THE TEAPOT GROCERY

THE CITY COURT

Yesterday morning in the mayor's court several colored persons were tried for drunkenness. They were fined from $2 to $10 each. This morning Mayor Bullock was surprised to learn that there were no cases for him to try. Several people had been locked up for being too drunk to navigate, but were released as soon as they sobered up.

CHRISTIAN XMAS CELEBRATION

Mr. and Mrs. Groves Entertain the Teachers and Pupils of the Christian Sunday School

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Groves gave the children of the Christian church a Christmas tree yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at their home on Exposition street. There was an elegant dinner served, at which Miss Lola Liddon presided as toast mistress. Before the toasts were given, the children united in repeating the Lord's Prayer, then toasts were given by Little Merle and Lyl Biggs, Nellie Beckham, Cora Hess, Vivian Dame and Henry Groves.

Everything good and in great plenty was provided for this table, and how the little ones, and the older folks, too, did enjoy the feast.

A beautiful Christmas tree was arranged in another room, over which Mrs. T. E. Biggs presided. On the tree were presents for each juvenile member of the Sunday school, and every child's heart was made glad.

The teachers of the Sunday school presented Mr. Groves, their superintendent, with a very handsome gold fob chain.

Misses Nellie and Valita Potter, Sara Whitfield and Lola Liddon assisted Mrs. Groves in entertaining the guests. The rooms were most beautifully decorated with palms, vines and holly. At the close of the exercises the children joined in singing "Little Children Praise the Savior."

There were about fifty little folks present and about twenty-five young people.

Mr. and Mrs. Groves bore the entire expense of the Christmas tree, and all that went with the entertainment, and to them is due the credit of one of the most enjoyable evenings ever spent by the young folks of the Christian church.

A QUAKER FIRECRACKER

A Joint of a Stovepipe Stampedes a Dozen Different Crowds Christmas Evening

Yesterday afternoon Henry Livingston and Bob Connor got a joint of stove pipe, filled it with excelsior and covered it with red, firecracker paper, inserted a blasting fuse and started out for some fun. They went into several crowded places and seemingly tried to light it, when there was a general scattering of that crowd, who were not in a proper frame of mind to be blown to kingdom come.

Afterwards it was placed in the window of the Surprise Store, with a note attached, "Price $2." and a collection was taken up to buy it. The amount was soon raised and Henry took the cracker out into the street to set off. He lighted the fuse, which burned beautifully, and every one ran, for they thought, at the very least, the walls of the buildings would be blown in and all the windows broken. Of course it didn't go off, and some one yelled "Rubber!" and there was a big laugh, but still there were believers, and it was placed back in the window with another sign, saying that it would be fired promptly at 8 o'clock.

In the meantime a canon cracker was really put inside, with the fuse protruding, and at the appointed time, with a big crowd present, it was again lighted and the explosion, so small in proportion to the size, got the laugh on the crowd.

That cracker created more excitement than any other one thing during the afternoon.
