Whatever the decision of the Court of Inquiry may be, Admiral Schley will have the crowd with him.

Former Senator Marion Butler of North Carolina has started a boom for Admiral Schley for the Democratic nomination for President in 1901.

One of the eastern papers remarks that "thundering promise and melancholy performance are the whole British nation, in the South African business, boiled down."

President Roosevelt is going to write the whole of his message to Congress, instead of drawing upon the reports of his cabinet officials as other Presidents have done.

The St. James Gazette thus sizes up President Roosevelt: Smack of Lord Cromer, Jeff Davis, a touch of him, Little of Lincoln, but not very much of him;

General Nelson A. Miles, in his annual report, tells how the army is suffering from the control of centralization of authority at Washington.

The tendency, says he, "has been to absorb and usurp the entire conduct of the military establishment in the city of Washington, and especially in the staff department.

The Akron police have been notified by the captain of the "Buffalo," of the U. S. Navy that Harry Miller, of 829 S. Main st., this city has deserted from the service.

WISE and OTHERWISE.

Terrible suspense will be over in one week.

They must needs rise very early when they get ahead of your Uncle Winfield Scott Schley.

If Judge Nye knew how many sleepless nights the City Coms. are having he would make more haste.

No economy in having pumpkin pie and elder for the refreshments at the hallow'een socials this year.

The canal reservoirs are low this year, but there is more water in them than there was last year at this time.

Not very many private citizens would want to buy Christmas presents for that family of 850 boys and girls at Xenia.

There never was anything quite so dreary and desolate as a summer resort after the leaves have fallen from the trees.

The Economic League should also be included with the organizations to be considered by the Resuscitating Committee.

"Building Railway Track by Moonlight, or the Mystery of the Kent-Ravenna Line" could no doubt be worked into an exciting novel.

His enemies are no doubt sorry they spoke since they find that attention sufficient to have him boomed for President has been attracted to Schley.

Blue gills will continue to grow fast enough to frizzle nicely in the pan, but the moonlight parties and the aggregations who invaded the precincts roundabout the lakes south of the city all summer, will be very scarce from now on until the time when the snow is deep enough for good slipping.

There is a man on West Hill, who, for short, may be familiarly called "Uncle," who has scored Squire Huston Kepler rather severely for allowing two sharpshooters to get the better of him.

Some of "Uncle's" friends heard his caustic remarks and—well they "loaded" a set of dice and went into "Uncle's" store and proposed to shake a few games for the cigars. "Uncle" went into the game. What they did to him was enough. Then he found out that he had been "swindled," and reports are current that he not only has placed a double-barreled shot gun behind the door but has sent for Detective John T. Norris, to take up the trail of the sharp young men. Maybe Norris will prepare a secret code to be used in telegraphing about this case also.

Today.

You're going to start for the top of the hill.

And, blazon your name to the world; All obstacles passed by the strength of your will.

Your banner triumphant unfurled, You'll fling to the breezes that blow from the sky.

All never earth tainted you say; 'Tis noble and grand and delightful; but why—

But why don't you do it today?

The good that you think and the good that you do.

Are millions of long miles apart; What good to the earth, if you're good and you're true—

But never outside of your heart? The generous deeds you intend to perform.

Are all very lovely; but say: While your soul is so high and your heart is so warm,

Why don't you perform them today? —Lowell O. Reese in the San Francisco Bulletin.

ROGERS' FRIENDS

Say That Margaret Hallen Loved Her Murderer.

Verne Rogers, who shot and killed Margaret D. Hallen, an Akron woman, in her room at 183 Hamilton st., Cleveland, and then shot himself, is a Lodi boy, says the Medina Gazette.

He was a railroad brakeman on the Valley road, and came to his bad end because of drink and dissipation. His father is Will Rogers, of Whittlesy. The unhappy couple were in Lodi, last Thursday, said they were married and on their way to Denver. Rogers was seen by his uncle, C. M. Fullerton, of Lodi at Lakeside Hospital, since the shooting, and he stated that he was not conscious of his crime, knew nothing about it, was drunk when he did it, but wanted to die himself as probably he will not. Rogers' friends say that it was the woman and not Rogers who had done the love-chasing.

IN ARMS.

Fierce Southern Race War

On Mississippi and Louisiana Border.

Fourteen Are Dead and 500 Men Up In Arms.

