INTELLECTUAL TRAINING

I believe that most women would be wiser, better, and therefore happier, for larger intellectual training. It is to be desired for all women. By no means, nor for all men. Just what it should be is another matter. For most women, who are to live the ordered and usual lives of women, it should be such as cultivates tastes which bring intelligent joys into the midst of any life whether its lot be care-filled struggle, or ease and luxury, whether its fate be to live single, or to marry.

But before we go further let us pause and reflect. You come here, and for what? To acquire knowledge? Why? What we have not, what is hard to get, what few attain, is apt to be overvalued. I have found many young women, and some men, prone to overrate the uses and the joy to be had out of the mere knowing of what others do not know. This idea becomes a sort of possession; it owns you, not you it. That is what possession means.

I go a step further. Knowledge, with power to use it for the begetting of other knowledge, has its evils, or may have. If it become an overmastering passion, even in genius, it may be satisfied at a cost beyond its worth. Would you see what it can do? How in one with a really splendid intellect it can destroy happiness, obliterate the moral sense and substitute for love of family the extreme of selfishness and even contempt for the decencies of existence? If so, read the story of Sonia Kovalevsky, and remember it is not needful to be a genius in order to be morally hurt by the greed of learning. I wish only to call to your minds the danger which may arise out of the excess of a relatively good thing.

If you can learn any branch so as to liberalize your soul and give to joy fresh wings, well and good; but to do through acquiring a language as dead as Greek or Anglo-Saxon is a task beyond the possibilities of most folk. I want you, therefore, to be clear as to what you want and why you want it. Are you to be a teacher? That is one thing. Are you to have a home life which involves no use for the sharply defined knowledge which is to be in turn a source of knowledge? Then think a little of why this or that science is desirable.—Dr. S. Weir Mitchell.

HIS LIFE WAS SAVED

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with Typhoid Fever, that ran into Pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of Consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use, and now am well and strong; I can't say too much in its praise." This marvelous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all Throat and Lung trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1. Trial bottles, 10 cents, at Garrett & Goris's, Ocala, and all other drug stores. Every bottle guaranteed.

THE WAY TO BE HAPPY

A hermit there was and he lived in a grot. And the way to be happy, folks said he had got; As I wanted to learn it, I went to his cell. And when I came there, the old hermit said, "Well, Young man, by your looks you want something, I see; Now, tell me the business that brings you to me?" "The way to be happy, folks say you have got. And wishing to learn it, I've come to your grot. Now, I beg and entreat, if you have such a plan, That you write it me down as plain as you can." Upon which the old hermit he went to his pen. And brought me this note when he came back again. "'Tis being and doing and having that make All the pleasures and pains of which mankind partake; To be what God pleases, to do a man's best. And to have a good heart, is the way to be blest." —Byron.

CAPTAIN NELLIE

Miss Nellie Miles, a daughter of the late Lieut. John Miles and a cousin of Gen. Nelson A. Miles, directs and manages a full military band in Lynn, Mass. She has just received an invitation and permit to exhibit her organization at the Paris Exposition in 1900, and has accepted the same. Every member of the band save its leader is a man, and the forty-five musicians of the company are devoted to their leader, and declare that "Captain Nellie" was born with a genius for military music. Charles Cook, the famous clarinetist of Queen Victoria's Grenadier Guards, was Miss Miles' grandfather, and her cousin, Robert William Wynne, was recently knighted for his musical and artistic services to his country.

When "Captain Nellie" first began leading the band her hearers often commented unpleasantly upon her being a woman and usurping the place of a man. One day she retorted: "You picture the genius of music, a woman; you carve the spirit of music, a woman; and in your poetry music is symbolized as a woman. It seems to me, therefore, that you can, if you try, find a logical reason for a woman leading a band."

"Captain Nellie" began her musical career at the age of seven, when she appeared in concert on the English stage. Since then she has studied the piano, organ, violin, xylophone, Swiss horn and the viola. Members of her company say that she can take any part in the band and make a success of it.—Saturday Evening Post.

DOCTORS AGREE.

Recent investigations by the authorities of several States have attracted attention to proprietary medicines, and there is a marked disposition to draw a sharp line of distinction between mysterious nostrums and worthy articles of scientific compound and known character.

"Many proprietary medicines," says a leading physician, "are the best possible prescriptions for the diseases which they are made to cure. It is certainly only reasonable to expect that chemists of world-wide reputation and unlimited resources ought to make compounds with exceptional skill, and it is manifestly to their interest, to have their ingredients fresh and pure. Take, for example, Lippman's great remedy, popularly known as P. P. P. The formula is on every bottle. Every physician knows that the ingredients are the best possible remedies for purifying the blood, and the compound is a scientific one, which increases the efficiency of the whole. I sometimes prescribe special mixtures for Blood Poisoning, Scrofulous Affections, Catarrh, Eczema and other complaints arising from impure and weak blood, but I always feel safest in prescribing P. P. P., especially where I am not personally acquainted with the druggist. In prescribing P. P. P. (Lippman's Great Remedy), I know I am taking no chances."

When doctors feel such confidence in a standard remedy, it is no wonder that the general public insist upon having it.

P. P. P. is sold by all druggists. $1 a bottle; six bottles, $5.
