The Burning of the Theodore D. Wagner. We extract from the New York Herald, of Wednesday, the following in relation to the burning of the steamer Theodore D. Wagner, from Boston to Charleston:

The brig Velocity arrived on Monday evening at the Atlantic Docks, Brooklyn, having on board a large number of the rescued passengers and nearly all the crew of the steamship Theodore D. Wagner, of the Boston and Charleston line, which was burned at sea last Saturday, about seventy-five miles off Cape Henry, while on her voyage to Charleston.

The Wagner left Boston last Thursday, having on board a valuable cargo consisting chiefly of boots and shoes and other articles of wear for the Southern trade. She had also on board twenty-six passengers, about sixteen or eighteen of whom were women. She proceeded on her voyage without any accident occurring until Saturday, when, in latitude 38.10 North, and longitude 73.50 West, it was discovered that a fire had broken out in the engine room, enveloping the whole place soon after in flames. Every means were tried to stay or suppress the progress of the flames, but to no purpose.

The Velocity, bound for this port, is the brig which picked up the greater number of the passengers, and took every possible care of them on their way back to this city. Beds were fixed up for the women, and every comfort that the size of the vessel would allow was extended to them.

The names of the passengers who arrived in this city on Monday, on board the Velocity, are: Mrs. Murray, Misses Murray, (two), Mrs. Marble, Mrs. Burton, Misses Chase, (two), Captain Babson, Chief Engineer Wyman, Third Assistant Engineer John McKay and other officers, the steward and assistants, two colored women and two colored men, and a lady whose name was not ascertained, but who is said to be the wife of the Colonel of the Third New Hampshire Regiment.

On the arrival of the Velocity at Brooklyn, the captain of the Wagner immediately waited on the agents of the company, in Wall street, who gave him funds sufficient to return to the passengers their passage money, which, when offered, the greater number of them refused to receive, because, in the receipt, they were required to completely exonerate the company from any claims for loss of baggage, &c., which might be brought against them. Many of those who thus refused the money left last night for Boston. All have lost their baggage, which, in many cases, was of great value—one passenger alleging his loss to be $20,000, and another, a lady, values hers at $1,500. The passengers speak in the highest terms of the conduct of the captain, to whom was presented, yesterday, an address from the officers and crew.

MR. DAVIS' CASE—NO TRIAL FOR MONTHS TO COME.—The following despatch was doubtless dictated, or at least suggested, by District Attorney Chandler, and may, therefore, be regarded as an official announcement: FORTRESS MONROE, October 24.—For the present, at least, and perhaps for months to come, the case of Jefferson Davis will occupy just the same position, and another term of the United States Circuit Court will be suffered to go by without any action to try the prisoner being taken by the judicial authorities. The legal difficulties in the way of holding the court at Richmond, in consequence of the adjournment from Norfolk in June last, are a serious detriment to its proceedings, and it is hardly doubtful now that the court will not assemble next month in Richmond, as was before generally supposed. This involves a further postponement of the trial of Davis under the indictment of treason presented at the last term of the Circuit Court, and in all probability he will be kept in confinement the entire winter, and until the spring term of the Circuit Court, unless Executive clemency grants him a parole, and releases him from his confinement. In December, when the Supreme Court of the United States meets, Judge Chase will be too busy to attend to any other than legal matters, and the advocates of a speedy trial of Davis, both in the North and South, have nothing to hope for from the present actions of the judicial authorities. Neither is it likely that a writ of habeas corpus will be issued upon the commandant of the fortress, demanding his deliverance to the United States Marshal, for incarceration in a Virginia State jail. As long as he remains a prisoner in the hands of the United States Government, he will be retained in a Government prison, and guarded beyond all possibility of escape.

