

For President of the United States. HORACE GREELEY, of New York. For Vice-President B. GRATZ BROWN, of Missouri.

Moses Means the Ring.

There is no sort of question but that the re-election of Moses is a renewal of the lease of the State to the corrupt ring which has ruled it for the past four years. Every member of the old ring, with the exception, perhaps, of Scott—who has expressed no preference so far as we have heard—is stoutly in favor of Moses. In short, all of the rascals who have been chiefly instrumental in plundering the State have sided with Moses.

If Moses is elected, we venture the prediction, that despite the platform adopted, a heavy tax will be levied this fall to pay the interest on the public debt; and, furthermore, that Blue Ridge scrip, amounting to nearly $2,000,000, will be fastened as a debt upon the State. It is well for our white people to reflect upon this matter, and determine whether they should take such risks by refusing to support the Bolters. We will never cease to regret it, if, through our default, Moses is elected. The taxation of the past four years will be nothing to compare with what we shall be forced to endure for the next two. Revolution or ruin will stare us in the face.

The Bolters cannot, if they are elected, favor any of these rascally schemes. They dare not do it if they would, for they will be partly ours; they will be indebted to the white people, in a great measure, for their election, and are bound to be influenced by them in the administration of the government—so far, at least, as the finances are concerned.

The Elections.

Up to the hour of this writing, our accounts of the elections in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana are discouraging. If all three of these States are lost to the Liberals and Democrats, there is but little if any hope left for the Presidential race, and the South will have to prepare for four years more of Grantism and military oppression. We still have hopes, however, that matters are not so bad as appearances now indicate. It seems almost incredible that Pennsylvania could have elected such a man as Hartranft for Governor over the pure and spotless Buckalew, and we had every reason to hope for better things from Indiana. We will wait, at least, for the "count out" before growing lugubrious.

HONORS TO A SOUTH CAROLINIAN.—Two students of the University of Virginia of the past session, Mr. Frank P. Dunnington, of Baltimore, and Mr. J. B. Adger, of South Carolina, have had the honor of favorable mention in the proceedings of the Royal Society of Great Britain, in connection with an analysis made by them, under Prof. Mallet's direction, in the chemical laboratories of meteoric genus which fell in Augusta County, Virginia. Other original investigations, by the same two young gentlemen, were made before the British Association for the Advancement of Science, at its last annual meeting in July.

Pittsfield, Massachusetts, has just dedicated a very fine soldiers' monument. And one of the striking things about the occasion was the fact that after General Barlow, Chairman of the Executive Committee, cordially welcomed Mr. Loundes, an officer from South Carolina, whom he had seen gallantly fighting in Confederate gray. That is the handsome, the patriotic and the truly Christian thing to do. As we cannot hang or shoot everybody who had a hand in the rebellion, it is the part of policy, no less than of Christian duty, to remember that they are Americans, and treat them as brethren.

RUNNING FOR THE LEGISLATURE.—The Wilmington (N. C.) Star, of yesterday, says:

"An intelligent and worthy colored man, by the name of Adam Brown, who has been in the habit of purchasing papers at our office for sale on the railroads, informed us, yesterday, that one of his colored employees, who has been selling papers for him in South Carolina for some time past, deserted him a few days since, and is now among the prominent candidates for the Legislature. Adam says he wouldn't mind the fellow's leaving him if he would pay him for the last batch of papers he sold."

The first speech ever made by a colored lawyer in the criminal courts of Washington was made on Thursday by Charles M. Thomas, a recent graduate of Howard University, in defence of George M. Jenkins, also colored, who is on trial for killing his wife with a cleaver some months since. Mr. Thomas, says a Washington correspondent, meets with no opposition whatever from the white members of the bar, many of whom congratulated him on the distinctness and merit of his argument.

SUPERVISORS OF ELECTIONS.—The following Supervisors of Elections were appointed on the recommendation of S. T. Poinier, General Supervisor:

LAURENS.—Democrats—Dr. William Wright, Augustus Wallace, John Moseley, John Franks, Laurens Court House; John Copeland, Clinton; Robert Hollingsworth, Cross Hill; Jesse M. Young, Martin's Depot; Henry Watkins, Hamilton; William Woods, Tumbling Shoals; Robert Brooks, Brook's; Wm. Stewart, Lyons; Hugh P. Sharp, Young's Store; A. P. Thompson, Souffletown; Joel F. Smith, Brewerton; Gabe Parson, Mount Pleasant; O. H. P. Fant, Jack's.

