

The Jeffersonian Democrat

JULIUS O. CONVERSE, Editor.

CHARDON, OHIO, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1859.

THE ELECTION.

Owing to our miserable tri-weekly mail system, which is again in operation, we are unable to give later returns than those contained in the Cleveland Leader of Wednesday morning. The probability is, that the Republicans have carried the State by a large majority. The Leader says: Partial returns from different portions of the State indicate the election of Dennison Governor by a handsome majority. The gains over the majority of some 1200 for Gov. Chase in 1857, already reach 4000 or over. We are not out of the woods yet, as big backsets may come in from unexpected quarters.

The gain of a Senator and two Representatives in Montgomery, and a member of the House in Marion, looks favorable for the Legislature.

The Result in Gauga County.

The returns from all the Townships in this County, are now in, and show a Republican gain over the vote of last year. The vote, however, was not so large as it ought to have been, especially as the day was unusually fair and pleasant. We give the vote on Governor and Supreme Judge:

- CHESNEY--Dennison, 133; Ranney, 11; Gholson, 153; Whitman, 10.
RUSSELL--Dennison, 101; Ranney, 55; Gholson, 101; Whitman, 25.
BATHING--Dennison, 113; Ranney, 23; Gholson, 113; Whitman, 22.
ATBURN--Dennison, 93; Ranney, 27; Gholson, 94; Whitman, 27.
NEWBURY--Dennison, 126; Ranney, 36; Gholson, 121; Whitman, 36.
MEXSON--Dennison, 106; Ranney, 28; Gholson, 104; Whitman, 24.
CHARDON--Dennison, 160; Ranney, 51; Gholson, 150; Whitman, 49.
HAMBER--Dennison, 97; Ranney, 37; Gholson, 95; Whitman, 37.
CLARIDON--Dennison, 129; Ranney, 35; Gholson, 129; Whitman, 35.
BURTON--Dennison, 129; Ranney, 42; Gholson, 107; Whitman, 40.

PARKMAN--Dennison, 121; Ranney, 73; Gholson, 121; Whitman, 70.
MIDDLEFIELD--Dennison, 117; Ranney, 19; Gholson, 112; Whitman, 19.
HESTERBURGH--Dennison, 140; Ranney, 24; Gholson, 129; Whitman, 24.
MOSVILLE--Dennison, 75; Ranney, 30; Gholson, 69; Whitman, 35.
THOMSON--Dennison, 105; Ranney, 31; Gholson, 103; Whitman, 30.
TOTAL--Dennison, 1881; Ranney, 529; Gholson's majority, 1352; Whitman's majority, 1316.
Last year, the vote on Supreme Judge stood: Peck, 1863; Bartley, 533; Peck's majority, 1330.

Senator Broderick Killed in a Duel.

A duel between Senator Broderick and Chief Justice Terry of California, occurred near San Francisco, on the 13th ult., which resulted in the death of the former. He fell at the first fire, pierced through the lungs, but lingered in a hopeless condition, until 9 A. M., of the 16th, when he died. His antagonist received no injury. The duel is said to have grown out of a speech of Judge Terry, during the recent political canvass in that State, which was an exciting and bitter one. The parties had previously been arrested by the San Francisco Police, near the duel-ground, and put under bonds to keep the peace.

An exchange, in announcing the fatal result of this duel, well exclaims, "Died as the fool dieth." Senator Broderick was a young man of undoubted talent and courage, and, but for the duelist's false notions of honor, might have been alive to-day. And whose honor has been vindicated by this murder, for it is nothing but a murder? What false assertion has been disproved--what truth substantiated?

Some may think that it is a nice sense of honor that prompts Chief Justices and Senators to evade the officers of the law, in order to obtain a hostile meeting of this character; yet we confess that we are not among the number. Senator Broderick may have been a man of great promise; but few will mourn the fate of one who has thus wantonly and wickedly thrown his life away.

The Horse Fair.

