THE KINDERGARTEN PICNIC

The seventh annual picnic of the Misses Sharpe's Ocala Kindergarten School took place yesterday afternoon in the lovely hammock just north of the old rifle target practice ground.

Over one hundred persons participated in this delightful sylvan affair. The attendants were conveyed to the grounds in private vehicles and livery teams, with bells attached to the harness of the horses, that made the ride all the more interesting to the little folks and those of larger growth. The refreshments, which were supplied by the parents of the pupils, were of a most tempting and satisfying nature and partaken of by all in a manner that attested their true appreciation of same. Full bent was given the scholars in their charming woodland retreat and they frolicked, played and flitted in and out among the sun glints and shadows of the towering oaks, majestic magnolias and festooned bows of the variegated forest, like sprites in merriest glee, making the vicinity ring with the echoes of their songs, their hearts overflowing in the happy thoughts of the boundless vacation prospect.

A pleasing incident in this merry party was also the celebration of little Miss Bertha Smith's seventh birthday, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Smith, and in token of this fact the picnic was postponed from last Friday to Monday to do this pupil honor.

A truly inspiring scene was that in which the children and their parents, to the number of ninety-seven, joined hands in a ring, eating Dame's cream and drinking Mr. E. C. Smith's ice cold soda water, which is his annual liquid contribution to this outdoor socially hilarious gathering.

When the shadows of evening began to gather, it was with the utmost reluctance that the young and old be took themselves to their transportation and returned home, delighted with their outing and the children more in love than ever with their excellent teachers and efficient assistants.

The Misses Sharpe feel well pleased with the progress made by their pupils during the school year just closed and are particularly gratified at the excellence of many of the papers filed as the work of their examinations and an indication of thoroughness and proficiency in their various studies that is a high grade certificate of the efficient educational work this school is doing for the sixty-five pupils enrolled.

Such ladies as comprise the teaching force of the Ocala Kindergarten would be an honor to any town and Ocala certainly feels proud of having such estimable women among us, who are so ably assisting in the school work of the community.

J. M. NEELY
OCALA — FLORIDA

H. G. Wells, the English author, is rapidly taking the place of Jules Verne in the realm of fiction. Tired of this commonplace world and its everyday people, he invades other planets or imports their inhabitants to ours. From that standpoint, he writes some of the most improbably possible and weirdly practical stuff ever spread on a page. His last story, "The First Men in the Moon" closes in the June Cosmopolitan, which seems to have a monopoly of his writings. At the Ocala News Co.'s store.
