is so simple in its operation that a child can work it.

Third and Greatest—In cases of horses taking right, THIRD AND GREATEST—In cases of horses taking right, becoming unmanagable or running; away, the terrible consequences which so frequently follow may be all avoided by this simple application to carriages, as the horses can be loosed from the carriage "in a twinkling," and the carriage is quickly and safely stopped.

Mr. C. DUCREUX gave several public exhibitions. The great favor and praise manifested by the public on those occasions, is one of the evidences of a popular appreciation of its merita.

Terms may be known and criters received for applying the patent to carriages, or purchase of State Rights, by addressing to C. DUCREUX, Patentee,
