VICTORY MEDALS FOR EX-SERVICE MEN

Some 4,500,000 American soldiers and sailors are soon to receive the victory medal, tribute of a grateful nation to all the men in uniform who aided in crushing German ambition to dominate the world.

During the spring of 1918, while hostilities were still at their height the different allied and associated nations agreed to adopt a medal which would be the same for all to commemorate the great war.

In order to carry this plan into execution an inter-allied commission met in Paris after the armistice. The commission found it was impractical to adhere strictly to the original plan. It was decided, however, to have an identical ribbon and allow each country to design its own medal according to general specifications which were drawn up by the commission.

The ribbon is a double rainbow, having the red in the center and with a white thread on each edge. It symbolizes the dawn of a new era of calm after the storm.

The specifications of the medal adopted by the commission are as follows: To be bronze 1.4 inches in diameter and suspended from the ribbon by a ring, the same as most of our medals.

On the obverse a winged victory, standing full length and full face. On the reverse, the inscription "The Great War of Civilization," and either the name or the arms of the allied and associated nations.

A system of clasps was adopted for this medal. To designate the possession of a battle clasp, a small bronze star is worn on the service ribbon. In accordance with the general principle that senior decorations are to the right, silver citations should be worn right of bronze stars on the service ribbon (silver stars designate special citations.)

All ex-army men should make request to the Army Recruiting Station, Barnett building, Jacksonville, Fla., for the necessary application blanks. Applicants should state whether their service was as enlisted men or as officers, and should plainly write the words "Victory Medal" on the outside of the envelope. All applications will receive prompt and courteous attention.

WHAT CAN IT DO AFTER IT MEETS? (Associated Press) Washington, July 10.—November 15th has been determined as the date for the first meeting of the league of nations assembly, according to an announcement at the state department. The meeting place will not be disclosed until President Wilson issues the formal call.

CITRUS CANKER

Gainesville, July 10.—A case of citrus canker, the first to come to public notice in Florida in 18 months, was found last week in an isolated citrus grove near Boynton, Palm Beach county, officers of the state plant board announced here Thursday.

All trees in the grove were destroyed and the place thoroughly disinfected, the board stated, adding that citrus growers would be advised if there were any further developments in the case. This citrus canker was thought to have been wiped out in this state.

HAYS CONFERRING WITH HARDING

Idea of a Front Porch Campaign Seems to Need Particular Attention

(Associated Press) Chicago, July 10.—Chairman Hays concluded his conference with middle west republican leaders today and left for Marion to confer with Senator Harding. Mr. Hays said he would consult Senator Harding particularly on the subject of the front porch campaign.

EIGHTEEN MEN ENLISTED BY NAVY THE PAST WEEK

During the past week eighteen men enlisted at the local navy recruiting station, located on the second floor of the Barnett building, in charge of Lieutenant Commander J. W. Hayward, U. S. N. The following shows the names and home addresses of the young men who took the oath of allegiance to serve in Uncle Sam's navy:

James L. Pantall, Folkstone, Ga., seaman second class. Harold M. Heiney, Philadelphia, apprentice seaman. Edwin M. Sumner, Tampa, fireman third class.

David L. Perrine, Council Bluffs, Iowa, seaman. Frank B. Sauls, Tallahassee, apprentice seaman. John D. Campbell, Oviedo, apprentice seaman.

Lonnie E. Eubanks, Marianna, fireman third class. Lucius Pelt, Blountstown, fireman third class. Herbert Barfield, Finleyson, Ga., fireman second class.

Hanan D. Ford, Sneads, fireman third class. Claude H. Saunders, Orlando, fireman third class. Charles B. Leffingwell, Bradentown, apprentice seaman.

Marvin P. Ellison, Williston, apprentice seaman. Ray Burnsed, Homeland, fireman third class. Talman H. Brenan, Gainesville, fireman third class.

Coyler Allgood, Dunnellon, apprentice seaman. Shellman S. Newsom, Citra, fireman third class. Wilbur D. Pheil, Ocala, seaman second class.

Two of the above-named men are former service men who have re-enlisted under continuous service and thereby received a bonus of four months pay and a thirty days' leave. Two others are ex-army men.

Lieut.-Comdr. Hayward announces that authority has been received to enlist young men of seventeen years of age, with their parents' consent, who are 62 inches in height and weigh 110 pounds. Such men must enlist for three years or until they attain the age of 21. Men eighteen years of age who are 64 inches in height and weigh not less than 115 pounds may also be enlisted for a period of two, three or four years.

All accepted applicants for the navy summer school at Hampton Roads are requested to appear at the navy recruiting station on Monday morning for final instructions.

MANY STUDENTS HAVE GRADUATED

Great Lakes Naval Training Station Turning Out One Hundred Every Three Weeks

(Associated Press) Chicago, July 10.—Nearly 100 men are being graduated every three weeks at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station from what naval officers describe as the biggest trade schools in the world.

The school is devoted exclusively to the training of aviation mechanics and at the present time 3225 students are taking the courses, which range in length from sixteen to 36 weeks.