The first Horse Fair of the Gauga County Agricultural Society, was held in Barton, on Wednesday and Thursday of this week. The attendance on the first day, was not large, but, the weather being fair, a crowd was anticipated yesterday. Some fast trotting on Wednesday, between Ashman's mare Searcher, and the Fox Horse, was much admired, and created considerable excitement. The Ashman mare won in two heats: time, 1st heat, 3:22; 2d, 2:57. As we are obliged to go to press at an early hour, in order to meet the mail, we must defer further notice of the Fair until next week.

The Mountaineers Landed.

La Mountain and Haddock, who ascended in a balloon from Watertown, N. Y., after being up four or five hours, landed about 200 miles north of that place, in a dense Canada wilderness. They were found by a Mr. Cameron and some others, who were out in the wilderness, hunting timber. From a long and interesting account of their aerial voyage, given by Mr. Haddock, who is editor of the Watertown Reformer, it would seem that there is some danger as well as enjoyment in ballooning.

At the township Election in this village, on Tuesday last, Dr. John Nichols and Wm. Richards, Esq., were elected Justices of the Peace for the ensuing three years.

The Cleveland Democrat Defends Mr. Corwin.

We need no better proof that our comments upon the course of Mr. Corwin were merited, than that the Cleveland Democrat defends it. If that gentleman is an earnest anti-slavery man, he will feel humiliated by such a defence.

THE WORLD OWES ME A LIVING.

No such thing, Mr. Fold-up-your-hands; the world owes you not a single cent. You have done nothing these twenty years but consume the products earned by the sweat of other men's brows. You have eat, and drink, and slept; what then? Why, eat and drink, and sleep again. And this is the sum total of your life. And the world owes you a living! For what? how come it indebted to you to that trifling amount? What have you done for it? What family in distress have you benefited? What products have you created? What miseries have you alleviated? What acts have you performed? The world owes you a living, idle man? Never was there a more absurd idea. You have been a sponge--a tax upon the world ever since you came into it. It is your creditor to a vast amount. Your liabilities are immense, and claim exemption from guilt, because "the law" commanded it? All we claim as an advocate for the Higher Law, is, that every man is bound to obey his convictions of right and duty, which will never lead him astray, without reference to what unjust and wicked laws exist or prohibit. This doctrine is neither new, nor original with radical anti-slavery men. It is recognized by Blackstone, and other writers of authority on jurisprudence, and has never been denied, except by knaves and despots. When it shall be rejected by a majority of mankind, there will be an end to social virtue and social peace, and the Pro Slavery Democracy will enjoy a political millennium indeed.

THE DEMOCRAT SAYS.

"If Mr. Corwin were appointed hangman, and would execute his office upon who deserve it, a new Editor would immediately be needed for the paper from which we quote." We are thankful that such men as the editor of the Democrat have not the power to execute all who do not possess the same tender regard for Slavery that they do for, if they had, the best part of community would be likely to lose their lives. There is no danger that he will ever be hung for his anti-slavery principles. If his life depends upon his devotion to Slavery, we will guarantee him a good old age; and, if we are to be hung because we hate oppression and wrong, there is one consolation--we shall not expire on the same gallows with him. It is a dreadful thing, in the eyes of the Northern Democracy, to disobey the Fugitive Slave Act, yet they have nothing to say about the threat of disunion, and even treason, that are constantly made by leading members of their own party at the South, in view of the probability of a triumph of the Republican party in 1860. The reason is obvious. We abominate these "Northern men with Southern principles," or rather, with no principles at all. There is no palliation for their conduct. They are regarded with the same detestation, North and South. For men who were born and reared amidst Pro-Slavery influences, there is some excuse; but for such men as the editor of the Cleveland Democrat, there is none.

Tidings of Sir John Franklin.

By one of the last arrivals from Europe, we obtain the following tidings of Sir John Franklin. It is to be hoped that the mystery is finally solved: The crew steamship Fox, Capt. McClintock, sent by Lady Franklin to the Arctic region in search of Sir John Franklin's Expedition, has returned to England, having been completely successful! At Point William, on the northwest coast of King William's Island, a record was found dated April 25th, 1848, signed by Capt. Crozier and Fox James.

