HAPPY Were These Events.

Silver and Golden Wedding Anniversaries

Were Celebrated at Thanksgiving Time.

One at Northampton, the Other at Akron.

Lived In One Neighborhood For Fifty Years.

Tuesday was the fiftieth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. P. Wagner of Northampton.

They were married at the home of the bride in that township, when the groom was 22 and the bride 19, and all their home life has been spent in that neighborhood.

In the palmy days of canaling, Mr. Wagner was a captain, but in his later quiet, peaceful, agricultural life, he has divided the honors with his wife, and in a home where harmony prevailed the lives of both have been prolonged.

Sixty friends and relatives, from Cleveland, Akron and the Falls, by a concerted movement, met in the evening at the aged couple's home to commemorate the occasion, bringing a bountiful supply of flowers, fruits and tempting viands with which table after table was loaded for the golden marriage feast.

They also brought and presented to the long-married couple a luxurious couch, resting upon which rheumatic joints might forget to ache; and also silverware, o'erspread with a film of gold, to be kept in remembrance of the occasion which brought their early and their later friends together.

The whole affair was a happy surprise to the two most concerned, and in recalling old times and old associations the hours to midnight flew swiftly by before they were ready to disperse. The friends expect to celebrate other anniversaries of their early marriage.

Silver Wedding Anniversary.

The friends and neighbors to the number of 30 assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Golden, 144 West South st., and enjoyed a bounteous turkey dinner with all the good things that go with it in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding day.

The time was pleasantly spent in social conversation, games and music to a late hour. Miss Grace Dietz remarried the couple and presented them with many substantial, beautiful and useful gifts. All had a good time and the bride and groom seemed to enjoy the occasion fully as well as they did 25 years ago. After wishing the couple to see their fiftieth wedding anniversary in the enjoyment of health, the guests left at 10:30 p.m.

Another Silver Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Schaaf, of 211 Wolf st., celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary Thanksgiving. Many relatives and friends gathered at the residence and assisted in making the occasion enjoyable. They were recipients of many pretty presents.

SETTLED.

Commissioners Judge J. A. Kohler has enjoined the Pennsylvania Railway Co. and the C. & P. Ry. Co. temporarily from obstructing a public highway at Macedonia. The railroads are filling it with slag and other material for the purpose of bringing it up to a proposed change in the grade of the track at that place.

Another Divorce Sought.

John Ditzler seeks a divorce from his wife, Minnie Ditzler. He charges her with adultery. The petition names Harry Potter as co-respondent. It is also claimed that the defendant has committed adultery with a married man, whose name the plaintiff does not divulge. The couple were married in 1890 and have no children.

New Cases.

The Akron Gas Co. has sued Wm. R. Collette et al. for $16.39 alleged to be due on an account. The case is appealed from Squire Campbell's court.

Julius G. Pomerene seeks to recover $237.46 from Sophronia and S. J. Ritchie alleged to be due for stenographic work.

In the case of J. J. Brassemle vs. the Beacon Journal Co. an amended cross petition has been filed. It claims that the verdict for plaintiff obtained in Justice Hoffman's court is void for the reason that it was not within the jurisdiction of the court.

In the case of Sarah E. Alderlice vs. the Akron Steel & Iron Co. the court sustained the motion not to allow any evidence under the petition. Thirty days was allowed to file an amended petition.

A cognovit judgment has been rendered in favor of B. Dannemiller & Sons of Canton against S. H. Rober et al. for $730.55.
