LEGAL NOTICES. LEGAL NOTICE. John McGowan, Hertha McConnell, John Gabel, and Patrick Sweeney, whose residence is unknown and cannot be ascertained, will take notice that on the 10th day of May, 1900, the Second National Bank of Akron, Ohio, filed its petition in the court of common pleas, Summit county, Ohio, in case number 9867, against the above named parties and others praying for judgment upon a promissory note in the sum of $408.45 signed by James McGowan and Ellen McGowan, and the foreclosure of a mortgage made by James McGowan and Ellen McGowan to plaintiff on Lots No. 13 and 14 in a survey made for Edward Maloney in Block L, Akron, Ohio, given to secure said note, and on which a balance of Four Hundred and Eight and 76/100 ($408.76) Dollars is due, with interest at eight per cent, from March 12, 1900. The prayer of said petition is for a judgment against James McGowan and Ellen McGowan for $408.76 together with eight per cent. interest thereon from March 12, 1900; that said mortgage may be foreclosed and said premises sold, and from the proceeds the liens thereon, may be paid in order of their priority; and that said plaintiff may have such other and further relief as is equitable and proper. Said parties are required to answer on or before the 21st day of July, 1900, or judgment may be taken as prayed for. ADDRESS & WHITTEMORE, Atty's for Plaintiff, Akron, O., May 28, 1900. No Private Interview. "Could I have a few minutes' private conversation with you?" he asked as he stood at the open door of a lawyer's office in the Loan and Trust building the other afternoon. "Can't you speak right out from where you are?" asked the lawyer in reply after looking the man over. "I'd rather make a private matter of it."

"What is the nature of your business?" "Confidential-strictly private and confidential, sir."

"Well, I have no time to grant you a private interview. If you have anything to say, you can let her go right here. Now, what is it?" "I-I wanted the loan of a quarter, sir," stammered the man.

"Oh, you did! And you wanted a private interview to ask me that?" "Yes, sir. I knew that it would hurt both our feelings if I were refused in public-yours because you couldn't afford to loan me the money and mine because I couldn't get it. Can you grant my request, sir?"

"No, sir."

"And does it hurt your feelings?" "Not a bit. You are mistaken on that point."

"And my feelings are the only ones hurt?" "Yours alone."

"Just so," said the man as he bowed and backed out. "I beg your pardon. I was mistaken. You have the money and no feelings, and I have the feelings and no money. Impassable chasm; no use in trying to bridge. Good day!"-Washington Post.

The Poodle and the Lions. "I notice that Automobile Montgomery says that horses often make a dive for the corn he paints," remarked one art league student to another.

"Well, there might be some truth in it," said the student. "I saw a little incident at the art institute the other day that made me think of Mr. Montgomery's proud boast. You know those big lions on the sides of the steps, the work of Kemeys, are pretty lifelike. I was standing looking at them when a little white poodle came down the steps in the wake of a woman with stylish clothes on. The poodle had a gold collar around his neck and was altogether one of the tiniest, dandified specimens of a dog that you could find. He walked up to one of the lions, settled back on his hind legs, and looked at the big stone beast. Then he sniffed and glanced around inquiringly. All at once he made up his mind. He made a fierce rush for the lion, barking as viciously and as loud as a dog six inches long could bark. He positively swelled up and appeared about to explode with wrath.

"There you are. If Kenney's lions so excited a poodle dog, it may be that horses will do at Montgomery's corn pictures."-Chicago Inter Ocean.

The Trustful Manager. Business manager of great London newspaper to clerk: "George, take down an advertisement as I dictate it, and then send it up. Ready? All right-Wanted, a man for a pleasant indoor position. Short hours, light work, no experience necessary, place permanent; salary, $1,000 a year. Answer in own handwriting. Millionaire. Great Daily office."

Clerk-I have it down, sir, and will send it to the printers at once. Business Manager (a week later)-George, how many advertisements were received in reply to that advertisement? Clerk-Eighteen thousand.

