London, April 7.—The Times Paris correspondent states that Prussia sent notes to the other powers on the subject of her correspondence with Belgium, and declared she would await the result of the trustworthy investigation. He vouchers for the trustworthiness of his information, but is probably incomplete, as the trivality of the German complaints don't justify the subsequent significant expressions. The gravest feature of Prussia's note is that the complaints are direct against the Belgians generally, whose attitude is therein considered hostile towards Germany.

London, April 7.—The budget about to be presented, will give the following satisfactory exhibit for the year ending March 31, 1875: Revenue from all sources $75,000,000; excess over estimate $500,000. The reduction of expenses and the increase of revenue gives the Government $1,125,000 surplus.

St. Petersburg, April 7.—Czarina, the Princess Imperial, has been delivered of a daughter.

Venice, April 7.—The festivities attending the meeting of the Emperor and King continue. 12,000 troops were reviewed, which was witnessed by 30,000 people. Their majesties were enthusiastically cheered. At the grand dinner, King Victor toasted the Emperor of Austria as a brother and friend. The Emperor, in responding, said: "I drink to the health of my dear brother and friend the King of Italy, and to the well being and prosperity of Italy."

London, April 7.—The new British man-of-war Alexandria was launched today.

Specials from Paris, regarding Prussia's note, says Prussia demands new legislation on the part of Belgium. The Belgians refute Prussia's claim. Her note asserts that she is independent and neutral. She has done nothing that could alter her relations with a friendly nation which guarantees her independence.

St. Louis, April 7.—Last evening, the steamer Farnon, lying at Kountz Wharf, loading for New Orleans, took fire in her hold. She was towed across the river, where she burned to the water's edge, and sunk in eight feet of water. The boat was owned by James Reese, of Pittsburg, Captain John Darrah, her commander, and Thomas Darrah, the clerk. She cost $70,000 two years ago, and was insured for $2,000 in Pittsburg companies. She had about 1,500 tons cargo on board, valued at about $125,000.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The Court of Claims has just decided that full pardon and amnesty to those concerned in the late war, while it blots out or throws into oblivion all personal offenses, does not restore the proceeds placed in the treasury from confiscated property sold. The word "pardon" must, the Court says, be construed according to its meaning, as found in the English statute law at the time of the formation of the Constitution. The King had power to restore estates, except those in which he might be personally interested. Besides, the proceeds of confiscated property being received in the treasury, it could not be withdrawn therefrom, except by virtue of a law passed in conformity with the Constitution.

Theodore Hook was delighting a few friends one summer's evening at Fulham, by an extempore comic song, when in the middle of it the servant entered with, "Please, sir, here's Mr. Winter, the tax-gatherer; he says he has called for taxes." Hook would not be interrupted but went on at the piano-forte as if nothing had happened, with the following stanza: Here comes Mr. Winter, collector of taxes, I'd advise you to pay him whatever he asks; Excuses wont do, he stands no sort of summary, Though Winter his name is, his process is summary.

Bismarck was sixty years old on April 1. He is no fool, either. The 27th day of April is Grant's birthday anniversary. He will be fifty-three years old.

Forbearance is not always a virtue, even in a clergyman. Imagine the feelings of the rural divine who, after getting fifty cents for marrying a couple, found that the bridegroom had gone off with his new silk hat.

Josh Billings says: "If you are going to give a man anything, give it to him cheerfully and quick; don't make him get down on his knees in front of you and listen to the ten commandments and then give him five cents."

George Drury, member of the Louisiana House of Delegates from Assumption Parish, has been indicted by the grand jury for participating in the forgery of the general appropriation bill recently promulgated.

Rev. Dr. Mayer, Jewish rabbi, of Baltimore, says that the mandate "Whoso sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed," was a prohibition of cannibalism.

Mr. Julius Schwerin, an old and much esteemed Israelitish citizen of Sumter, quietly breathed out his life on Monday morning last.

The Civil Rights Bill does not worry Washington County, Indiana, to any alarming extent. There is not one colored person in the whole County.

The Cincinnati Commercial gives the Ohio Legislature a first-rate notice gratis. It says that it goes out with the nastiest record in the history of the State.

An Arkansas Democrat has named his new male baby Poland Garland. This is the way they express their feelings over the new order of things in that State.

Henry Ward Beecher has invested in a tract of land in Florida adjoining his sister Harriet's orange plantation.

If they get up any more political parties in Rhode Island, where will they find room for the ballot-boxes?

The plot of the "Grand Duchess" is probably derived from an incident in the life of the Emperor Paul, of Russia, who, seeing a common soldier whose looks pleased him, stopped his carriage and asked him to enter. "I am only a private, sire." "The Emperor never makes a mistake, Captain." "I obey, sire." "Very well, Major; sit beside me." "Sire, if I dared—" "Speak, Colonel; what is it?" "If the drive had lasted much longer he would have left the carriage a Field Marshal, but as it was he only rose to the rank of Major-General, when his patron was compelled to return to the palace. But it mattered little, for at a subsequent interview he descended at the Emperor's fiat, step by step, from the grade of a Major-General to that of private soldier.

A summer episode, as evolved by little Johnny: Last summer our dog Towser was a lying in the sun a trine to sleep, but the flies was that bad he cudden, cos he had to catch em, and bime by a bee lit on his hed, and was awoking about like the dog was hisn. Then Towser he shet his dreamy eyes, and his mouth too, and had begun to make a peacefule smile wen the bee stung him, and you never see a lilly of the valley ack so in ol your life.

The Matrimonial News, a journal devoted to the promotion of marriage and conjugal felicity, has a wide circulation all over Great Britain. There are more than 300 advertisements in its last issue for husbands and wives. Clergymen, army officers, members of Parliament, manufacturers, merchants, physicians, chemists, farmers, university men, an Earl's son, a reporter, gentlemen with expectations, and gentlemen without any, bachelors and widowers, Roman Catholic and Protestant, all urge their suits through this convenient journal, which contains full announcement of characteristics, physical and spiritual; age; condition, property, and family connections.

Make it your own rule not only to be punctual, but a little beforehand.

NEW FAN FLIRTATIONS.—When a lady uses her fan from inward, from space to the body, it means that she is not engaged. If, however, this inner movement is made by fanning in a downward direction, it means she is a widow; if in an upper direction, that she has never been married. A close fan held upright means "shut up." An open fan resting on the breast, means "silence." A closed fan presented to you horizontally, means an invitation to dance; presented by the small end, means you are a Jerusalem zoological. With one leaf open "friendship;" two open leaves, "sympathy;" three "love and passion." A "talking fan" should be composed of seven leaves to correspond with the seven days of the week. A circular movement of the fan means "we are engaged." Spelling may be done with it when the wearer is certain of her spelling.

A crusty bachelor's objection to ladies with beautiful teeth is that nine out of ten of them would laugh at a funeral.

PLAIN WORDS FOR THE PEOPLE.—When broken down in health, strength and spirits, it is not necessary that we should ask a medical man whether an invigorant is necessary. Common sense tells us that it is. The only question to be decided is, what the invigorant shall be. A standard tonic and restorative, which has been many years before the public, and in which millions of the intelligent classes repose the fullest faith, seems, in a case like this, to present the strongest claims to the confidence of the prudent invalid. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters may be truly said to possess these high recommendations. Its triumphant progress during a period of twenty years, its present popularity, and the uniform success which attends its use in indigestion, nervous debility, biliary complaints, fever and ague, and all ailments which depress the physical system and enervate the mind, entitle it to the rank of a standard national specific. It is regarded in that light by the community at large, and hundreds of thousands of both sexes resort to it at this season as a preventive of that numerous and harassing class of diseases which take their rise from the miasmatic winds and vapors of spring. It is a stimulant, a tonic, an alterative and a mild aperient—four essential restorative and protective elements of the materia medica—united in a single agreeable preparation. Every ingredient is vegetable, of the finest quality, and absolutely pure. Hostetter's Bitters is better known, held in greater esteem, and commands a larger sale than any other proprietary medicine manufactured in this country or imported from abroad.

Opera House. TUESDAY EVENING, APRIL 13. MISS ANNA E. DICKINSON Will deliver her intensely thrilling sketch, entitled

"JOAN OF ARC!"

"TO sum up ANNA DICKINSON and express her best, in fewest words, as she is in reality and personality, it is no extravagance of speech to say that of the many strange and remarkable personages that talent, ambition and revolutions have given to the world, none have been so marked, on the woman side of the race, as Miss Dickinson. She is the crowning personage of a peculiar class of genius and greatness, headed by Hypatia, and succeeded by Joan of Arc and Fanny Wright. In ability, she stands side by side with the former and the latter, and in the wonderful display of her meteoric eloquence and brilliant genius, she ranks with Joan of Arc, the heroine of one nation and the captive of another. Her eloquence is not the studied acquirement of schools and seminaries, but the gift of God. It transcends all discipline, and is the most perfect fruit of genius. In oratory, no man is her superior. Her eloquence draws multitudes of men and women, of diverse creeds and nationalities, to hear her discussions, and in future ages she will shine in history as the brightest girl that the nineteenth century gave to America."—Philadelphia Press.
