This fact, and the now offer our stock of wonderful cures it performs, is corrobo-rated by living witnesses. This combination of alteratives and depuratives produces just that change in the functions of organs as to make a healthy action to take the place of disease. We hear of feverishness, fluttering about the heart, flushes, fainting headache, loss of appetite, low spirits, weakness, nervousness and a general good-for-nothingness-all owing to fever lay, contains the following notice:
