New Books.

The book department at Saar & Baisley's Drug and Book House is now being rapidly filled up with the best and most popular books of the day. Special attention has been given to the selection of blank books and stationery in order to make it more complete than ever before. The new styles of writing paper and envelopes are very attractive and very cheap. Albums both photograph and autograph were never so beautiful nor half so cheap. It is really wonderful how they can be made so very cheap. Books in sets or by the single one can be had for less than the binding cost a few years ago. Pocketbooks for ladies, pocketbooks for gentlemen, toilet sets for ladies and toilet sets for gentlemen, everything in fact that is useful, nice and attractive. This stock cannot be described in detail. It needs to be seen to be appreciated and everybody is cordially invited to step in at this house, examine the goods and see for themselves that they are not only very beautiful but very cheap.

Reader, Take Notice.

Among the many specialists, who treat chronic diseases, few if any who have had anything like the experience of Dr. Booth who is making monthly visits at this place. The doctor is President of the largest medical association in the west, with head offices at Muskegon, Michigan. This association is incorporated with a capital of $50,000. The home offices are supplied with apparatus for giving the celebrated compound oxygen treatment, also all the modern electrical appliances, in chairs, batteries, baths, cabinets, &c., in addition to this Dr. Booth for some years had charge of the largest anatomical apparatus ever in this country, containing Manikins, skeletons, dried and preserved men, charts, maps and wet preparations, showing every part of the human body, the best used in teaching anatomy, physiology and hygiene, thus giving the doctor a better opportunity for a close and careful study of the human body than could in any other way have been obtained. This added to his years of actual experience in the treatment of chronic cases places him far in advance of other specialists. In the treatment of private diseases of men, women and children, he knows no superiors and few equals. Unlike many others he makes no charges for examinations, rich and poor are received alike, their case carefully noted and no charge unless treatment is taken, the doctor's method in business as well as practice is honorable and his motto justice to all. Those wishing to consult the doctor will find notice of his next visit under head of Drs. B., S. & Co., in another column of this paper.

If so, you should know that only one person in thirteen can drink milk in any quantity without becoming bilious, and only one in eleven can eat honey without having a touch of the colic. Just better stay right here in this land, and get a blue-handled snow-shovel ready for winter.

The Behrens-Miller Contest in Defiance.

We clip the following from the Defiance Crescent, which will be of much interest to Napoleon people, as both the parties interested formerly lived here: Amanda Miller has at last come to the end of her tither and her career has suddenly been cut short. Her property is now beyond her control and she stands indicted on a charge that will probably land her behind the bars. The situation is this: When Amanda got the large sum of money from George Behrens, that has so often been spoken of, she gave him in return her notes to amount of $8,000. Afterwards Behrens lost these notes. He knew not what had become of them, but strongly suspected that Amanda had by some means or other regained possession of them. But such was not the case. Behrens the other day found the notes among his effects. He immediately sued them, and got judgment. It will require about all Amanda has to satisfy this judgment. Then she is in the hands of the prosecuting attorney on a charge that will likely land her in jail for at least a while. Thus all these years that Amanda has pilfered and all her ill gotten gains are lost and thus a life is wasted, and in her older days she is left penniless, and worse, friendless. Amanda's has been a notorious career but its ending is characteristic of the ending of all her kind.

To The Public.

Owing to our immense stock of dry goods, notions, boots, shoes, carpets and cloaks and the increase in our trade this fall over preceding years, we are compelled to move our large stock of ladies fine shoes in the basement, where we have arranged a very good shoe department, one that would be a credit to the city shoe trade. This move was a compulsory one, as with our increased stock on busy days, we were unable to show our many patrons our entire line of goods. Therefore by moving our shoe department down stairs we gain more space in which to show the most complete low priced stock of dry goods that ever entered Henry county. You can never do better than to follow our shoe department and secure a pair of those most elegant and ever comfortable ladies fine shoes, manufactured by A. J. Johnson & Co., and sold by Geo. H.
