STATE LEGISLATURE.

EIGHTY-EIGHTH AND LAST DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

SENATE.

WEDNESDAY, March 24.—The Senate assembled at 11 A. M.

A concurrent resolution from the House, to constitute the Medical Faculty of the State University Board of Consultation in respect to the State Lunatic Asylum and Penitentiary, was laid on the table.

The House returned, with concurrence, a concurrent resolution authorizing and directing the Governor to appoint a skilled and competent person as inspector of guano and fertilizers offered for sale in this State.

A number of resolutions were introduced, but were postponed until the next session.

After the adoption of a complimentary resolution to the presiding officer, the Senate adjourned sine die.

The following bills and reports were continued to the next regular session of the General Assembly: A bill further to alter and amend an Act to organize the Circuit Courts; a bill to amend the charter of the Greenville and Columbia Railroad Company; a report on a bill to recharter the bridge across the Savannah River, at Hamburg; a report on a bill to create the County of Coosawhatchie; a bill to punish persons violating Article XIV of the Constitution of the United States; a bill to amend an Act to define jurisdiction of Probate Courts; a bill to amend the Act providing for the assessment and taxation of property; a report on a bill to regulate the granting of license.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The House met at 11 A. M.

A resolution was adopted, after considerable debate and numerous calls of the yeas and nays, that the Speaker of the House be allowed $400 for extra services rendered this body as presiding officer.

A concurrent resolution was adopted, that J. H. Rainey, member of the Senate, and Wm. McKinlay and Jayan Bryant, members of the House of Representatives, be appointed a joint committee under Section 5 of the Act entitled "An Act to regulate the manner of keeping and disbursing funds by certain officers," passed at the special session of the General Assembly.

A concurrent resolution was adopted, requesting the United States Congress to sell certain property in Beaufort County.

After a valedictory address by the Speaker, the House was declared adjourned sine die.

A DEAD LOSS TO THE MISSIONARY FUND. Three hundred long-faced, sanctimonious, humble followers of the Lord, yesterday, called upon President Grant, to congratulate him. Grant said, "Thank you." The conversation then turned on shaking hands. Grant said to shake hands with all the persons in the United States would be tiresome. All the clergymen then smiled, and the interview ended.

It is interesting to make an estimate of how much loss this has been to the missionary fund, for instance:

Three hundred boiled shirts.....$80 00

Boot blacking.....30 00

Fare from Baltimore to Washington, exclusive of dead-heads.....400 00

Hotel bills, exclusive of quartering on friends.....1,000 00

Odds and ends.....150 00

Return to Baltimore.....400 00

Wear and tear in running around to tell people what they had seen.....200 00

Loss of time.....1 50

Total.....$2,211 50

Being of a philanthropic turn of mind, it is painful to us to contemplate the expenditure of $2,000 and over for such a purpose when there are so many poor heathens suffering for the lack of Bibles and Gospel teachings. Just think of the number of pennies it will require to replace this from the poor Sunday school boys who will be asked to contribute something for missionary purposes every Sunday.

THE DANGER OF THE STREETS.—In one evening three persons were run over and killed by the street cars in New York and in Brooklyn. Two were killed by horse cars, and one by a dummy. So that steam in the streets is clearly not worse than horses. In Brooklyn, the car ran over a boy, cut him in two, and went on.

The fact that Gen. Grant carried with him into the White House his personal staff, is complained of as a stride of military power, having no precedent in the history of the country; but, as if this were not sufficiently startling, Gen. Sherman has eclipsed it in the issuance of his order assuming command of the armies of the United States. He therein announces his staff to embrace the head of every bureau attached to the War Department: The Adjutant-General, Inspector-General, Quartermaster-General, Commissary-General, Paymaster-General, Chief of Engineers, Chief of Ordnance, and Judge Advocate-General, all of whom, heretofore subordinates of the Secretary of War, a civil officer, are thus swallowed up into the military by being declared staff officers of the General Commanding the army. This anxiety on the part of the new Administration to intensify the military power, followed up as it has been by the appointment of only personal adherents to important offices, smacks so much of European usage, as to give the more timid Republicans grounds for the betrayal of a little nervousness, which correspondents unite in saying is secretly whispered through the political undercurrent which surges around the Capitol.

