THE MEDINA SENTINEL, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 18, 1914.

Find Runaway Boy in Medina

"Come home, Rodney," was the caption to an item in the Plain Dealer of Wednesday morning, echoing the call of a mother made ill by her boy running away from home.

The boy in question was Rodney Patchin of Middlefield, Geauga county, a 17-year-old sophomore in the high school of that village, who evidently pictured the outside world as more in harmony with his altruistic tastes than his erstwhile urban environment. The morning preceding the announcement of Rodney's exit from Middlefield two boys appeared at the Sentinel office stating that they had been directed there upon the promise of employment. It developed that work awaited them at the Gazette office instead. The next morning when Editor Rowe read the item in the Plain Dealer he promptly recognized the name given in the newspaper and that of the lad on his payroll as one and the same. Rowe immediately communicated with the Plain Dealer with the result that the father arrived in Medina Wednesday noon and took his son back to his old home. The other boy went on his way.

Notes of the School

Friday night, Dec. 11, the people of Brunswick, to the number of 150 assembled at a banquet given in the I. O. O. F. hall to do honor to two distinguished citizens of their township, Howard Chapman and Earl Gibbs. The former has proven himself the best apple grower in Medina county, while the latter surpassed all competitors in the corn growing contest by raising 110 bushels of shelled corn on an acre. These young gentlemen had just returned from a trip to Washington, D. C., and their fellow townsmen turned out en masse to give them welcome on their return. A splendid menu was served by the domestic science department of Brunswick schools, which department is ably presided over by Miss Harriet Simmons. The excellence of the food proved beyond question the practical quality of the work being done in that department. Supt. W. C. Rhode presided as toastmaster and in a happy manner introduced Messrs. Gibbs and Chapman, the two principal speakers of the evening. County Supt. C. E. Jenks, Supt. W. S. Edmund of Medina and Mr. Hostettler of the Juvenile Court of Cleveland also gave brief addresses. The schools of Brunswick and the people generally of that progressive township deserve great credit for the fine enthusiasm displayed at this meeting. It may be said in closing that Brunswick has won the corn contest in Medina county the past two years. Incidentally Supt. W. C. Rhode is one of the ablest teachers of Agriculture in Ohio.

State Inspector of High Schools Ellis Warner has finished his work in Medina county with the exception of Lodi, which will be inspected after the new high school building is occupied in January. Mr. Warner's reports give Medina county high schools an enviable position in this section. There is not a third grade high school in the county and several of those of the second grade are so good that next year will find them in the first rank. At the present time our high schools are classified as follows: Brunswick, Homer, Leroy, Liverpool, Lodi, Medina, Seville, Sharon and Wadsworth are first grade; York, Chatham, Granger, Hinckley, Spencer, Litchfield are second grade. In these high schools are employed as teachers 26 men and 28 women, nearly all of whom are men and women trained in the best colleges of Ohio and other states. The band of young people turned out by these schools each year is a strong force for good in the county and state.

The County Board of Education met at the office of County Superintendent C. E. Jenks in Medina, Thursday, Dec. 10. Most of the session was taken up in discussing the rearrangement of several of the school districts to provide better school facilities for the pupils. Representatives from several township boards appeared to discuss affairs with the county board. At the end of the morning session the board adjourned for lunch at the home of the county superintendent. Mr. E. B. Spitzer, president of the Medina village board of education and Supt. W. S. Edmund were also in the luncheon party.

Under date of Dec. 9, Pres. F. H. Weidner of the Liverpool board of education received the following letter from Frank W. Miller, State Superintendent of Public Instruction: "A representative of the Department of Public Instruction visited and inspected the high schools at Liverpool on December 4, '14. Conditions in the main are quite satisfactory. You are especially fortunate in the choice of your high school teachers. They are earnest, capable, conscientious and they are doing good work. Your janitor is one of the most careful to be found anywhere and everything in his line is in 'ship shape.'"

The French government has ordered 1,000 army wagons from the Akron-Sells Co. of Akron.

Orchestra Nearly Settles Out Debt

Medina has a full-fledged orchestra of 16 members. It was recently organized by Mr. G. A. Offineer, who is also its director. The first public appearance of this musical organization was Tuesday night at the Princess theater, in a concert for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A., which has been laboring under an indebtedness of about $75.

