FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1908.

Up and at 'em again, ye defeated.

WHAT'S the use of taking it to heart?

WHAT'S the use of shedding brine over the result?

This county gave Harmon a plurality close to 900.

It was again demonstrated that all the good men on the tickets could not win.

ONLY one office, prosecuting attorney, got away from the republicans in this county.

CANFIELD democratic good roads advocates have something to be thankful for, anyhow.

THE election of Judge Harmon for governor of Ohio by a plurality of at least 15,000 is assured.

In the next congress Ohio will have 12 republicans and nine democrats, a democratic gain of four.

GOV. HARRIS will call a special session of the legislature, to head off the possibility of the democrats electing a U. S. senator to succeed Senator Foraker.

THE defeat of Gov. Harris is calculated to cause temperance advocates to sit up and take notice, making the open fight as he did on a temperance platform.

ONE Missouri man and 22 sons and grandsons voted for Bryan Tuesday but it appears that sort of families were not anywhere near numerous enough to secure the election of the great Commoner.

TAFT carried Mahoning county by a plurality of 1,391, Harmon by 889, Kennedy by 1,130, Anderson by 614, Griffith by 3,029, Turner by 1,317, Jones by 1,618, Truesdale by 2,251, Westwood by 2,715, Kline by 2,012. Beard, the only democrat elected in the county, defeated Conroy for prosecuting attorney by 886.

Patmos.

NOV. 4.—Joseph Maris and family visited at Lucy Barber's Sunday.

Homer French hauled the packed barrels to the station Saturday sent to the Deaconess' Home.

Clyde Owens was in Youngstown Monday.

Ed Isoman and Allos Sigel were visitors at Mary Riley's Sunday.

B. F. Kegg and B. I. Greenamyre, with their wives, were in Salem Saturday.

Aitha Parmele and Margaret Walthman spent Saturday and Sunday in Tigor.

B. F. Regal was in Salem Tuesday.

Rilda Middleton and Elizabeth Stallsmith were in Berlin Monday.

Mrs. H. P. Stallsmith received word last week of the serious illness of her brother Jesse Stutler in Kansas.

E. Lambrooke, a traveling photographer, took a picture of the school here on Thursday.

Mrs. Levi Leyman, while sweeping the porch, fell off but luckily sustained no serious injury.

Four automobilists from Salem came out to C. F. Middleton's Monday night for a moon hunt. They hunted until 5 o'clock in the morning and their spoils were five skunks.

George Stallsmith and wife, Elias Stallsmith and Glenn Leyman visited at Fremont Middleton's Sunday.

Visitor's day at Goshen was well attended. Some were present from quite a distance and Rev. Bright gave an excellent sermon.

Youngstown.

Elma Sluder, aged 5, played with fire Tuesday night and was burned to death.

Judge Griffith ran like a whitehead, leading all the other candidates on the county ticket by several hundred votes.

Joe Kelly, a tramp, is in jail at Warren charged with stealing Dr. McGrannaghan's rig in this city last week.

Mary Beink, aged 6, struck by an Erie train Thursday and hurled into Crab Creek, was not much hurt.

Edward Watwood, an old citizen, died last week.

Mardi Gras celebration last Friday night was a great success and promises to be an annual Halloween event in the city.

Mrs. Solomon Frankle, mother of Max and Mose Frankle, the tobacconists, died Saturday after a short illness, aged 70 years.

City Solicitor Oesch has started 17 appropriation suits in Dearfield and Berlin for land for the proposed Berlin reservoir, embracing 230 acres. He also recommended that the city buy land offered by Mr. Gathman for a park on the southern border of the city.

Who was it held enough to declare that some lawyers are bar fixtures?

Dallas Wunderlin, a well known and popular citizen of East Lewistown, died last Saturday, aged 69 years. He is survived by his wife, one son, aged parents and two sisters. Funeral services were held Monday with burial in North Lima.

Winter blasts, causing pneumonia, pleurisy and consumption will soon be here. Cure your cough now, and strengthen your lungs with Foley's Honey and Tar. Do not risk starting the winter with weak lungs, when Foley's Honey and Tar will cure the most obstinate coughs and colds, and prevent serious results. John Taber, Canfield.

Teaching Industry Much Confusion as to Real Meaning

By DR. CHARLES W. ELIOT, President Harvard University.

HERE is a great deal of confusion about the meaning of the term "Industrial Education." Industrial education ought to mean trade schools and nothing but trade schools, that is schools directed primarily and expressly to the preparation of young men and women for the trades. All their whole time to the schools, just as they do to an ordinary high school; or by pupils who, being already at work, are allowed by their employers to give from six to twelve hours a week to the trade school.

In recent times we have begun to take a rather different view of education from that we used to take. We used to think of education as something which was going to last perhaps to the fourteenth or eighteenth year, or in extreme cases, to the twenty-fourth or twenty-sixth year. We no longer think of education in this way. Education should be continuous throughout life and particularly it should be continuous during the years of youth. The trade schools should be continuation schools for those children who are unfortunately obliged to leave the regular public school system by the time they are fourteen, or even earlier.

