LABOR

Unions do Not Agree.

New Condition In Strike at Barberton.

Boiler Makers Ready to Return to Work,

But Cannot do so Because of Stand Taken

By Federation of Labor Men—Several Meetings.

(Special Correspondence.)

Barberton, May 10.—Nine days have elapsed since the Federation of Labor went on a strike at the Stirling Boiler works, and the trouble is no nearer a settlement than at first.

The Federation held a meeting yesterday afternoon to consider Supt. Sneddon's proposition. Action was taken accepting the parts granting the blacksmith helpers a raise of 10 cents a day and snap helpers or rivet-driving men an advance of 20 cents a day. The remainder of the wage schedule was rejected, as was also the third reservation of right, which reads as follows: "The company reserves the right to enter into agreements with individuals under which rates may be made either by the job or price." The reserved rights no objection was made upon are:

"First. To pay any individual for superior merit and diligence higher rates than specified herein without thereby affording any men in the same class a basis for claiming a corresponding advance. Second. To advance individuals from one class to another as their ability and general worth may warrant." The Federation is willing to accept a $1.50 basis, but Supt. Sneddon declines to grant it.

Wearied by nine days of loafing, the Boiler-makers, who cannot work because they have no helpers, held a meeting this morning in Lowther's hall, for the purpose of devising plans to end the strike. The committee from the Federation reported what had been done at yesterday's meeting. A lively controversy ensued regarding the stand taken by the Federation. Some claimed that it was stepping on its own feet, while the Federation committee says it does not need the Boiler-makers to dictate what policy they should pursue. Then the Boiler-makers committee said it was turned down by the Federation committee, which the latter emphatically denied. The Federation committee left the hall in disgust. Later the Boiler-makers expressed the opinion that the matter should be settled by arbitration.

The Federation will hold another meeting this afternoon. At noon today an effort is being made to get the Moulders, Boiler-makers and Federation committees together with a view of calling on Mr. Sneddon to arrange to settle the differences by arbitration.

VICIOUS

Horse Attacked Him.

Famous Publisher Disfigured For Life.

His Upper Lip Bitten Completely Off.

Made an Heroic Fight to Save Himself.

Animal Tried to Stamp His Life Out—Cut and Bruised.

New York, May 10.—(Spl.)—Horatio R. Harper, a member of the famous family of publishers, is in a serious condition at his home at Sandpoint, L. I., having been terribly bitten by a horse.

Mr. Harper will be disfigured for life. The horse bit off a portion of his upper lip and otherwise injured him. The accident happened Tuesday afternoon.

There are five stables attached to Mr. Harper's Sandpoint place filled with riding and driving horses. Mr. Harper for some reason entered the stall of the brute Tuesday afternoon. He was in the stall but a minute or two when the horse suddenly turned on him. At the time Mr. Harper was standing near the animal's head, not suspecting an attack.

Suddenly the beast made a fierce bite at Mr. Harper and in some remarkable way caught the unfortunate man's upper lip between its teeth. At the same instant the horse lashed out with its forefeet and tried to stamp the life out of Mr. Harper. He is a big, muscular man with plenty of grit, and though half dazed and suffering the most acute pain, staved off the attack of the brute until a groom, alarmed by the noise of the battle, ran into the stable and dragged Mr. Harper into a place of safety.

Mrs. Harper at once summoned physicians, who attended the injured man. A small portion of the lip was bitten completely off and the rest of it hung by a few shreds. The doctors sewed up the wounds and are hopeful of making the disfigurement less serious than was at first feared. Mr. Harper was cut and bruised in many places on the body where the hoofs of the horse struck him, but these injuries are regarded as of small importance compared with the other.

Egyptian Chicken Factories. In his volume on "Present Day Egypt" Frederick Penfield thus describes one of the interesting sights in the neighborhood of the pyramids, the incubators in the native villages. "It will be found," he says, "that the incubator is constructed of sun dried bricks and so arranged internally that the eggs, placed in mud constructed ovens on trays cushioned with cut straw, are constantly under the attendant's view. No scientific apparatus is employed by this man, not even a thermometer. He knows from experience and his own feeling how much heat is needed, and he systematically turns the eggs several times each day until they are developed into peeping chicks."

"These hatching establishments exist throughout middle and upper Egypt and in a season bring fully 20,000,000 chickens into the world that grow up to be scrawny, unattractive fowls. The industry is thousands of years old and seems conclusively to settle the question of a chicken's maternity by allowing that parentage to the hen laying the egg."

"The incubator is a foster mother only and is responsible for stifling the 'setting' instinct with Egyptian hens. The keepers of the incubators have a system of traffic with peasant farmers, by which eggs are purchased outright or six live chicks given in exchange for a dozen fresh eggs."

Answered.

Henry Fielding was once asked by Lord Pembroke why he wrote his name "Fielding" instead of "Feilding," as his lordship's family used.

"I cannot tell, my lord," replied the novelist, "except it be that my branch of the family were the first that knew how to spell."—San Francisco Argonaut.

Trouble Among Students at Old Kenyon.

Twelve Members of One Class Suspended.

They Objected to the Actions of a Freshman.

Gambler, O., May 10.—(Spl.)—Quite a good deal of excitement is manifested here in Kenyon College, owing to the suspension of 12 prominent Sophomores for hazing. One Freshman has made himself obnoxious to the rest of the college for refusing to obey the laws and traditions of the student body in regard to carrying water, building bonfires, etc. On Sunday morning he struck a senior in the face without any provocation, it is alleged, and severely injured him. This was deemed as going a little too far, and immediate action was decided on. At midnight on Monday night, 12 Sophomores arrayed in winding sheets and masks, went to the freshman's room, bound and gagged him, and carried him to the college cemetery, where they proceeded to clip all the hair off his head, with the exception of one long lock over his forehead. They then carried him back to his room, put him to bed, and after wishing him pleasant dreams, departed. The freshman was not injured physically, but he was almost scared to death, and he was unable to articulate for 24 hours. The matter was at once taken before the faculty by the freshman's friends, and the result was the suspension of the 12 Sophomores, who were prominent in college circles, especially in athletics. The whole college has resolved to stand by them and have notified the faculty if they do not reinstate them at once, each and every student would at once sever connection with the college. The faculty had a long session yesterday afternoon, but no decision was reached. Another meeting will be held this afternoon and it is expected that either the sentence will be entirely rescinded or else considerably lightened.

ANTI-SALOON

League Will Attempt to Down Foraker.

Angry Over His Letter to Rev. P. A. Baker.

(Special Correspondence.)

Columbus, May 10.—The temperance question is to be made the leading issue in the campaign next year. The Anti-Saloon League of Ohio, of which Rev. P. A. Baker of this city is the official head, is arranging to take a decided hand in the nomination and election of members of the Legislature, and which will choose a successor to Hon. J. R. Foraker in the United States Senate.

The blame for the defeat of the Clark Local Option bill is placed upon Senators Foraker and Hanna, and since Senator Foraker will be the first to again come before the people for endorsement, the fight is to be made upon him. The exact of Senator Foraker's letter to Rev. P. A. Baker, in which he referred to him as a lobbyist, is variously regarded, but some of the most astute Republican leaders in the state express the opinion privately that the senator made a great mistake and one which will cause him no end of trouble when he comes up for reelection two years hence. Rev. Mr. Baker will reply to Senator Foraker in kind in a day or two.
