ROOTERS

Caused Some Trouble.

Umpire Prepared For a General Assault.

He Tossed the Second Baseman Aside

And Looked For More Players to Conquer.

Red Hot Finish of the A. H. S. and W. R. A. Game.

The Akron High school team made an attempt to play base ball on the Buchtel college grounds Monday afternoon with the Western Reserve Academy club of Hudson.

The local players were out-classed by the visitors and despite the fact that the crowd was with them they could not defeat their opponents. In the last inning a wildly excited gang of rooters lined up along the first base and began to whoop matters up for the Akron team. This rattled the visitors to such an extent that they threatened to leave the field. The pitcher made a decidedly uncomplimentary remark to Umpire Linmie, who shed his coat and prepared to start a little rough house. The second baseman hustled in to argue the case. He was politely but firmly grabbed by the arm and tossed about 20 feet, landing uninjured on all fours, a much weaker and completely conquered belligerent.

The majority of the young men from Hudson were adverse to any disturbance and the threatened turmoil was averted. The coaching tactics of Akron were perhaps too enthusiastic but the boys wanted to win. The High school team was out batted and out played. They were practically without a third base man as the young man who was at that position, not only muffed everything that came his way, but he fell all over himself at every opportunity. The score tells the tale:

NERVE

Of a Total Stranger.

Found on the Bed With a Little Daughter.

Walked Into the Residence Uninvited.

Became Very Angry When He Was Discovered.

Had Lost $100 After Taking Four Drinks of Whiskey.

The nerve displayed by an unknown individual at the home of Otto Bietz, of 134 Glenwood av., Monday night surpasses anything yet reported to local authorities.

About ten o'clock, after the family had retired, the father was awakened by the screams of an eight-year-old daughter who was in a room upstairs. Her calls for "help" were quickly answered by Mr. Bietz.

Reaching the room he found the lamp broken and the furniture in general disorder. A light was secured and a startling sight was exposed. On the bed with the little girl was a total stranger, evidently about 30 or 35 years of age. He was sound asleep. Mr. Bietz searched the fellow without awakening him. In a hip pocket he found a leather billie. Aside from that there was no weapon of kind.

Without disturbing the intruder a revolver was brought up to the room. The man was then awakened. He was in an ugly mood and immediately commenced a trade against those who had disturbed him. He insisted that he was in his boarding house and that his board bill had been paid in advance. After a few minutes, probably discovering his mistake, he wilted. The man told a pretty straight story and was allowed to depart without being arrested.

He said he was a barber, that he was employed in a shop on Market street and that his name was Davis. He reached Akron only a few days ago from Chicago. Monday night he met a number of companions and began drinking. He said that he had had only four drinks of whiskey. After that his mind was a blank. He said that when he started out he had $100. Of this $55 was in checks and $35 in money. When awakened he had nothing.

He does not know what became of the money. Tuesday morning Mr. Bietz called at the address the stranger had given him. He found the man at work.

Hoover-McAlpin.

The most brilliant and pleasing society event in Uniontown's history for many years past, was the occasion of the marriage of Miss Emma Hoover of Uniontown and Chester McAlpin of Akron, which occurred here at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon, says the Canton News Democrat. Both the contracting parties are well and favorably known; the bride being the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hoover of Uniontown, and a lady of rare ability in the art of landscape and scenic painting, while the groom is a prominent young society man of Akron.

The ceremony which made the two husband and wife, was performed by Rev. H. J. Christman of the First Reformed church, at the home Mrs. A. M. Steege, in the presence of about 85 invited guests. The bride was elegantly attired in a gown of white cashmere, in a bodice set in pearls and very tastefully embellished with chiffon, while in her hand she carried a bouquet of white carnations.

The happy couple will soon take up their new home in Akron, O., where the groom holds a responsible and lucrative position and to which place the best wishes of their many friends will follow them.

UNEASY EMPLOYEES.

Action of Pennsylvania Officials Worries C. A. & C. Men.

The Pennsylvania road has commenced to take an inventory, so to speak, of the employees of the Cleveland, Akron & Columbus road, and a good many of them are on the uneasy seat just now, says the Cleveland Leader. Within the last few days there has been a letter sent to each of the employees of the C. A. & C. road asking for a complete account of the recipient of the notice.

The questions asked in the letter are as to the age, the term of service with the company, the position held, and the qualifications for the same. This is another indication coming on top of the many signs of the past few days that the Pennsylvania is soon to assume control of the road. It has operated under a traffic agreement for a good many years. The question most interesting to the employees of the road just now is how many of them will be retained in their present position, which can only be answered by the officials at the Pittsburgh offices. It is intimated, however, that the force will be considerably lessened. A telegram from Philadelphia announces that a party will inspect the C. A. & C. soon. The party starts from Pittsburgh Tuesday.

There was a time when the most nauseous medicines were regarded as the best. Hot drops were perhaps the most disagreeable of the old time remedies. Their place has been taken by one of the most pleasant medicines in use, Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is not only much more agreeable to take but more reliable. It always cures and cures quickly. For sale by all druggists.
