Three Deputy Sheriffs Named-- Court House News.

Judge D. J. Nye of Elyria, will be in Akron Monday to close the May term of court.

Several important cases have been assigned to him for hearing. It is probable that only a few will be reached, the balance being carried over until the September term.

Baughman Case.
The hearing of the alimony action of Catherine vs. James Baughman was taken up in Common Pleas court Saturday. Baughman was ordered to appear to show cause why he should not be fined for contempt, as it was alleged he had failed to pay $50 alimony pending the final hearing of the case. He proved to the court that he had no means with which to carry out the order. He also claimed that if alimony was allowed on the final hearing he could not pay it. The parties to the action are both aged.

Physician's Claim.
Dr. Luman G. Gristle has filed a claim against the estate of Sarah M. Riley for $140. He alleges this amount is due for his services during the last sickness of the deceased.

BRISK SEASON

For the Pleasure Resorts--Picnics Booked Next Week.

This year's picnic season has started out with a vigor that promises a record-breaker for Akron's pleasure resorts.

Thus far about 80 picnics have been held in this vicinity, and the local street railways each have orders booked for many more. The transportation of the parties has been almost equally divided between the two street railway companies, each having furnished transportation for about 30 picnics.

Following are some picnics booked for next week.

Grace Reformed church at Silver lake Wednesday; Universalist church at Silver lake, also on Wednesday; Arlington St. Congregational church, Silver lake, Friday; Lutheran congregation of Kent, at Randolph park, Wednesday; Akron German Lutheran church at Randolph park, Thursday. On Saturday the big picnic of Youngstown's Father Elliott society will be held at Randolph park.

Deserted Him.
Edward Huggill has filed a petition for divorce from Elizabeth Huggill. They were married in 1890. Six months later she left him. He has no knowledge of her whereabouts.

THE WEATHER:
Showers this afternoon and Sunday.

CAME HOME

On Leave of Absence and Was Married.

Recruit May be Disciplined For Over Staying His Time.

Thus far, but seven men have enlisted at the local recruiting office during this month. At the same date last month 20 men had enlisted. The recruiting officer, Ray Turner, is not discouraged, however, as 23 applications were made during the month, mostly by persons whose physical condition did not warrant their acceptance.

The marriage of Chas. Haase, Friday, was quite a surprise to the boys, as he had enlisted on the 20th and was at Cleveland waiting to be assigned to a regiment. He got a day's leave of absence to come home and get married Friday, and overstayed his time considerably. Whether he will be disciplined for overstaying is not yet known, but the soldier boys hope not.

John Musgrove, who was a member of Co. I, 11th Infantry, at Porto Rico, and who was discharged March 25, has made application for enlistment at the local office. He recently lost his discharge, and his delay in enlisting is until he may secure another discharge. Musgrove says that there are many worse places than Porto Rico, and he would be glad to return there if occasion calls for it.

Rudolph Haase, a brother of Chas., is also an applicant for enlistment.

CHANGES

Will be Recommended by the Committee.

Claimed That There Will be no Whitewash--Another Meeting.

The members of the School Board Investigating Committee met Friday evening until 11 o'clock. It is hoped by the committee to complete its work at the meeting Monday evening.

The five members of the committee were closeted alone. A good deal of the testimony that has been introduced has resulted in nothing.

In a large number of cases parties would inform the committee that such and such a party said this, that or the other. But when the statements were sifted it was found that they proved nothing. On the other hand it is said much damaging evidence has been brought before the eyes of the investigators.

While members of the committee are of various opinions as to what should be done, there is no fear of a "whitewash." Before a week the whole matter will be settled. Some important changes are expected in the schools.

TWO WARRANTS

Issued Saturday For Mat Seng--Wanted in Toledo.

Matthew Seng, in custody at the county jail, having been indicted by the grand jury for horse stealing, is wanted in Toledo.

Today Detective Dunn swore out a warrant for him for the alleged sale of unwholesome meat to Matt Cooney last December.

Seng was to be released today. The Dunn warrant was issued in order to hold him until officers from Toledo could come and get him. There he is wanted for breaking into a big meat establishment. There is a rumor that he is also wanted for breaking into a post office. He was taken to Toledo this afternoon.

Bank Clearances.
Akron bank clearances for the past week aggregate $983,000. Youngstown reports $200,808, Canton, $236,700 and Springfield $310,807.

GUS WEPT

When the Decision

Giving Match to Joe Kennedy Was Announced.

Ruhlin Showed Up Well In Fight.

The Westerner Was Too Fast For Him.

Exciting Races at Fountain Park--Sports.

The result of the Kennedy-Ruhlin go at San Francisco Friday night was a sore disappointment to the Akron friends of Gus.

It was generally believed that he would win the match. Kennedy seems to have been a much faster man than he was supposed to be.

