 NO. 180.
 FRIDAY, JUNE 2

The shot aimed by the Ohio Republican convention at the trusts seemed to flash in the pan.

SOME eloquent pleas for harmony were made at the Columbus "peace conference" yesterday by leaders of the warring Republican factions, but it will be observed that not one of the belligerents had enough confidence in the sincerity of his fellows to take the initiative in disarming.

THE Ohio Valley League of Bi-Metallic clubs which closed a three days' session at Louisville Thursday, recommended the re-adoption of the Chicago platform by the Democratic party and the re-nomination of Mr. W. J. Bryan for president. This year's session of the League was the most enthusiastic one of its history.

If Mr. Hanna has no more of a hand in dictating the nomination of today's convention than he had in controlling its organization, he will not have very much to brag about. Boss Cox of Cincinnati managed to have his delegation admitted to the convention, against the protests of 15,000 Hamilton county Republicans, but the door was closed without ceremony upon ex-Mayor McKisson and his friends.

THE Columbus convention to-day "congratulated the Republican party on the fact that a Republican Congress and a Republican Legislature were the authors of laws forbidding the organization of business combinations known as trusts and combines," but not a word of praise did it have for the sturdy efforts of Attorney General Monnett to enforce the party's anti-trust laws. Mr. Monnett should understand that while Republican anti-trust laws are good things to shout about during campaigns, they are never made to be enforced.

A SPARK of the warlike spirit that was his characteristic of old, and which gave him the quality of a successful leader, was detected in the speech of Senator Foraker to the McKisson delegation from Cuyahoga county at Columbus yesterday. "The day has dawned," said he, "when the representatives of the Republican voters in the state must be heard in their state conventions. They must have a vote in the affairs of the party. You are the true representatives of the Republican party in Cuyahoga county, and have always under all circumstances been found loyal to the party, and I say now that you ought to have, and I believe you will have, seats in this convention." But when the time came to apportion the badges to the contesting delegations, the McKisson men were not recognized, and it remains to be seen what Foraker and his friends intend to do about it.

THE Labor convention at Columbus yesterday was attended by 126 delegates from various labor organizations throughout the state. The following excellent platform of principles was recommended to Ohio's political parties for adoption: "Equal rights for all, special privileges for none; the adoption of initiative and referendum; a more rigid examination of workshops, mines and homes; liability of employers for injury to health, body or life; equal pay for equal work for male and female; abolition of the sweating system; municipal ownership of all public utilities; national ownership of telegraphs, telephones, railroads and all public highways; abolition of convict labor; abolition of government by injunction." A proposition to place an independent ticket in the field was voted down. As the best of the principles advocated by the Labor convention will appear in the platform of the Ohio Democracy this year, there will be no necessity for an independent ticket.

ALUMNI
Making Preparations
For the Exercises of Commencement Week.
Various Committees Have Been Appointed.

Will Give Grand Banquet at Barberton Inn.
Fourteen Members In the Graduating Class.

There'll be a busy hum at Buchtel College for the next few weeks. Preparations for the various exercises and functions incident to commencement week have begun, and the Seniors are devoting all their energy to successfully handle the "unannounced tests," and in preparing their theses. Within a week a prospectus, announcing the general program of the exercises, will likely be issued.

The resident alumni of the college held a meeting in the college parlor Thursday evening and appointed committees to arrange for the alumni exercises to be held Tuesday, June 20. Following are the committees: Reception and entertainment of visiting alumni—Misses L. Elmie Warner, Lulu Parker and Arabella Armstrong.

It was decided to give a grand banquet at Barberton Inn, and these persons were named to make the arrangements: L. R. C. Eberhard, A. W. Maynes, S. E. Findley, F. M. Cooke and A. A. Kohler. Arrangements for public alumni exercises—H. L. Snyder and Misses Estelle Musson and Lulu Parker. Enlisting interest of resident alumni in exercises of commencement week—Mrs. M. S. Gardner, H. L. Snyder, O. C. Herriek, J. H. James and Miss Anna Thomas.

The orator for alumni day will be Robert Tucker of Toledo, member of the class of '91. Thus far the program for commencement week has only assumed skeleton form. The program will commence with Senior preparatory exercises Friday evening, June 16. Saturday evening the Junior Ashton elocutionary contest will occur. Four contestants will compete for the prize. On Sunday the baccalaureate sermon will be preached to the graduating class by the college president, Dr. Ira A. Priest. All the public exercises will be held in Crouse Gymnasium. Monday will be Class Day, and literary and musical exercises will be held both in the forenoon and afternoon. In the evening will occur the class promenade, followed by a reception, at which dancing will be a prominent feature. Tuesday will be alumni day. The college trustees will also hold their annual business meeting in the morning. Wednesday morning the graduating exercises proper will be held. The class will be addressed by Rev. Lee S. McCallister, of Michigan. An orchestra will furnish the music. That evening a grand reception will be given the graduates by the college president at his residence on the western part of the campus. There are fourteen members in the graduating class. They are: Philosophical course—Mattie Marie Anger, Akron; Floyd Jay Metzger, East Akron; Frank Johnson Rockwell, Akron; Albert Isaac Spanton, Akron. Scientific course—Orill Allen Cole,

Notes.
 The senior vacation commences two weeks prior to that of the other classes. The grounds are looking pretty, but improvements on their appearance are now under advisement. There's a good feeling between all the classes, and the juniors will do honors to the seniors by decorating Crouse gymnasium in an elaborate style. This year's class is in numbers a good average to those of preceding years. The numbers are not lacking, either, in the standard of advancement to which they have attained.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is a grand old remedy, used for many years, and still in public favor. It is without doubt the best medicine for all pulmonary affections. It always cures. All druggists sell it for 25 cts.

NO END
 To the Litigation of the Merrow Family.
 The litigation of the Merrows over their domestic and business affairs seems to have no end, says the Enquirer. Two suits were filed yesterday by Mr. Merrow against his wife's former attorney's, Littleford & Ballard and M. M. Kerr, asking for $12,500 in each case. He asserts that they attempted to purchase from his wife an interest in the business for $2,000, and also sought to injure his reputation and business by writing certain letters to customers. PLEASURE
 To be President of the Library Board
 Since Cruel Furniture War Is Over—Committees.

In the absence of President Louis Seybold, C. P. Humphrey presided at the Library Board meeting Thursday evening.
 It was voted to pay the library bureau of Chicago $800 more on the furniture, which leaves a balance due of $400. This $400 will not be paid until certain pieces of furniture are placed in proper condition and wires furnished for some lights. Besides this $800, bills amounting to $992.73 were allowed. About $1,200 remains in the treasury. The next apportionment does not come until September.
 On motion of Mr. Doran the meeting night was changed from the last to the first Friday of each month.
 All members were present except President Louis Seybold. In a letter he thanked the members for having again elected him president and closed by saying that it was a pleasure to be on the board since the furniture war was over. He appointed the following committees:
