THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE.
 1863.
 The New York Tribune, first issued in 1841, now in its twenty-second year, has obtained both a larger and a more widely diffused circulation than any other newspaper published in America. Though it has suffered, in common with other journals, from the volunteering and departure of tens of thousands of its patrons to serve in the War for the Union, its circulation on the 31st of December, 1862, is as follows: Daily, 50,125; Semi-weekly, 17,250; Weekly, 148,000—total 215,375.
 Presently a Journal of News and Literature, the Tribune has acquired a reputation which is well characterized by the single word REPUBLICAN. It is Republican in its hearty adhesion to the great truth that "God has made of one blood all nations of men"—Republican in its assertion of the equal and inalienable rights of all men to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness—Republican in its steadfast, earnest, defiant hostility to every scheme and effort of the Slave Power, from the Annexation of Texas to the great Rebellion, to grasp the empire of the New World and wield the resources of our country for its own aggrandizement—Republican in its antagonism to the aristocrats and despots of the Old World, who find in the perils and calamities suddenly thrust upon us by their American counterpart the overthrow and ruin of the Model Republic; Republican in its hope and trust, its faith and effort, that this atrocious Rebellion must result in the original overthrow of its plotters, and the firm establishment of equal rights and equal laws throughout the whole extent of our country, wherein Liberty and Union shall indeed be "one and inseparable" henceforth and forever.

Terms.
 The enormous increase in the price of printing paper and other materials used in printing newspapers, compels us to increase the price of the Tribune. Our new terms are:

TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS & FRIENDS:
MISSOURI DEMOCRAT.
 The enormous increase in the price of printing paper and other materials used in printing newspapers, compels us to increase the price of The Democrat. Our new terms beginning on the first of January, 1863, are:
DAILY DEMOCRAT—Mail Subscribers, 1 year, $10.00. Price to newsdealers, $2.50 per 100.
TRI-WEEKLY DEMOCRAT—Mail subscribers, 1 year, $5.00.
WEEKLY DEMOCRAT—Single copies per year, $2.00; three copies, $5.00; five copies, $8.00; ten copies, $15.00.
 Any larger club than ten will be charged at the rate of $1.50 per copy.

The above rates for all mail subscriptions are payable in advance. Orders not accompanied with the money, will receive no attention. All papers, of either edition, will be discontinued at the end of time paid for.
 From the above it will be seen that we shall raise the price of the Daily, Tri-Weekly and Weekly Democrat on the 1st of January next. It is scarcely necessary to go into any detail to satisfy our friends of the absolute necessity of a step. All are familiar with the extraordinary and rapid increase in the price of printing paper, caused chiefly by the failure of the cotton supplies, and the consequent scarcity of rags. As long as the war lasts, or until some substitute for rag paper shall have been manufactured in abundant quantities, these prices will continue at their present exorbitant figure, or what is very probable, will advance still higher. Again, the expenses of the Democrat during the coming winter and spring will be nearly double what they have formerly been. We are determined, to make it a first-class paper, and in the presence of the above design, have already employed a number of army correspondents—have made arrangements to publish full reports, both by telegraph and letter, of the proceedings of the Missouri and Illinois Legislatures—have secured the continuance of our important Washington "Specials" during the session of Congress and our Cairo "Specials" until the Mississippi river is opened—and all these in addition to our regular office expenses, which our readers may concede are very high, when we tell them that in all the departments of our paper we constantly employ a force of more than ninety men. In view of these things, we believe our friends will cheerfully agree with us as to the necessity of an increase in our subscription prices.

1863. PROSPECTUS OF 1863.
THE NEW YORK LEDGER.

There is a great deal of talk among our contemporaries about the "great rise in the price of paper," and the necessity of a corresponding rise in the price of newspapers. We do not agree with our friends as to the last proposition. It is true that paper has gone up frightfully—fifty percent at least, and "will go up." But what of that? Publishers have for years had a good time with low-priced paper, and made large profits; and now that times have changed they should pay the enhanced price very fully, when we tell them that in all the departments of that paper we constantly employ a force of more than ninety men. The increase of paper will make a difference of tens of thousands of dollars to us yearly; but we shall not care as to that. The retail price will continue to be 4 cents; and our club terms as they always have been. Our subscribers have stuck to us when paper was cheap; and we do not intend to increase our rates to them now when it is dear. "It is a poor rule which selects the very best."
 All our old contributors have been re-engaged for the ensuing year; our corps will be so large, and will embrace such a variety of eminent talent, that every department of literature will receive the particular attention of some one competent to do it ample and special justice. In fact, our contributors will send us from week to week much more matter than we can possibly use, so that we shall always have a fresh and superabundant supply from which to select the very best.
 The following are the names of some of our leading contributors for the new year—1863. What other paper ever presented such an array of distinguished and popular names: Hon. Edward Everett, Rev. John S. C. Abbott, William Cullen Bryant, John G. Saxton, Geo. F. Morris, N. P. Willis, Geo. D. Prentiss, Sylvanus Cobb, Jr., Emerson Bennett, Hiram Constable, F. A. Durivage, William Ross Wallace, T. S. Arthur, P. Hamilton Myers, Col. Walter B. Dunlap, Mrs. Signatur, Mrs. Southworth, Fanny Fern, Annie Cora Ritchie, Alice Cary, Mary Forest, Miss A. E. Ripley, Mary Smiley Gibson, Caroline Chesleron, Ethel Lynn, Mrs. Estelle Anna Lewis, Amy Randolph, and many other prominent professors in colleges, statesmen and other eminent writers residing in different parts of the United States.

OUR TERMS:
 Single copies, 2¢ per annum; two copies $3; five copies $4; ten copies $6. Postmasters and others who get up clubs can afterwards add single copies at 4¢. Terms invariably in advance. No subscription taken for a less period than one year. The notes of all special paying banks taken at par.
 We employ no traveling agents. Address all communications to ROBERT B. NEWELL, Publisher, No 40 Park Row New York.
