

WORKING TOGETHER

To Make Labor Day Celebration a Great Success.

Employee and Employer Will be Represented In Parade, Which Precedes Exercises at Silver Lake.

Three Thousand Union Laborers Will be In Line of March---Bands at Lead of Each Division.

Arrangements Completed and Committees Appointed at Special Meeting Sunday Afternoon---Those In Charge of the Celebration.

Monday, September 3, will be Labor Day.

In past years the labor organizations of Akron have held large and successful gatherings at the various resorts surrounding the city, and on one or two occasions have accepted invitations to participate in Labor Day demonstrations in other cities, but on the Labor Day so near at hand these industrial workers have decided to remain in Akron and make a demonstration that will be unrivaled in the era of local Labor Day celebrations.

The parade, to which much attention has been given, will be one of the largest ever held in Akron.

Fully 3,000 union men, not counting the members of the several bands, will be in line. The union men will be divided into divisions and each local organization will carry an appropriate banner, while the men will be uniformed and wear badges.

In addition to thousands of union men in line, many of the business houses and factories of the city, ever friendly to labor organizations, will be represented with beautiful floats and decorated wagons.

The social order of Elks, who open their carnival on Labor Day, will also be in line in the parade.

After the parade the thousands of people in Akron on this day will take the electric cars to Silver Lake, where the other demonstrations for the day will be held by the united labor organizations. The large program of fine sports, including ball games, in both forenoon and afternoon, races, speaking and other contests, will be carried out under the management of well selected committees.

The Central Labor Union has complete charge of all demonstrations. That body met Sunday afternoon and to a great extent completed arrangements.

Mr. James Mahoney, chairman of the general arrangements committees, informed a Democrat representative that the city employes wanted to turn out with organized labor, and that it was decided to invite them to do so.

A committee from the Clerks' union submitted a list of business houses that will be represented in the parade, and it will be the largest that was ever represented in a local parade.

Five bands will be procured if possible, one for each division.

The street car companies will place banners on their cars the first of this week, to aid in advertising the day.

A committee was appointed to secure good saddle horses for the marshals of divisions and officers.

The committee on badges will have badges ready for C. L. U. members by the next meeting before Labor Day.

The Bricklayers' banner has been received and is the finest in the state. It will be placed on exhibition in Bricklayers' hall Wednesday evening.

Much time was taken up in the selection of committees to have charge of the demonstrations at Silver Lake, but with the exception of the reception and base ball committees, which was not wholly filled, a complete list is here given.

5,000 people. The very best order prevailed, and the visitors had a good time. Of course, it is understood, that there were not 5,000 German Warriors at the park. Four-fifths of the people there were present to help entertain visitors and enjoy a good time. The basket picnic was a success, and the cool shades of the park were delightful to those who needed rest after long journeys. Visitors at the park were well entertained with music by the Eighth regiment band.

MONDAY.

Chief Marshal Werner's Efforts Crowned With Glory.

This is the big day of the convention. The temperature is just right, and all interested are in gay spirits. They arose early Monday morning, and were in prompt readiness for the first event in the program for the day.

All who witnessed the early morning parade Monday were of one mind that it was a great success. It was conducted by Captain Herman Werner, as chief marshal, and for aides he had members of the German Warriors' organizations, and G. A. R. In the coaches in the parade were officers of the organization, officers of the day, city officials and guests. Carriages traveled abreast. In one of the coaches were President Oehler and other officers, and in the carriage along side were Mr. Paul E. Werner, first president of the organization; Mayor W. E. Young, President of the Day M. Wein, and City Commissioner A. T. Paige. Nearly all the city officials were in carriages. It was a great parade and large.

EXPLOSION

Followed by Fire Destroyed Groetz's Place.

William Schutz Carried Lighted Lantern Into Cellar Filled With Gas.

The residence and saloon of John Groetz, located on the road running from the State Mill to Long Lake, was completely destroyed by fire Saturday night.

At 8 o'clock, William Schutz, the bartender, went into the cellar with a lighted lantern. A tank of gasoline was kept in the cellar. It had been leaking and a gas had formed. This exploded, bursting the can and allowing the gasoline to run all over the floor.

Schutz, although badly burned by the explosion, tried to extinguish the fire with water. This proved to be a bad