More than 1000 men have graduated since the school was established slightly more than a year ago and another 1000 will complete their work by November. Lieutenant Commander E. E. Wilson, commandant at the school, says all of the 6000 men provided for in the naval air force will be graduates of the school within another year.

The cost of turning out the first 100 graduates was $7000, making the average cost of producing trained aerial mechanics $7 each. The low cost was due to the fact that the students produce nothing in their studies to be wasted. Instead of making the frequently useless examples they work on parts actually needed for repairs and construction of new airplanes.

A number of planes, ranging from small hand flyers to huge seaplanes, only a step smaller than the famous N-C type, have been completed.

The school is valued at between $20,000,000 and $30,000,000 but all the tools and equipment are salvaged materials which would otherwise have been sold at a great loss after the war. Part of the equipment is several million dollars worth of partly finished airplane motors and parts, which were purchased from the manufacturers after the armistice as junk at a flat cost of 27 cents a pound. The students are completing the parts and building machines from them.

Lieut.-Comdr. Wilson started the school from the bottom a year ago. As the first step the navy officer wrote all the text books to be used. No flying is done but the best men from each class are eligible later to attend a school for enlisted pilots.

Each graduate of the mechanics school receives a certificate, while gold, silver and bronze medals are awarded to the honor men.

Stenographer Extraordinary. Two members of the bar were trying a replevin suit in the superior court recently and in the course of the trial got into a sharp wrangle—as lawyers sometimes do—over the admission of a certain piece of evidence. The wrangle resolved itself into an oral battle in which both lawyers tried to talk at once.

They spoke in loud tones and at a rapid-fire gait. When the smoke had cleared away and the case was over they were quite surprised to learn that the court stenographer had been able to get down in his book every word they had said, despite the fact they were both talking at the same time. The clerk of courts commented on the feat.

"Oh," remarked one of the lawyers, "that little chap could take down a halloam and never miss a stone!"—Portland Express.

Fading Shrines of Oriental Splendor. To me, after revisiting the East after an absence of ten years, it seems as if all its splendid past and all its present discontent were recorded and symbolized in the imperial palaces of Peking, Seoul and Tokyo. Ten years ago all three were the habitations of emperors, sacred spots from whose mysterious depths issued the edicts whereat men trembled and obeyed. Today the Son of Heaven and the Lord of the Morning Calm have gone their ways, to join the mournful company of kings in exile. Only his majesty of Tokyo remains, a dim, mysterious figure in the medieval seclusion of Chiyoda, a picturesque survival of old Japan, like an idol in a shrine, a sort of living Buddha in the great new city throbbing with machinery.—J. O. P. Bland in Asia.

Unconscious Cerebration. Apropos of the popular interest in the out-of-body, a correspondent says: "An experiment in unconscious cerebration may be made in this way. Take a 6-cent piece and to it attach a fine silk thread with a bit of sealing wax. Then take an empty tumbler and suspend the nickel in the center of the glass, holding the thread tightly between the thumb and finger and resting the elbow on the 'funny bone'.

Then, without conscious volition of the muscles, think of its movement east, west, north or south, or returning to the center. You will find that the coin will obey the thought, although you give consciously no direction for the movement."—From the Outlook.

ANNOUNCES AN INNOVATION

Senator Harding announced today that if he is elected the vice president will be invited to participate in cabinet meetings.

MARRYING FOR MONEY

(Associated Press) Tokyo, July 10.—The Japanese find a close connection between money and marriage by reading the lessons of the existing financial depression in Japan. The passing of easy money-making has caused a rush to the Japanese matrimonial agencies and women are leading in the rash. In prosperous times the agency customers are men looking for wives, but now, say matrimonial managers, the old order is reversed. In view of the approaching "hard times" women are apparently seeking safety in the protection of husbands. One result in the feminine advances is a marked increase in marriages.

PERILOUS TIMES AGAIN IN PEKIN

Again, As in 1900, There are Only Slender Forces to Deal with a Native Uprising

(Associated Press) Pekin, July 10.—Warning has been given the government by the diplomatic corps that there must be no fighting here if there is an uprising and Pekin must not be bombarded. The forces commanded by Tuan Chi Jui have surrounded Pekin. Jui's attitude is the result of the government's dismissal of the inner Mongolian commissioners.

PROTECTORS ARE FEW

Washington, July 10.—The American forces in Pekin consist of the legation guard of 275 marines. The only American detachment in China is the Fifteenth Infantry at Tien Tsin, eighty miles from Pekin. Several other powers have legation guards.

SEVEN MILES STRAIGHT UP CASALE'S GOAL

(Associated Press) Paris, July 10.—Jean Casale, who established a new airplane flight for height record June 14, 1919, when he mounted 7520 meters has satisfied himself by a laboratory test that he may safely attempt to reach his announced goal of 12,000 meters, or seven and a fifth miles. Casale spent more than an hour in a hermetically sealed cabinet equipped with air density and other scientific instruments. Casale controlled the exhausting of the air and the admission of compressed oxygen through a form of gas mask. The atmosphere was reduced to the equivalent of the pressure at the 12,000 meter height in 47 minutes 30 seconds and normal atmospheric pressure was restored in 20 minutes.

