

BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

WILLIAM HETZEL, PUBLISHER OF WESTERN RESERVE CHRONICLE. EMPIRE BLOCK, MARKET ST.

MANUFACTURERS.

G. S. NEWCOMB & CO., Blank Book Manufacturers, printers, and dealers in Legal Blanks, etc.

E. W. UPHAM, Manufacturer of Carriages & Buggies 2 miles south of Parkman Village, Warren Co., Ohio.

JAMESON & WHEELER, Manufacturers of Stoves, Pumps, Castings, Tinware, etc.

W. H. HULL CO., Manufacturers of Improved Steam Engines, Iron and Brass Foundries and Millwrights.

ALEXANDER MCCOY, Manufacturer and Dealer in Boots, Shoes, Leather Goods, etc.

PROFESSIONAL.

HITTELEY ADAMS, Fire and Life Insurance Agent, Warren, Ohio.

A. G. HINER, M. D., Physician and Surgeon, Office over Crandon & Co's Store.

HENRY J. HYDE, Attorney at Law, Office in Webb's Block, Warren, Ohio.

C. HAMILTON & SON, Physicians and Surgeons, Xenosportia, Ohio.

ALMON D. WEBB, Justice of the Peace, Soldiers' Claims Agent, and Fire and Life Insurance Agent.

ALBERT WATSON, Attorney at Law, Office on east side of public square.

GEORGE F. BROWN, Attorney at Law, Webb's New Block, Main Street, Warren, Ohio.

J. L. FULLER, Atty at Law, Office over Jameson's building, Market Street, Warren, Ohio.

BUCKINGHAM & DE WOLF, Attorneys and Counselors at Law, Cleveland, Ohio.

E. H. HANSEN, Attorney at Law and Prosecutor for Trumbull County, Office at the Old Clerk's Office.

H. H. HUGHES, W. C. FORREST, Attorneys at Law, Office over Freeman, Hunt & Co's Building, Ohio, Market Street, Warren, Ohio.

TAYLOR & JONES, Attorneys at Law, Office in the Rooms formerly occupied by Farnham, east side of Public Square, Warren, Ohio.

L. SPEAR, M. D., Electric Physician and Surgeon, Office over Sill's Store, Warren, Ohio.

JOHN L. CHAPPEL, M. D., Late Assistant Surgeon 27th U. S. V., L. S. has located at the corner of Main Street, Warren, Ohio.

F. E. & D. GIBBONS, Sole Agents, Office over McLean & Son's Store, Warren, Ohio.

Dr. F. A. BIERCE, M. D., Physician and Surgeon, Office and Residence in Sull's Block, residence east end of the Block.

A. S. WOODS, M. D., D. B. DILLON, Physicians and Surgeons, Office over McColl's Store & Shoe Store, east side Main Street, Warren, Ohio.

JOHN LOY & NELSON, M. D., Physicians and Surgeons, Office east of the Bank, Market Street, Warren, Ohio.

J. C. BOWMAN, M. D., Physician and Surgeon, Residence, Warren, Ohio.

MERCANTILE.

A. BARON, H. BARON, Dealers in Foreign and Domestic Dry Goods, Dress Goods, Genl. Furnishing Goods, etc.

C. S. FIELD, A. S. TURSEL, Dealers in Men's and Boy's Clothing, Hats, Caps, etc.

H. H. BARNETT, Dealers and Retail Dealers in American and Foreign Goods, etc.

RECOMBS, SMITH & ADAMS, Dealers and Retail Dealers in Foreign and American Goods, etc.

F. E. FAKE, E. FECK, Dealers in Foreign and Domestic Dry Goods, Dress Goods, etc.

W. S. & V. F. PORTER, Wholesale and Retail Dealers in Foreign and American Goods, etc.

J. J. JONES, J. J. MORAN, Dealers in Staple and Fancy Dry Goods, Groceries, etc.

F. E. FAKE, A. WENT, Dealers in Foreign and Domestic Dry Goods, Dress Goods, etc.

J. VAUGHN, W. D. ACKLEY, Dealers in Foreign and Domestic Dry Goods, Dress Goods, etc.

G. W. HENNER, Dealer in Fashionable Millinery, Rooms over McColl's and Sill's Stores, Warren, Ohio.

A. W. FAKE, Wholesale Dealer in Sealed, Canned, Preserved and Trimmings, and Manufacturer of Harness, Saddles, Trunks, etc.

