HAVANA, March 28.—The Diario publishes a proclamation by the Captain-General, addressed to the people of the Cinco-Villas District. Valmaseda says: The insurrection is of the same character now as in the beginning—a fight between civilization and barbarism. The insurgents in less than two months have completely destroyed forty plantations and burned several ranches and settlements. They rob you, destroy your houses and leave your families homeless. Society is threatened, and it is the duty of all to save it, some with their wealth, others by advising the troops of the whereabouts of the enemy, or by furnishing such aid as they can to the Government. Even the ladies can help with bandages and lint for the wounded. Let all unite in one supreme effort to end the evil which threatens all, and society will soon see its troubles diminish, and the rebellion will again retreat to its rugged mountains, where pursuit and hunger will soon finish it. Rebels who repent can still obtain pardon; those who persist in their criminal career will be surprised by death, sooner or later. Loyalists and rebels have had opportunities heretofore to know my system of command in Cuba. Its purpose ever was to protect the good and untriflingly pursue the bad. This policy will be continued so long as I govern this island in the name of the King. An official report states that the insurgents appeared at Las Lajas on Wednesday last. They were pursued by five Spanish columns, and compelled to retreat to the Caridad plantation; where several were killed. On Thursday, they were again encountered at Delgado Rancho, and lost five killed. The damage done by this raid was limited to three or four plantations, where no resistance was offered.

LONDON, March 29.—Moody and Sankey announce that they will quit Agricultural Hall after this week, and open regular missions at the East End. The revival preachers who opened the movement in Liverpool were stoned in the Irish quarter.

The committee on the Tichborne release called a meeting at Hyde Park, when 100,000 persons assembled; there were bands and flags, horses were taken from the carriages of the orators and drawn by men. The meeting passed a resolution that there would be no rest until the enormous judicial crime be rectified.

COLOGNE, March 29.—Bismarck will not become Duke of Lauenburg. Tientsin, March 29.—All the companions of the Emperor Maximilian, who shared his exploits in Mexico, are invited to attend the unveiling of his monument, early in April.

The Spanish Government announces that six Carlist generals, three colonels and many other officers have entered France and declared their adhesion to King Alfonso. A telegram from Santander asserts, on the other hand, that the hope of settling the war by a convention, is fast dying out. Gen. Lomas is expected there to meet a threatened invasion of the province. Don Carlos, with sixteen battalions and artillery, is marching on Romales, twenty-five miles from Santander.

Edgar Quinet, the author, and member of the Assembly from Paris, is dead. Berlin, March 29.—The Roman Catholic Bishops of Prussia are to hold a conference at Field, next Tuesday.

Telegraphic--American News.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—In reply to a question from the Collector of Internal Revenue at Knoxville, Tenn., the Commissioner of Internal Revenue says: "I have to inform you that this office does not and never has held that the mere act of purchasing stamps was the paramount of a tax upon a given lot of tobacco, though the purchasing of such stamps may have been with special reference to such payment. The tax cannot be said to have been paid upon a given lot of tobacco until suitable stamps have been affixed to the packages containing the same, and canceled so that the stamps have become a part and parcel of the package, and have no value of themselves apart from the packages to which they are affixed. Tobacco which was so stamped and canceled, though the tax had not really accrued in consequence of a sale, the factory for the sale or consumption, prior to 12 o'clock midnight of the 2d day of March, is held by this office to be exempt from the additional four cents tax; but if not so stamped, or is stamped with the twenty cent stamps after midnight of the 2d of March, in either case such tobacco became subject to the operation of the new law."

CHARLESTON, March 29.—Arrived—Steamship Georgia, New York; schooners Wm. Layton, Baltimore; Fannie W. Johnson, Philadelphia. SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—Jas. Lick has filed in the Recorder's office a revocation of a trust deed executed last July, conveying his property to trustees for various benevolent purposes. He recites in the revocation that he wishes to provide for parties having natural claims on him, to amend the original instrument, and with returning health, to give his personal attention to the execution of his designs. He confirms the acts heretofore performed by the trustees.

OMAHA, March 29.—W. J. Story, editor of the Times, has been sentenced to ten days' imprisonment, for the publication of articles constructively reflecting on the members of the grand jury.

BOSTON, March 29.—A boarding-house, with three men, burned. OMAHA, March 29.—The Michigan Central, Michigan Southern and Pittsburg and Fort Wayne Railroads have reduced fares to Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington; tickets are also reduced rates limited to forty days' return. This shows the reduction to be temporary.

NEW YORK, March 29.—A London despatch says a vessel has been wrecked off Dunmore, France, and the passengers are reported to have perished. It is said that the vessel was carrying with it some $100,000. It is reported that the Red Cross border agents have at least 500 Mexican bandits on Texas soil, and it is rumored that several Americans near the border have been murdered.

