

BELTING

Plant Which Will Cost $75,000.

W. & B. Company Is Branching Out.

Its Rubber Business Is Already Large.

Consolidation Plans Are Still Moving.

Seventy-five thousand dollars will be spent by the Whitman & Barnes Manufacturing Co. in putting in a plant to make rubber belting. The department will occupy the quarters vacated by the forgings department which was removed to Chicago.

The Whitman & Barnes Co. is spoken of as one of the concerns likely to be included in the consolidation plans, but irrespective of that fact it is going ahead, adding more and more to its rubber lines and becoming a greater power. The fact that the factory, as a rubber concern, has been less heard of than a number of others, is responsible for the impression that it is a smaller concern in this line than it really is. Its rubber sales last year are said to have amounted to something like $800,000, or about a third of the entire sales of the company. Its manufactured lines are already quite extensive, including both solid and pneumatic tires, matting, bands, jar rings, packing, horse-shoes, grain drills, spouts and many smaller articles. In the making of bands the W. & B. people are said to be in the lead of all other Akron factories.

It would not be at all surprising to see in the Whitman & Barnes shops within a year or two a rubber plant whose sales would run very much more than a million dollars a year.

There is little new in the consolidation plans. Supt. Work of the Goodrich Co., is still in the East. Manager F. A. Seiberling, of the Good-year Co., has returned from New York and it is known that his business there was not in relation to the consolidation. While it still looks as though the plans would go through, it may be that only the Goodrich and the Diamond will include.

A deserved promotion has come to Mr. H. A. Barnhardt, of The B. F. Goodrich Co., and in a few days he will give up the position of bookkeeper to become a traveling salesman for that company.

Mr. Will Rutherford, of Denver, manager of the Goodrich branch there, has been in the city for a few days to attend the meetings of traveling salesmen of the company.

THE UNIQUE INDUSTRY MANAGED BY MR. I. S. MYERS.

Devotes His Spare Time to the Raising of Belgian Hares.

Mr. I. S. Myers has a taste for stock raising. He has raised chickens, taken care of and watched them personally, with varying success, but his latest departure has been a novelty and by the interest he takes in the work and the care he takes of his stock it is an industry that is worthy of success.

Mr. Myers is an owner and breeder of Belgian Hare. At his home on North Hill he has nearly 100 of the pretty creatures, of varying sizes and ages and intends to continue to raise them until he can at any time place from 400 to 500 on the market.

Attracted by the possibilities in raising Belgian hares and the glowing reports that he had received from others who were making the experiment, he bought three a year ago and started in the business for himself. Since that time his stock has increased to nearly 100, and he is eminently satisfied with the results of his efforts.

His reasons for embarking in the industry are as follows, according to his own words:

"The meat of Belgian hares is a great delicacy. The flesh is finer than that of the ordinary rabbit and lacks the strong flavor that always goes with the game article. Belgian hares grow to considerable size and weight and are not hard to raise if method is used and care taken of them.

"I figure that the hares can be raised for the same price that would be required in the raising of an equal number of chickens. The meat of the hares will sell for more than that of chickens and I will be able to get rid of a good many of them myself, if there is no ready market for them. The skins are strong and the fur heavy, so that I may be able to sell the pelts to makers of fur garments. A good sized, full grown Belgian hare will weigh more than eight pounds, and I am very well satisfied with the success of my venture up to this time.

"Thus far the demand has been confined to animals for breeding purposes, but companies have lately been formed to can the meat and the demand of the future will very likely be along that line, and for the skins."

The feed of a Belgian is grain and hay, oats being the staple.

A reporter who visited Mr. Myers' home Sunday found him giving the pretty animals their weekly tonic of green catnip. This is practically the only green food that they receive, yet all of them seemed to be fat and in excellent condition. Mr. Myers is experimenting along several lines and his object is to breed hares that will be as large as possible. He is much interested in their habits and peculiarities and gives them a great deal of his attention.

Remember a fifty cent bottle of Scott's Emulsion given in proper quantities will last a baby fifty days; a child six or seven, thirty days; and a child of ten or twelve, twenty days. It's a very economical medicine.

If the child is sickly, without appetite, it will nourish and bridge it over until it can take its usual food.

For delicate children without any real disease, it can be used with splendid results.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like. SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl street, New York.

Bee Hive ladies turn out and help furnish supper to the Cleveland ladies at 5:30 o'clock. The last term of dues for this year must be paid by the last of October and assessment No. 57 for life benefit members must be paid by the last of this month.

Protection Hive, No. 60 had an oyster supper at their hall last Tuesday evening. The attendance was large and the entertainment enjoyable. The fifty ladies at first table were supplied with subjects with limit of one minute for response. Each lady responded, with witty or instructive remarks. The committee and officers were permitted to choose their own subjects. All were pleased with the result. Only one of all present declined. This lady said: "Knowledge is power, and I not having the knowledge, have not the power to talk this evening."