WILLIAMSBURG.—Democrats—Jas. M. Stagers, Kingstree; John A. Salters, Sutters'; E. J. Parker, Sutton's; Wm. S. Camlin, Anderson's; B. M. Nesmith, Black Mingo; James McArteben, Indian-town; John E. Scott, Cedar Swamp; Thomas R. Grier, Muddy Creek; Julius P. Ganifee, Gourdins'; Dr. S. D. McByrd, Levy's Store.

GREENVILLE.—Democrats—J. Thomas Austin, Austin; Wm. West, Bates'; H. T. Stroud, Butler; A. Taylor, Chick's Springs; Jesse Cleveland, Cleveland; C. D. Smith, Dunklin; Dr. D. C. Bennett, Fairview; T. J. Turner, Gaunt; J. B. Reed, Glassy Mountain; H. A. Cauble, Greenville; S. F. Trowbridge, Grove; G. W. Holtzclaw, Highland; John Stouel, Oak Lawn; A. T. Reese, O'Neal's; C. J. Hill, Paris Mountain; H. E. Robinson, Saluda.

REPUBLICANS.—Thomas Clark, Austin; J. H. Coleman, Bates'; J. A. King, Butler; F. J. Lowell, Chick's Springs; J. E. Mullinax, Cleveland; Frank Davenport, Dunklin; John W. Gault, Fairview; Mannel Rogers, Gaunt; Harris Pitman, Glassy Mountain; James Trotter, Greenville; James Cox, Grove; Joel Farmer, Highland; J. D. Sullivan, Oak Lawn; James D. Loftis, O'Neal's; Aquila Barton, Paris Mountain; William Palley, Saluda.

SUMTER.—Democrats—Jos. M. Wilder, A. D. Backer, Sumter; Robert Brown, Manchester; O. M. Craze, Statesburg; J. W. Young, Sanders' Mill; John F. Ballard, Providence; Daniel Reynolds, Spring Hill; John E. Mallow, Bishopville; E. H. Holliman, Carter's Crossing; Moses P. McLeod, Swimming Pans; B. E. Wilson, Corbet's Store; Hamilton Witherspoon, Johnston's Store; Ezekiel Keel, Player's Cross-Roads; William J. McLeod, Lynchburg; J. A. Mayes, Mayesville; W. J. Durant, St. Paul; William Nettles, Privateer.

GIN HOUSE BURNED.—We regret to learn that the gin house of P. B. Moragne, Esq., of the neighborhood of Bordeaux, was consumed by fire on Saturday evening last, together with four bales of cotton, and thirty or forty bushels of oats. The hands were engaged in ginning at the time, and the fire is supposed to have originated from a match which was accidentally ignited, or from the friction of the gin. The flames extended so rapidly that it was impossible to control them and save the house. It was with the greatest difficulty that the horses employed in ginning were rescued.

[Abbeville Banner.]

AN OUTRAGE.—On Saturday night, the 5th instant, some reckless miscreant fired a load of duck shot through the open door of W. B. Murray's store, near Statesburg, in this County, while it was thronged with customers, engaged in trading. A white man, Mr. A. G. Baker, and a negro woman, were wounded by the shot, and several other persons made very narrow escapes. Mr. Murray cannot divine the motive that prompted so atrocious an act. He says that his lot was fired two days before this occurrence and that he has been apprized by some friend that threats have been made to repeat the attempt to destroy his property.—Sumter News.

CROPS.—The cotton crop seems to be turning out better generally than was anticipated a few weeks since, and the farmers seem to be availing themselves of the favorable weather for gathering it in. Our cotton-buyers inform us that the staple was never better, and so far, scarcely any inferior cotton has been brought to market. Prospects have been brightening up during the past week, and with an average crop, we may anticipate a little relaxation in the money market. The crops of corn seem to be generally good.—Abbeville Banner.

Violet ink is very appropriate for the use of those deluded beings who are engaged in writing love letters to each other, but for commercial purposes it has a defect. A San Francisco broker filled up some certificates of stock with this uncertain fluid some time ago, and placed them in a window. One sunny afternoon he found that every trace of numbers, dates, etc., had been obliterated by the light. For love letters, we remark again, this would be no objection.

