You cannot see the reason why
My heart should love these flowers still;
You cannot tell the cause why I,
Through changing good and ill,
Should hold one link unloosed between
The things that are—and might have been.

That from the subtle scented Past,
The fragrance of a dying hope
Should sometimes come, and far outlast
All flowers on the slope,
Among whose newer life my feet
Now wander on—now half retreat.

How these dead leaves, pressed close and cold, A living memory embalm,
Fairer than all fair loves of old;
How, from the golden calm
That girds me now, sometimes my eyes
Look backward, with a sad surprise.

You cannot see the phantom hours Come back from that far spirit land; The spell of these long-faded flowers You cannot understand. Let be—the things are not that were, And Time's a sad interpreter.

Ab, well, n'importel 'tis better so;
I would not have you waste one sigh;
Who knowth how to live, should know
How—when Fate calls—to die!
And, if one heart must quite forget,
What matters—one remembers yet.

And so, in neither doubt nor scorn, I lay these simple flowers by; For lightly wer is lightly worn And lightly lost—but I, Who win not, cannot lose,—and so Give back the flowers, and let me go.

The Charleston Money Market. THURSDAY, April 22, 1869. The past week has not been characterized by any large transactions, and securities have not changed enterially. Bills of the State banks still show an advancing tendency. South Carolina Railroad stock, whole shares, 45% to 46; halves 22 to 22%. City stock was in brisk demand, and sales were effected at 62% to 63. The new six per cent, bonds, issued by the State in lieu of the Bank of the State bills, are held at 60, and though the demand has been good, a manifest preference has been shown for the old bonds. City of Charleston Fire Loan bonds are quoted at 75. Gas stock at 211/5 to 22. Sales of Charleston and Savannah Railroad stock were effected at 15%.

THE CHARLESTON MARKET.

FOR THE WEEK ENDING THURSDAY, APRIL 22. COTTON.-The absence of activity or strength in manufactured goods continued to cause a duliness in this article during the week, and the business at all tendency in prices. The English market, which opened at 12%d for middling uplands, receded to 12%d; at New York, where the staple commenced at 28%c, the rates fell off to 28 1/428 1/6, and at this point the inquiry has been light with some demand for good ection, the prices of which, owing to light stocks have been fairly maintained, while the lower des oriptions have been weak, and buyers wanted con-

SEA ISLAND COTTON .- After a long period of dullless, in which holders displayed great firmness, but which were unavailing against the very low figures prevailing for this quality of the staple at the points of consumption, sellers found it necessary to make such concessions as would meet the views of purchasers, and having submitted to a decline of 15@20c $ lb, and in some cases even lower rates from the highest point of the market, a good demand existed during the first of the week, and some 250 bales of Floridas and sea islands were disposed of, but for the past day or two the article has been quiet; among the sales were 3 sea islands at 70, 2 at 72, 4 at 73, 43 at 75, 1 stained Florida at 50, 6 at 60, 8 at 62, 11 at 68, 3 at 65, 20 at 68, 32 at 70. The transactions were mostly confined to clean common and good medium Floridas, which may be quoted at 60@70c; extra fine Floridas may be quoted at 80@90c % lb. Common elcan to medium Carolina sea islands may be quoted at 65@75c $ lb. The finer qualities are somewhat RICE.—The arrivals of Carolina rough have been confine I to a few limited lots, mostly from the interior by rail. The market for this grain has been dull, and purchasers have generally refused to operate unless at rates in their favor, which factors have, in most instances, declined to meet, and the business in the article has been quite restricted. The transactions have been only about 100 tierces of clean Carelina, say 28 at 8c.; 20 at 8%, and 60 at 8%c. % ib. We quote somewhat nominally common to fair clean Carolina at 7%@80.; good 8%@8%c.