W. V. R. U. Lincoln Union met with a full attendance and transacted considerable business. Owing to so many of the officers going to Chicago to attend the National Convention, our next meeting will be held Thursday, Oct. 31st.

A report of the convention will be given. A full attendance is desired as business of interest will come before us in regard to our winter's work. Delegates to State convention in Defiance, Nov. 13, 14, will be elected.

ROYAL TEMPLARS. The lodge held its meeting in Foresters' hall last Monday evening and a large number were initiated.

PATHFINDER. Lodges of the Pathfinder were organized at Selma, Ind., and Talladega, Ala., last week. Winfield, Tex., Red Bluff, Cal., Parkersburg, W. Va., and Humbolt, Tenn. The lodges each secured enough applicants to make good lodges.

Bro. Davies, state manager of Pennsylvania, is again in the harness and promises to secure many new Pathfinders during the coming winter.

Bro. Hard reports good work in Cleveland and Bro. Pilkey a fine increase in Ashtabula and Conneaut. Supreme Organizer Pfeiffer spent a few days the last week at Ada, O., in the interests of the order.

Many Pathfinders attended the funeral of our late sister, Louisa Crook, Thursday afternoon. Sister Crook was a social member of Akron lodge but for many months had been unable to attend our meeting on account of declining health. Her mother, Mrs. Bessie Crook, has always been a faithful, active member.

There is no need for us in this small space, after all that has been published to call attention to the loss of our beloved Supreme President N. B. Steiner. The order loses in him, one of its chief promoters, a faithful, enthusiastic member whose strength was apparent in every department of our work, whose foresight and good judgment have brought success to many an enterprise and had much to do with placing our order where it stands today. Everyone associated with Brother Steiner must feel the influence of his life. We feel that we have lost a counsellor, a brother, and everyone in need, a friend.

KNIGHTS AND LADIES OF HONOR.

Agenda lodge met Tuesday evening, with an unusually good attendance. Four applications were received. Do not forget the inducements offered for new members. Remember we have only two more regular meetings, before our union meeting. Agenda wants to make a fine showing on Nov. 19. After routine of business the captain drilled the team for some time.

We will hold a special meeting for drill on next Tuesday evening. Let every member of the degree staff be present at this meeting, and as many of the members as possible, as we have a great work to do in a short time.

K. OF P.

McPherson Lodge at the last convention conferred the chivalric rank of knight in full form and in this work the new regalia was used for the first time. This regalia is very neat and tasty and proved to be very well adapted to the work, and pleasing to the team. The unusually good attendance was supplemented by a number of brothers from Cleveland and Cuyahoga Falls. Co. No. 21, U. R. K. P. made the lodge a visit in full dress with a full line of officers and acted as escort to Major Siegfried and staff.

They kindly assisted in exemplifying the work and being in uniform they added much to the impressiveness of the scene.

D. OF L.

Columbia Council, No. 21 meets for the business meeting at 2:30 p. m. Oct. 24, to get through with the business in time for an entertainment in the evening by the good and welfare committee, which will give a pedro party. The meeting will be called to order promptly if a quorum is present. This will allow time for all to go home for supper and return to the hall at 7:30. Members having propositions to present should remember the time is at the business meeting. We are all reminded of our anniversary and that we may have a whole lot of company.

Let each one take this affair into serious thought and do all that they can to make November 7th a success in every way. F. B. D., No. 153 is due. Sister Cora Rodrick was reported sick at last meeting.

KNIGHTS OF HONOR.

Acme Lodge No. 35, last Monday night had a large attendance. Some of the members of Spartan lodge being present were invited to take part in the ceremony. The goat kicked some but the candidate was plucky and held on manfully. After the initiation the members of Spartan lodge were called upon for remarks and made some that were very interesting, regarding the good done by the money that had been paid out to its widows and orphans.

A draft for $2,000 was sent last week to McKees Rocks, Pa., to Mrs. Mary Corbett, widow of John R. Corbett, who used to live in this city. One week from tonight the members of Acme lodge will return Spartan's visit. All members are invited to attend.

HENRI FOURNIER

FOXHALL KEENE

Providence, Oct. 21.—More than 5,000 persons were present at the opening of the races of the Rhode Island Automobile Club at Narragansett Park, despite indications that there would be a downpour of rain at any minute. And the downpour came while Mr. Fournier was racing on his ten-mile run. He had to stop at the third mile, and the races were postponed. The event in which the spectators, many of them millionaires, took the greatest interest was that in which Henry Fournier hoped to break the world's ten-mile record. He arrived early and announced himself in the best of trim. There was considerable disappointment because William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., was unable to have his "Red Demon" in time to contest for honors with Foxhall Keene.
