

Saline

VOL. XIX.

SALINA, KANSAS, THURSDAY, APRIL 4, 1889.

NO. 14.

READ THIS! THE PROCLAMATION OF THE PRESIDENT PROMULGATED AT WASHINGTON THIS MORNING.

D. & J. B. WHITEHEAD, Where you will find at all times a large stock of the above goods.

James J. Purcell's DRUG STORE, JOURNAL BLOCK, SALINA, KANSAS

Bishop & Burch, Attorneys-At-Law

ANDERSON & NUSSER, ATTORNEYS AT LAW

JOHN J. GEIS, Notary Public and Conveyancer

S. C. SERVILLE, Notary, Collector, Auctioneer

Eberhart & Sudendorf, Dealers in PINE AND HARDWOOD LUMBER

GEIS BROTHERS, Public Auctioneers

FRIENDSHIP CASTLE, NO. 4, K. O. E.

ADDISON, SEAMAN & CO., Lumber Dealers

Pacific House, Teetries & Postoffice, Props

C. G. WILMARTH, ARCHITECT

GEIS & WILLIAMS, REAL ESTATE AND LOANS

MONEY TO LOAN

Peter Schutler, La Belle Wagons

OKLAHOMA OPENED

The Proclamation of the President Promulgated at Washington This Morning.

April 22 Set as the Day When the Lands in the Territory May be Settled.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The president today promulgated the proclamation...

The following is the proclamation: Whereas, pursuant to the act of Congress approved March 3, 1889...

Whereas, by section 12 of the act of March 3, 1889...

Whereas, by section 13 of the act of March 3, 1889...

Whereas, by section 14 of the act of March 3, 1889...

Whereas, by section 15 of the act of March 3, 1889...

Whereas, by section 16 of the act of March 3, 1889...

Whereas, by section 17 of the act of March 3, 1889...

Whereas, by section 18 of the act of March 3, 1889...

Whereas, by section 19 of the act of March 3, 1889...

Whereas, by section 20 of the act of March 3, 1889...

Whereas, by section 21 of the act of March 3, 1889...

Whereas, by section 22 of the act of March 3, 1889...

Whereas, by section 23 of the act of March 3, 1889...

Whereas, by section 24 of the act of March 3, 1889...

Whereas, by section 25 of the act of March 3, 1889...

Whereas, by section 26 of the act of March 3, 1889...

Whereas, by section 27 of the act of March 3, 1889...

Whereas, by section 28 of the act of March 3, 1889...

Whereas, by section 29 of the act of March 3, 1889...

Whereas, by section 30 of the act of March 3, 1889...

Whereas, by section 31 of the act of March 3, 1889...

Whereas, by section 32 of the act of March 3, 1889...

Whereas, by section 33 of the act of March 3, 1889...

Whereas, by section 34 of the act of March 3, 1889...

Whereas, by section 35 of the act of March 3, 1889...

THE TILTON-BEECHER TRIAL

Sketches of the Old Senator—And Fate of the Tiltos.

Special Correspondence of the Globe Democrat.

NEW YORK, March 23, 1889.—Echoes of the great Beecher-Tilton trial come back to us occasionally...

and recall all the woe and pain suffered by the actors in that dreadful quarrel of scandal.

Brooklyn, the subject from her dining room shortly after the end of the suit, which led to the eclipse of at least two of the actors, Tilton and Moulton, and injured irretrievably Mr. Beecher.

Henry C. Bowen, architect of all the scandal, holds his own, and though for a few years he never went into society at all, his house has been the center of numerous social gatherings this winter.

He has a clever daughter who is the attraction of his home, and he keeps up the habit of inviting to his country home at Woodstock, Conn., all the notables of the Republican party, who like to talk politics and flowery rhetoric in the country on the 4th of July.

Mr. Beecher died two years ago, and his wife, who had been estranged since his death, little has been said about the old issues involved in the scandal which once so repeatedly, with her, he recently the interest in the personage concerned in the trial was revived in the announcement that Mrs. Tilton, the victim of every wrong engaged in the case, is growing blind.

She has been a great sufferer from cataracts, which have been cut from both eyes. Now the sight of one eye is entirely gone, and the other is so injured that she lives in a dark room, and is almost blind.

Mrs. Morse, the faithful mother of Mrs. Tilton, lives with her, and at present the eldest child, a daughter, is married, and lives in New York.

Mrs. Tilton resides in a modest home in the eastern part of Brooklyn, and never has appeared on the streets when some household want had to be supplied.

It is said that the cause of her suffering, were caused by continuous weeping. Whatever else the scandal did for others, it broke her heart, and she has been a wretched unhappy woman since that time.

When Mr. Beecher died, Mrs. Tilton expressed regret that she could not have been present at his funeral, and she had nothing to do in the world, and he was useful.

