LITTLE JOHNNY WRITES ABOUT THE HOG

Missus Dobby, which has got the red head, she had a pet pig with waddling in the house and eat every thing which it could lay its hands on, and I time she cum in her own self just in time to see the pig swoller a marble with her little Sammy roled tord it on the flore. So she sed, Missus Dobby did. Why, Sammy, now you have lost yure marble but Sammy he sed it didnt matter much, cos it was the only I wish was left and he eulent play a game with only but just I.

Then she ast what had become of the others, cos he had had more'n a hundred. Sammy he sed he gese mobby they had dew up the chimney, but the pig it wank its I much as to say Sammy was a good I. But purty sure the pig it was took bad in the stummk and dide in a minit, for it had et all the marbles with Sammy had.

One time wen Uncle Ned was a nuzepaper man the eddler tole him for to write a stunner on the American hog, which was a live isher and a burnin' question. So Uncle Ned he opened his desk and put out his pen and his paper and his tunc, and made his legs curly, and wrote as follers, wich he remembers like it was yesterday:

The American hog, which is begining for to absorb the atension of the scientific, is a quoderped, but fish is, and the graft roes like distent thunder. The American hog is distinguished from the yuman race by its grunt, which makes it woder in the mud like it eulent get up, but they can wen there is anything in it.

The hog tode is warty, and sheeps has wool, and the peock it has got eyes in its tale, and the ri nossey rose it carries a sticker on its nose, but the Hog of our yonion it rutes with hisson and nashes his teeth orle; he has got a button on his snow, but no button-hole for to put it in, and a note of intergrashun for a tale, wich proves that all the he was created up rite his purpus is involved in dout.

The he I is a buck, but the lady hog is pork, and wen the wickid deviles is drove out of yumans they goes in to hogs and the hogs runs down a hill in to a lak wich burneth with fier and broom stone and the deviles is all drowned.

It is wickid for to take soap twice, but the American hog he puts his I feets in the troff and rises up his voice for to ast for more, cos he is the king of beests and the lever wich moves the world!

Wen the eddler seen wot Uncle Ned had rote he sed he wuddent put it in the paper, and I think so 2, as I have never did seen such rot in my life and Bibbid never did in hisson, but the 10 commandments says thou shalt not eat pork, for it biteth like a adder.

But a pigs tail nice roasted is the sum of yuman hapness. Ambrose Bierce in the American.

EMERGENCY MEDICINES

It is a great convenience to have at hand reliable remedies for use in cases of accident and for slight injuries and ailments. A good liniment and one that is fast becoming a favorite if not a household necessity is Chamberlain's Pain Balm. By applying it promptly to a cut, bruise or burn it allays the pain and causes the injury to heal in about one-third the time usually required, and as it is an antiseptic it prevents any danger of blood poisoning. When Pain Balm is kept at hand a sprain may be treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a quick recovery. For sale by all druggists.

SOME FAMOUS SIEGES

Port Arthur was invested by the Japanese on May 13, and still holds out. General Stoessel is making military history, as he is the first commander who has been called upon to defend a great fortress equipped with modern armament. Nevertheless there have been many famous sieges in other times. The Springfield Republican has compiled a partial list of them, in which it shows that this is Russia's second siege within a century. Sebastopol having taxed her to the utmost in 1854-5.

When the allies drove Prince Menschikoff back after the Alma he retreated to Sebastopol, sank vessels in the harbor to prevent an attack from the sea, and made ready for a long fight. The allies began the siege October 9, 1854, but it was not a close beleaguement, as the Russians made numerous sallies, and the Chinese stronghold was never wholly surrounded. Russia was able to send fresh troops and supplies to Menschikoff, and his positions were not carried until September 8, 1855, eleven months after he retreated into the city. If such conditions existed at Port Arthur Japan could never plant the flag of the Rising Sun over the citadel.

Russia was the besieger at Plevna, and the ninety-four days (some say 103) held out against the Russian Generals made him a military hero, but the Russian force in 1877 was not so large as that which Japan is now hurling against the Gibraltar of the East.

Gibraltar, the strongest fortress in the world, has the record for the longest investment in modern times. The English holding it against the armies of France and Spain from July 16, 1779, until February 1, 1781. Military experts say now that no one can carry Gibraltar, and those who have seen the English guns on the rocky hill and the English battlements in the outer harbor will agree with the experts. The only way in which Gibraltar can be taken is by starvation, and England has the fortices provisioned for seven years now.

England was humbled in just twenty days at Yorktown, for it only took that length of time to bring Lord Cornwallis to his knees and the real fighting of the revolution to an end.

Vicksburg stood the most famous siege of the civil war and fell seventy-nine days after its investment.

Quebec fell before the English in 1759, after a sixty-nine days' siege, during which General Wolfe lost his life and the city was nearly ruined.

Sarasota recalls to the mind everything that is horrible in warfare and even the women fought under Palafox in his desperate straits in the old Spanish city against the army of Napoleon. The first siege lasted from July 27 to August 1, 1808, and the final struggle began on December 29, and lasted sixty-three days, but the houses had to be carried one after another before the final capitulation.

In 1870 and '71 starving Paris held out against the Prussian forces for 132 days, but it was too strongly fortified and garrisoned to be carried by assault.

It took seventy days to starve Bazaine's forces out of Metz in 1870, and the Turks held Kars six months in 1855 before it was reduced by starvation by the Russian army. It was taken by assault after a shorter siege in 1877.
