

M. D. Sampson, SALINA, KANSAS.

OFFICE—On 11th Avenue, three doors east of the Post Office.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION. One copy, one year, $1.00; six months, $0.60; three months, $0.35.

SALINA BOARD OF TRADE.

CITY OFFICIAL DIRECTORY. J. H. Whithead, Mayor; J. J. Hayward, City Clerk.

COUNTY OFFICIAL DIRECTORY. W. R. Schell, County Commissioner; Joseph Miller, County Clerk.

BOARD OF EDUCATION. First Ward—J. H. Gibson and T. J. Going; Second Ward—J. J. Norton and C. E. Berrhardt.

TIME TABLE—C. P. R. W. TRAINS GOING WEST—THROUGH. No. 1—Chicago Express, 7:45 P. M.

CHURCH DIRECTORY. CHRISTIAN CHURCH—House of worship on East side of 11th street, south of Iron street.

BUSINESS CARDS. J. G. MOHLER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, SALINA, KANSAS.

DR. R. E. NICKLES, DENTIST, 11th Street, Salina, Kansas.

F. M. SCNEE, DENTIST, Particular attention given to the preservation of natural teeth.

S. C. SERVILLE, HOUNS, Sign, Frames and Carriage Patterns.

M. W. MAXEY, DEALER IN MILKERY AND FANCY GOODS.

Saline

VOLUME XI.

SALINA, KANSAS, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1881.

NUMBER 35.

PALACE STORE

(WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.)

GENERAL MERCHANDISE

ALWAYS IN THE LEAD!

The Largest Stock and the Lowest Prices in Everything.

CONSISTING OF

DRY GOODS,

BOOTS, SHOES,

FURNISHING GOODS

QUEENSWARE

FAMILY GROCERIES

COUNTRY PRODUCE TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR GOODS.

LITOWICH & WOLSIEFFER,

Call and see us before purchasing any goods and get prices. Send for samples. All goods warranted as represented.

SALINA, KANSAS.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

The Early Settlement—The Cheesek Jargon—The Habits and Peculiarities of the Flathead Indians—Personal Mention.

Correspondence of the Journal.

New Tacoma, W. T., Aug. 31.

Washington Territory is so far to the northwest that it has long been looked upon as the "jumping off place" for Americans.

East of the Cascades the Indians are of a darker color and are taller and of finer figure. They are large, bands of horses, which have all the characteristics of the Texas ponies.

When the eastern Washingtoners stopped at several different points along the Columbia river, and while waiting for the steamboats to come I employed some time in hunting arrow heads along the bank.

Joseph Hatton contributes the first of a series of papers on "Journalistic London." Mr. Hatton opens his article with an interesting description of Fleet street—the journalistic center of London—discusses the comparative importance of provincial and metropolitan newspapers.

Those who saw the Bridgman collection of pictures exhibited in New York last spring, and all who are interested in American art, will give a hearty welcome to Edward Steichen's article on Frederick A. Bridgman.

INCIDENTS ABOUT THE RE-UNION. An old soldier by the name of Prevost walked all the way from Emporia (99 miles) to attend the re-union.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. July 2—9:30 a. m.—President shot in the back by a woman named Mrs. Seward.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. July 23—Re-union, rigor and chills. July 24—Operation—discovery of pus.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. August 15—Another consultation, at which it was decided the President could not be removed.

Views of Col. Wm. W. Dudley, the President Commissioner of Finance.

"I have endeavored to master the situation, to understand the force I control, and the business of the bureau."

According to my idea, there is no government idea wherein dispatch in the transaction of its business is desirable as in this.

When a soldier applies for a pension his case should be determined as speedily as possible.

It is my determination to give the soldier application until he needs the assistance which the Government has promised to give him.

I propose to consolidate the nine adjudicating divisions into four, so that I can have them more closely in hand.

The chiefs of these divisions I shall take from the matter of my own experience and efficient clerks in the bureau, and then I intend establishing a division of review.