The personnel of the orchestra consists entirely of Medina citizens. These citizens, with a natural love for music, have found time aside from their business cares to gain a proficiency on their respective instruments to a degree seldom encountered in a community the size of Medina. This fact could be no better exemplified than at the concert Tuesday night, when the orchestra played such technically difficult numbers as the overtures to "Raymond" by Thomas, and "Light Cavalry" by Suppe. Indeed there were other numbers of lighter vein which were no less a tax upon the technique of the instrumentalists. No little credit is due Mr. Offineer not only for his initiative in attempting to organize so pretensions an aggregation of players, but for his more than ordinary skill in arriving at so satisfactory results. In his work with the orchestra Director Offineer evinces the necessary qualities of musical knowledge, sincerity and tact, qualities prerequisite to the successful director.

This organization should be encouraged in every way. It is an asset to the village. To each member, as well as the director, the whole work at best is purely a labor of love. And when it is considered that the concert given Tuesday night was the result of only about a month's work, some idea may be gleaned of what might be expected from the orchestra when it has been together for even a year. Following is the program given Tuesday night:

March, Yankee Grit; Overture, Light Cavalry; Idyl, Forget-me-nots; vocal solo, For All Eternity, Miss Genevieve Brintnall; waltz, Wedding of the Winds; Overture, Raymond; descriptive march, The Ghost Dance; reading, (a) Creeds of the Bells, (b) The Bald-headed Man, Miss Helen Marie Clark; selection, favorite airs from High Jinks; overture, America. The receipts from the concert were $83.20. After payment of all expenses there will remain for the Y. M. C. A., $56.20.

Worden Babcock Departs Life

Many pleasant memories will be awakened in the hearts of the older Medina residents when they learn of the death of Worden Babcock, which occurred at St. Alexis hospital in Cleveland Monday afternoon. The deceased was a product of this county, having been born here October, 1838. He resided here until manhood and was married here to Julia Gaylord. Three children were the fruits of the union, two sons and one daughter. The sons and widow survive. Domestic infelicity caused the husband and wife to be separated for some years past. Up to the time of his last illness the deceased was in the employ of the Wm. Taylor & Sons Co., in Cleveland as shipping clerk.

Mr. Babcock was one of two twin brothers, himself and William, who were marble cutters by trade and who conducted a business here for many years. He was a musician of unusual ability and conducted the Medina band with success, and later a well-known Akron band.

Besides the widow and sons, the deceased leaves a cousin, Mr. S. S. Oatman and a brother-in-law, Mr. W. H. Hobart of Medina.

Funeral services were held at the home of the latter on Wednesday at 2 p. m., Rev. H. S. Fritsch of the Congregational church officiating. The body was placed in the vault in Spring Grove cemetery.

KEEP YOUR PREMIUMS

The state industrial commission has relieved the state from paying workmen's compensation premiums for two years and counties are relieved for one year. The big balance in the fund is the reason given.

Vote Town Dry in Wadsworth

Wadsworth had an election Tuesday under the Beal law and voted dry by a majority of 136 votes. The total vote cast was 831, four more than was cast at the November election. The town has been dry six years under the Rose law. Church bells were rung and whistles blown Tuesday night in celebration of the election result.

From the time the polls opened in the morning until they closed at night the race between the wets and dries drew the attention of every voter. Both sides were confident.

As in the case of most Ohio cities voting under the Beal law, the question had been made one of business advantage in Wadsworth, with business men fighting business men and the question of the moral right or wrong somewhat pushed into the background. Wadsworth ministers took an active part in the campaign of the dries.

The wets took their first vigorous offensive Monday morning when literature arguing their cause was distributed throughout the town. Their chief argument was that saloons in near-by towns and not in Wadsworth draws the money of Wadsworth people and the produce and money of farmers in this vicinity away from local business men into the other towns.

The dries refuted this claim by arguing that the enormous amount of money which would go into the saloons would leave much less to be spent on other business. Factory employers were also working hard on the dry side.

Medina Helps the Helpless

As we write there has been contributed to the Belgian relief fund from Medina county the sum of $1,396.58, which sum is on deposit at a local bank. It is not unlikely that the above sum will be increased before the end of the week to at least an even $1,400, as predicted in the Sentinel of last week. All the wheat contracted for—a carload, is now in process of grinding by the O. C. Shepard Co., and the Seville Milling Co., and will be ready for loading by the end of the week. It is not definitely known when the car will leave Medina for the east, but it will probably be not later than the forepart of next week, or just as soon as the train load of food stuff arrives from Minnesota, which is destined for the same purpose and point. There will be a vessel leave the port of Philadelphia not later than Christmas day and Medina's offering to the hungry ones of stricken Belgium will be conveyed upon it. The following list of names will give largely an idea of the sources throughout the county from which the relief fund was contributed, although there were a number of persons who contributed generously who preferred that their names should not be published. The originators of this philanthropic idea are to be commended to the highest degree, as well as those who responded so promptly and so generously. And the county as a whole now stands in the enviable position of being the first county in Ohio to launch a carload of provisions to Belgium on its own initiative. The contributors:

Quarantine Conditions Better

An amendment to order No. 12 regarding restrictions on shipments on account of mouth disease, effective Dec. 11, has been ordered to the effect that the restrictions on the shipment of hay, straw, similar fodder and manure and the restrictions on the shipments of hides, hair, wool, hoofs, horns and similar products, in all of the counties in Class A, B, C and D, are hereby removed, except that they still apply as heretofore in all areas in counties of Class A (Erie, Hancock, Huron, Knox, Ottawa, Richland, Sandusky, Wood, Holmes and Belmont) within a radius of ten miles from any premises quarantined on account of infection or exposure to infection with foot and mouth disease, and in counties of Class B (Allen, Auglaize, Brown, Champaign, Clark, Crawford, Darke, Defiance, Delaware, Fairfield, Fayette, Franklin, Fulton, Geauga, Greene, Guernsey, Hardin, Highland, Licking, Logan, Lucas, Madison, Mahoning, Marion, Miami, Montgomery, Morrow, Muskingum, Pickaway, Ross, Stark, Union, Van Wert and Wayne) within a radius of three miles from any premises quarantined on account of infection or exposure to infection with foot and mouth disease, and in counties of Class D (Preble, Putnam, Seneca, Williams and Wyandot) within a radius of five miles from any premises quarantined on account of infection or exposure to infection with foot and mouth disease. No restrictions apply to counties in Class C.

The federal quarantine of the state of Ohio has been modified in effect, which permits the shipment of live stock without inspection for immediate slaughter to points outside the state where federal inspection is maintained, from the following counties: Adams, Ashland, Ashtabula, Athens, Brown, Butler, Carroll, Clarke, Cleon, Clinton, Columbia, Coshocton, Cuyahoga, Delaware, Fairfield, Gallia, Geauga, Greene, Hamilton, Harrison, Highland, Holmes, Hocking, Jackson, Jefferson, Lake, Lawrence, Lorain, Madison, Medina, Meigs, Miami, Monroe, Morgan, Noble, Paulding, Perry, Pickaway, Pike, Portage, Ross, Scioto, Shelby, Stark, Summit, Trumbull, Van Wert, Vinton, Warren and Washington.

CHARLEY NEGLECTS

Still another divorce suit has found its way to the County Clerk's records, this time in the case of Mary R. Hard, who seeks permanent separation from her husband, Charles W. Hard. This unfortunate couple were wedded in National City, Calif., July 29, 1908, and were blessed with one daughter, now married and residing in Lincoln, Nebraska. Plaintiff alleges that defendant is guilty of gross neglect in that he has absented himself and wholly failed to provide for her during the past three years, also the daughter during that portion of the time the latter was living at home during the three years prior to her marriage. Plaintiff alleges that her living and that of her daughter during the period above referred to was secured by her own efforts. Neither does plaintiff know Charley's whereabouts. F. O. Phillips is attorney for Mrs. Hard.

Promissory Note Swindle Again

The venerable promissory note swindle is making therounds again. A large number of persons throughout Medina county were drawn partly into the vortex, but we have learned that no one actually "fell" for the payment of a note.

Sometime in early fall two dapper and voluble young men appeared at various homes in Medina village with a glowing proposition to send four or five magazines free for six months, with the only provision that if at the expiration of that time they were satisfactory, those who had been receiving them should pay $5.50 for a year's subscription. Upon a verbal agreement to do this the agents requested that the victim write his name and address upon a little pad which the former had at hand, merely as a "safeguard" against mistake.

The fore part of November these "safeguards" turned up in a local bank in the form of promissory notes. They were from a firm known as the Home and Country Publishing Co. This company it is said is located in Cincinnati, although the notes appear to have been placed originally for collection with a bank in Sylvania, O. They reached Medina, however, via a Cleveland bank in a regular way.

Each victim was notified of the notes by the local bank. Each victim, also, it should be stated, made a hurried visit to the bank. There were their names, just as if they themselves had written them. Suffice it to say that each and every note was vehemently protested, and although more than a month has elapsed, no further effort has been made by the company for collection.

In years gone by this sort of swindle was worked to death. Farmers galore were duped thus into buying farm machinery, and the game was employed in every conceivable way. In this latest case it is quite probable that the publishing company may prove to have been the real victim.

These agents may have been sent out in good faith to solicit subscriptions and promised liberal commissions.

In order to get these commissions and get them in a hurry, (which of course they would have to get in a hurry under the circumstances, if at all), they accomplished their purpose by forgery, in copying the names onto the notes. There are known to have been somewhere from six to ten of these notes sent to the local bank for collection.

