

LOOKING TO OHIO.

People of the Nation Waiting to Hear Her Speak.

They Expect Her to Stand by the Flag as Loyal as She Did in Vallandigham's Time and to Indorse Our Unparalleled Prosperity.

Hon. W. S. Manning, of Albany, N. Y., a leading Empire State republican, who is well known throughout Ohio, has written the following interesting letter to Chairman Dick, of the republican state committee, from Dubuque, Ia., giving some results of his observations on a long trip through the west. Mr. Manning says:

Dubuque, Ia., Sept. 23, 1899.
Hon. Chas. F. Dick, Chairman Executive Committee, Columbus, O.
My Dear Sir: Republicans throughout the western states, and, indeed, loyal Americans everywhere, are looking to Ohio to kindle into a living flame the beacon light of patriotism. They look to Ohio, the native state of our chief magistrate, to lead the column of loyal states, enrolled to sustain the administration in upholding the honor, the integrity, the credit and interests of our country, at home and abroad.

There was a time once when a man was nominated for governor of Ohio upon a platform opposing the government, then, as now, engaged in war, upon a platform then, as now, that gave aid and comfort to the enemies of our Union. Then Ohio proved her patriotism, and rolled up a majority never known before. No man then questioned the loyalty of Ohio, and her devotion to the Union. Ohio was filled with patriots then, and not until she changes that glorious record will the republicans throughout this land believe there are fewer patriots now than then in Ohio.

This is no time for men to indulge in personal antagonisms. All hostilities within the ranks of our party should be buried. All should unite to defeat a common foe. It is not a question of a man or men. It is a question of principles that the people should consider, as laid down in the platforms of both parties.

The republican platform stands for the Union; its integrity, its honor, its credit, based upon sound money, the welfare of the people, industrial protection, and a tariff to protect labor, in order to maintain the highest attainable wages for American freemen.

The democratic platform stands for opposition to the government, in time of war, thus giving aid and comfort to the enemies of our country. It advocates a policy of inflation and financial ruin, a tariff for revenue only, and not to protect labor and maintain American wages.

It is strange that men can be found to vote with a party proclaiming such a tissue of fallacious sentiments. It is strange that a man, depending for a living upon his wages, can vote with a party whose policy, such as it is, if enforced must bring with it, as it has always done in the past, distress, disaster and ruin, low wages, or no wages at all.

Prosperity exists throughout the land. There is a demand for labor, such as never was known. Railroads have not care enough to transport the traffic. Every line of industry is prospering. This condition of things is not an accident. It is manifestly the result of the wise policy of the republican party.

Does any one desire a change, or wish to go back to the days of Cleveland and democracy, when soup houses were the order of the day? What manner of man is he who would exchange the present glorious prosperity for the distress and disaster that followed the application of democratic doctrines, when that party were unwisely placed in full power and control of the government, only six years ago?

All loyal Americans believe Ohio will stand true to the Union and its flag of freedom, and will proclaim by her vote in November, that wherever that flag is planted there must it stay, the emblem of freedom and civilization. They believe the people of Ohio will rally around that flag as they did in 1861, and again record their verdict against those who dare to, by assailing the government, give aid and comfort to its foes.

Yours truly,
W. S. MANNING.

er went off to the capitol, called the free coinage senators about him in the cloak room, exhibited the check and extolled McLean as a patriot. A couple of weeks later Harris and McLean again met, and McLean gave the senator another check for $1,000 to help spread free coinage literature. Harris again extolled John to his free coinage colleagues.

A couple of weeks later John appeared in the room of the committee on the District of Columbia, and his face looked long and his voice was sad. He told Senator Harris that because of his advocacy of free coinage some of the rich people of Washington were trying to ruin him by destroying property values in which he was interested. Harris became properly indignant. McLean complained the house had passed a bill that would cripple the gas company. He was the largest owner, and the measure was aimed at him. The bill was now before Harris' committee, and he wanted to explain about it. Harris, of course, was certain that McLean was a victim of gold-bug persecution. He swore a mighty oath that McLean should be protected and that the obnoxious bill should never leave his committee, and it didn't. After the adjournment of congress John, at Chamberlain's one night, was having fun with some professional lobbyists. He told how the gas company for ten years paid $12,000 to prevent gas legislation at each session of congress, but that when he took the matter in hand himself it only cost the company $2,000. This explains John R.'s fondness for free coinage.

John R.'s plot against Bryan shows that he is no more sincerely for free silver to-day than he was when he "lobbied" with it to continue the extortionate profits of the Washington Gas company.

THE REPUBLICAN TICKET.

Some Good Reasons Why It Should be Elected.

To insure the continuance of national prosperity.
To maintain an honest and staple currency, in which all men have confidence.
To retain our sovereignty in the Philippines, and protect the stars and stripes from its enemies.

