YESTERDAY'S RESULTS. Boston 11-New York 6. Cincinnati 2-Chicago 0. Pittsburgh 10-St. Louis 5. Brooklyn-Philadelphia-Rain.

The continuance of the matinee races of the Akron Driving club is as far away as ever. Akron horses are being shipped away nearly every day, and all interest in local races has apparently been lost.

Brooklawn is entered at the Newburg meet; Grace Elyria is entered for tomorrow's races at Jefferson and George Hartman's Belle S. and Cal. Stull's racer are also there.

The wrestlers have become of late as badly afflicted with the deviating and procrastinating methods of the boxers as the pugilists themselves. McLeod has challenged Jenkins, and said that Tom was afraid to meet a man of his ability, and many other things calculated to make the Cleveland, who is wrestling right along, warm under the collar.

Eddie Conley, the Cleveland wrestler, who had challenged the "Cuban" Bouldin, failed to appear last night and clinch the match, although the challenged party was at the place at the time agreed upon.

The recent popularity of wrestling has given the wrestlers lots of rope and that they are using all of it they can is evident.

BRACKEN'S POPULARITY.

A few weeks ago Jack Bracken went up to Cleveland for a trial under the watchful eye of Manager McAloer. Clevelanders scoffed at the possibility of his making good and did not give Jack the welcome they would have given one in whom they had faith.

records. It is evident he is a better cyclist than he is a jockey or horse racing man of any description.

STAMBOUL, 2:07 1/2 DEAD. Stamboul, a trotting stallion with a record of 2:07 1/2, is dead. He was among the handomest stallions ever exhibited and was sold to Mr. E. H. Harriman, of Goshen, N. Y., for $41,000 a few years ago.

THE SITUATION. Charles Mathison, Sporting Editor of the New York Telegraph, sizes up the fight situation in the following comprehensive manner:

"Corbett won't talk fight, Rublin won't talk anything else, Jeffries won't fight, Sharkey won't admit he is not the champion, none of them will wrestle, there is not a purse in sight and a hard winter approaches. Could anything be more discouraging."

MANAGERIAL DIPLOMACY.

It seems to be the fashion nowadays among fighters to slaughter some old-time pugilist in order that the chances of a corner may not be lessened, but that his reputation may rather be boosted up by having whipped such or such a one who "was at one time one of the best men at his weight in the country."

The youthful whirlwind sails into the old wind-broken man, wallows the life half out of him. Straightway the victor's press agent takes the matter up and advertises his protégé as the coming champion, for has he not whipped the great and only bruiser who was at one time the best man of his weight in the country? Witness the recent bout between "Young" Corbett and George Dixon. Dixon made a game fight, but was clearly outclassed and years too old to be put into the ring with a fighter of the youth and buoyancy of "Young" Corbett.

RINGER'S TROUBLES.

Port Huron, Mich., Aug. 20.—(Spl.)—The examination of Felix Reynolds, charged with entering the ring, Brandon, in last week's Port Huron races, was continued in the Police Court Monday, but not concluded. George E. Daines, of Birmingham, Mich., who had a horse entered against the ringer in several races in Ohio where he was masquerading as Bonnie W., was the first important witness. If the proceedings are successful competitors in the races with the ringer will receive the additional purse money which would have been theirs had the ringer been out of the race.

BEAT THE BRITON.

Titusville, Pa., Aug. 20.—(Spl.)—Tom Couhig, of Dunkirk, got the decision over Tom Brownsey, of England, in Monday night's wrestling match given at the opera house under the auspices of the City Athletic Club. It took Couhig 29 minutes and 45 seconds to secure the first fall, which was made by a hammerlock on Brownsey's left arm. The time of the second fall was 1:15, in which Brownsey, who had a body hold on Couhig, was caught napping and turned squarely on his back. Couhig was the aggressor throughout the contest, although lighter by 30 pounds. The contest was under Police Gazette rules, catch-as-catch can, and Aug. 29.

A FRIEND'S ADVICE.

Will Often Help You Greatly. Read What An Akron Citizen Says.