Of all the Beecher family the only one who has shown any sympathy for her is her son, Mrs. Isabella Beecher Hooker, who urged her brother to be kind to Mrs. Tilton, and to defend her against the charges which were made against her.

Mr. Beecher did nothing—could do nothing under the circumstances—and it is said, he grieved that he could not have been present at his funeral, and he had nothing to do in the world, and he was useful.

Of all the Beecher family the only one who has shown any sympathy for her is her son, Mrs. Isabella Beecher Hooker, who urged her brother to be kind to Mrs. Tilton, and to defend her against the charges which were made against her.

Mr. Beecher did nothing—could do nothing under the circumstances—and it is said, he grieved that he could not have been present at his funeral, and he had nothing to do in the world, and he was useful.

Of all the Beecher family the only one who has shown any sympathy for her is her son, Mrs. Isabella Beecher Hooker, who urged her brother to be kind to Mrs. Tilton, and to defend her against the charges which were made against her.

Mr. Beecher did nothing—could do nothing under the circumstances—and it is said, he grieved that he could not have been present at his funeral, and he had nothing to do in the world, and he was useful.

Of all the Beecher family the only one who has shown any sympathy for her is her son, Mrs. Isabella Beecher Hooker, who urged her brother to be kind to Mrs. Tilton, and to defend her against the charges which were made against her.

Mr. Beecher did nothing—could do nothing under the circumstances—and it is said, he grieved that he could not have been present at his funeral, and he had nothing to do in the world, and he was useful.

Of all the Beecher family the only one who has shown any sympathy for her is her son, Mrs. Isabella Beecher Hooker, who urged her brother to be kind to Mrs. Tilton, and to defend her against the charges which were made against her.

Mr. Beecher did nothing—could do nothing under the circumstances—and it is said, he grieved that he could not have been present at his funeral, and he had nothing to do in the world, and he was useful.

Of all the Beecher family the only one who has shown any sympathy for her is her son, Mrs. Isabella Beecher Hooker, who urged her brother to be kind to Mrs. Tilton, and to defend her against the charges which were made against her.

Mr. Beecher did nothing—could do nothing under the circumstances—and it is said, he grieved that he could not have been present at his funeral, and he had nothing to do in the world, and he was useful.

Of all the Beecher family the only one who has shown any sympathy for her is her son, Mrs. Isabella Beecher Hooker, who urged her brother to be kind to Mrs. Tilton, and to defend her against the charges which were made against her.

Mr. Beecher did nothing—could do nothing under the circumstances—and it is said, he grieved that he could not have been present at his funeral, and he had nothing to do in the world, and he was useful.

Of all the Beecher family the only one who has shown any sympathy for her is her son, Mrs. Isabella Beecher Hooker, who urged her brother to be kind to Mrs. Tilton, and to defend her against the charges which were made against her.

JOHN BRIGHT.

John Bright was born at Greenbank, near Rochdale, Nov. 16, 1811.

After receiving a substantial English education he entered his father's business, becoming a member of the firm of John Bright & Brothers, cotton spinners and manufacturers.

He was in 1839 one of the first members of Anti-Corn Law League, and in 1843 was returned to Parliament for the district of Durham, for which he continued to sit until 1847, when he was returned for Manchester.

He made numerous speeches in Parliament, and became a very active and prominent member. In 1852 he participated in the welcome given to Kosciuszko by the advanced Liberals of Lancashire, and in the same year was re-elected for Manchester. By his vehement denunciation of the policy which caused the Russian war he alienated many of his former supporters.

He was compelled by severe illness to withdraw from a time from public affairs. He was again elected to Parliament in 1857, and in 1859 was appointed chancellor of the Exchequer, a position which he held until 1861, when he resigned.

He was a man, however, just and unassuming in his private life, which has been accomplished during his career as a minister who conducted a bill through Parliament, and in the House of Commons and on popular platforms.

Such was the power and fervor of his eloquence that he has been called the greatest politician that the middle upper class of England had produced, and that he was not only an orator but a statesman.

He was a man, however, just and unassuming in his private life, which has been accomplished during his career as a minister who conducted a bill through Parliament, and in the House of Commons and on popular platforms.

Such was the power and fervor of his eloquence that he has been called the greatest politician that the middle upper class of England had produced, and that he was not only an orator but a statesman.

He was a man, however, just and unassuming in his private life, which has been accomplished during his career as a minister who conducted a bill through Parliament, and in the House of Commons and on popular platforms.

Such was the power and fervor of his eloquence that he has been called the greatest politician that the middle upper class of England had produced, and that he was not only an orator but a statesman.

He was a man, however, just and unassuming in his private life, which has been accomplished during his career as a minister who conducted a bill through Parliament, and in the House of Commons and on popular platforms.

Such was the power and fervor of his eloquence that he has been called the greatest politician that the middle upper class of England had produced, and that he was not only an orator but a statesman.

He was a man, however, just and unassuming in his private life, which has been accomplished during his career as a minister who conducted a bill through Parliament, and in the House of Commons and on popular platforms.