Business Manager (an hour later)-Good morning, sir. What can we do for you, sir? Soody Individual-What do you charge for an advertisement for situation wanted? Business Manager-Our charges are high, 2 shillings a line, but you must remember the vast number of people we reach. Why, sir, in reply to one single advertisement inserted last week there were received 18,000 answers!-London Tit-Bits.

The Highest Court. "No," said the judge firmly, "I will not consent to your marriage with my daughter."

"Sir," returned the young lawyer haughtily, "I shall not take this decision as final."

"You won't?" "No, sir. I will not. I shall appeal to the court of last resort."

"Oh, very well," replied the judge. "Submit your case to her mother if you want to."-Chicago Post.

How Needles Are Made. Needles are all made by machinery. The piece of mechanism by which the needle is manufactured takes the rough steel wire, cuts it into proper lengths, files the point, flattens the head, pierces the eye, then sharpens the tiny instrument and gives it that polish familiar to the purchaser. There is also a machine by which needles are counted and placed in the papers in which they are sold, these being afterward folded by the same contrivance.

That Family Skeleton. Mrs. Whistler-Tell me, Mary, why it is that you always cry so when papa sends you to bed in the dark when you are naughty? There's no such things as ghosts, and the dark doesn't hurt you, does it?

Little Mary-No, mamma, but I'm afraid of that skeleton Mrs. Jones says we got in our closet.-Baltimore American.

Solitary Angels. Mamma-It's very naughty to tell lies, Eva. People who do so don't go to heaven. Eva-Did you ever tell a lie, mamma?

Mamma-No, dear, never. Eva-Won't you be fearful lonely in heaven, mamma, with only George Washington?-Collier's Weekly.

Able to Hear It. It is well known that Joseph Medill of the Chicago Tribune was somewhat deaf, although his ability at times to hear was frequently remarked.

It is related of him that he dropped into the business department of the office one day to make an inquiry about something that had occurred to him, and a young man who had been in his employ only a few months undertook in a loud tone of voice to enlighten him.

"What did you say?" asked Mr. Medill, putting his hand to his ear. The young man repeated the question in a still louder voice. "I can't hear you," said the editor.

"Oh, chase yourself around the block, you old granny!" muttered the impatient employee just above his breath. "I am not an old granny," said Mr. Medill, turning away. "and I shall not chase myself around the block."

The fresh young man made immediate arrangements to say goodbye to his job, but the great editor probably thought that the lesson he had received was sufficient and did not disturb him.

The Jefferson Bible. "The Jefferson Bible in the Smithsonian institution," says the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Record, "has never been printed. The manuscript remains as it left Jefferson's hands, and, although several persons have proposed from time to time to print it, no one has ever done so. The Bible consists only of the teachings of Christ, extracts from the gospel arranged in chronological order from his birth to his ascension, and nothing else. All controversial passages are left out."

INTRODUCTION OF AUTOMOBILE CAB SERVICE IN CONNECTION WITH THE BALTIMORE & OHIO TRAINS IN CHICAGO. The Baltimore & Ohio railroad company has sprung a surprise with the announcement of its intention to establish on July 1, an electric automobile Cab service in Chicago for the accommodation of passengers to and from Grand Central Passenger Station.

These automobiles are of the latest electric pattern, absolutely noiseless in regard to machinery and running gear.

They will carry the name of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and will be in charge of experienced uniformed motorists.

The rates for this extraordinary service are extremely reasonable, 50 cents per passenger to and from the center of the city, and the details absolutely prohibit extortion.

It has been arranged so that passengers on incoming trains can place their orders for cabs with train conductors before arriving in Chicago, which will be telegraphed ahead, thus insuring satisfactory service.

For outgoing passengers, orders will be taken at Baltimore & Ohio ticket offices.

This is a decided innovation in Chicago and in harmony with a similar service which the Baltimore & Ohio recently established at Washington and Philadelphia, where it has met with much success, and has become a most popular feature with passengers on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad.