SAVANNAH, March 29.—Advices from Japan state that many bodies from the Pacific mail steamer Japan have been recovered. All were kept under water by the weight of the money on their persons.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., March 29.—The ice is moving from the Jersey flats, twelve miles above.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Telegrams from Wilkesbarre, Pittsburg, Port Deposit, &c., state that the rivers are rising slowly, but the gorges remain unbroken.

Probabilities.—For the South Atlantic, Gulf States and Tennessee, partly cloudy weather, North-east to South-east winds, veering to South-west in the Western Gulf.

Commissary-General Shiras is hopelessly sick. Paymaster Eckles has been assigned to Department of the Gulf. Treasurer Spinner has resigned, to take effect the first of July. J. N. New, of Indianapolis, succeeds.

The chief signal officer has sent one of his observers to Georgia, to investigate and report upon the recent tornado in that State. The Court of Claims decided the Arkansas Hot Springs case against the five several claimants to the property, which remains with the United States; Judge Long dissented—believing the evidence established Rector's claim; an appeal will be taken to the Supreme Court.

A letter from Lieutenant-General Sheridan gives quite an interesting story of Black Hills lore. A romance of a mountain of gold, whose reality was only yellow mica, considerably freshens the narrative. He recommends further explorations, and says they may develop a very valuable auriferous region.

Hostile Indians in Texas have received a lesson that will not soon be forgotten. In a recent fight between the red-skins and a party of Texans the former were almost annihilated.

Welker, the Washington caterer, is dead.

The Schuylkill Railroad employees have resumed work.

The Ashland Savings Bank, of Pottsville, Pa., has suspended.

The Rev. Jos. C. Estels, a well known Savannah divine, died yesterday, aged 93 years.

The new railroad bridge at Port Jervis was completed on Saturday, and 2,974 cars passed over it yesterday.

Eighty convicts in the Indiana State Prison made a desperate attempt to escape yesterday; but after overpowering their guards and cutting a hole in the outer wall, a general alarm was given, all the guards forced out, and at the muzzle of their rifles the convicts back to their quarters.

The Cincinnati Gazette is beginning to get the hang of our modern English language. It thus announces the approach of another Presidential election: The expiration, with the current Presidential term, of that period which custom, beginning with the foundation of the nation, and established by high, revered and unbroken precedents, has fixed with the moral force of fundamental law as the limit of the incumbency by one man, will bring early before the American people the question who shall next be raised to this high office.

James Reid and Madison Pendergrass, former County Commissioners of this County, Abram Carter James, Coleman and Perry Hagades, all tried and convicted at the present term of the Court, left Chester, yesterday, under guard, to serve out their several terms in the State Penitentiary. Their fate should teach all offenders against the law that the cause of justice, though sometimes slow, is, for the most part, sure, and that sooner or later, the majesty and supremacy of the law will be asserted. Especially should the conviction of Reid, by a jury composed of six white and six colored citizens, be a solemn admonition to all office-holders that a public office is not the property of the person who, for the time, fills that office, but that all public officers are but the trustees of the people, and will be held to a strict responsibility for the manner in which they discharge their duties. It will also, we trust, teach incompetent, unworthy and clamorous office-seekers that to hold office is a dangerous thing, and that he who accepts positions of honor, profit or usefulness does so at his own peril. Many who now so zealously hunt office should learn from the result of these trials that, for them, the post of honor and of safety is a private's station. In short, they should be content to take back seats. We are glad to believe that the administration of the County government of Chester were made in sincerity, and that the Judge and juries are doing all in their power to correct the evils the people have suffered, and to prevent their repetition.—Chester Reporter.

The climate of Texas soon makes an elephant of a man. The Daily Telegraph, of Houston, Texas, says: "Horses and alligators have but feeble constitutions compared with many of the stalwart sons of the Lone Star empire. Pistol balls and Bowie knife thrusts are, by many, considered the harmless results of playfulness and good humor, and the kick of a mule or mustang is not sufficiently emphatic to call for serious remark or notice."

A brutal prize fight is reported in the London newspapers. The pugilists were brawny cabmen, and they fought one hour and a half. During the last half of the time they were partly blinded and wholly bewildered, but were kept up to their brutal work by drinks of brandy and the encouragement of their seconds. At last neither could stand, and soon afterwards one of them died.

A special to the Louisville Courier-Journal says: An attempt was made to assassinate the James Brothers, who turned State's evidence against the Todd County Ku Klux, while upon the witness stand in the court room at Elkton, today. The attempt was unsuccessful. The assailants escaped, and the officers were in hot pursuit of them at last accounts.