New Orleans La., Oct. 29.—(Spl.)—Three white men and eleven negroes killed in the startling and terrible news from Washington parish Monday night.

The above information has been confirmed, but nothing is known of what has happened since Sunday evening. The first news of the race riot was brought here by Cornelius Mixon, who, with his mother, left from near Franklinton Monday.

He stated that white men rode into Franklinton at 2 o'clock, asking for help, saying that negroes were up in arms, threatening to exterminate the whites.

The scene of the trouble is at or near Balltown, where a negro was burned last week for criminally assaulting a white woman. This was not the cause, however, of the murders yesterday, in which three white men and eleven negroes were killed and several wounded. Mr. Mixon saw and talked with many men from the scene and they said more and worse trouble was expected today, as armed men were flocking to the scene, and it was reported the blacks were equally active in preparing for a battle.

P. B. Carter arrived from Franklinton a little after dark and stated that the situation was terrible and more trouble is feared. He said Joe Seals and Charles Elliott and another white man whose name he did not know were dead, and E. H. Thompson, a white man, wounded, and eleven negroes were dead. His information was up to Sunday night, and was obtained from people who went to Franklinton for help.

At 3 o'clock this morning a posse left Franklinton for the scene in charge of Sheriff Simmons, and from all over the country armed men were hurrying to the same place. Mr. Carter said 500 men probably were under arms today in Washington parish. The trouble occurred at a negro camp meeting, and the origin, as near as can be ascertained, was as follows:

Creer Lott, a negro, was running a refreshment stand, and a constable, a white man, name not given, went to him and asked for his license. He had none, and became impudent, cursed the constable and defied him. The constable withdrew and obtained assistance. He returned with several white men, when the negro, Lott, rushed out and fired point blank into the crowd, killing Joe Seals and Charles Elliott. The white returned the fire and killed Lott.

Then a negro preacher rushed out of a house with gun in hand, attempting to shoot, when he was killed. His daughter, also, was killed. It is said, accidentally. In the shooting which followed, another white man was killed and E. H. Thompson wounded, and seven or eight negroes killed.

The shooting had no direct connection with the burning of the negro Morris in that section last week, but it is undoubtedly a sequel to that tragic event. Since that time it is reported that the negroes have been holding nightly meetings preparing to attack the whites.

Balltown is about twenty miles from Franklinton, in a sparsely settled section. It is isolated and almost entirely cut off from the outside world. Franklinton is 27 miles east of this place and there are no telegraph or telephone lines.

Baton Rouge, La., Oct. 29.—(Spl.)—Gov. Heard received word Monday afternoon of the terrible conflict. Gov. Heard wired Gov. Longino of Mississippi for permission for armed troops to pass through the state of Mississippi, and Gov. Longino answered promptly, granting the permission. In the meantime a telegram was sent to Gen. John Glenn, Jr., at New Orleans, notifying him of the conflict and directing him to order out one company of 50 men for service, and to send them to Poplarville, Miss. Tuesday, this being the nearest railroad station to Balltown, La. However, upon receipt of advices from Deputy Sheriff Branton, of Marion county, Miss., that all was quiet Monday, and troops were not needed, Gov. Heard advised Gen. Glenn to hold his troops in readiness to be moved if further developments should prove it necessary.

Gives Mayor Russell a Chance For Campaign Work.

(Special Correspondence.) Cuyahoga Falls, Oct. 29.—As far as the records that go to show the doings in Mayor's court are concerned, Cuyahoga Falls was never quieter than it is at present. Not since the time of the Hoover shooting affray has there been a man before the Mayor to answer charges. This probably cuts perquisites to the minimum, but at the same time it gives Mr. Russell an opportunity for campaign work, that he has not been slow in taking advantage of.

PREVENTED

Upsetting of Carriage, But Was Injured.

Mr. R. S. Thomas Badly Bruised His Knee-Cap.

Treasurer R. S. Thomas of the Guardian Savings Bank is confined to his home in Prospect st., by a severe injury to his knee. Mr. Thomas was out driving with his family Sunday afternoon. One of the horses shied at a street car near Barborton and Mr. Thomas sprang from the buggy to support the vehicle from upsetting. His knee struck one of the wheels and the knee-cap was severely injured. While not of a dangerous character, the injury is likely to keep Mr. Thomas in doors for several weeks.