Triumphs of Brutality.

Price and Kelly, two brutals in human shape, had a bruising match at Albino, in Canada, on the 6th inst. The wager was $1,000 a side. We have not taken the trouble to ascertain which one of the brutes came off victor. Some of our contemporaries favor their readers with a full report of the fight, showing the result of each round, and giving every "thrilling incident" with as great minuteness and accuracy as if the destinies of the world depended upon it! Thousands throng together when one of these prize fights is to come off, and take the same lively interest in the scene, that a philanthropist takes in the welfare of his fellow-men. A broken nose or a black eye, made so on one of these glorious (?) occasions, is evidently regarded as a badge of honor by a great many men, in this enlightened age. Why not introduce the Spanish Bull Fight at once? All that is wanting, is some public-spirited bruiser to bring the subject before the people. The public mind is ripe for it now.

Fatal Accident.

On Wednesday, the 5th inst., Lucius Whipple, a boy about 11 years of age, son of Purse Whipple, of Bainbridge, accidentally shot himself, while out in the lots, gunning. A man who was engaged in dragging, near by, hearing the report of a gun, went in the direction from which the sound proceeded, and found the boy dead. The contents of the gun (a shot gun) were lodged in his breast, having entered the right side. This is the second accident of the kind that has recently occurred in Bainbridge.

SIXING SCHOOLS.

Mr. Packard, of Painesville, who desires to establish a Singing Class in this village, will give a Free Lecture on Music, at the Baptist Church, on Monday evening next, the 17th. All are invited to attend, and take books and lights. We hope there will be a full attendance.

POSTSCRIPT

Glorious News for Republicans!

We stop the press to announce that the Republicans have carried this State by an immense majority--not less than TEN, and probably from FIFTEEN to TWENTY THOUSAND! The Republicans have elected their entire State Ticket, and a majority in both branches of the Legislature. This is conceded by the National Democrat and Plain Dealer. While Democrats mourn, let the People rejoice!

"The World Owes Me a Living."

No such thing, Mr. Fold-up-your-hands; the world owes you not a single cent. You have done nothing these twenty years but consume the products earned by the sweat of other men's brows. You have eat, and drink, and slept; what then? Why, eat and drink, and sleep again. And this is the sum total of your life. And the world owes you a living! For what? how come it indebted to you to that trifling amount? What have you done for it? What family in distress have you benefited? What products have you created? What miseries have you alleviated? What acts have you performed? The world owes you a living, idle man? Never was there a more absurd idea. You have been a sponge--a tax upon the world ever since you came into it. It is your creditor to a vast amount. Your liabilities are immense, and claim exemption from guilt, because "the law" commanded it?

You owe the world the labor of your two strong arms, and all the skill in your work you might have gained; you owe the world the labor of that brain of yours, the sympathies of that heart, the energies of your being; you owe the world the whole moral and intellectual capabilities of a man. Awake, then, from that dreaming, do-nothing stolidness in which you live, and let us no longer hear that false assertion that the world is owing you, until you have done something.--Exchange Paper.

There is a deal of truth and good sense in the above. We once copied an article containing the assertion that "the world owes every man a good living and a respectable position in society." The article, in the main, was an excellent one, and so this idea escaped our notice; and we take this occasion to say, that we believe no such thing. Such an idea is false and pernicious. The world owes no man more than he contributes, by his labor and influence, to the general welfare. There is a class of vicious idlers in the world, who seem to think that the world owes them an everlasting debt of gratitude for having been born into it. They do nothing to earn even an honest living, yet claim all the privileges that benefactors of the race are entitled to, because, like other animals, they draw the vital breath. For the countless blessings that these thankless creatures enjoy, they owe a debt which they can never repay. We would betide the world, if it were made up exclusively of such ungrateful and presumptuous drones! Men are generally,--at least in this country,--the architects of their own fortunes; and, if they do nothing that is noble or praiseworthy, they will attain no useful or honorable position in society, though they may be permitted to drag out a miserable existence, in ignorance and sloth.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.