The London papers announce the arrival of a new phenomenon, in the shape of a veritable Cyclop; that is to say, to those uninitiated in theology, a gentleman with only one eye, and that in the middle of the forehead. He does not hail from Mount Etna, but Australia, and bears the unclassical name of Piper Wilson, aged twenty-two.

The tornado picked up a little "nig" on Dr. Singletary's plantation, in Marion, whirled him through the air like a top for thirty yards, and left him laughing at the storm. He fell on his head, of course. A cow was picked up on Col. Harrington's plantation, carried about the same distance, thrown upon her head, and her neck was broken.

The Connecticut Democratic papers are exercised over the spread of a new secret political society styling itself the "Order of the Stars and Stripes," impeded, according to one authority, from New Hampshire. The New Haven Register thinks it should be "shunned by the patriot as he would shun a viper."

The election in Lancaster, last week, resulted in the choice of J. W. Twitty, Esq., as Probate Judge, and Messrs. H. L. Belk and N. B. Vallandigham as County Commissioners. But the Governor having ordered the election postponed, it will probably have to be done over.

A Chinese Naval Reserve, amounting to twenty-eight steamers, is in course of formation in the Celestial Empire. A dock-yard for building iron-clads is also to be established at Foo Choo, and a number of Chinese cadets are about to be sent to the British navy.

Tempering with the gallows under any circumstances is a dangerous game, as an unfortunate prisoner in the Hudson County jail in Jersey City found to his cost. In attempting to lift a weight attached to the machine of death he injured himself fatally.

ANOTHER EDITOR SHOT.—On Saturday, Mr. M. R. Scullen, editor of the Aberdeen (Miss.) True Republican, was shot and is expected to die, by an actor named Beverly, at the time performing in Aberdeen. The shooting grew out of a criticism in Soullen's paper.

A member of a New Hampshire congregation went to church at 8 o'clock A. M., in order to secure his pew, which was claimed by another member, and a minion of the law had to be called in to eject one of the belligerents.

A Louisville Lodge of Knights of Pythias has been sued by Margaret L. Marland, who alleges that her husband received fatal injuries on his initiation, and claims $50,000 damages.

A fire at Fulton, Ill., on the 27th, destroyed the post office, with the mails, Journal office and City Record. Total loss, machinery, building and fixtures, $10,000; insurance, $4,900.

A fire at Camilla, Ga., on the 26th, destroyed the press and certain materials of the Camilla Enterprise, together with a small building of J. W. Pease. Incendiarism; no insurance.

At Laporte, Indiana, the ice dealers announce, as a recommendation of their ice, which is twenty inches in thickness, that fine print can be read through it without difficulty.

An ingenious Virginia distiller converted a cave and a hollow tree growing over it, his purpose of defrauding the revenue, the tree serving as a concealed chimney.

The West Jersey Game Protection Society purchased and will bring from North Carolina 2,000 live quails, which will be turned into the woods of New Jersey.

It is generally understood that the capital of the United States will be removed to Long Branch, N. J., on or about 1st of July.

In a fox-chase in England lately, the Rev. C. W. Wilkinson broke his neck and Florence Douglas smashed her collar-bone; but the fox was caught. Mr. Pherson, the well-known colored wood-sawyer, died in Charleston, on Saturday, suddenly, of old age.

In Schuylkill County, Pa., the "Molly-Maguire" are still after the "Blacklegs"—workers. Mr. Elisha G. Gilbreath, of Greenville, died last week.

Coming Revolution. EVERY GREAT REVOLUTION has been preceded by some sign that struck with awe all who saw it; so also the "Coming Revolution" is preceded by a "Rushing Sale of Cigars," that has struck those interested in a similar manner, to be followed by a change of signs that will designate without fail PERRY & SLAWSON'S Cigar and Tobacco Store, and then "Ye Little Stars, hide your diminished rays." March 30

"Little Stars." THIS and other brands of CHOICE CIGARS are rapidly revolutionizing the trade. The "Little Stars" are really something to brag of; the "BOYS OWN" maintain their usefulness and popularity, (2 for 1 dime); the "IMPERIAL" is a luxury only to be thoroughly appreciated by the veteran smoker; while gracing the shelves and show-cases are many rare and fragrant "triumphs of the weed," which I do not care to enumerate, for the simple reason that some enterprising rival might steal my thunder, as it were. But rest assured that, badinage aside, the best value in Cigars and Tobaccos can only be had at the great CITY HALL GROCERY. GEO. SYMMERS. "Twinkle, twinkle little stars," and they are going to "twinkle," you bet!
