SAVANNAH, June 28.—Hon. H. S. Fitch, United States Attorney, in answer to a letter addressed to him, has expressed the opinion that a pardon granted by the President blots out all disfranchisement and reinstates the individual in all his previous rights, which he cannot be deprived of by any subsequent legislation. He says the elective franchise is one of the rights restored by pardon and amnesty. If a person thus pardoned is refused registration, let him enter his protest for the consideration of the Commanding General. The Attorney-General closes thus: "Next to a usurpation of power, there is no higher grade, in political crime, than a timid abandonment of rights."

United States Attorney Fitch today seized 187 barrels of whiskey.

A NARROW ESCAPE.—At Nashville, on the 17th instant, the telegraph operators narrowly escaped with their lives, so violent were the flashes of electricity. The Banner says:

Most of the instruments were saved by being cut out. The instruments connected with the wire leading to Memphis had not been cut, and the operator, Mr. Loneragan, was transmitting messages to that point, but fortunately had opened his "key," thereby breaking the circuit, to ask a question regarding a message. Doubtless his life was thus providentially spared. As it was, he received a stunning shock, starting back in terror and amazement at the blinding flash and stunning report, and affording no little amusement to his comrades by endeavoring to back over the next table. From the brass points in the switch-board, lightning streamed six or eight feet into the room, causing a general stampede and scatter among the "lightning boys." Outside of the office, a ball of fire about a foot in diameter was seen to leap from one wire to another, a distance of several feet.

THE JULY SESSION OF CONGRESS.—It is now a settled fact that Congress will meet on the 3d of July, and that a quorum will be in attendance; and in reply to the question, what will they do, the answer is, from all quarters, pass a declaratory Act in respect to the military reconstruction law and adjourn. We incline to the opinion that Congress should do something more than this. There is, for instance, no justice in exempting Government bonds from taxation. Whatever might have been the excuse while the war was going on, when the Government wanted money, and had to resort to the most feasible scheme to get it, there is now no necessity for exempting a single dollar, no matter how nor where invested, from taxation.

[Washington Republican.]

GOLD MINES.—The long dormant mineral resources of this section of South Carolina seems to be attracting, at this time, a considerable share of attention from abroad. Within the past few weeks, several gold prospects have been sold to Northern companies, at figures which would indicate that said prospects are of a decidedly captivating nature. The Northern and Western sections of this District offer rare inducements, we are informed, for investment in gold mining adventures. The Broad River boundaries are pronounced to be rich in fine specimens of the yellow ore. The owners of this property cordially invite those who have the means to come and dig it out, and pay a reasonable toll.

[Yorkville Enquirer.]

PREDICTIONS.—Jacob Greenwood, of Lee County, aged eighty-six, writes to the Crisis, and makes two predictions: First, "That the year 1868 will be marked by such a revolution in Europe as has not occurred since the reformation; and, secondly, I predict that the same year will prove the defeat of the radical party North—a defeat which the hearts of the people are already thoroughly prepared for. A Democrat will be the next President, and a Democratic Congress will succeed the present, and radicalism commence a slow decline."

SICKLES AND SHERIDAN.—Secretary Stanton has written Gen. Sickles, declining to grant his request to be relieved from command of the Carolinas.

General Grant has replied to Gen. Sheridan's letter, but refuses to give the reply for publication until the return of President Johnson. It is stated, on good authority, that he merely ordered General Sheridan to act as usual until the return of the President, when definite orders will be given.

COUNTERFEIT.—The Macon Telegraph, of Sunday, says:

"We were shown yesterday, by President Plant, of the First National Bank, a counterfeit $1 bill, United States currency, and he informs us that large numbers of them, together with two, are in circulation in this vicinity. They can be readily detected from their general defectiveness, the engraving being of a most inferior order and the paper thinner than in the genuine bill."

LARGE CARGO.—There was cleared, at the custom house, yesterday, by Messrs. Courtenay & Trenholm, the ship Bombay, for Liverpool, with the following large and valuable freight, viz: 621 bags Sea Island cotton, 1,303 bales upland cotton, 800 barrels spirits turpentine, 1,911 barrels rosin, thirty-two tons cotton seed and sundries—the entire freight being valued at $250,000.

[Charleston Courier, 27th.]

HON. A. H. STEPHENS.—We regret to learn that the health of this distinguished gentleman is still bad. In a letter to a friend in this city, just received, he says: "I am indeed quite feeble, and barely able to be up half my time." We learn that his whole time, when able to work, is devoted to the preparation of his forthcoming book upon the war, which he hopes to be able to complete by the end of the year.—Augusta Chronicle.

It is now said that no more removals must be made South, but that there will be no restoration of deposed officials.

The Louisiana Supreme Court has re-affirmed the judgment of a lower court, declaring the tax imposed, under an Act of the Legislature, of one-fourth of one per cent, on gross sales, made by merchants, to be unconstitutional. The New Orleans Bee says this an exceedingly important decision in its effects upon the finances of the State, cutting off about $1,000,000 from its revenue, and materially depreciating the value of State currency.