ORDER BY MAJ. GEN. SICKLES.—Maj. Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, commanding the Military Department of the Carolinas, recently issued an order, prohibiting any officer, soldier or other person on duty in that department in any capacity, subject to military discipline, from trading either as principal factor or agent, directly or indirectly, in cotton, rice or other products, or merchandise of any kind, within the limits of the district or post where he is stationed. The order also provides that no person will be permitted to interfere with the rights of the freed people, in common with all others, to sell and dispose of the products of their own labor in any way they may choose. This is not to be construed to revoke any temporary regulation established by competent authority, prohibiting the sale of products raised on shares until the crop shall have been prepared for market and properly divided, nor to prevent an authorized officer or agent of the Bureau from acting as umpire in the settlement of disputes arising from the distribution of crops raised on shares.

A STEAMER SENT FOR MAXIMILIAN. The cable despatches contain the significant announcement that express orders had been forwarded by the Emperor Francis Joseph, of Austria, to Trieste, despatching a steamer forthwith to Mexico. The despatch is dated yesterday, at Vienna. Coming to us on the heels of the announcement of the sad illness of Carlotta, the Empress, the inference is natural that Maximilian has been sent for; but the reader will naturally wonder why the Archduke was not telegraphed for. The mission of Castelneau, the illness of Carlotta, the present action of Francis Joseph, and the active measures proposed by President Johnson, serve only to complicate the Mexican nuddle.—New York Herald.

Every year 20,000 babies are sent out of Paris under the care of peasant nurses, and of that number 5,000 on an average are returned to their mothers, the other 15,000 having died of cold, starvation, and bad treatment. Since 1846 it has been calculated that in the neighborhood of Paris alone 300,000 of these nurslings have died in the hands of their foster mothers.

By a copy of a letter enclosed in the Herald's correspondence from the city of Mexico, it appears that Maximilian, of Mexico, keeps a bank account in the city of New York.

The ladies of Portsmouth, Va., are having the old church at Hampton—an ante-revolutionary relic—repaired. It had greatly fallen into decay.

Austria has now a gun which will put forty balls through an inch and a half plank at 200 paces in five minutes.

It was a solemn hour and a lonely walk for the old bachelor on his way home of a dark night, after Jerusha told him he "needn't come again."

Mr. Parton holds that the whole human race will steal. He does not know of a single exception, we infer from his testimony.

It is proposed in England to establish a national association for the promotion of moral science.

THE GRAND SEENER.—The grand secret in medication is to help nature. Sustain and regulate—these are the Alpha and Omega of the only theory of cure that has common sense for its basis. If the nervous system is shattered, the muscles weak, and the mind, like the body, in a state of partial collapse—what is it best to do? Reason teaches as the answer: BRACE UP YOUR BRAIN.

They cannot injure. A child may take them in doses suited to its years, without the possibility of harm. The enfeebled vital powers are as sure to respond energetically to their action as the withered grass is to erect its blades under the vivifying and refreshing rain. In all cases of debility, the Bitters are absolutely required. There is no substitute or succedaneum that will fill their place. Resort to this most wonderful of modern tonics. AND ALL WILL BE WELL.

Bear in mind that in dyspepsia, intermittent fevers, bilious disorders and affections of the nerves, no other medicine will produce one tithe of the good effect that invariably follows the use of this excellent invigorator and corrective. Sold everywhere.—New York Tribune, Oct. 27, 1865. Oct 19 Imo

A NEW AND GRAND EPOCH IN MEDICINE.—Dr. Maggigi is the founder of a new medical system! The quatuorians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all-healing Salve. These two great specialties of the Doctor are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggigi's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the (so-called) remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggigi's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggigi's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite and render the spirits light and buoyant. There is no gripping and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble, it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disinfectant power of Maggigi's Salve. In fact, it is here announced that Maggigi's Bilems, Dyspeptic and Diarrhoea Pills cure where all others fail. While for burns, scalds, chilblains, cuts and all abrasions of the skin Maggigi's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. Maggigi, 11 Pine Street, New York, and all druggists, at 25 cents per box.