Such was the power and fervor of his eloquence that he has been called the greatest politician that the middle upper class of England had produced, and that he was not only an orator but a statesman.

He was a man, however, just and unassuming in his private life, which has been accomplished during his career as a minister who conducted a bill through Parliament, and in the House of Commons and on popular platforms.

Such was the power and fervor of his eloquence that he has been called the greatest politician that the middle upper class of England had produced, and that he was not only an orator but a statesman.

He was a man, however, just and unassuming in his private life, which has been accomplished during his career as a minister who conducted a bill through Parliament, and in the House of Commons and on popular platforms.

Such was the power and fervor of his eloquence that he has been called the greatest politician that the middle upper class of England had produced, and that he was not only an orator but a statesman.

He was a man, however, just and unassuming in his private life, which has been accomplished during his career as a minister who conducted a bill through Parliament, and in the House of Commons and on popular platforms.

Such was the power and fervor of his eloquence that he has been called the greatest politician that the middle upper class of England had produced, and that he was not only an orator but a statesman.

He was a man, however, just and unassuming in his private life, which has been accomplished during his career as a minister who conducted a bill through Parliament, and in the House of Commons and on popular platforms.

Such was the power and fervor of his eloquence that he has been called the greatest politician that the middle upper class of England had produced, and that he was not only an orator but a statesman.

He was a man, however, just and unassuming in his private life, which has been accomplished during his career as a minister who conducted a bill through Parliament, and in the House of Commons and on popular platforms.

Such was the power and fervor of his eloquence that he has been called the greatest politician that the middle upper class of England had produced, and that he was not only an orator but a statesman.

He was a man, however, just and unassuming in his private life, which has been accomplished during his career as a minister who conducted a bill through Parliament, and in the House of Commons and on popular platforms.

Such was the power and fervor of his eloquence that he has been called the greatest politician that the middle upper class of England had produced, and that he was not only an orator but a statesman.

He was a man, however, just and unassuming in his private life, which has been accomplished during his career as a minister who conducted a bill through Parliament, and in the House of Commons and on popular platforms.

Also keeps a Fine Line of CIGARS constantly in Stock

A.M. Curry & Co.

New - Drug - Store,

Having purchased the corner Drug Store we shall be pleased to meet all our old friends, assuring them of our best treatment and good goods.

A.M. Curry & Co.

Cor Santa Fe and Iron Avenues.

W. & M. D. Berg, Undertaking

FURNITURE & CARPETS.

Woolen and Metallic burial cases in stock

W. & M. D. BERG.

No. 113 & 115 West Iron Ave., Salina, Kansas

Crippen, Lawrence & Co

MONEY TO LOAN, On Real Estate and Chattels.

Real Estate for Sale at Lowest Prices

PEARSON'S CARRIAGE WORKS,

WAGONS.

Peter Schutler, La Belle Wagons

Are positively the best Wagons in the market. The largest and best stock of Carriages, Spring-Wagons, Buggies and Road Carts in the State.

Oklaoma is being cleared of intruders slowly but surely.

It is a wonder that such a constitution nominated Hughes? Is it any wonder it chose its presiding officer and its sergeant-at-arms from Pulaski county? Smoot, of Nevada, and Bunn, of Ouachita, were candidates. In the Church's hands, case, while acting as special judges of the supreme court, they held some of the bondsman liable, and thus sealed their doom. Senators of this type, approved the bond of a labor candidate in St. Francis county, after it was shown by proof to be worthless. The majority of the electors of the supreme bench, Pulaski county wanted protection. It already had two members on the supreme bench, but it wanted a majority. All the ballot-box thieves and ballot-box stuffers want the same thing. Hence they put on Hughes, and Pulaski county obtained a majority of the supreme court. If Hughes is elected, Pulaski county and other ballot-box thieves and stuffers will feel safe. It would be to let the judges go out of the negro counties. Hence, three of them are kept in Pulaski, and Hemmingway, of Jefferson, is given the fourth place. The friends of a fair election and an honest count are asked to look at the matter. They are asked to inquire if the things herein stated are not true; they are asked to defeat it if they are. Ask yourselves why four out of five of the supreme court were rejected; why Sanders was rejected; Ask yourselves why four out of five of the supreme court were rejected; why Sanders was rejected; Ask yourselves why four out of five of the supreme court were rejected; why Sanders was rejected.

Electric Bitters. This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise.—A purer medicine does not exist and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. Electric Bitters will cure all diseases of the liver and kidneys, will remove pimples, boils, skin eruptions and other affections caused by impure blood. Will drive malaria from the system and prevent as well as cure all malarial fevers, chills, ague, constipation, indigestion, Irr. Electric Bitters—entire satisfaction guaranteed, or money refunded. Price 25 cents a bottle, sold by S. P. Hughes & Co. druggists.