A correspondent of the London Cosmopolitan notes the fact that, at the laying of the first stone of the Hall of Arts by the Queen recently, the flag of every nation, except that of the United States, floated from the building. As the flags were provided by the Admiralty, it may be pertinent to say that perhaps the American ensign captured and lodged at the Admiralty are so few that they don't like to risk them out of their custody.

BULLY FOR SHERIDAN!—The New Orleans Registry Board rejected an applicant because he was an auctioneer before the war, on the ground that an auctioneer was "a public officer." Gen. Sheridan has indulged in the extreme liberality of overruling the ruling of the board. And so auctioneers are not included in the disqualified class. "God and Liberty!"

BOSTON.—We shall think better of the people of the Hub hereafter, in that they have shown that they could lay aside the prejudices of the hour, and manifest a proper degree of respect for the executive head of the Government. Their conduct in this respect is in striking contrast with that displayed by the little men of big Philadelphia.

LOUISIANA.—Referring to the Louisiana negroes, the New Orleans Times says that wherever the negroes hold meetings, they propose men of their own color as their future leaders and representatives. They have no confidence in white men, be they dyed ever so deeply in the intense crimson of radicalism. "No white trash for us," is their cry.

A TEXT NOT IN THE BIBLE.—Rev. J. D. Fulton "preached a sermon" in Boston, last Sunday, from the text, "What shall be done with Jefferson Davis?" It is scarcely necessary to say that a minister so false to his God was false also to man; and instead of enforcing the charities which distinguish Christians from savages, howled for blood like a wolf.

PREACHERS WANTED.—The Philadelphia Bulletin says that there is a scarcity of preachers of all denominations in the North. We think that the good people of that section of our once glorious Union ought rather to rejoice than mourn over that fact, as for several years past the preaching has had more of politics than religion in it.

The First National Bank of Vicksburg has collapsed. The officers of the concern stated that they could have saved it if they had been able to borrow $25,000, but the condition of its affairs was found to be so bad that capitalists refused to aid it, and it was, consequently, forced to go by the board.

MASONIC RECEPTION OF THE PRESIDENT.—The Masons of New York are making the most liberal preparations to give President Johnson a grand reception on his return from the East. It is estimated that between 10,000 and 12,000 of the order can be got to turn out, while Brooklyn and Williamsburg are to join in.

AID FOR THE SOUTH.—The fraternity of Free and Accepted Masons of New York give an entertainment, at the Academy of Music, on the 27th instant, in aid of the destitute and suffering Masons of the South, their widows and orphans. The President of the United States will be present.

[New York Herald.]

Shoe-strings are little things, but very numerous, and in union find strength, at South Carver, Mass., where seventy hands are employed in one shop, making shoe-strings and lacings of cotton, silk and linen, to the value of $175,000 annually.

The latest news from Chicago represent a boarding house burned—three corpses taken from the ruins—man killed by a police officer—rape of a child—suicide of a girl on account of a corset, and other agreeable incidents. Blue beef will tell.

The New York Sun chalks out the following as most likely to be, from present appearances, the Radical Presidency ticket for 1868: For President—Benj. F. Wade. For Vice-President—Jas. Longstreet.

There are 5,000 negroes in the State of New York who would be entitled to vote under the plan being forced upon the South. The attempt to confer the right upon them will be met with fierce opposition.

A Connecticut paper announces that the 17th "was the nine hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill," which will doubtless be news to people in these parts.

GOING DOWN.—A New York paper says flour keeps going down. All right. Let it down. Should it get to $6 per barrel, that would be quite down to the poor man's feelings.

It is stated that Gen. Steadman advises the removal of Phil. Sheridan.

There are now snow banks six feet deep in Schenectady County, New York.

GRAND

NATIONAL ENTERTAINMENT,

For the Benefit of the

LADIES' SOCIETY

In Aid of the Suffering and Destitute Poor of the South.

Will take place

In Washington, D. C., August 1, '67.

THE "Ladies' Society in aid of the Suffering and Destitute Poor of the South" would respectfully and earnestly call the attention of the generous Northern public to the great distress and fearful suffering now prevailing in the Southern States. Letters are daily received from the South, from the Generals, Commanding, Governors, ministers and eminent citizens, furnishing the most heart-rending details of the actual want, famine and starvation in their immediate neighborhood. The following few extracts from the very many letters received by the Secretary and Managers of the Society are respectfully referred to:

HEADQUARTERS, 4TH MILITARY DISTRICT, (MISSISSIPPI AND ARKANSAS), Vicksburg, Miss., May 13, 1867.

I am glad to see that the attention of the gentle and humane ladies of the North is being turned towards the sad and desolate condition of this once happy land.