The aviator said he experienced cold and a sense of uneasiness. At one time he closed his eyes but found it accentuated his dizziness. During most of the experiment he kept his ears stopped.

(Associated Press) Paris, July 10.—German steamers seized during the war by Brazil probably will be given to France, according to a Spa dispatch.

LARGE PHOSPHATE DEPOSITS

(Associated Press) Paris, July 10.—Discovery of large deposits of phosphate in the Moroccan hinterland, may soon make France the great phosphate producing country of the world.

The Moroccan deposits are reported by Professor Louis Gentil of the Sorbonne as being almost inexhaustible. One hundred miles inland from Casablanca there is a mountain plateau, 40 miles long and 25 miles wide which is a veritable storehouse of phosphate. A railway is to be built to this mountain and a monopoly has been given to the Moroccan government for the sale of the phosphate. France already has huge potash deposits in Alsace.

PREPARING TO FORM THAT THIRD PARTY

(Associated Press) Chicago, July 10.—The delegates summoned to Chicago by the committee of forty-eight and single tax representatives met today in the preliminaries of an attempt to nominate a fusion third party presidential candidate to run on a platform satisfactory to both elements. The first work of the meeting was the election of a committee on platform and political procedures. Allen McCurd, secretary of the committee of forty-eight, was selected as temporary chairman.

ILL FEELING HAS BEEN STIRRED UP

Otherwise, the Senate Investigating Committee has Failed to Accomplish Anything

(Associated Press) St. Louis, July 10.—Repeal of the appropriation granted by the last Congress to the department of justice to fight the high cost of living will be demanded by Senator Kenyon on the ground that it was used primarily to boost Attorney General Palmer for the presidential nomination, Senator Kenyon announced today.

COMMITTEE TAKES A RECESS

St. Louis, July 10.—The Senate investigating committee planned to disband temporarily tonight after examination today of several witnesses who may be able to testify concerning the Palmer pre-convention activities.

SLANDERING THE SOUTH

Chicago, July 9.—The Senate committee investigating campaign expenditures, will move to St. Louis tonight to take up the campaign contributions of A. Mitchell Palmer, it was stated here yesterday.

Negroes who have voted the republican ticket in Georgia have "disappeared" and have never been heard from again, Henry Lincoln Johnson, negro national committeeman from Georgia, told the Senate committee investigating pre-convention contributions.

"They don't lynch men for belonging to a certain party, do they?" asked Senator Kenyon.

"Oh, yes, they do," Johnson replied. "Many a negro voting the republican ticket has disappeared and no tidings have been heard from him."

The trend of the investigation strayed from the question of contributions to many other subjects, from the percentage of negro voters in the south to the disappearance of negroes.

Johnson spoke of "brutal forces and suppression." He said the situation was summed up in a statement made by Senator Hoke Smith: "In Georgia, no negro is fortunate enough to vote while no white man is too unfortunate to vote."

Asked about lynching in the south, Johnson said the great trouble was that white men were allowed to attack negro girls without punishment. Such a state of affairs greatly aggravated race feeling, he said. He cited alleged incidents of white soldiers attacking negro girls during the war and said the soldiers, though discovered, went unpunished.

The democrats paid from $5 to $5,000 for votes in Georgia this year and generally spent more money than the republicans, Johnson told the committee.

He said he received only $1000 from Gov. Lowden himself. He spent $6000 or $7000 of his money, he said, and $4000 or $5000 was raised in other sources.

When the witness charged that the democrats spent more money than he did and bought votes in the election, Senator Reed, democrat, interrupted to ask: "You don't care when you get $9000, do you?"

"Not a bit," the witness replied, "but I would need about $50,000 to combat some democratic conditions there."

Senator Kenyon suddenly turned to the Palmer campaign in Georgia, asking Johnson if officials of the department of justice took part in the campaign there.

"Hooper L. Lander of Atlanta, was the leader," Johnson said.

Other questions concerning the activities of the department of agriculture in Georgia brought out no information.

The steam roller in the Chicago convention was an "institution of benevolence compared to the democratic steam roller in Georgia," Johnson said.

JOHNSON WOULD LIKE AN AMERICAN JAIL

(Associated Press) Los Angeles, July 10.—Jack Johnson, former heavyweight champion pugilist, now a fugitive from American justice, in a long distance telephone call from Tijuana, Lower California, offered to surrender himself to federal authorities if accorded certain privileges. W. P. Hall, special agent of the department of justice, who told of Johnson's offer, said he refused to make any bargain with Johnson.

TWENTY-TWO YEARS AFTER

(Associated Press) Washington, July 10.—By direction of President Wilson a distinguished service cross will be awarded to General March, chief of staff, for gallantry in action in the Philippines in 1898, when he led a charge against the enemy's breastworks near Manila, after the commander called for volunteers. March was then a lieutenant.