ARCTIC EXPLORATION.—Dr. I. I. Hayes lately delivered, in New York, an interesting address on Arctic explorations. The lecturer noticed the course of Franklin's, McClure's and Kane's explorations on the maps, and explained wherein he had deviated from their course until he reached Cape Union, 100 miles North-west of the limit of Dr. Kane's expedition, and whence he (Dr. Hayes,) within 450 miles of the North Pole, gazed in admiration on the open sea which surrounds it. He then described, with much effect, his approach to Greenland—the people, their dwellings and habits of life; their island icebergs, rising 300 feet above the level of the sea, and buried seven times that depth beneath its surface, three miles in circumference, and 300,000,000 tons in weight; enough, he said, if made marketable in the city of New York, to pay off the national debt; the feuds or bays, thirty miles in depth and ten in width, in which these icebergs are formed by the thawed snows of the high interior until, breaking from the land by their own weight, they float on in imperious grandeur, until melted away in their journey to the tropics. Other Arctic expeditions are now fitting out in England and Germany, and we may yet hear more of this open Polar Sea.

OFFICERS RETIRED.—Among the field officers retired by the recent order consolidating regiments, are: Cols. S. P. Heintzelman, Daniel Butterfield, Gordon Granger, John J. Reynolds, Daniel E. Sickles, Wager Swayne—all lately acting as brigadier or major-generals—and others of less note; Lieutenant-Colonels Adam J. Slemmer, (of Fort Pickens fame,) Alfred Sully, James H. Wilson, (the captor of Jeff. Davis,) Maurice Maloney, Frederick T. Dent, (a brother-in-law of the President,) George A. Andrew, and others. Several of these latter have also ranked as brigadier or major-generals of volunteers. A list of about twenty majors are also retired, among whom are Maj. Thomas W. Sweeny, the famous Fenian. Seven hundred and sixty-four officers of all grades will be retired.

Two Germans had a very peculiar case in Court, at New York, last week. Between them they had invented a whale as large as life, which they exhibited to the public as a veritable live one, at so much admittance per head, four assistants being placed inside to work the monster. The deception was complete, but at the conclusion of a performance, some spies in the audience waited behind, and observed the four Jonahs emerge from the whale's belly, whereupon they attacked them, and cut the whale to pieces. The suit was brought by the manufacturer of the whale to compel the owner to pay for him, which the Court decided he must do.

A MIXED DINNER.—A dinner, called a press dinner, was given at Delmonico's, in New York, on Saturday night, at which ladies and gentlemen sat down and ate, and drank, and toasted, and spoke, until 11 o'clock at night. The women paid for their own dinners, and did their share of the talk. There was no smoking, but an immense amount of puffing—mutual admiration. The ladies were of the literary and strong-minded sort, and the gentlemen were artists of the Bohemian order, allowing nothing to go unappropriated, and making the most of the situation.

FIVE MURDERED MEN FOUND.—The bodies of the five men that were taken from the Kinston jail and murdered by a mob, some weeks ago, have been found. Two were seen floating down the river, a few days ago, and were picked up and buried; and since that time the other three have been seen floating by a seine beach, and undoubtedly have been rescued.—Newbern (N. C.) Times.

Special Notices.

THE SEEDS OF SICKNESS.—Baron Munchausen tells a story of a post-boy's horn, which had a number of wicked tunes blown into it one frosty night, but made no response. Nevertheless, when it was hung before a hot fire, the tunes, which had been frozen in, thawed out, to the amazement of all present. Just so the human system, subjected to injurious influences during the winter, sometimes give no token of the effect they have produced upon it, until the moist atmosphere of spring develops their fruits. Many spring diseases are the result of winter imprecisions, and great and especial care should be taken of the system in the cold season, so that it may be in a sound and vigorous condition when the malarious fogs of March and April make their appearance. To this end, strengthen the stomach and the general organization at this season with HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. Take this pleasant vegetable antidote in advance of the uprising of the mephitic mists and vapors, which produce chills and fever, and other miasmatic diseases. Remember that it is a preventive medicine—as powerful to protect as to restore. The stomach is apt to be overtaxed at this time of the year. It is a period devoted to dinner and supper parties, and luxurious living generally. Feasting and late hours weaken the digestive organs and disorder the liver. The effect of the Bitters is to invigorate the one and regulate the other. There is no month in the twelve when a tonic and alterative is more generally needed than in this, and there is no preparation of that nature so thoroughly salutary, so bracing, and so entirely free from undue exciting properties, as this celebrated vegetable cordial.
