

Not "How Much?"

but "how good" is the question that every one should ask in buying candy.

The old saying that "a man is judged by the candy he gives" holds good today same as always. Buy the best—don't take the "just as good" kind.

HE'S A RAINBEAU

There's a young lady in the second ward who has two beaux. One is the favorite and calls every evening that the weather is good and takes the girl to the Berlin and to Troxler's. The other kneads that he isn't in it, sea he only goes rainy evenings, and always carries a box of candy. She calls him her rainbeau. If this weather continues, the Star will put its money on his winning.

"In a Submarine" is a very interesting subject at the Berlin theater this evening, and "An Indian Idyll" is a very pretty story. There are two other good subjects, all making a list that can't be beaten for a pleasant hour. The rain cut the crowds short last night, but all who were glad they had not stayed away.

Tulula Lodge held a very small but entirely interesting meeting last night. After business was attended to, the brethren adjourned to Troxler's and the Berlin theater, and refreshed both the physical and spiritual parts of their nature.

MARION COUNTY FAIR ASSOCIATION

Ocala, Fla., Sept. 7, 1908.

Editor Star: At a meeting of citizens of Marion county held at Ocala, Sept. 1st, 1908, the question of holding a county fair was discussed. It was the unanimous conclusion of those in attendance that as an educator to the farmers, merchants and business men generally, a collection of the diversified products of the soil and industries of ourselves and neighbors, would result in great benefit; not only by stimulating a friendly rivalry among the tillers of the soil, but as an object lesson to "the stranger with cup gates" of the resources and fertility of our heaven-favored land. It was therefore decided to hold a fair at Ocala sometime during the coming winter.

In order to perfect an organization, meetings have been called for Tuesday, October 6th, 1908, at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m., to be held at the courthouse in Ocala. We ask you to be with us and give your support to place our county where it belongs—"The Banner County of the State."

Respectfully,
David S. Williams, Secretary.

BRIGHT BITS

"Daughter, who was that young nuisance honking in front of the house last night?"

"It was Montmorency, father. Sixteen honks means 'I love you.'"

Pittsburg Post.

Ascum—So you think the Bible is contradictory in spots?

Henpeck—Well, yes, I do.

Ascum—Where, for instance?

Henpeck—Well, I can't reconcile the statement that Solomon was the wisest man and that he had so many wives.—Boston Record.

She—If a man loves his wife as much as she loves him, he will stop wasting his money on cigars if she asks him.

He—yes, but if his wife loves him as much as she ought to love a man who loves her enough to stop it if she asks him, she won't ask him.—Evening Sun.

Who here Rev. White conducted a series of meetings. He is a powerful preacher and the congregations never failed to fill the house and all seemed interested and there were two additions. Mr. and Mrs. White made many friends here who will be glad to have them come again.

The Brave Buttery.

Here is an unorthodox story of King Solomon. One day a butterfly sat on the king's temple and boasted to his wife. "If I chose I could lift my wing and shiver this building to the ground," he swaggered. Solomon, overhearing, sent for the boaster. "How dare you?" he thundered. The butterfly groveled. "I did it to impress my wife," he pleaded. The great monarch was instantly appeased and let him go. "What did Solomon say to you?" gasped a quivering wife five minutes later. "Oh, he begged me not to do it," said the butterfly airily. And Solomon, again overhearing, smiled.—Chicago News.

Wifely Curiosity.

"Henry, dear, I tried on a suit of your clothes the other day, and it fitted me to perfection."

"May I ask your object in taking such a liberty with my garments?"

"Why, Belle Greene said she heard Tommy Tolliver say that you wasn't much bigger than a shrimp, and I was just wondering how big a shrimp I was."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Alike in One Way.

"He's quite wealthy and prominent now," said Mrs. Starvem, "and they say he rose practically from nothing."

"Well, well," remarked Mr. Border.

"That's just what I rose from—at the breakfast table this morning."—London Answers.
