CAPTAIN NAYLOR-LEYLAND DEAD.

He Was the Husband of Jennie Chamberlain, Formerly of Cleveland.

LONDON, May 8.—Captain Sir Herbert Scarsbrick Naylor-Leyland, bart, who had represented the South Port division of Southwest Lancashire in the house of commons, in the Liberal interest, since last August, died of laryngitis, after a long illness.

He passed away at his London residence, Hyde Park house, Albert Gate, S. W., in the presence of his wife, who was Miss Jeanne Wilson Chamberlain, formerly of Cleveland, and of his mother-in-law, Mrs. William Selah Chamberlain.

Sir Herbert Naylor-Leyland was in his thirty-sixth year.

PLACE OF PILGRIMAGE.

Catholic Church in Which Miraculous Cures Occur, at Carey, Near Upper Sandusky.

UPPER SANDUSKY, May 8.—A small, unassuming frame structure in a quiet village, which has received special favors from Pope Leo; a church wherein simple prayer has relieved pain and cured invalids of diseases which have baffled the skill of eminent physicians and surgeons—this is the distinction claimed for Our Lady of Consolation church at Carey, 12 miles north of this city. It is the only pilgrimage church in the United States and as such it is recognized by Pope Leo.

Of wonderful cures effected affidavits and duly signed letters are in possession of Father Mizer, pastor of the church. This wonderful healing power is supposed to be derived from a fac simile statue of the famous virgin and child statue at Luxenburg, which miraculously appeared in a church erected in recognition of relief from pestilence.

HOUSE STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

One Man Badly Injured and Others Had Narrow Escapes.

WOOSTER, May 8.—During a storm at Big Prairie, Wayne county, Lyman J. Newkirk took shelter in a new house. While he was in a stooping position the house was struck by lightning. The fluid cut the house in twain, a bit of the current burst off the rim of Newkirk's hat, tore the coat and shirt from his back and tore off a strip of flesh and skin from his back, a deep furrow actually two to four inches wide.

Newkirk was rendered insensible and lay in that condition for an hour. The shock also destroyed his hearing. He is in a very critical condition. W. J. Aysworth, agent for the Pennsylvania lines, and Jack Fisher, who were also in the house, were knocked down but escaped injury.

LOCKED

Her In a Cow Stable.

Divorce Case Commenced by J. B. Wood's Wife.

Allegations Were Never Made Public.

Interesting Testimony of Mrs. Emma Andrews.

Maccabee Insurance Action—Court House News.

Mrs. Emma Andrews, the eldest daughter of John B. Woods, gave the details of the trouble leading to the action for a divorce, filed by her mother.

She was a witness for the plaintiffs in the Woods will case. The divorce case was commenced in 1878. Mrs. Andrews said that her mother was in the barn milking a cow. She had neglected to close the door to the stable. Mr. Woods noticing this became very angry. He rushed to the barn, closed the door and locked it, going down town with the key in his pocket. Mrs. Woods was kept a prisoner for some time. She left her husband and with her daughter Emma kept house at the corner of Broadway and Market streets. Mrs. Andrews said the news of the divorce proceedings had not been published because her father hired the papers to suppress it. A reconciliation followed and her mother again took up her residence in the family home-stead.

Complicated Case.

The insurance case commenced by the heirs of J. W. Gormley against the Supreme Tent of the Maccabees, is a complicated affair. Gormley originally belonged to a tent in Bradford, Pa. He came to this city to reside with his relatives, claiming that he had been mistreated by his family. After reaching Akron he had his old policy, which was payable to his wife canceled, taking out a new one in favor of certain nieces and nephews. He united with one of the local tents. After his death his wife commenced an action to enjoin the Supreme tent from paying the insurance to the beneficiaries under the new policy. She alleged that undue influence was used to get him to make it as he did and that he was insane.

The Akron relatives have commenced another suit to collect the money. The Supreme tent has the money but does not know whom to pay. Gormley, it is alleged, has been in the asylum twice.

Will Filed.

The will of Caroline L. Davis has been filed. She gives her property to three daughters. In case of the marriage of her husband she asks that the residence at 110 Kirkwood st. be sold. She does not want his second wife to have control of the property.

Insanity Alleged.

An affidavit, alleging that Adam Helwig of Tallmadge is insane, has been filed in Probate court.

Grand Jury.

The Grand Jury will resume its deliberations again Tuesday. Several cases are yet to be considered.

Entries.

The damage case of Richard A. Gronoy vs. The Diamond Match Company has been transferred to the United States Circuit Court.

William Buchtel has been given a default judgment against William Siebert et al for $1,316.65.

The Second National bank was given judgment on a cognovit note, against J. F. Bruot for $1,218.14.