There was a curious instance of tampering with a witness and the results thereof in a recent murder case in Kentucky. A man named Roberts was accused of killing one Coates, and was committed for trial without bail on the testimony of a sister of the deceased. After indictment Roberts was released on bail, and immediately commenced to pay his addresses to the dangerous witness, and before the trial came on had married her. He was acquitted for want of evidence.

A large cave has been discovered on the farm of Col. George McDonald, in Botetout County, Virginia, about seven miles from Fincastle, which is represented to be equal in attractions to Weyer's cave in Augusta. The rooms are large, and are filled with beautiful stalactites, curiosities, &c.

SEVERELY ILL.—The numerous friends and admirers in this city of the charming petite actress, Mrs. James A. Oates, will learn with regret of her serious illness at Cleveland, Ohio. Her condition, at last accounts, was considered precarious.

A TERRIBLE TORNADO.—Walker County has been the scene of probably the severest tornado that ever swept through Georgia.

On last Sunday evening, it was possible on Saturday evening, a densely heavy cloud came up and lowered over East Armuchee between Subigna and Villanov. The cloud was brooded and fretted with incessant flashes of lightning, that leaped and lingered in livid play on its dark body. Suddenly, and without any premonition, a howling wind storm swept over the country, shrieking like a thousand fiends, buffeting grown trees on its burly bosom as if they were feathers, and sweeping houses from their foundation with a single breath. It extended over a space about a half mile wide, and destroyed everything in its course. Where it swept through a forest its track can be followed as plainly as if a corps of engineers had with their axes leveled the trees. Not a tree is left standing in its track. Several dwelling houses were blown down and utterly destroyed. Among others our informants knew positively of Mr. Jones Richardson, Mr. Pinckney Tate, Mr. Touey Hart and Mr. Moore's. Mr. Moore's wife was standing in the door when the wind came and was blown out of the house, out of the yard and into the public road, where fortunately behind the shelter of a point of a hill she recovered herself. Mr. Geo. Epy's house was also destroyed. Mr. Bomar had a fine orchard of apple trees which were twisted from their places and sent whirling, the Lord only knows where. The cotton fields that lay in the zone over which the cyclone swept are rendered absolutely worthless, and the loss occasioned by it may be estimated at thousands. Where it came from and where it went no one knows and no one cares. It utterly devastated one of the fairest valleys in Georgia. It is reported that Sugar Valley had a visit from this terrible fiend. We sympathize with our friends who have suffered. Messrs. J. W. Davis and Wardlaw were our informants, and they were direct from the scene of the disaster.

[Rome Commercial, October 2.]

At Bayonne, New Jersey, on Friday morning, an explosion of nitro-glycerine occurred on the Central Railroad, where some caboose laborers had been at work track-building. The glycerine was applied for an experimental blast. The quarrymen were ensconced behind boulders. After the blast, Patrick McFlynn, who was not more than forty feet distant, was found horribly mangled, with his right arm torn off by a piece of rock. Another laborer, struck in the bowels, is in a dying condition; and another lifted into the air is dangerously hurt. A residence 200 feet distant, had its roof crushed through by a boulder weighing 1,000 pounds.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING.—In response to the call of Major T. B. Fraser, Chairman of the Democratic Committee for Sumter County, a meeting was held in the Court House here on sale-day. The meeting refused to endorse either of the Radical tickets now before the people, but decided to leave it entirely discretionary with individual members of the Democracy to vote for whatever candidates they think proper to support. It was deemed inexpedient to make a Democratic nomination.—Sumter News.

FIRE.—We regret to learn that a fire occurred on Wednesday night, at Saluda Old Town, by which two stores were destroyed. W. E. Clary and John Taylor were the sufferers. The former was covered by a policy in the Underwriter's agency for $900. We have not learned the extent of losses, other than the destruction of the railroad and express books, which were kept by Mr. C. as agent. The cause of the fire cannot be ascertained.—Newberry Herald.

It is not anticipated in official circles that the award made by the Geneva tribunal will be paid before the expiration of twelve months from the time of its announcement, this being the treaty limit. The money will be paid to the Department of State, and as there is now no law concerning the disposal of it, legislation by Congress becomes necessary for that purpose. The only official information concerning the San Juan arbitration is that a decision would be made early this month.