J. J. FREE, J. B. SMITH, Dealers in Groceries and Provision, Warren, Ohio.

F. E. FAKE & WENT, Dealers in Groceries and Provision, Warren, Ohio.

CALKINS, GRIFFIN & Co's

Principals of the Commercial Department, Instructors in the Science of Accounts, Commercial Arithmetic, Commercial Law, and Lecturers on Business Customs.

UNION

BUSINESS INSTITUTE

Oberlin, Ohio.

S. S. CALKINS & C. P. GRIFFIN.

Principals of the Commercial Department, Instructors in the Science of Accounts, Commercial Arithmetic, Commercial Law, and Lecturers on Business Customs.

C. H. POND,

Principals of the Telegraphic Department, and Instructor in Practical and Theoretical Telegraphy, Messrs. Register, etc.

L. E. & W. A. DRAKE,

Principals of the Chirographic Department, Instructors in Specimen Penmanship—Plain, Copy and Joint Book Business, Banking, Commercial Penmanship, etc.

BOOK-KEEPING,

In Stock and Partnership Books, Wholesale and Retail, and in all the various branches of the business.

COMPLETE SATISFACTION

to our students. We are not a "liar" in any body's chain, neither do we claim to be a "liar" on a system.

TERMS:

Tuition for the Full Course, including Business Penmanship, Commercial Arithmetic, etc., $25.

Telegraphic Course, $25.

Chirographic Course, $25.

Book-keeping Course, $25.

For particulars, send for a Catalogue and Dec. 6, 1865-1866.

THE LITTLE GRAVE.

"It's only a little grave," they said, "but it's the grave of a noble man."

"And so they carelessly turned away, and he lay there in the quiet of the earth, and the stars looked down upon him from the sky above."

"I know the coffin was narrow and small, and you would have wept for an ample pall; but one man in his arms could have borne away the coffin, and I know that he would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

"I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by that form of clay; and I know that she had wept for an ample pall; and I know that she would have done so."

HEAR BOTH SIDES

A SKETCH OF EVERY DAY LIFE.

"I do think Mr. Smith is a perfect tyrant."

The speaker was a young woman, about five feet high, and she spoke to her husband, who was also young and just commencing business for himself.

"I do think Mr. Smith is a perfect tyrant," repeated Ellen, rather reprovingly. "Do you suppose I cannot judge of my friend? This was told me by one who would not stoop to falsehood."

"So it was told me by one whom I know I should not hesitate to trust in all matters relating to the conduct of my friend."

"Ah, then you have heard something about it!"

"Yes, Ellen, I heard you speak about it," repeated George, with a smile.

"Now listen, and you shall quickly understand it. You have told me that Mr. Smith is a tyrant. I know that he is a tyrant; but I do not know what he is tyrant over."

"I have my proof from one who does know," said Ellen, emphatically.

"Mrs. Arnold told me all about it."

"And isn't Mrs. Arnold a sister of Mrs. Smith's?"

"Then she is an interested person."

"Stop, George. You should not impugn the motives of Mrs. Arnold. You are getting into the wrong groove."

"Well, well," replied the young man, with a light smile, "let me ask you something. Tell me what he has done."

"I'll tell you what he has done," said Ellen, quickly. "Last Sunday morning he would not let his wife come to meeting. She got all ready to go and he locked the door on her and would not let her out!"

"Why did he do this?"

"Why, because he didn't happen to want to go himself, and he determined she shouldn't go. And only think she had made arrangements to take dinner with her sister, and he knew it."

"But how do you know this?"

"Why, I'll tell you. She told Mrs. Arnold about it, and Mrs. Arnold told me."

"And now, Ellen, let me tell you something," said George, betraying by his look and tone, that he was going to say something that would hurt her feelings.

"I'll tell you what he has done," said Ellen, quickly. "Last Sunday morning he would not let his wife come to meeting. She got all ready to go and he locked the door on her and would not let her out!"

"Why did he do this?"