I am not sure that it will be better in the matter, but it will be composed of the expert examiners, with the Deputy Commissioner as the chief.

I am determined to give the soldier a fair show. If a communication is received impugning the honesty and integrity of a soldier claimant, that claimant will have an opportunity to meet the charges against him, and the evidence will be fairly and impartially weighed.

Joseph Hatton contributes the first of a series of papers on "Journalistic London." Mr. Hatton opens his article with an interesting description of Fleet street—the journalistic center of London—discusses the comparative importance of provincial and metropolitan newspapers.

Those who saw the Bridgman collection of pictures exhibited in New York last spring, and all who are interested in American art, will give a hearty welcome to Edward Steichen's article on Frederick A. Bridgman.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. July 2—9:30 a. m.—President shot in the back by a woman named Mrs. Seward.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. July 23—Re-union, rigor and chills. July 24—Operation—discovery of pus.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. August 15—Another consultation, at which it was decided the President could not be removed.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. August 30—The President's mind wandering during the night. The parotid gland discharged through the ear.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. August 31—Discovery of an opening from the gland into the mouth.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 2—The President appears better than for some days. He has taken more nourishment; little change in the wound; restlessness during the night.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 3—Parotid swelling continues to discharge and diminish in size. Also a fair breakfast of milk taken and some rest.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 4—The President determined to remove the President from Washington, to escape the malarial fever.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 5—The President vomited twice during the afternoon.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 6—Surgons first acknowledge the existence of septicaemia for ten days.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 7—Suppuration of the parotid gland; incision and discharge of pus.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 8—Another consultation, at which it was decided the President could not be removed.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 9—The President's mind wandering during the night. The parotid gland discharged through the ear.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 10—Discovery of an opening from the gland into the mouth.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 11—The President appears better than for some days. He has taken more nourishment; little change in the wound; restlessness during the night.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 12—Parotid swelling continues to discharge and diminish in size. Also a fair breakfast of milk taken and some rest.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 13—The President determined to remove the President from Washington, to escape the malarial fever.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 14—The President vomited twice during the afternoon.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 15—Surgons first acknowledge the existence of septicaemia for ten days.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 16—Suppuration of the parotid gland; incision and discharge of pus.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 17—Another consultation, at which it was decided the President could not be removed.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 18—The President's mind wandering during the night. The parotid gland discharged through the ear.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 19—Discovery of an opening from the gland into the mouth.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 20—The President appears better than for some days. He has taken more nourishment; little change in the wound; restlessness during the night.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 21—Parotid swelling continues to discharge and diminish in size. Also a fair breakfast of milk taken and some rest.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 22—The President determined to remove the President from Washington, to escape the malarial fever.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 23—The President vomited twice during the afternoon.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 24—Surgons first acknowledge the existence of septicaemia for ten days.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 25—Suppuration of the parotid gland; incision and discharge of pus.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 26—Another consultation, at which it was decided the President could not be removed.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 27—The President's mind wandering during the night. The parotid gland discharged through the ear.

INTERESTING TO PENSIONERS.

Views of Col. Wm. W. Dudley, the President Commissioner of Finance.

"I have endeavored to master the situation, to understand the force I control, and the business of the bureau."

According to my idea, there is no government idea wherein dispatch in the transaction of its business is desirable as in this.

When a soldier applies for a pension his case should be determined as speedily as possible.

It is my determination to give the soldier application until he needs the assistance which the Government has promised to give him.

I propose to consolidate the nine adjudicating divisions into four, so that I can have them more closely in hand.

The chiefs of these divisions I shall take from the matter of my own experience and efficient clerks in the bureau, and then I intend establishing a division of review.

I am not sure that it will be better in the matter, but it will be composed of the expert examiners, with the Deputy Commissioner as the chief.

I am determined to give the soldier a fair show. If a communication is received impugning the honesty and integrity of a soldier claimant, that claimant will have an opportunity to meet the charges against him, and the evidence will be fairly and impartially weighed.