You may hesitate to listen to the advice of strangers, but the testimony of friends or residents of Akron is worth your most careful attention. It is an easy matter to investigate such proof as this. Then the evidence must be conclusive. Read the following:

Mrs. C. Enmale, of 818 Cross st., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills did me much good by relieving me of symptoms of kidney disorder such as lameness in my back and depressing headaches through my forehead and temples which came on by spells. My back pained me so that I could not lie in bed and when I arose I was but little better. In the morning it seemed as if I could not do my housework, I was miserable. Procuring Doan's Kidney Pills from Lamparter & Co.'s drug store, their use stopped the headaches, banished the backache and the acute lameness in my loins soon left me. My husband also used them, obtaining prompt and effective relief."

THE MINSTREL'S LAST LAY.

An aged negro minstrel once lay dying in Algeria, where he'd lived in lonely exile for full many weary years; He had sprung his faded outfit of conundrums o'er and o'er Till his fierce and outraged countrymen could stand for him no more. To the natives gathered round him as Death grasped with him there He narrated this sad story with what breath he had to spare:

"I was born in old Kentucky, where the meadow breezes blew. (There's a gag that is a corker; but, of course, it's lost on you.) I could handle lines from childhood, so they put me on the stage. (That, perhaps, is rather youthful, but a stunner for its age.) I was always late in rising, so I soon became a star. (You'll be hardly up to that one, all untutored as you are.)"

"My best jokes were seldom spoken; they were nearly always bewailed. (Bald with age, I'll whisper to you, if that last one had you stilled.) I was called a burnt cork artist, though I didn't always burn. (If you tumble next to that one, may I meet my mother-in-law?) But I never learned the knack of getting popular with folks. Till my father left me all his superannuated jokes."

"While my brothers and my sisters sacked the old man's money bags. (See it!) I said, 'Take the babies, but give me those ancient gags.' Now, when my remaining fire's nearly up the chimney, I will tell you a few. (Grab 'em! Grab 'em!) to retail to you a few. And your children's children's children, if perchance some fine day they tread the boards as negro minstrels, can make use of them some day."

"Why does our old Shanghai rooster cross the road with stately stride? Simply just because he wants to get upon the other side. (The late Jay Gould expired and his daughter Anna wept. Who, pray, tell us, were the drinks on? Here's the answer: 'On the dead.' It is said that as Niagara such a fall a man will get. Reply, 'You say Niagara? Why, is that place running yet?")

"Friends, I see that I am dying by your sympathetic glance. Like to die, my breath is coming in abbreviated pants. So I bid you keep these treasures of the wit of other days. And, like chickens, to convert them into marketable lays. Like the man that led the camel, I am going with the herd. Wielded, but with a will, he choked him, and he winked one eye and died. —Morning Oregonian.

NO GAME PLAYED.

The Doylestown Nine Objects to an Akron Team's Claim.

To the Editor of the Democrat: We want to correct the announcement made by the team of the Webster, Camp & Lane shops at Akron, to the effect that they had defeated the Doylestown team in a game at this place last Saturday.

Reference to rule No. 62, of Spaulding's Official Guide, defining the duties of the umpire, shows that the latter shall call the game whenever rain interferes with the players and the spectators. The Doylestown game was not called off by the umpire until the clothes of the players were soaking wet, the order being given in the last half of the fifth inning.

Rule 26, page 146, of Spaulding's Guide, says that no game shall be considered complete unless five innings have been played.

As the game was called before the fifth inning had been completed, the Akron team erred in claiming a victory. The Doylestown team is willing to play another game with the Websters when the latter returns the ball which belongs to the team which entertained them Saturday.

A COMMON FREAK.

When P. T. Barnum was in the museum business in New York, one of his most jovial friends was Gaylord Clark, a famous litterateur in the days of our fathers. They were a well matched pair of practical jokers. One day when Mr. Clark dropped in at the museum, as was his custom, Mr. Barnum, apparently much excited, hurried his friend into the private office and said: "Gaylord, I was about to send for you. I want your advice. I have a chance to purchase the most wonderful of all zoological freaks. It's at first a perfect fish, then it changes to a four legged land animal, then it climbs trees and—"
