EXCITING SESSIONS OF THE BRITISH PARLIAMENT.

LONDON, July 21.—In the House of Lords last night the Irish Church bill, as returned from the House of Commons, was taken up. Earl Granville complimented the Lords on the ability and statesmanship developed in the late debate and the moderation shown by the opposition towards its close.

In respect to the disposal of the surplus fund, the more he saw and heard the more he was convinced that it was disadvantageous to keep the question open, and he condemned the proposal to keep £2,000,000 hanging before the people to excite and stimulate agitation.

Lord Cairns complained in strong terms that the government had not adhered to Earl Granville's pledge that the Lords' amendments would be respectfully considered, for on the faith of this promise many who objected to the bill on its own merits were induced to vote for a second reading.

Lord Kimberley said the government could not give way. Earl Grey thought the words of the preamble were offensive to the religious majority of Ireland, and urged the government to concur in the amendment.

Lords Halifax, Cairns and Shaftesbury supported the government. Earl Russell favored the disestablishment and disendowment, subject to existing rights. He thought the words in the preamble unnecessary and impolitic.

The Duke of Argyll denied that the government desired to provoke a collision between the two houses of Parliament. He denounced the government's conduct, and defended the provisions of the bill as not only just but generous.

The Marquis of Salisbury reproached the government party for its change of opinion with respect to disestablishment and disendowment. Before taking office he held them to be distinct matters. Now it urged that they were bound together indissolubly.

He opposed the preamble and the appropriation of the surplus as a false and foolish effort of the government to bind future Parliaments. The government wished to guard against the employment of the surplus for religious purposes.

Earl Granville then moved an adjournment that he might consult his colleagues, and at a late hour the House adjourned.

throughout Spain. Many arrests have been made at Valladolid, Barcelona and Cordova, of parties believed to be fomenting an insurrection; several generals and colonels are among the number. The authorities are taking great precaution to prevent an outbreak. The decree of ex-Minister of Justice Horta has been withdrawn. The French Government has ordered all Spanish conspirators away from the frontier. A sharp fight occurred yesterday at Ciudad Real, about one hundred miles from here, between the civic authorities and a band of insurrectionists, presumed to be in the interest of Cortes. Nine of the latter and several of the former were wounded. The insurrectionists were driven off, and the leaders all escaped. A deep plot has been discovered here, having for its object the assassination of Serrano, Prim and Rivera.

CUBAN NEWS.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—It is stated that Ryan and Courrier are organizing a Cuban expedition to sail from Canadian waters. The Cubans have a few official notes to the 15th instant. The Spaniards had made two attacks on Quesada, but were repulsed in both instances, with the loss of over a hundred and fifty men. Quesada continues the siege of Puerto Principe. A portion of Jordan's command, posted forty miles from St. Jago de Cuba, was attacked by twelve hundred Spaniards, commanded by Valmaseda in person. After three hours fighting the Spaniards withdrew, but being afterwards reinforced renewed the attack next day. They made three assaults, losing heavily. Jordan commanded in the second day's fight. Cubans lost sixty-two killed and wounded, including two officers. The Spanish loss was over three hundred. They made good their retreat to St. Jago de Cuba. The Cubans are in good spirits and suffer but little from cholera and vomito.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—It is stated that Secretary Boutwell will sell no gold at the present rates. Arrangements are afoot for a world's exposition of manufactures next year in this city. Secretary Boutwell has announced to the Comptroller of the Currency that he has decided to permit the substitution of ten-cent gold-bearing bonds, or to exchange any gold-bearing bonds held as security for circulating notes on the basis hitherto adopted—all the ten-centies to be received at 95 per cent of their par value, and all other gold-bearing bonds at 90.

THE PARAGUAYAN WAR.

NEW YORK, July 23.—The steamship Arizona from Aspinwall has arrived, bringing out $5000 in treasure. Late Paraguayan advices state that three Paraguayan who had attempted to assassinate the allied commander had been shot. An attempt to board the Brazilian iron-clad was unsuccessful, the boarders being all killed. The allies are attempting to drive Lopez into Bolivia.

FIRST ANNUAL FAIR OF THE STATE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

Circular from the Executive Committee. The following circular explains the reasons why the Executive Committee of the State Agricultural and Mechanical Society are compelled to call upon the people of the State for the means of making the first annual fair "in all respects creditable and useful."

To the statement made by the committee, we can add but little. The proposed fair will undoubtedly benefit the agricultural and mechanical interests upon which the cities of the State are largely dependent, and with which they are intimately connected. We are confident that in the country districts all that is needed will be done, and we hope that Charles County will be backward in providing the list of her exhibitors in forwarding the good work of encouraging the South Carolina planter and farmer, and the South Carolina mechanic.

The circular is as follows: Columbia, S. C., July 14, 1899. Sir: The Executive Committee of the South Carolina Agricultural and Mechanical Society, having made the necessary arrangements for the annual fair to be held in Columbia on the second Wednesday in November next, now appeal to their fellow-citizens to make the movement a success.

The development of the material interests of the State is conceded to be a matter of importance. It concerns the dignity as well as the general welfare of the people whom we represent, and all their resources should be fully employed. We have broken torments to retrieve ruined industries to revive and a just inducement to regain. To accomplish this and the other objects of the society we have arranged a premium list and provided for the annual fair.

As a means to this end, citizens of the State are invited to contribute their capital and intelligence devoted to industrial pursuits, for among themselves they have formed an Agricultural and Mechanical Society, and established a fair to be held in Columbia on the second Wednesday in November next, now appeal to their fellow-citizens to make the movement a success.

Under the present regime the society expects to do no work. The committee will spare no efforts to make the first annual fair of the society in all respects creditable and useful. They have arranged a premium list and provided for the annual fair. They have arranged to have suitable buildings for the contributors to complete the work thus auspiciously begun.

to your favorable consideration. It is earnestly hoped that you may be disposed to cooperate with us in this important project. A note, payable 1st October next, for $20, which you are requested to sign and forward to Colonel D. Wyatt Allen, at Cokerbury, S. C. You are authorized by the resolution of the committee to redeem this note at or before its maturity, by procuring ten annual contributions of two life members at $10 each, which you are requested to forward to the money from the members you procure and to hand their names to the secretary, when your note will be cancelled.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servants,
JOHN H. HOGAN,

Of the Executive Committee.

PROSPECTS OF A MORE RAPID IMMIGRATION.

The great recommendation of Chinese labor is its cheapness. No people in the world are so cheaply obtained as the Chinese, according to the ideas of the white man. A little rice suffices them, a little pork adds constitutes high living, a little chicken the highest of luxury. Go into a Chinese habitation and you find every inch utilized. They make a bed of straw, and besides affording workshop, kitchen and eating room. Reduce wages to the starvation point for a while, and the Chinaman will not only be contented, but he will be a more efficient worker.

THE CHINESE IN AMERICA.

The people of the Atlantic States, unacquainted with the Chinese population, regard their immigration to this country in the same light they would the importation of an equal number of the negro race from Africa. But the Chinaman and the negro are human beings of a very unlike character and nature. The difference between the two races is as the difference between the white and the black. The Chinese are a more refined and more intelligent race than the negro. They are a more industrious and more energetic race. They are a more docile and more obedient race. They are a more patient and more persevering race. They are a more industrious and more energetic race.

Large numbers of Chinamen are already employed as servants in hotels, boarding-houses and families, taking the places of girls in the kitchen and in the laundry. They are a more docile and more obedient race. They are a more patient and more persevering race. They are a more industrious and more energetic race.

Another leading characteristic of the Chinese is their adaptability to modern machinery. The tendency of modern production is to a greater and greater subdivision of labor—to the employment of men in the most menial and most uninteresting tasks. The Chinese are a more docile and more obedient race. They are a more patient and more persevering race. They are a more industrious and more energetic race.

THE CHINESE IN THE ATLANTIC STATES.

In concluding this discussion of Chinese immigration, one question remains to be answered: Will the Chinese ever be introduced into the Atlantic States? It is not probable that they will be introduced into the Atlantic States. The Chinese are a more docile and more obedient race. They are a more patient and more persevering race. They are a more industrious and more energetic race.

THE CHINESE IN THE ATLANTIC STATES.

In view of the existing facts and inevitable tendencies, I can safely predict that in ten years there will be hundreds of Chinese operating in the Atlantic States. The Chinese are a more docile and more obedient race. They are a more patient and more persevering race. They are a more industrious and more energetic race.

ROOPMANSCHAAP.

The New York Sun of Wednesday says: Mr. C. Koopmanschap, the great importer of Chinamen, arrived at the Fifth Avenue Hotel on Monday morning and left for Philadelphia yesterday afternoon. Soon after his arrival he left the hotel and was absent during the evening. He visited the Stock Exchange and the Gold Room, called on sundry mercantile friends, and also upon the officers of railroads and other public institutions.

His object was to ascertain the lowest prices for the transportation of Chinamen to this city, and thence to the Atlantic coast of the United States. He was accompanied by a Chinese and a white coat, with his hair slightly more parted in the middle than usual. The two porters carried each other with mutual satisfaction. The white coat was an early one, and slightly the taller. His visitor is a man of forty, with a compact figure, inclining to stoutness. He has a high forehead, and prominent nose. His hair is brown, and his eyes are dark. He wears a moustache, and has a beard of a darker hue. His chin is shaved, and he wears a moustache, and has a beard of a darker hue. His chin is shaved, and he wears a moustache, and has a beard of a darker hue.

He is a native of Holland, and has resided fifty years in San Francisco. He commenced his business of importing Chinese laborers in a small way several years ago. He has since expanded it to enormous dimensions, and inquiries reach him from all parts of the South and West in regard to the feasibility of employing Chinamen, and the cost of their transportation. He will continue at the South, and make similar arrangements with railroad officials to the north, and will also continue to look for the delivery of laborers in time for the market of the coming season. He has a large number of laborers in the States, and he is a native of Holland, and has resided fifty years in San Francisco.

THE CONDITIONS OF HEALTH.—IT is ten years to expect health if the precautions necessary to secure it are neglected. The human organization is a delicate piece of mechanism, and requires as much intelligent care and watchfulness to keep it in order, as are requisite in the management of the most complicated combination of levers, wheels and pistons.