Joseph Hatton contributes the first of a series of papers on "Journalistic London." Mr. Hatton opens his article with an interesting description of Fleet street—the journalistic center of London—discusses the comparative importance of provincial and metropolitan newspapers.

Those who saw the Bridgman collection of pictures exhibited in New York last spring, and all who are interested in American art, will give a hearty welcome to Edward Steichen's article on Frederick A. Bridgman.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. July 2—9:30 a. m.—President shot in the back by a woman named Mrs. Seward.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. July 23—Re-union, rigor and chills. July 24—Operation—discovery of pus.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. August 15—Another consultation, at which it was decided the President could not be removed.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. August 30—The President's mind wandering during the night. The parotid gland discharged through the ear.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. August 31—Discovery of an opening from the gland into the mouth.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 2—The President appears better than for some days. He has taken more nourishment; little change in the wound; restlessness during the night.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 3—Parotid swelling continues to discharge and diminish in size. Also a fair breakfast of milk taken and some rest.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 4—The President determined to remove the President from Washington, to escape the malarial fever.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 5—The President vomited twice during the afternoon.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 6—Surgons first acknowledge the existence of septicaemia for ten days.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 7—Suppuration of the parotid gland; incision and discharge of pus.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 8—Another consultation, at which it was decided the President could not be removed.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 9—The President's mind wandering during the night. The parotid gland discharged through the ear.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 10—Discovery of an opening from the gland into the mouth.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 11—The President appears better than for some days. He has taken more nourishment; little change in the wound; restlessness during the night.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 12—Parotid swelling continues to discharge and diminish in size. Also a fair breakfast of milk taken and some rest.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 13—The President determined to remove the President from Washington, to escape the malarial fever.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 14—The President vomited twice during the afternoon.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 15—Surgons first acknowledge the existence of septicaemia for ten days.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 16—Suppuration of the parotid gland; incision and discharge of pus.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 17—Another consultation, at which it was decided the President could not be removed.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 18—The President's mind wandering during the night. The parotid gland discharged through the ear.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 19—Discovery of an opening from the gland into the mouth.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 20—The President appears better than for some days. He has taken more nourishment; little change in the wound; restlessness during the night.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 21—Parotid swelling continues to discharge and diminish in size. Also a fair breakfast of milk taken and some rest.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 22—The President determined to remove the President from Washington, to escape the malarial fever.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 23—The President vomited twice during the afternoon.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 24—Surgons first acknowledge the existence of septicaemia for ten days.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 25—Suppuration of the parotid gland; incision and discharge of pus.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 26—Another consultation, at which it was decided the President could not be removed.

INTERESTING TO PENSIONERS.

Views of Col. Wm. W. Dudley, the President Commissioner of Finance.

"I have endeavored to master the situation, to understand the force I control, and the business of the bureau."

According to my idea, there is no government idea wherein dispatch in the transaction of its business is desirable as in this.

When a soldier applies for a pension his case should be determined as speedily as possible.

It is my determination to give the soldier application until he needs the assistance which the Government has promised to give him.

I propose to consolidate the nine adjudicating divisions into four, so that I can have them more closely in hand.

The chiefs of these divisions I shall take from the matter of my own experience and efficient clerks in the bureau, and then I intend establishing a division of review.

I am not sure that it will be better in the matter, but it will be composed of the expert examiners, with the Deputy Commissioner as the chief.

I am determined to give the soldier a fair show. If a communication is received impugning the honesty and integrity of a soldier claimant, that claimant will have an opportunity to meet the charges against him, and the evidence will be fairly and impartially weighed.

Joseph Hatton contributes the first of a series of papers on "Journalistic London." Mr. Hatton opens his article with an interesting description of Fleet street—the journalistic center of London—discusses the comparative importance of provincial and metropolitan newspapers.