These trade schools will require that children be kept under the observation of the community up to the seventeenth or eighteenth year, and be absolutely required to attend a continuation school, for part time at least, if attending no other. Here is a considerable departure from former practice in American legislation.

We want these industrial schools, these trade schools for children of from fourteen to seventeen or eighteen years of age. But how are we going to get the children into these schools? Suppose we organize the schools; how are the children to be got into them?

In the first place by the help of law extending the limit of compulsory education. But how shall the decision be made that certain children will go into industrial schools, others into the ordinary high schools, and others again into the mechanic arts high schools? Where is that decision to be made? It must be a choice or a selection. Here we come upon a new function for the teachers in our elementary schools, and in my judgment they have no function more important. The teachers of the elementary schools ought to sort the pupils and sort them by their evident or probable destinies. I am afraid that strikes you at once as an undemocratic idea, but let us see whether it is undemocratic or not.

Advice. "Never marry a man to reform him, my dear," counseled Aunt Hephzibah. "If you do reform him he'll hate you for it, and if you don't you'll always be pitying yourself for having married a man who wasn't good enough for you."

Recipe for Plum Duff. Plum duff is a sailor's delicacy. Rub together one quart of flour, one-half pound of kidney suet chopped fine, one-half pound of raisins and one teaspoonful of salt; add one pint of water. Put in a rag or pudding mold and boil three hours.

Sound Advice. If you wish to be valued, make yourself scarce.—German proverb.

Limit Never Reached. A fool always finds one still more foolish to admire him.—Boileau.

SENTENCE SERMONS.

Nothing is saved by selfishness.

Courtesy always gives more than it costs.

No nation is any greater or better than its homes.

Religion for the praise of men has no power with men.

People who make trouble always talk of their trials.

True fruits are not unwilling to be hidden by the leaves.

The man who can be bought always thinks he cannot be caught by his buyer.

The greatness of any occasion depends on the man more than on the moment.

No man is good enough for heaven whose goodness does not make men happy.

He cannot make much of himself who thinks of making the most only for himself.

No man is so lacking in eloquence that he cannot speak the fine language of kindness.

Pessimism is the power of entertaining all the aches without eating any of the apples.

Sidestepping a moral issue is evidence not of intellectual agility but of moral obliquity.

The great difference between men is more likely to be in perspiration than in inspiration.

There may be more religion in cursing as though you liked it than in praying as though it hurt you.

Men will bother little over the breadth of your opinions unless you have, too, depth of convictions.—Chicago Tribune.

French Forests. France has three-fifths of an acre of forest to each inhabitant. That country imports annually $30,000,000 worth of wood. State forests there yield annually $1.75 an acre, and cost 95 cents annually.

Woman Took Dare; Posed on Chimney. Dared to climb a 125-foot chimney in process of construction at Torrington, Conn., Mrs. Guy Nodine mounted to the top and posed there several minutes enjoying the view. To get there she had to climb rickety ladders all the way.

ONE THING SHE WAS SURE OF.

Child's Impolite Comment Justified by Visitor's Behavior.

When Carol was nearly four years old her parents had occasion to move into another part of town, and one morning when a strange little girl wandered into the yard Carol, who is an only child, was delighted with the idea of a playfellow.

"Good morning, little girl," she called out brightly. "Did you come to play with me?"

The little girl, who was older and larger than Carol, stared and was dumb.

"What's your name, little girl?" Carol proceeded.

No answer.

"Are you five?"

Still no answer.

"Are you six?"

The child fidgeted and grinned, but remained silent with her finger in her mouth.

Carol surveyed her calmly a moment and then remarked emphatically: "Well, I don't know your name, and I don't know how old you are, but I do know you aren't very smart for your age!"—Delineator.

SOME LONG-WINDED PREACHERS.

Three Hours Once Considered Fair Average Allowance for a Sermon.

Dean Leffroy, who has expressed the opinion that ten minutes is long enough for a sermon, would have met with scant sympathy from some divines of past centuries.

Thomas Hooker considered three hours a fair average allowance for a sermon, though, on one occasion, when he was ill, he let his congregation off more lightly. Pausing at the end of 15 minutes he rested a while and then continued his homily for two hours longer. Crammer's sermons were each a small book when set up in type; and Baxter, Knox, Bunyan and Calvin rarely reached "Lastly, my brethren," under two hours.

George Herbert once said: "The parson exceeds not an hour in preaching, because all ages have thought that a competency;" but a certain rector of Billbury, Gloucestershire, was of another opinion, for he never sat down under two hours. The squire, we learn, usually withdrew after the text was announced, smoked his pipe outside and returned for the blessing.

Word from Br'er Williams. "De black crow not only don't know des how black he is, but he live an' die in de belief dat no mockin' bird kin beat him singing!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Danger in Idleness. By doing nothing we learn to do ill.—Watts.