DEATH.—Mrs. A. Finger, wife of Mr. J. F. Finger, of Wilmington, N. C., died in this town, at 12 o'clock, last night. This death is one of peculiar sadness. Coming to this place to nurse her husband, who was attacked while on a visit here, she herself sickened, and away from home and its comforts, she passed from death unto life eternal.

At a meeting of the Newberry District Monumental Association, the following gentlemen were chosen for its permanent officers: Y. J. Pope, President; J. M. Johnstone, Secretary; R. H. Wright, Treasurer. Committee on Design—Capt. D. A. Dickert, L. M. Speers and W. T. Tarrant.

Two colored men, named Spencer and Jeter, were overhauled in Summerville township, Union County, on the night of the 4th, on a charge of cotton stealing. They attempted to escape, were fired upon by their captors, and Jeter was killed and Spencer wounded. The individuals who fired the shots are to be arrested.

A California couple, who were divorced twenty-three years ago, were recently married again, having tried several other partners unsatisfactorily in the meantime.

Philip Martinetti, long associated with the famous Ravel Troupe, died in New York, on Thursday, September 26, aged forty-eight years.

A smart Buffalo boy of thirteen lately stabbed a girl, argued his own case in court and was sent to jail for only twenty-four hours.

LETTER FROM GENERAL EARLY.—Gen. Jubal A. Early, of Virginia, of Confederate fame, has written a letter in reply to an invitation to attend a (treeley and Brown) meeting at Winchester, Virginia, advising his friends to vote for the ticket nominated by the Democratic party. Hitherto General Early has been understood to oppose Mr. Greeley's nomination, but, while he does not now approve it, he says he is not going, because he cannot have his own way, to part company with the only friends he recognizes, and leave the State in the hands of those who would prey upon her vitals, for if the vote of Virginia should be cast for Grant at the coming election, he looks upon it as very probable that at the next general election his supporters will obtain possession of the State, and by that means consign the people of Virginia to a Government like that of South Carolina. General Early is very severe upon the "Confederate renegades," whom he characterizes as "the worst of the whole lot" of the Radical party of the State. In discussing the claims of magnanimity set up for General Grant by his friends in regard to his treatment of General Lee, General Early makes the following interesting statements, which are not generally known:

"For a soldier to grant honorable terms to an adversary who has shown his prowess in the most unmistakable manner, requires no very great stretch of magnanimity, but is generally regarded among brave men as a matter of course, and there are numerous instances to be found of such terms granted even by those we would regard as barbarians. The terms granted to General Lee's army at Appomattox were matter of stipulation, and not of grace, and I have the authority of General Lee himself for saying that if honorable terms had not been granted him, he would have made the effort to cut his way out with the troops left him. The statement sometimes made that Grant returned General Lee's sword to him, has no foundation in fact, for by the very terms of the surrender, all officers were allowed to retain their side arms, their private horses and baggage. As to the claim in the pamphlet for magnanimity on Grant's part in interfering to prevent General Lee from being prosecuted, the obvious answer is that Grant's own honor was involved in preserving inviolate the terms granted General Lee and his army. Had he not interfered to prevent a breach of faith, he would have been dishonored in the view of honorable men of all nations; and the man who then acted as his counselor and guide had the sagacity to see it, and prompt him as to the course necessary for the protection of his own fame."

A FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT.—The Atlanta Sun learns from passengers on the Georgia Railroad that a sad accident happened in DeKalb County on Sunday. Mr. Samuel Corley, his wife and four children, were proceeding to church in a wagon, and when they reached a point in the road, a mile or two from Indian Creek Church, they, the wagon and all, without a moment's warning, were crushed by a falling tree. No one was instantly killed, but, sad to relate, Mrs. Corley and the eldest child died Monday morning from injuries sustained by the falling tree. Mrs. Corley, at the time of the fatal accident, had an infant in her arms, but both it and Mr. Corley miraculously escaped unhurt.

O, THAT I WERE BEAUTIFUL! is the unspoken wish of thousands of women to whom nature has denied the charm of a pure, fresh, transparent complexion. To gratify this wish, HAGEN'S MAGNOLIA BALM was introduced. The cosmetics of the day had been pronounced poisonous by the most distinguished chemists, and it was also found that their ultimate effect was to wither the skin, as well as to paralyze the external nerves. The ladies bailed with delight the advent of a healthful herbal and floral preparation capable of imparting to their faces, necks and arms a porcelain smoothness and a tinge like that of the finest oriental pearl. They soon discovered that it was a "new thing under the sun," incomparable and unapproachable. Unquestionably the MAGNOLIA BALM has been the great toilet success of the present century.