The republican party brought prosperity to this country, and it alone can continue it. History proves that prosperity forsakes the country when the democratic party is in control of national affairs.

A vote for the republican party is a vote for prosperity.
The fear of a change in our financial policy from the gold standard to the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 brought about a financial panic in 1896. We don't want a repetition of that panic. A vote for the republican party will prevent it.

The Philippines came to us according to the requirements of the constitution of the United States, by a treaty with Spain, ratified by the senate. President McKinley is bound by his oath of office to maintain peace, order and rightful sovereignty in those new possessions. Aginaldo, with his warriors, is trying to scare the country out of its constitutional rights. He is assisted in this seditious work by leaders of the democratic party. The republican party refuses to be intimidated out of the country's rights. A vote for the republican ticket this fall will be an endorsement of the republican patriotic policy.

Should Defeat McLean.

The McLean Hamilton county plan is that delegates shall be appointed. The old democratic way, which has run through the history of the party since its first organization, was for delegates to be elected.

When John R. McLean comes into the state of Ohio from his residence in Washington and undertakes this kind of imperialism, claiming authority to dictate who shall be democratic committeemen and who shall be delegates to democratic conventions, it is high time for the democracy of the state to rise up against him. It is an assumption of power and dangerous in the extreme, especially when coupled with an unbridled ambition.

There is something dearer to democrats than the dictum of a packed convention, dearer than resolutions passed by those who are known to have been collected by this self-constituted boss and virtual alien from the state, as un-democratic in his instincts as his residence is foreign to the state of Ohio.

There are sound, historic democratic principles and practices which every democrat ought to know and adhere to. Every democratic band should be raised against the man who would trample down the principles and rights of democrats and the well known and accepted principles of the democratic party in the election of officers and its delegates to political conventions.

The way to clean up the democratic party in the state of Ohio is to defeat this un-democratic alien, who has come into the state unasked by petition or resolution of any democratic body, yet who assumes the right to overturn democratic precedents and make himself a dictator of the party as well as governor of the state.—Cleveland Plain Dealer (dem.).

The Colored Voters.

No colored man who thinks of voting for Boss McLean should forget that several hundred colored men were imprisoned by McLean's police in Cincinnati to prevent their voting, and all of them were discharged the morning after election without a hearing. He is a fine man to ask for the support of colored voters!—Cleveland Leader.

To Prevent Prosperity.

If there is anybody who don't like good times they should accept John R. McLean's rag baby and stuff it with Billy Bryan's silver capsules. Nothing will prevent great prosperity around the world, and greater prosperity in this country than any other country in the world but a destruction of the public credit, such as is proposed by Bryan and McLean.

WOULD GERRYMANDER.

Democrats Have Planned to Capture the State Senate and the Ohio Delegation to Congress—Great Importance of the Election This Fall.

One of the many important points to be considered by the republican voters of the state in casting their ballots at the November election has been lost sight of in the general discussion of the issues of the campaign. Reference is made to the composition of the joint commission, composed of the governor, secretary of state and auditor of state, who, under section 11 of the constitution of Ohio, are charged with the work of redistricting the state for legislative purposes immediately after the taking of the federal census. Two of that commission, the governor and auditor of state, are to be chosen in November, and if the democrats should carry their state ticket, Secretary of State Kinney would be the minority of the commission, and powerless to act. Under this reapportionment it would be possible for the democratic majority to so fix the senatorial districts that the republicans of Ohio would be deprived of their proper representation in the senate, and that would be a very important thing in the election of the Seventy-fifth general assembly, charged with the duty of electing a United States senator to succeed Hon. J. B. Foraker.

The last reapportionment of the general assembly was in 1891, when Governor Campbell was the chief executive, but he was in the minority, the majority being made up of Secretary of State Ryan and the late State Auditor Hon. E. B. Poe. The reapportionment made by this commission was attacked in the supreme court by the democrats, but its constitutionality was upheld and legislatures have been elected under it ever since. The coming election of members of the house and senate will be under the fifth or last period.

If the democrats succeed in electing a majority of the members of the general assembly next month, the question of gerrymandering the state for congressional purposes will be determined. The federal census will be taken in June, and under the law it will be the duty of the legislature to redistrict the state for congressional purposes. If the democrats win, one of the most important political acts of that body will be along the lines mentioned, and the result will be that the republicans, who are in a large majority in Ohio, will be deprived of their proper representation. The Ohio delegation in congress now consists of 15 republicans and six democrats, but this would be reversed by the democratic managers if they had the power and it was possible to make up the districts so, even if they did look like a bootleg or a rail fence.

The election of the democratic state ticket, therefore, means the redistricting of the state for legislative purposes, so as to make almost impossible the election of a republican to the United States senate in 1902, and depriving the republicans of Ohio of their fair representation in congress. These matters are most important and should be kept in mind by every republican in the state of Ohio. They are of vital interest to the party, and mark the high stakes for which John R. McLean is playing.