"Why, because he didn't happen to want to go himself, and he determined she shouldn't go. And only think she had made arrangements to take dinner with her sister, and he knew it."

"But how do you know this?"

"Why, I'll tell you. She told Mrs. Arnold about it, and Mrs. Arnold told me."

"And now, Ellen, let me tell you something," said George, betraying by his look and tone, that he was going to say something that would hurt her feelings.

"I'll tell you what he has done," said Ellen, quickly. "Last Sunday morning he would not let his wife come to meeting. She got all ready to go and he locked the door on her and would not let her out!"

"Why did he do this?"

"Why, because he didn't happen to want to go himself, and he determined she shouldn't go. And only think she had made arrangements to take dinner with her sister, and he knew it."

"But how do you know this?"

"Why, I'll tell you. She told Mrs. Arnold about it, and Mrs. Arnold told me."

"And now, Ellen, let me tell you something," said George, betraying by his look and tone, that he was going to say something that would hurt her feelings.

"I'll tell you what he has done," said Ellen, quickly. "Last Sunday morning he would not let his wife come to meeting. She got all ready to go and he locked the door on her and would not let her out!"

"Why did he do this?"

"Why, because he didn't happen to want to go himself, and he determined she shouldn't go. And only think she had made arrangements to take dinner with her sister, and he knew it."

"But how do you know this?"

"Why, I'll tell you. She told Mrs. Arnold about it, and Mrs. Arnold told me."

"And now, Ellen, let me tell you something," said George, betraying by his look and tone, that he was going to say something that would hurt her feelings.

"I'll tell you what he has done," said Ellen, quickly. "Last Sunday morning he would not let his wife come to meeting. She got all ready to go and he locked the door on her and would not let her out!"

"Why did he do this?"

"Why, because he didn't happen to want to go himself, and he determined she shouldn't go. And only think she had made arrangements to take dinner with her sister, and he knew it."

"But how do you know this?"

"Why, I'll tell you. She told Mrs. Arnold about it, and Mrs. Arnold told me."

"And now, Ellen, let me tell you something," said George, betraying by his look and tone, that he was going to say something that would hurt her feelings.

"I'll tell you what he has done," said Ellen, quickly. "Last Sunday morning he would not let his wife come to meeting. She got all ready to go and he locked the door on her and would not let her out!"

"Why did he do this?"

"Why, because he didn't happen to want to go himself, and he determined she shouldn't go. And only think she had made arrangements to take dinner with her sister, and he knew it."

"But how do you know this?"

"Why, I'll tell you. She told Mrs. Arnold about it, and Mrs. Arnold told me."

"And now, Ellen, let me tell you something," said George, betraying by his look and tone, that he was going to say something that would hurt her feelings.

"I'll tell you what he has done," said Ellen, quickly. "Last Sunday morning he would not let his wife come to meeting. She got all ready to go and he locked the door on her and would not let her out!"

"Why did he do this?"

"Why, because he didn't happen to want to go himself, and he determined she shouldn't go. And only think she had made arrangements to take dinner with her sister, and he knew it."

"But how do you know this?"

"Why, I'll tell you. She told Mrs. Arnold about it, and Mrs. Arnold told me."

"And now, Ellen, let me tell you something," said George, betraying by his look and tone, that he was going to say something that would hurt her feelings.

"I'll tell you what he has done," said Ellen, quickly. "Last Sunday morning he would not let his wife come to meeting. She got all ready to go and he locked the door on her and would not let her out!"

"Why did he do this?"

"Why, because he didn't happen to want to go himself, and he determined she shouldn't go. And only think she had made arrangements to take dinner with her sister, and he knew it."

"But how do you know this?"

"Why, I'll tell you. She told Mrs. Arnold about it, and Mrs. Arnold told me."

"And now, Ellen, let me tell you something," said George, betraying by his look and tone, that he was going to say something that would hurt her feelings.

"I'll tell you what he has done," said Ellen, quickly. "Last Sunday morning he would not let his wife come to meeting. She got all ready to go and he locked the door on her and would not let her out!"

"Why did he do this?"

"Why, because he didn't happen to want to go himself, and he determined she shouldn't go. And only think she had made arrangements to take dinner with her sister, and he knew it."

"But how do you know this?"