Boston Tomorrow will Probably See the Largest Attendance Ever at a Game of Baseball

(Associated Press)

Boston, Oct. 6.—The largest attendance in the history of baseball is expected at the first game of the world's series here tomorrow, according to President Lannin of the Boston Americans, who worked all night distributing tickets. Last year the record crowd of 42,300 saw the first game. Many indications point to a greater interest than before, Lannin said.

LEADERS IN THE AMERICAN LEAGUE

New York, Oct. 6.—The following roster of the leading players of the Boston American League team, including the principal features of their playing career from the time they entered the national sport:

William F. Carrigan, the manager of the team, was born at Lewiston, Me., Oct. 22, 1883, and came to the Red Sox from Holy Cross college in 1907. Later he was sent to the Toronto club of the Eastern League for further development and in 1908 he returned to the Boston club and has remained with that team since. Late in July, 1913, he became manager in which capacity he has acted for the three years. Carrigan is one of the very few playing managers of the present day. As a catcher he has taken part in more than thirty games this year and has an excellent batting and fielding average.

John J. Barry, who was born in Meriden, Conn., in 1887, graduated from Holy Cross college where he became a prominent factor in collegiate baseball and was signed by the Philadelphia Athletics after his graduation. He was one of Mack's mainstays from 1908 to 1914 when the Philadelphia manager broke up his wonderful team and Barry went to Boston. He was the regular second baseman for the Red Sox, a timely hitter and a player possessed of all around ability but injuries which he received during the present season have prevented him from playing for some time past and he may not take part in the coming series.

Forrest Cady, first string catcher of the Red Sox, is the tallest man on the team. He was born at Bishop, Ill., twenty-five years ago and made his professional debut with Indianapolis in 1908. He was sold by Indianapolis in 1910 to Newark and was with that team for two years, being sold to Boston in 1912, when that club won the world's championship from the Giants.

George Foster, born in Bokoshe, Okla., twenty-seven years ago, is a right-handed pitcher. Most of his experience has been gained with the Red Sox, as he started his career in the Texas League with Houston in 1912, and went to Boston in 1913. Foster, with Wood absent, was the mainstay of the Red Sox last year, and promises to continue in that role for some time, because he is a willing worker and possesses the skill and good judgment to go with it.

Dell C. Gainer, who substituted at the initial sack for Hohlitzel, and hit the ball more than any infielder on the club the latter part of the season, is 29 years old. He began his career in 1900 with the Fort Wayne club of the Central League. He was purchased from Fort Wayne by Detroit in 1910, but was not seasoned enough. He returned to Fort Wayne, but was recalled in 1911. He immediately won the first bag on the Tiger team and played through the season of 1911. He broke his wrist in 1912 and was out of the game so long Detroit sold him to Boston. He was a utility infielder and pinch hitter for the club last season and has been of great value to the team.

Charles Wagner, utility infielder of the Red Sox, probably is the oldest man in point of service on the Boston club. He was born in New York, September 23, 1881, where he played semi-professionally for several years before being tried out by the Giants as a shortstop in 1901. He reached his right form in 1906, attracted the Red Sox owners and was purchased by that club.

Lawrence Gardner, third baseman, is a graduate of the University of Vermont, where he first learned his baseball. He was born at Enosburg Falls, Vt., May 23, 1886, of English parents. From 1905 to 1907 he was star of the Vermont team. Many clubs offered Gardner a contract, and he practically chose the Red Sox himself, signing in 1908. He farmed out to Lynn of the New England League, in 1908, returning to the Red Sox the following season. Since then he has played continuously, excepting when injured, at first in utility roles, then succeeding McConnell at second base and later being moved to third base, his present position. He is a splendid

MUST BE DECIDED BY MIDNIGHT

Catts and Knott Playing Last Cards in the Game Before the Supreme Court

(Associated Press)

Tallahassee, Oct. 6.—Catts and Knott today both petitioned the supreme court to direct the state canvassing board to meet and re-canvass the returns in certain districts. The contest must be decided by midnight. Knott is asking for the acceptance of all amended returns. Catts wanted 69 uncounted votes from Alachua county.

fielder and an excellent batsman, besides being fast on the bases. He bats left-handed and throws right-handed. Sylvanus Gregg was born at Ashland, Wash., Oct. 27, 1887. He played ball with many independent teams during his early career, and received his first professional assignment with the Spokane club of the Northwestern League in 1909. He was purchased by Cleveland in 1911. He was then sold, in the middle of 1914, to Boston.

Richard J. Hohlitzel was born in Parkersburg, W. Va., Oct. 26, 1889. His first professional contract was with Clarksburg, W. Va., in 1907. He joined the Newark League club in 1908, but was sent to Wheeling, from where he was purchased by the Cincinnati Reds. Until 1914 he played with the Reds and for most of that time he ranked among the best as a first baseman. He was sold to Boston by Herzog, for private reasons, and immediately made his mark with the Red Sox. He is a big fellow who knows the game well, can hit and field with the best, and is a main factor in the great machine.

Harry B. Hooper, right fielder for the Red Sox started his career as a pitcher, but was placed in the outfield because of his hitting ability. He was born in Santa Clara, Cal., August 24, 1887, and his first professional engagement was with Sacramento, Cal., in 1907. He was purchased from the coast team by the Red Sox, and became a regular in 1909.

Harold C. Jarvin is a utility player of much worth. He began his career with Boston English high school and was born in Boston 23 years ago. His first professional experience was with the Red Sox which team he joined in 1911. He was farmed out to Jersey City in 1912 and recalled the next season. He is a flashy fielder and timely hitter, and can play any of the infield positions.

