UNFIT FOR THE STOMACH.

Experiments Which Show How Some Foods Should be Cooked.

A large per cent of housewives have the faculty of preparing a dainty and palatable meal, but how few there are who really understand the science of preparing the food in a digestible manner?

Take for instance the simplest item on the bill of fare, the breakfast food. Usually a little water is poured over the oatmeal to boil for a few moments and then served as done.

When prepared in this manner the cereal abounds in starch, causing stomach and bowel disorders and its continued use will wreck the strongest system.

Cook oat meal and other cereals five hours if you would have them fit for the stomach.

A safe plan to follow is to eat some ready-to-serve breakfast food.

After much experimenting a food expert has been able to combine heat digested cereals with the emulsified oil of nuts into a ready-to-serve breakfast food, which he calls Malt-Nut.

This new combination contains the brain and muscle properties of the grains and the tissue and fat forming elements of the nut oils, making a food with a delicious nut flavor and four times the nutrition of beef.

Malt-Nut is ready to serve. A few teaspoonfuls with the addition of half milk and cream, makes a delicious meal at a cost of about one cent a person. It is sold by grocers everywhere.

THE LAST STRETCH.

Very Busy Week Ahead For The Candidates.

Review of Republican Primary Situation--Democrats Expect to Regain Control of Council.

This, the last week of the campaign for city offices and Republican county nominations, promises to be lively and full of interest.

The county campaign, so far as public demonstration is concerned, has been extremely quiet to date, the candidates having been content to rely on personal canvasses up to the last week, but they are now ready to mass their strength and introduce all the red fire and show at their command.

All the forces in the field will be put on parade this week, and some important maneuvering is promised. In canvassing the field, every candidate claims to have picked up material which will do wonders in shaping the results of the final wind-up.

Thus far, there have been few complaints of underhanded work. About the most serious of these is that cards of certain candidates have been torn down wherever posted up. In some instances, the placards have been plastered with mud. It is not known known yet what may be expected this week in the way of political trickery but it is believed that all the candidates are disposed to conduct the fight wholly on the merits of their claims.

The contest for Sheriff is a study, and considerable perplexity has been added by the sudden spur being made by Policeman Wm. Bruner. His friends in East Akron have raised a campaign fund of $500, and are using it judiciously. On Saturday night they hired five special cars and a brass band and went to Barberton, where the streets were paraded and speeches made. Large streamers have also been placed on a number of cars in the city advertising Bruner. His friends declare that he will pull a big vote in the city, and will also receive heavy support in the eastern part of the county.

This enthusiasm for Bruner produces some uncertainty as to the result for the others. Bruner has never been regarded by the politicians as having much of a show, and it is now feared that he will draw support from the other candidates to such an extent that many of their plans will be disarranged.

Walter C. Hollinger has probably been more thoroughly advertised over the field than any of the other candidates. It has been known for two years that he was a candidate, and in his position as deputy sheriff he has had splendid opportunity to see the voters. Besides, he has thoroughly canvassed the city and county, and will have, in addition to whatever personal strength he may have in himself, all the support that Sheriff Frank G. Kelly can bring to him. Kelly has been doing some vigorous canvassing in this campaign.

Jared Barker of Bath township, started in the campaign with a dash and vigor that made things hum, and they have been humming ever since, but whether this seeming strength will turn out in the end to be the real thing, is what is now bothering the prognosticators. Barker is a big, open-hearted man who can make friends easily, and is certainly to be reckoned with.

The friends of Bert T. Willis are claiming that his chances for winning are as good as those of the others.

The contest for Probate Judge is also a warm one, and from the talk heard in political circles, it would seem that the chances for the candidates, Hon. N. D. Tibbals, and Deputy Probate Judge W. E. Pardee, are about equal. At least bets are being made even.

The story circulated Saturday, to the effect that an attempt made to hold a Tibbals mass meeting in South Akron Friday night, resulted in a fiasco, seems to have been a mistake. Judge Tibbals said today that the object was not a mass meeting, but a conference with some of his workers in the South End, and that the meeting with them fulfilled all expectations. "There were a dozen men there, instead of four," he said. It has also been stated that if the Pardee men held a meeting at the same place that night, it must have been held after the Tibbals men had left. "No Pardee men were at our meeting," said Judge Tibbals.

The eight candidates for Recorder must all be "the architects of their own fortunes," as the result will surely be a test of their individual strength. The only one of the candidates who is not a G. A. R. man is L. K. Stone. The other seven claim large support among the G. A. R. men, but it can easily be seen, how this section of the vote will be cut up. All the candidates are working hard, and of course, each claims that his chances are good. Considering the number of candidates, the vote that will nominate will necessarily be small—some have placed it at 1,500.

For County Clerk, Clint W. Kline and Milt W. Smith have been moving along quietly. In fact, very little has been heard from either of them. There has been no let up of work on either side, though, and both claim to have the strength that will win in the final struggle.