Sherman Indorses Nash.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 27, 1899.
Charles Dick, Esq.
My Dear Sir: I can hardly express my solicitation for the election of Judge Nash as governor of Ohio. He not only deserves the hearty support of every republican for that position but is specially qualified to perform the duties of governor. He has been familiar, as a judge, with the duties of governor and will discharge them faithfully. The self-appointed candidate, Mr. Jones, ought not to receive the votes of republicans who have shared in the nomination of Judge Nash. All of us who have assisted in it, or are republicans, should give to Judge Nash their hearty support.

Very truly yours,
JOHN SHERMAN.

A Prediction.

"The journal would like to risk a prediction. The democrats are going to be unmercifully thrashed in Ohio. And they are going to suffer their punishment because they have abandoned the sound democratic policy of expansion, and have stupidly allowed themselves to be put in a position which no American party has ever occupied without ruin—the position of encouragement to armed resistance to the national government. Mr. McKinley has earned defeat by his own mismanagement, but his opponents are forcing victory upon him. Next week we shall see what they have accomplished."—New York Journal (dem.).

A Thought for Election Day.

After all the oratory of the campaign has expended itself, when the voter enters the booth to mark his ballot, two facts should control him: First, to provide well for wife and children I must vote to retain prosperity. This I shall do by voting the republican ticket.
Second, as an American I must vote to maintain the sovereignty of the United States over every inch of territory that belongs to us.

This also I can do by voting the republican ticket. Love of home and country shall inspire me to do my duty as an American citizen.

A Model Citizen.

You want clean, pure, able men at the head of affairs of state. George K. Nash is a model citizen. His public and private life alike is lofty and noble. It is one every young man can imitate with safety and honor.

Can the same be said of the other leading candidate for governor? Vote for honor, morality and public and private virtue, and your ballot will be cast for George K. Nash and the whole republican ticket.

Conventional Confusion.

"It is curious," remarked the Lay Figure, "that people think the dum-dum bullet poisonous."
"Not at all," rejoined the Unconscious Imbecile. "You see, immediately the dum-dum bullet enters a body it mushrooms. Now, most people don't know the difference between a mushroom and a toadstool, and a toadstool is poisonous. Curious? Why, it's the most natural thing in the world for people to think that of the other not one forget that he was a gentleman.—Detroit Journal.

They had been sitting together for half an hour.

"I have enjoyed our conversation so much!" she exclaimed, as she rose to go. "It is so restful to talk with you!"
And after she had left him he remembered that he hadn't been able to get in ten words edgewise throughout the whole conversation.—Somerville Journal.

The Fuel Problem.

"I suppose you had money to burn in the Klondike?"
"No," answered the man who had been lying by the hearth, "we didn't have anything but chunks of chilly, incombustible gold. We'd have paid a big price for a few scuttles of dollar bills."—Chicago Chronicle.

Try Grain-O! Try Grain-O!

Ask your grocer to-day to show you a package of GRAIN-O, the new food drink that takes the place of coffee. The children may drink it without injury as well as the adult. All who try it like it. GRAIN-O has that rich real brown of Mocha or Java, but it is made from pure grains, and the most delicate stomachic restorative without distress. 14c the price of coffee. 15c and 25c per package. Sold by all grocers.

His Last Fling.

As they bent solicitously over him, the man who had been kicked by a horse opened his eyes. "Have you any last wish?" they asked him.
"Yes," he murmured. "Have an automobile borne to the funeral."
Revenge, it seemed, was strong even in death.—N. Y. Press.

WOMEN do suffer!

Even so-called healthy women suffer!
But they are not healthy!

The marks left by pain are on the young faces of many of our daughters. Pain that leaves its mark comes from a curable cause. If that cause is not removed its influence reaches out and overshadows a whole life. The reason Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been so uniformly successful for over a quarter of a century in overcoming the suffering of women, is that it is thorough and goes directly to the cause. It is a woman's remedy for woman's ills.

MISS EMILY F. HAAS, of 148 Freeman St., Greenpoint, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:
"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I wish to state that I used your Vegetable Compound with the greatest success. I was very sick for nearly a year with hysteria, was down-hearted and nervous; also suffered with painful menstruation and pain in back and limbs. I often wished for death, thinking nothing would cure me. I had doctors, but their medicines did me no good. At last, by the advice of a friend, I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am happy to say it has entirely cured me."
JENNIE SHERMAN, of Fremont, Mich., Box 748, writes:
"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I feel that I must write you and tell you what your medicine has done for me. I had neuralgia of the stomach for two years, so bad that I could not do any work. I had two or three doctors, but did not seem to get any better. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills and improved from the first, had better appetite, and after taking three bottles of Compound and one box of Liver Pills, can say that I am cured. Your Vegetable Compound is a wonderful medicine."