$1,000 REWARD is offered by the proprietor of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for a medicine that will equal it in the cure of all severe cases of "Liver Complaint," and all diseases arising from impurity of the blood, as Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, &c. OLOTT

A brace of manumitted citizens in Appling County, Ga., had a little wrangle about politics, the other day. One had a knife and the other didn't, and the one that didn't, when he came out of this dispute, resembled a pictorial paper—that is to say, he was illustrated with cuts.

A very strange death occurred at St. Omer, Ill., last week. A young man commenced bleeding at the nose, then at the lungs, and finally the blood oozed out of the pores of the skin. In this condition, he lingered three or four days, when he died.

Hon. Lewis M. Ayer, of Barnwell, formerly a member of the Confederate Congress, has recently connected himself with the Baptist Church, and has entered the ministry of that denomination. We learn that he is quite an eloquent and impressive preacher.

Wm. Morrissey, a white boy, about seventeen years old, was seriously, and it is feared mortally, stabbed, about 6 o'clock, yesterday afternoon, by another white boy named John Magrath.

CITY MATTERS.—The price of single copies of the PHENIX is five cents.

Old newspapers for sale at PHENIX office, at fifty cents a hundred.

A large and varied lot of cards, suitable for weddings, invitations, visiting and business purposes, have just been received at this office, which, owing to the dull season, will be printed at low rates.

Don't forget the "openings" to-day. Mrs. C. E. Reed has displayed her usual good taste, and laid in a beautiful and tasty stock of articles in the millinery line for the young, as well as the middle-aged and elderly. A young member of the PHENIX nest boasts a natty-looking cap, thanks to the kindness of Mrs. R.

A notice of interest to saw-mill owners will be found in another column. This lumber is wanted for bridges on the Air Line Railroad, and as the contracts are being rapidly completed, it is necessary that the bridge materials should be furnished as rapidly as possible. Mr. Mercer will give all necessary information.

Dr. D. L. Boozer will be absent from the city until next Tuesday, the 15th.

The Rural Carolinian, for October, furnishes excellent reading matter for farmers and even the general reader. Walker, Evans and Cogswell and D. Wyatt Aiken are the publishers, in Charleston.

Ashes were always considered good to make corn and grass grow, and now they have been found wonderfully efficacious in raising cities. Columbia has grown at the rate of a house a week since their application.

United States Commissioner Watts has furnished us with a copy of the monthly report of the Department of Agriculture for August and September. It contains highly important information.

The Moses headquarters was brilliantly illuminated, last night, in honor of the Republican victories. There was a band of music in attendance, also.

The firm of D. C. Peixotto & Son has been added to—our young friend and name-sake—J. C.—having been made a member.

The day passenger train over the Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta Railroad now leaves at 11.25 o'clock.

Mr. Alfred Menett is the successor of the firm of Hudson & Menett, advertising agents, and occupies the old quarters, 21 Park Row, New York.

Dr. T. T. Moore is absent from the city. His patrons will be advised of his return through the press, which will be in a few days.

Dr. E. E. Jackson has on exhibition, at his drug store, a genuine specimen of the cattle fish, which he caught in Columbia. It is about four inches long, with all the tentacles perfect. It also has several specimens of salt water fish. They are curiosities.

Dr. Ennor communicates the gratifying intelligence that he has succeeded in making arrangements whereby the Lunatic Asylum will be amply supplied with provisions and all medical supplies for the balance of the year. No one need now feel any anxiety. The trouble is over for this year, at least.

Mr. I. Grieshaber has removed his saloon to the Cottage House, where he will serve a free lunch from 11 to 1 o'clock.

Mr. Berry is now opening the immense stock of furniture purchased by him during his recent Northern trip. It is particularly fine. He has several styles of the popular "medallion" pattern. The whole three stories of his new building are filled.

A racy subject—The winning horse.

This delightful weather attracts numerous persons to the garrison grounds to hear the excellent music discoursed by Prof. Baohar's superior band. The following is the programme for this afternoon:

Rifle Club Quickstep—Bach.

Cavatina, from Lombardi—Verdi.

Faust Waltz—Faust.

Scene and Cavatina, Opera Ernani—Verdi.

Ixion Polka—Vinateri.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS.—OCTOBER 9.—Judge Melton presiding. The court opened at 10 A. M.