Hubert B. Leonard, the star south-paw of the Boston team, and probably the most efficient left-hander in the league, was born at Fresno, Cal., 24 years ago. He received his early baseball training at St. Mary's College, in San Francisco. He came direct to the Red Sox from the college ranks in 1911, but was sent to Denver for seasoning. He was with Denver in 1912 and part of 1913 and returned to the Red Sox in the middle of the 1913 season. In 1914 Leonard led the American League pitchers in efficiency.

George Lewis, left fielder of the Red Sox, was born in San Francisco, April 18, 1888. He started his baseball career as a collegian on the Pacific coast, his first professional engagement being with Alameda, Cal., in 1906. He came to Boston in 1910 and has been a regular almost from his first day. He bats and throws right-handed and is considered an .800 hitter.

Carl Mays, another member of the Boston pitching staff was born in Portland, Ore., twenty-three years ago. He came to the Red Sox last year from the Providence club of the International League. He is a right-hander and, although a youngster, has convinced Carrigan and others that he is the coming sensation of the league.

George Ruth, 21 years old, was born in Baltimore and first attracted attention as a pitcher for St. Mary's Industrial school of that city. He was taken under the wing of "Jack" Dunn, then manager of the Orioles, who obtained papers as Ruth's guardian and played the young fellow on the club. Ruth went to the Red Sox in 1914 and was farmed to Providence, but returned last year in time to win enough games for the Red Sox to keep them in the race. Ruth also is a hitter of ability. He is a left-hand batsman and also has ability in this position.

Everett Scott was born in Bluffton, Ind., twenty-three years ago. He played semi-professionally until attracted by Boston scouts in 1913, when he was induced to sign with the majors. He was sent to St. Paul for seasoning, being recalled in 1914. He is not a great hitter, but manages to place a hit into the game when most needed.

Ernest G. Shore, 25 years of age, learned his pitching feats at Guilford College of Fayetteville, N. C. John

PLANT IS BUSY DAY AND NIGHT

Ocala Iron Works Has Been Working Its Force Overtime for About Two Weeks

(Associated Press)

For about two weeks the Ocala Iron Works has been working night and day. According to C. E. Simmons, general manager, the business of the works has picked up considerably. The pick-up started about a month ago, and may be taken as being in line with what seems to be a general improvement in business over the state. On Tuesday of this week the Ocala Iron Works shipped a carload of machinery for the new plant of the Florida Fruit Products company at Haines City. The Florida Fruit Products company manufactures the grapefruit juice which was placed on the market for the first time last season. The company is building a new and much larger plant. A large number of crushers and screens for road work in various parts of the state are being built at the iron works.

This time last year the works employed about 20 men. This number has now been increased to 35 or 40, and Mr. Simmons says that he is now preparing to give employment to about a half dozen more men. The plant under normal conditions, with the phosphate plant in operation, employs from 90 to 100 men, working during the day only.

PIERS FOR WATER TOWER

Work on Foundations Begun a Week Ago Will be Completed Today

The six concrete piers which comprise the foundations for the water tower of the new water plant will be completed today. Work on them was started a week ago. Two weeks will be allowed for the concrete to set, and work of constructing the water tower will then commence. Work on the brick work of the new plant has been delayed because of a lack of brick. Two cars are looked for today.

Work has already started on the settling basin for the new well at the water works. The basin was authorized by council at its meeting Tuesday night. The basin is a small one, used for clearing the water pumped from the well.

Mr. David Henney, engineer for the city, left yesterday afternoon for New York, to be gone until about the end of the month. Mr. Robert Ebner represents the engineers during Mr. Henney's absence from the city.

FIRST PERMIT GRANTED

Work of Connecting with the New Sewerage System Has Started

The first permit for a house connection with the new sewerage system has been issued to Joseph Anderson, plumber, for connecting the residence owned by Mrs. O. T. Green, 60 East Ocklawaha avenue, and occupied by Mr. W. P. Preer, general manager of the Marion Hardware company. A permit for connecting the plumbing of the Empire Cafe with the sewers has not been issued yet, although council authorized the work at its last meeting. The second permit for connection has been granted to Paul Durand, plumber, for connecting the plumbing of the residence of Mr. Lanier Robertson, 211 East Washington street. Plumbing Inspector Minshall expects to grant from 25 to 30 permits this month. To begin with there will probably be no compulsion about connecting with the sewer mains. Mr. Minshall believes that for some time there will be a large number who will ask for permits. It will take a number of years, in Mr. Minshall's opinion, to make all the connections in the city required by the plumbing ordinance.

McGraw tried him out in 1912, but Shore, when released from the New York baseball club to Indianapolis, refused to carry out the plan. The next year McGraw reinstated Shore, who got an engagement with Baltimore, and subsequently going to the Boston club. Shore pitched remarkable ball for the Red Sox in the 1915 World Series.

Chester D. Thomas, who warms up the pitchers, catches when Cady and Carrigan are overworked and pinch hits with a timely punch, was born in Sharon, Kan., twenty-six years ago. He is a right-hand thrower and a left-hand batsman, and does both with equal excellence.

Olaf Henriksen, substitute outfielder and pinch hitter of the Red Sox is a New Englander, 25 years of age, whose winter home is Clinton, Mass. He first played professional with the Brockton club of the New England League in 1910, and was purchased by Boston during the season of 1911. He bats and throws left-handed.