H. B. Cavanaugh, auditor of the Southwestern road, was elected president of the Central Electric Railway Accountants' association at the annual convention in Dayton. Mr. Cavanaugh is well known here, having been with the Southwestern 16 years.

F. O. Phillips, who recently purchased the Chippewa Shale Brick Co., is installing three carloads of new machinery and will soon be in a position to turn out first class brick and tile. When completed it will be one of the best equipped plants in the state.

Miss Vera Hobart, accompanied by her attorneys, F. O. Phillips and F. W. Woods, left Tuesday for May's Landing, N. J., where Miss Hobart is plaintiff in a case for damages against a New Jersey railroad company for injuries received in the automobile accident a year ago when the wife and child of Ross Slabach were almost instantly killed. Miss Hobart and Mr. Slabach were on the front seat when the accident occurred, and though not physically injured to any great extent, Miss Hobart suffered so intensely from the shock that she has never quite regained her former vigor.

Sunday evening H. G. Rowe was roused from a nap only to discover the house filled with smoke. Hastening to the telephone he summoned his wife who was visiting at a neighbor's, informing her that the house was on fire and to hurry home at once. Then after a hurried dash up stairs where the children were asleep, he brought them to safety. All this and no sign of a flame. Grabbing a meat ax and assisted by several neighbors, relatives and would-be relatives a thorough search was made to discover the fire when, lo and behold, they discovered the baby's milk and strainer had been left on the kitchen stove. We know what was said by one exasperated man—but there happens to be a postal law.

The following officers were installed at Medina Chapter, O. E. S., Tuesday evening by the Associate G. Matron, Mrs. Lucy E. Bold: Netta F. Borger, W. M.; Gardner Wilder, W. P.; Effa Robinson, A. M.; Carrie R. Ainsworth, secy.; Susan K. Alden, treas.; Letha House, Cond.; Minnie Matham, A. Cond.; Jennie Hendrickson, chaplain; Aurilla Nichols, marshal; Mayme Van Epp, Adah; Sadie Bigelow, Ruth; Rose Warner, Esther; Kathryn Shane, Martha; Emma Barnabee, Electa; Lydia Reinhardt, warder; Dallas Warner, sentinel; Catherine Wise, pianist. Mrs. Brown, Gr. Adah of Colorado, acted as Grand Marshal and Emma Plank as Grand Chaplain. Luncheon was served at close of installation ceremonies.

Stock raising will be featured at the Agricultural Extension School which will be held at Leroy during the week of Dec. 28—Jan. 1. It is the subject in which the people of this community have signified that they are especially interested and for this reason the College of Agriculture has given it a prominent place in the program of the Extension School. While stock raising does not comprise the only type of farming in this community, it is one that will pay excellent returns if carried on as it should be. A week spent at the Extension School will give every farmer an opportunity to learn of the requirements and possibilities of stock raising. W. H. Palmer, an experienced feeder and breeder of the College of Agriculture will be the instructor.

In addition to animal husbandry, demonstrations and instruction will be given in soil fertility, farm crops, poultry raising and home economics. It will be the aim of the college instructors to inform the farmers of this community of the best and latest practices that can be adapted to their own farms. The school will last five days. Each day will be taken up with an interesting program in which both men and women can take part.

Extension Schools are the most important part of the extension service as conducted by the Ohio State University. They have been successfully conducted in all parts of the state and the demand this year has been greater than ever before. For these reasons the people of this vicinity should consider themselves fortunate in securing the school as many other parts of the state asking for them could not be reached.

FATAL AUTO ACCIDENT

Mr. A. C. Vaupel of South Jefferson street received word last week of the sudden death of his brother Charles and wife in California. The latter had been motoring from their home in Alameda to San Jose to spend the day when about midway toward home in the evening, for some exact reason for which is unknown, they met with an accident, which not only wrecked the machine, but which caused apparently instant death to both Mr. and Mrs. Vaupel. The latter was associated with a large hardware firm in San Francisco. The bodies were not found for some hours. Mr. Vaupel was a Mason and that order took it upon themselves to communicate with the father in Cleveland, the latter who had been a foremost business man of the sixth city for many years. The remains of Mr. and Mrs. Vaupel were interred in Sunset View cemetery in Berkeley, California.

PROBATE COURT

Petition filed for sale of real estate in guardianship of Asa W. and Gail Dean. Hearing set for Dec. 21 at 10 o'clock and order for notice issued.

Will of Mattie Bigham admitted to probate. W. G. Brumbaugh appointed executor.