The election in this city passed off quietly to day. It is stated that an annoying mistake was made in the tickets of the People's Party--tickets for one part of the city were sent to another district and vice versa, and a large number of them were voted before the mistake was discovered. The Representative and Senatorial tickets thus pulled out of their proper districts will be lost. York County.--Thomas E. Cochran's official majority in the burg of York is 300, a gain of 90 for the People's Party over last fall, when the Democratic majority in the county was 287. Montgomery County.--Messrs. Cochran and Keom opposition candidates for Auditor General and Surveyor General, have lost 82 majority in this burg; this is a loss of 102 for the opposition, compared with the vote of last year for Congress.

This city and township give Finch, Rep., for Judge of the 5th Judicial District, 515 majority; Cochran, Judge of Common Pleas, 349 majority; Wright, Auditor, 393 majority, and Brown, 290 majority. This ensures the election of the entire Opposition ticket. LATER--The entire Republican ticket of this county is elected by average majorities of from 300 to 500. One precinct in Hendricks county gives a Republican Majority.

PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11. The election in this city passed off quietly to day. It is stated that an annoying mistake was made in the tickets of the People's Party--tickets for one part of the city were sent to another district and vice versa, and a large number of them were voted before the mistake was discovered. The Representative and Senatorial tickets thus pulled out of their proper districts will be lost.

York County.--Thomas E. Cochran's official majority in the burg of York is 300, a gain of 90 for the People's Party over last fall, when the Democratic majority in the county was 287. Montgomery County.--Messrs. Cochran and Keom opposition candidates for Auditor General and Surveyor General, have lost 82 majority in this burg; this is a loss of 102 for the opposition, compared with the vote of last year for Congress.

CONNECUT--MASSACHUSETTS--GEORGIA. A Washington despatch of the 6th says: The accounts from Connecticut are cheering for the republicans. The last election in that State, was held last year, although the result there was considered highly favorable. So the partiality for Douglas displayed by sundry Democratic journals and politicians of that State, has not greatly advanced the Democratic cause. In Massachusetts, the Congress and district electing the delegates to Charleston, but the greatest unanimity does not prevail among the voters. So far, Douglas and the Administration equally divide matters. The Democratic success in Georgia is about what was expected; most of the Democratic candidates for Congress repudiated Douglas, and Crawford went so far as to say that if he was nominated at Charleston he would advise all the Southern delegates to go home.

ALIVE AND THERE.--Horace Greeley, the most reliable and prompt of men, last spring promised to deliver an Agricultural Address at Wyoming, N. Y., Sept. 29th "if he was alive." When the hour came, who should appear on the platform but Greeley, though his arrival from California was unknown to the multitude. He landed from the steamer just in time for the ears, and without taking time to see his family he pushed to Wyoming to fulfill his promise. This is characteristic of the man.

THE ALBION DISASTER.--It is now certain that all the dead at Albion by the late calamity have been found, and they number fifteen, including Mr. Rosevelt, of Sandy Creek, who has since died of his injuries. Of the injured all are doing well, and are considered beyond immediate danger, excepting Dr. Randall of Albion who is in rather a critical situation. His friends have strong hopes of his ultimate recovery. There are numerous cases of broken bones, bruises and flesh wounds which will not be long in healing.

Tidings of Franklin and his Men.