Those who saw the Bridgman collection of pictures exhibited in New York last spring, and all who are interested in American art, will give a hearty welcome to Edward Steichen's article on Frederick A. Bridgman.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. July 2—9:30 a. m.—President shot in the back by a woman named Mrs. Seward.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. July 23—Re-union, rigor and chills. July 24—Operation—discovery of pus.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. August 15—Another consultation, at which it was decided the President could not be removed.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. August 30—The President's mind wandering during the night. The parotid gland discharged through the ear.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. August 31—Discovery of an opening from the gland into the mouth.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 2—The President appears better than for some days. He has taken more nourishment; little change in the wound; restlessness during the night.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 3—Parotid swelling continues to discharge and diminish in size. Also a fair breakfast of milk taken and some rest.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 4—The President determined to remove the President from Washington, to escape the malarial fever.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 5—The President vomited twice during the afternoon.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 6—Surgons first acknowledge the existence of septicaemia for ten days.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 7—Suppuration of the parotid gland; incision and discharge of pus.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 8—Another consultation, at which it was decided the President could not be removed.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 9—The President's mind wandering during the night. The parotid gland discharged through the ear.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 10—Discovery of an opening from the gland into the mouth.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 11—The President appears better than for some days. He has taken more nourishment; little change in the wound; restlessness during the night.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 12—Parotid swelling continues to discharge and diminish in size. Also a fair breakfast of milk taken and some rest.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 13—The President determined to remove the President from Washington, to escape the malarial fever.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 14—The President vomited twice during the afternoon.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 15—Surgons first acknowledge the existence of septicaemia for ten days.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 16—Suppuration of the parotid gland; incision and discharge of pus.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 17—Another consultation, at which it was decided the President could not be removed.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 18—The President's mind wandering during the night. The parotid gland discharged through the ear.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 19—Discovery of an opening from the gland into the mouth.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 20—The President appears better than for some days. He has taken more nourishment; little change in the wound; restlessness during the night.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 21—Parotid swelling continues to discharge and diminish in size. Also a fair breakfast of milk taken and some rest.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 22—The President determined to remove the President from Washington, to escape the malarial fever.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 23—The President vomited twice during the afternoon.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 24—Surgons first acknowledge the existence of septicaemia for ten days.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 25—Suppuration of the parotid gland; incision and discharge of pus.

INCIDENTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S CASE. September 26—Another consultation, at which it was decided the President could not be removed.

GENERAL MERCHANDISE

(WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.)

ALWAYS IN THE LEAD!

THE LARGEST STOCK AND THE LOWEST PRICES IN EVERYTHING.

CONSISTING OF

DRY GOODS,

BOOTS, SHOES,

FURNISHING GOODS

QUEENSWARE

FAMILY GROCERIES

COUNTRY PRODUCE TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR GOODS.

LITOWICH & WOLSIEFFER,

Call and see us before purchasing any goods and get prices. Send for samples. All goods warranted as represented.

SALINA, KANSAS.

GENERAL MERCHANDISE

(WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.)

ALWAYS IN THE LEAD!

THE LARGEST STOCK AND THE LOWEST PRICES IN EVERYTHING.

CONSISTING OF

DRY GOODS,

BOOTS, SHOES,

FURNISHING GOODS

QUEENSWARE

FAMILY GROCERIES

COUNTRY PRODUCE TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR GOODS.

LITOWICH & WOLSIEFFER,

Call and see us before purchasing any goods and get prices. Send for samples. All goods warranted as represented.

SALINA, KANSAS.

GENERAL MERCHANDISE

(WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.)

ALWAYS IN THE LEAD!

THE LARGEST STOCK AND THE LOWEST PRICES IN EVERYTHING.

CONSISTING OF

DRY GOODS,

BOOTS, SHOES,

FURNISHING GOODS

QUEENSWARE

FAMILY GROCERIES

COUNTRY PRODUCE TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR GOODS.

LITOWICH & WOLSIEFFER,

Call and see us before purchasing any goods and get prices. Send for samples. All goods warranted as represented.

SALINA, KANSAS.