The grand jury made the following returns: True bills as to Ross, alias John Rawly, alias John Robinson—grand larceny. Antony Williams—grand larceny. John Shidell and Emma Woodsworth—receiving stolen goods. George Tupper—murder.

No bills as to the following: Henry Williams—assault, with intent to kill and murder. Benjamin Bynum—grand larceny and receiving stolen goods. Frederick Seull—grand larceny.

The court, for the most part, was engaged in the case of the State vs. Thos. Oliver (white) and Peter Lockwood, (colored,) for grand larceny. The prisoners were most ably defended by Messrs. B. I. Boone and John T. Sloan, Jr.; Solicitor Barwell for the State. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty against them for receiving stolen goods, knowing them to be stolen.

THE SALUDA FACTORY.—We had the pleasure on Tuesday afternoon of paying a flying visit to the Saluda Factory, situated about three miles from the city, on the Saluda River, a short distance above its confluence with Broad River, by which is formed the Congaree. We were surprised at the extent of the works and at the quantity of costly and beautiful machinery employed. It is a sight well worth seeing; but we will withhold our more minute description until we can see it in operation and inform ourselves fully upon all the facts connected with it. At present, the busy spindles are still awaiting the insertion of a new and powerful turbine water wheel, of the Lafelle pattern, by which the power or capacity of the factory will be increased fifty per cent. As it now stands, there are nearly 7,000 spindles run, which consume 1,500 or 2,000 bales of cotton a year, and furnish employment to 120 women and boys. The growth of cotton manufactures in the South, within the past two or three years, has been very rapid, and their invariable success highly encouraging. Having the raw material immediately at hand, labor being cheap and abundant for work of this class, water power inexhaustible, almost, and our genial climate permitting work all the year round, the South possesses peculiar advantages for the manufacture of cotton, against which no other section of the world can successfully compete. Upon the development of this branch of industry, we believe that the future prosperity of our section mainly depends. There is certainly no more inviting field for labor and enterprise open to us at this time, particularly in South Carolina, and more particularly still, in Columbia. As public journalists we feel that we have scarcely a higher duty than to write this subject up, and we intend to do so. Col. J. B. Palmer, the active member of the firm of Childs, Johnston & Palmer, which owns the Saluda Factory, promises us some interesting statistics in relation to the business, which we hope to give the public at an early day.

Yesterday a motion for a writ of habeas corpus was made in the case of H. C. Carter, charged with forgery, before his Honor Judge A. J. Willard, by Messrs. L. E. LeConte and B. I. Boone, counsel for the defence. Messrs. Pope & Haskell, representing the State, opposed the motion on the ground that the Judge of the Circuit Court was the only recognized authority during term time. Elaborate argument was adduced in support of the objection to the jurisdiction by Messrs. Pope & Haskell. And as the sheriff was unauthorized by law to make a return for three days, the session was in consequence dismissed. We understand that another application for bail will be immediately made.

THE DAY OF ATONEMENT.—On Friday evening next, the 11th instant, corresponding with the 10th day of the Jewish month Tishri, the Day of Atonement commences, and continues for twenty-four hours. During all this time the Israelites abstain from food and drink with great rigour—not even a drop of water is allowed—and pass the time in reading the solemn prayers and confessions which are appropriate to the occasion. It is a day of purely spiritual exercise and devotion. All business is suspended, and the most pressing, secular employments are for that day forgotten; body and mind being alike devoted to the great and absorbing duty of repentance and atonement.

PATRONS OF HUSBANDRY.—The meeting, yesterday, at the Fair Grounds, was large and passed off pleasantly. The State Grange was organized and the following officers elected: Master—Colonel Thomas Taylor; Overseer—Colonel A. D. Goodwyn; Lecturer—John S. Richardson, Esq.; Secretary—D. Wyatt Aiken; Treasurer—A. M. Aiken; Chaplain—Rev. J. I. Bonner; Steward—J. K. Davis; Assistant Steward—Thomas Holloway; Gate Keeper—D. Nunnemaker. We will give a more extended report to-morrow.

PHENIXIANA.—School for scandal—A Presidential canvass. Though husband and wife are regarded as one, they often contend like "sixty." The way to make a hole in your pocket is to incur a large rent. Was William Penn's pocket handkerchief the original pen-wiper? A Noah true tale—The deluge.