The tidings brought by the steamer Fox of the fate of the brave old Arctic navigator, the ship and her command, and the one hundred and thirty-eight men composing the officers and crews, will excite a sensation wherever the name of Sir John and his noble lady have been spoken and treasured. The exploring expedition, consisting of the Erebus, under command of Franklin, and Terror, Capt. Crozier, sailed from England May 19th, 1845. On July 6th, the same year, the expedition was seen by a whole ship in latitude 75 deg. 45 min., about the centre of Baffin's Bay, moored to an iceberg, and waiting the opening of Lancaster sound. This was the last time his vessels were ever seen until their remains were discovered by the late explorers. The first expedition in search of Franklin in 1843, consisting of the screw steamers Plover and Herald. A second (over land) expedition was started the same year, and a third, under command of Sir James Ross, set out a few months afterwards. In 1851, several new expeditions were fitted out--the third, or perhaps the fourth, being the Bhering Straits expedition, consisting of the Investigator and Enterprise. The next was the Baffin's Bay expedition, consisting of the Resolute, the Assistance, the Pioneer and the Intrepid--two sailing vessels and two screw propelled. The next was an expedition fitted out by private subscription (April, 1853,) commanded by Sir James Ross. Lady Franklin also fitted out two separate expeditions the same year--the Lady Franklin, the Sophia and the Prince Albert. The next and most interesting of these expeditions, consisted of the American vessels, the Advance and the Rescue, sailed out on the 15th of August, 1854, under the command of Lieut. De Haven, May 24, 1859.

Republican Triumph in Cuyahoga--State Ticket 1500 Majority--County Ticket from 1000 to 1500.

In 1857 the majority for Governor Chase was 590. The returns received show that the majority for Mr. Dennison and the State ticket will not be less than 1500. Mr. Gholson, for Supreme Judge, against whom the Democrat and the Dealer have howled long, loud and often, runs nearly or quite up with the foremost. The entire County was largely attended, and the election was a grand success. No effort was spared to defeat Mr. Stude for Prosecutor on Temperance grounds, and we rejoice to record that the friends of sobriety, law and order, have sustained the deserving young man by the no. 1 ticket in that part of 1900. The attempt to defeat Mr. Barker, for Treasurer, was still more abortive, as his majority will be some 1200. The Wards and Townships as far as heard, have all done well. All honor to the Republicans of Cuyahoga--Leader of Wednesday.

Republican Triumph in Cleveland.

The election in the city yesterday was one of the most quiet and orderly ever held, and resulted in a majority of 177 for Dennison. Though not a full vote, it was 7 larger than two years ago. In 1857 the vote for Governor stood: Payne 2,905 Chase 2,665 5,470--Payne's maj. 240. In 1859 the vote for Governor stands: Dennison 2,327 Ranney 2,659 5,477--Dennison's maj. 177.

Giddings and Banks.

The lecture last week at Burlington, by Mr. Giddings, was largely attended, and among others by Gov. Banks, who, at the close, was called out and made a speech, in which he paid high and deserved compliment to Mr. Giddings. We copy from the speech as follows: "I am very glad that I have been privileged to be a part of the discourse of my friend, Mr. Giddings, this evening. I am more pleased that you have heard the whole, for no one knows these scenes who was not present. It is right to should present the relations of these contraventions, not to understand the character of the men who could represent us, the qualities of which enabled them to stand the fire. It is very easy for us to see that a man may be a gentleman, a Christian, and a scholar, and yet not be the best man for a Representative. It is not these qualities alone which entitle a man to exert a controlling influence in Congress, but the man of indomitable courage, like that of the gentleman who has spoken to us this evening. When you get a good man there, keep him there. The people of Ohio have committed a fault in not retaining Mr. Giddings. I feel so sure that the reputation which has been given of Joshua R. Giddings is a wrong one. He has been called a Rebel, but no man has been more reasonable, sound and cool than this same gentleman, who has been trampled throughout the country as a fanatic. It is impossible for me to represent how much strength such a man may have in the country. When great questions come before Congress, they come up and are decided in an instant; there is not time to make up an opinion. Then those men of long experience and cool heads, who gather others around them and lead to victory. When victory is won, it is not all; you want a man whose name carries with it the idea that the measure is wise, human and good. Such a man was the gentleman before you. Therefore, as I had occasion to say a short time since, in Massachusetts, it is wrong to take such men from Congress; and I trust her people will improve by this lesson, and hold on to good Representatives. The controversy in which the country has been so long a time engaged is one of great importance, and it is still far from being settled.