You, Madam, surrounded with the plenty and comforts of a wealthy city, can scarcely appreciate the fact that, in many parts of the South, whole communities are, by a failure in crops and the absence of money or its equivalent, left in want of the necessities of life; and that poor women, with large families of helpless children, are accustomed to depend on the labor of others, that now, with no husband, brother or servant to help, and no money, they do not know what to do or where to go for food; but are left in the solitudes of these Southern forests, in rags and gaunt with hunger, subsisting on what the mother or larger children can shoot or pick up in the woods, or on what the few neighbors, nearly as poor as they are, can bring them.

Officers of my acquaintance have met with such mothers, long after dark, out in the woods, with an old dog just killed, and the coon or possum just killed; have come home with them and met the group of little starvelings waiting patiently mother's return with some of the only sort of food they had tasted for weeks; and women and children have been found within sixty miles of the capital of a Southern State, during the past year, who had starved to death in their lonesome cabins. These cases of great distress are rare in Southern cities, for there, even the most delicately bred can generally find some work which they can do to keep the wolf from the door; but the farms or plantations in the South are peculiarly secluded, with miles of forest or swamp between them, poor roads, and the stock and animals nearly all taken by the war, the famine, the floods, or the thieves, who in such times infest a country, and the distressed families are often, by the time necessity makes them want to leave, too sick to travel on foot, and there is no other way to go.

Your proposed entertainment, Madam, should it produce only funds enough to relieve a small fraction of the destitution of this country, will be a good beginning, and may be followed in other cities North by similar appeals to people who have happily never felt the desolation and the horrors which follow in the tracks of great armies of invasion. God speed your society in the good work, is the wish of Madam, yours truly,

E. O. C. ORD,

Brevet Major-General.

HEADQUARTERS, FIRST MILITARY DIVISION, RICHMOND, VA., May 11, 1867.

Mrs. Harriette Mather.—DEAR MADAM: I shall be too glad to say that I can say will aid the society in its noble work. A large proportion of the people of the South have suffered and many are still suffering almost to the limit of endurance from the devastation of war and subsequent failure of crops. They are making every possible exertion to revive their various branches of industry and become self-supporting. The liberal assistance which the Northern people are well able to give, will relieve a great amount of distress, and will no doubt be sufficient to place the poor of the South beyond further suffering for food. The recent destruction of an almost universal desire throughout the South for a really fraternal reunion with the North, may well serve to stimulate the generous sympathies of the Northern people, while nothing could do more to foster and encourage the growth of a healthy sentiment in the South than the generous aid which it is the mission of your society to invoke. I sincerely hope the noble efforts of the society may result in the most abundant success. I am, dear Madam, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

J. M. SCHOFIELD,

Major-General.

HEADQUARTERS, SECOND MILITARY DIVISION, CHARLESTON, S. C., May 13, 1867.

The excellent purpose you have in view cannot be too much commended. The liberality of the Government of the United States, and the magnificent contributions already made for the relief of the widespread destitution in the States, leaves great numbers unprovided with food and clothing. And until an abundant harvest enables the people here to do more for themselves, I trust the ever generous and prosperous committees of the North will continue their noble gifts to this impoverished and afflicted population. With my best wishes for the success of your undertaking, I remain, Madam, very respectfully,

DANIEL E. SICKLES,

Commanding Second Military District.

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 10, 1867.

Permit me not only to give you the assurance of my poor help in this your generous endeavor to relieve our impoverished and unhappy people, but to express to you in their behalf, that gratitude which is so eminently your due for the generous sympathy manifested by your organization for those among us in distress. Wishing you God speed in your noble work, I am, Madam, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

JAMES L. ORR,

Governor South Carolina.

GREENSBORO, May 14, 1867.

Have just returned from a tour through the section made memorable by "Sherman's march to the seaboard." Poverty, suffering and destitution of the people can scarcely be realized—living in huts, rudely constructed of charred boards, of rails, boughs and mud, you are met by hollow-eyed, emaciated forms, whose first words are "bread" for something to stifle the craving of hunger. In one place, I witnessed the body of a child borne to its last rest, on a board, in the same rags in which it died. In another, four females existed for a week on two pounds of corn, together with some roots. On the road, I met another who had walked twelve miles to beg some food for her children. Many other instances can be given of sad suffering from actual want of food. Very truly,

FREDERICK WATTS, M. D.

The public have already responded nobly to the call, but not to the extent required to keep starvation from making victims of many. Additional funds must be raised at once; the case is urgent. The Lady Managers, after mature deliberation, have decided to bring it before the generous people of the North, by giving a Grand National Entertainment, trusting to their active co-operation and sympathizing aid for the immediate supply of means to enable them to purchase and forward food to starving thousands. The Grand National Entertainment will be given at Washington, D. C., August 1, 1867. 300,000 tickets will be offered for sale at $2 each. Every ticket will be entitled to an award, which will take place at the same time. Half of the amount will be in valuable awards to the holders, and the balance will be devoted to once by the Lady Managers to purchasing food to be sent South for immediate distribution among the most needy. The Lady Managers have entered into an arrangement with Messrs. Bentley, Clark & Co. to superintend the disposal of a market worth the patronage and support of the public.
