A Field Day in the House.

Our Columbia correspondent sends THE NEWS a graphic report of the debate in the House on Monday upon the resolution to adopt the report of the Bowen Committee as the sense of the body. This being done, the impeachment resolutions were at once introduced by Mr. Bowen. Governor Scott is said to pooh-pooh the whole affair, and boasts that he knows, to a dollar, how much it will cost to kill the resolutions in the House, or to insure an acquittal in the Senate. It will, of course, delight the members of the Legislature to know that Governor Scott believes he can buy and sell them like dumb cattle; but whatever his bragging, he must have been quaking in his boots the while. Among the Radical members who voted against the reception of the report of the Bowen Committee are Byas, (a member of the committee) Joe Crews, and "Furniture" Dennis. Tim Harley did not vote.

Self-Convicted Robbers.

The special committee of the House of Representatives, whose report was adopted by the House on Monday, as the first step to the introduction of resolutions for the impeachment of Governor Scott and Treasurer Parker, is composed of five members, all of them pronounced Radicals, viz: Messrs. C. C. Bowap, Benj. Byas, F. H. Frost, P. J. O'Connell and W. H. Jones, Jr. Their leader was Mr. Bowen, who, being the solicitor of the Joint Investigating Committee, appointed last session, knew pretty well where to strike the Ring with the most damaging effect. But when the committee was appointed the public were chary of giving it their confidence. It was feared that this was only another black-mailing operation, which would end in a reconciliation of the Radical rogues and the Radical reformers, and this feeling obtained even after the presentation of the report of the committee. That report made the following allegations:

- 1. That the whole bonded debt of the State, on the 31st October, 1868, was $5,407,306, and that the bonded debt on the 31st October, 1870, was $7,665,856, which, with $2,200,000 of bonds, in the hands of the Financial Agent, made the total outstanding bonded debt $9,865,856. 2. That the debt of $9,865,856, only $3,200,000 were new bonds—while the State Treasurer makes affidavit that there are now signed and outstanding $9,514,000 of new State bonds, the difference of $6,314,000, between the two amounts, being an over-issue.

After presenting these facts, the committee show that there was no authority in law for the excessive issues of bonds, and they show, besides, that the Governor has signed and delivered to the State Treasurer $1,700,000 of conversion bonds for the absorption of the land commission bonds and the bonds for the relief of the treasury, while nearly all of these bonds are out as a part of the indebtedness of the State. These are the main statements of the Bowen Committee. The public now look upon them as being seriously in earnest, and their charges are sustained by abundant direct and collateral testimony.

According to the official report of the Comptroller-General the total debt of the State, on October 31, 1870, was $7,665,908, or, with the hypothecated bonds, $9,865,856. On September 20, 1871, the total debt of the State, according to Governor Scott's official report to the Ku-Klux Committee, was $9,528,564. And on October 31, 1871, the total debt of the State, according to the official reports of both Governor Scott and Treasurer Parker, was $15,767,908. There was, therefore, an increase in the debt of $5,902,352 between October 31, 1870, and October 31, 1871, during which period no law was passed authorizing the addition of a single dollar to the public debt of the State. Nor is it difficult to show, from the official reports, how this fraudulent increase of debt was contracted.

and are hypothecated or sold. This is a plain avowal of guilt. The conversion bonds were forbidden to be issued, except upon the application of persons holding stock or coupon bonds of the State, the bonds or stock being taken in lieu of the conversion bonds issued in their stead. But $5,965,000 of these bonds have been signed and issued by Governor Scott and Treasurer Parker without the application of any holder of bonds or stock, and without obtaining a single bond in exchange. By their own statements the Governor and State Treasurer are guilty of a fraudulent issue of nearly six million dollars of so-called conversion bonds. If this be not evidence enough to insure the removal from office and the criminal prosecution of both Scott and Parker, there is no public spirit in the General Assembly, and no law in the land.

It has been suggested that the State officials had some shadow of authority for issuing conversion bonds as a basis for loans to the State. There is no ground for this apology. And Mr. Bowen's committee demonstrate that the expiration of the period during which loans were authorized to be effected absolutely forbids any plea that the conversion bonds might be used in a manner which is diametrically opposed to the provisions of the law under which conversion bonds and stock are allowed to be issued. —We await with anxiety the further action of Mr. Bowen and his colleagues. They have convicted high State officials of official fraud. If they now hold their hands, they doom themselves to a lasting disgrace surpassing that which has fallen upon the knaves of the Ring.

Impediments.

The law in relation to impeachments is found in Article VII of the State Constitution. There are one hundred and twenty-four members of the House of Representatives, and an impeachment, therefore, requires the affirmative vote of eighty-three members. It will be noticed that any executive or judicial officer shall be removed by the Governor, for any willful neglect of duty or other reasonable cause, on the address of two-thirds of each house of the General Assembly. This provision may with propriety be applied to the lesser criminals when Scott and Parker are disposed of.

ARTICLE VII.

SECTION 1. The House of Representatives shall have the sole power of impeachment. A vote of two-thirds of all the members elected shall be required for an impeachment, and any officer impeached shall thereby be suspended from office until judgment in the case shall have been pronounced. SEC. 2. All impeachments shall be tried by the Senate, and when sitting for that purpose, they shall be under oath or affirmation. No person shall be convicted except by vote of two-thirds of all the members elected. When the Governor is impeached, the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, or the senior Judge, shall preside, with a casting vote in all preliminary questions. SEC. 3. The Governor and all other executive and judicial officers, shall be liable to impeachment; but judgment in such case shall not extend further than removal from office. The persons convicted, shall, nevertheless, be liable to indictment, trial and punishment according to law. SEC. 4. For any willful neglect of duty, or other reasonable cause, which shall not be sufficient ground of impeachment, the Governor shall remove any executive or judicial officer on the address of two-thirds of each house of the General Assembly. Provided, that the cause, or causes, for which said removal may be required, shall be stated at length in such address, and entered on the journals of each House. And provided further, that the officer intended to be removed shall be notified of such cause or causes, and shall be admitted to a hearing in his own defence, before any vote for such address; and in all cases the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays, and be entered on the journals of each House respectively.

Remember!

District Attorney Corbin, in his closing speech on the trial of R. Hayes Mitchell, said that Jim Williams was "justifiable and excusable," in making threats to kill the whites from "the cradle up," and that the only wonder was, that all the whites were not "assassinated" and their "houses burned!"

Remember!

We print, to-day, a highly interesting letter written by a Charleston clergyman to a New York religious journal. It contains the most graphic statement we have seen of the myriad wrongs of this people, and of the crying necessity of a judicial investigation which will punish the misdeeds, whose aggravated character and long continuance made Ku-Kluxism possible.

REPRESENTATIVE Mobley has given notice of a searching Joint Resolution, which, if promptly passed, will let in some light upon the operations of the mysterious Sinking Fund Commission.