Commissioner Philip Wagoner has no opposition for re-nomination, and there is not much stir in public interest over the contests for the smaller offices.

The city campaign will also move at a brisk rate this week, and indications now are that the Democrats will regain control of the City Council, and it is almost a foregone conclusion that Ebenezer Lewis, Democratic candidate for Justice of the majority. He has the united support of his party, and, in addition, has assurances of many Republican votes. Mr. Lewis has been working hard ever since his nomination, and his friends are doing all they can, too.

The Democrats also expect to elect their share of School Board members. J. Asa Palmer says he will lead the Democrats of the First ward to victory, and this good news will give new life to the enthusiasm for all the other School Board candidates. The other Democratic candidates for School Board are Thomas Weir and Geo. F. Kratz, second ward; Alfred J. White, Third; Chas. Pfeiffer, Fourth; Frank Baker, Fifth; Wm. H. McBurnes, Sixth; Amos White and Frank Goodenberger, Seventh; Max Endres, Eighth.

There is no lack of interest among the Democrats in any of the wards over the election of Councilmen. In those wards where the vote is hopelessly Republican, it is expected that there will be some surprises in the way of cutting down Republican majorities. However, in some of the wards from which Republican Councilmen were elected last Spring, there is every indication that the Democrats will win out this year.

The Democratic candidates for Council are J. M. Hay, First ward; George Tweed, second; T. B. Callahan and Joseph Bishop, third; Joseph Winum, Fourth; John S. Atkinson, Fifth; Chas. C. Warner, Sixth; J. W. Walker, Seventh; August Piske, Eighth. All of the Councilmanic candidates nominated by the Democrats are strong men, and several of them have made good records for themselves in the past as Councilmen.

It is almost beyond doubt that both the Democratic nominees in the Third ward will be elected, and the way things look now, Mr. Warner will win easily in the Sixth; Mr. Winum will be re-elected from the Fourth, as will also Mr. Walker in the Seventh, and Mr. Piske in the Eighth.

lecting him as Democratic candidate for Council from the first ward, do not believe that the fact that Mr. Hay has been a resident of Akron for only a few years, will have influence on his campaign. Since Mr. Hay has been in this city he has established a reputation as a good business man and a gentleman capable of discharging the duties of a member of Council with ability and with honor.

Josiah M. Hay was born in Somerset county, Pa., and was educated in the schools of that county. He resided on a farm for 30 years, and was afterward in business in Salisbury, Pa., from which place he came to this city in November, 1899. He at once engaged in the coal and feed business, in which he is still engaged. Mr. Hay is vice president of the Summit City Machine Co. He owns three houses on East Buchtel ave., in one of which he resides with his family. The other two houses are occupied by Mr. Hay's son, and his son-in-law.

Simply because he has a hard proposition to cope with, it must never be understood for a moment that the citizens of the Second ward have not been made acquainted with the fact that George Tweed is a candidate for Council. Mr. Tweed will do his best—be always does.

In the Third ward, Messrs. T. B. Callahan and Joseph Bishop had every prospect for winning. Last spring Mr. Callahan came near being elected Councilman from this ward; and he believes that he entered the contest this year with much more strength than is required to win. Mr. Bishop is also popular in his ward, and will pull through with Mr. Callahan.

Councilman Joseph Winum, who aspires to re-election from the Fourth ward, is one of the best Councilmen the city ever had. He is well posted on affairs of the city, and is also familiar with the best methods of conducting public business. When he has anything to say in Council, he says it, never parlaying long before striking at the point.

John S. Atkinson is also making it plain that he is alive in the Fifth. Mr. Atkinson has lived at 523 Crosby extension for 10 years. He is 41 years of age, and this is the first time he has ever been a candidate for office. For a number of years he was employed at Robinson's book store, and is at present an inspector of knives at the plant of Aultman, Miller & Co.

Chas. C. Warner, candidate in the Sixth ward, has been a resident of Akron and Portage township for 31 years. His home is at 107 Warner st. After working 20 years for the E. H. Merrill Co., he accepted a position in the shipping department of the Whitman & Barnes Manufacturing Co., where he is now employed. His only public service was as trustee in Portage township, an office which he filled very satisfactorily. Mr. Warner is an active Odd Fellow, having held many positions of honor and trust in that order. If elected, the citizens of the Sixth ward will have no cause for complaint about their representation.

J. W. Walker, candidate for re-election from the Seventh ward, has already established a good record for himself in Council. He has always made a strong fight for the interests of the Seventh ward, and has always advocated economy in the conducting of city affairs. Mr. Walker is 42 years of age. With his wife and two children he lives at 225 Lake st. He has lived in Akron 10 years, and by hard work and saving, has managed to pay for a good home. Mr. Walker is a conductor on the Main and Market st. line of the N. O. T. Co.

Mr. Piske, whom the citizens of the Eighth ward will re-elect, has made an admirable Councilman. He is conservative and economical in his views, and has the courage to say what he believes to be right. Mr. Piske has been a taxpayer for 19 years.