The following special from San Francisco tells the story:
Woodward Pavilion, San Francisco, June 23.

The Excelsior athletic club offered Gus Ruhlin of Ohio, and Joe Kennedy of San Francisco, heavy weights, as their star attraction in tonight's boxing tournament. The stars were billed for a twenty round contest for 65 per cent. of the gross receipts.

In the betting Ruhlin was favorite at odds of two to one, with plenty of Kennedy money in sight. The Ohio man weighed 190 pounds to Kennedy's 195.

The Kennedy money came from his local admirers, who thought him good enough to meet Jeffries. Kennedy's claims for recognition are based on an unbroken record of victories over 50 good men of his class. Ruhlin was in prime condition. Kennedy appeared to be a little beefy, but said he was in the best shape. Behind Ruhlin were Billy Madden, his manager, Charley Goff and Billy Otts. In Kennedy's corner were Spiller Kelly, Tim McGrath and Soldier Wilker. Dewitt VanCout, boxing instructor of the club, was chosen referee.

As a preliminary, Billy Otts and Chas. Tye of San Francisco, lightweights, boxed ten rounds for a decision. The house was well filled.

Kennedy wanted to hit in the clinches and break away, but to this Madden would not agree.

Kennedy's Speed.
In the first round Kennedy showed great speed. He was careful and cool. In the second he smashed Ruhlin on the jaw with a left swing.

In the third Ruhlin landed two lefts on the neck and a hard one on the jaw. Kennedy returned the blows with interest. In the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh rounds Ruhlin tried to weaken Kennedy by playing for his heart. That this had its effect was evidenced in the eighth. Kennedy kept clinching and seemed to be tired. He repeated his tactics in the next three rounds, Gus landing frequently on the body.

Ruhlin Rushed.
In the thirteenth round Ruhlin rushed Kennedy to the ropes and slapped him with a left on the neck. Kennedy came back with three lefts without receiving any return.

The fourteenth round was marked by hard hitting in which Kennedy had the better of it. Ruhlin appeared slow and clumsy, Joe having no trouble in keeping under his hands.

Ruhlin's Rounds.
The sixteenth was all Ruhlin's. He rushed savagely and staggered Kennedy with a left on the neck and right on the body. In the seventeenth he pounded Kennedy's ribs for further orders.

At the opening of the eighteenth round both rushed and met in the center of the ring. They hit while locked, an old way. The referee

Musical

News

Dr. Ion A. Jackson will receive a limited number of pupils in voice production and song coaching during July and August. He will have a class in Cleveland and will devote one day to Akron pupils if a sufficiently large class is organized.

Information can be secured by addressing I. A. JACKSON, 112 South Union st., Akron, O.

was unable to part them. Kennedy pushed a hard left to the neck and then put his right around Ruhlin's neck, hanging on. Gus rapped away at the body with both hands. This was repeated time and again and it became interesting. The crowd was howling like mad.

Nineteenth round--Gus rushed in and uppeet Joe as the latter tried to duck. Gus hooked him on the jaw with a left. As they broke Gus swung a right on the chin which sent Kennedy reeling. Joe came back game.

The Final Round.
Gus ripped two rights in on the ribs. They were careful and watched for a knockout blow. Joe landed both hands on the neck and ribs. Kennedy was forcing matters. He was given the decision on points. Ruhlin wept as he walked quietly out of the ring. The decision was well received by the crowd. Jack Stelzner challenged the winner.

Wolcott Won.
Joe Wolcott, the colored water-weight boxer, was given the decision over Dan Creedon, the Australian middleweight, at the end of a hard-fought twenty-round bout before the New Broadway Athletic club Friday night. John White was the referee. Wolcott did the work from the start of the fight with left hooks on the jaw.

In the sixth round a left smash from Wolcott sent blood spurting from Creedon's right eye, and after Dan received a right and left on the body he looked very tired. He came up in the next round looking very strong, having evidently fully recuperated. From then until the fifteenth Wolcott had it all his own way. When they shook hands for the wind-up Wolcott rushed and tried hard to land a decisive blow, but Creedon managed to evade him cleverly.

Six of the seven races at the Akron Driving club matinee Friday were straight heat events.
Notwithstanding this, the finishes were exciting and the large crowd thoroughly enjoyed the afternoon's sport. In the absence of Dr. L. S. Ehrig, Fred Laub acted as starting judge. His work was satisfactory.

The time was not as fast as expected. There was no starter in the second race to force Maggie A out and she won about as she pleased. In the first heat Davy Crockett made a game finish but the Akers mare had speed enough to win, even though the time had been much faster.

Hastings made a splendid impression. He had a sure thing in his race with Wiltchete and was not driven to anything like his limit. The congregation of the South Main St. M. E. church has decided to hold a two weeks' gospel tent meeting on the lot adjoining the church, and they have invited the Evangelist Frank A.
