

Temperance Column.

By the Ocala Temperance Reform Club.
 Rev. J. P. Milburn and Isaac Stevens, Editors
 The Club meets every Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in Temperance Hall. The Public are invited.

WHAT IT DOES.

"I drink to make me work," said a young man.
 An old man replied:
 "I was once a prosperous farmer. I had a loving wife and two fine lads. We had a comfortable home. But we used to drink ale 'to make us work.' Those two lads I laid in 'drunkards' graves. My wife died broken-hearted, and died by her sons. Had it not been for drink, I might now be an independent gentleman. But I used to 'drink to make me work.' Mark! it makes me work now. At seventy years of age I am obliged to work for my daily bread. Drink and it will make you work."—The Life Boat.

To the Members of the Ocala Temperance Reform Club.
 You are hereby notified and urgently requested to meet in our hall on next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, for the purpose of transacting business of vital importance to the members. Probably it may be the last meeting of the club. Do not fail to come.
 W. L. DITTO, President.

Comfort One Another.

Comfort one another,
 For the way is growing dreary,
 And the feet are often weary,
 And the heart is very sad,
 There is heavy burden-bearing,
 When we think that none are caring,
 And we half forget that ever we were glad.

Comfort one another,
 With the hand-clasp close and tender,
 With the sweetness love can render
 And with looks of friendly eyes.
 Do not wait with grace unspoken,
 While life's daily bread is broken—
 Gentle speech is oft like manna from the skies.

Comfort one another,
 There are words of music ringing,
 Down the ages, sweet as singing
 Of the happy choirs above.
 Ransomed saint and mighty angel,
 Lift the grand, deep-voiced evangel
 Where forever they are praising the eternal love.

Comfort one another—
 By the hope of Him who sought us,
 In our peril—Him who bought us,
 Paying with his most precious blood,
 By faith that will not alter,
 Trusting strength that will not falter,
 Leaning on the One divinely good.

Comfort one another.
 Let the grave gloom lie beyond you,
 While the Spirit's words remind you
 Of the home beyond the tomb,
 Where no more is pain or parting,
 But the presence of the Lord, and for all his people room. — Selected.
