FRIDAY, MARCH 3, 1911.

The congressional lame ducks will probably begin waddling home from Washington Saturday night.

William Lorimer of Illinois will continue to serve as a United States senator. On Wednesday the senate by a vote of 46 to 40 declared that he was legally elected.

Atlee Pomerene, U. S. Senator-elect, on Thursday resigned as lieutenant. His successor as lieutenant will be Hugh L. Nichols of Batavia, Clermont county.

The Greeves bill legalizing Sunday base ball passed the house branch of the Ohio legislature Tuesday and it is believed it will pass in the senate.

YOUNGSTOWN

And here is more revival, and revival that should revive, for it is to be held every night during the year, and to be by the Gospel Workers' church in Brier Hill, the Rev. O. K. Wheelock pastor.

The Mahoning county bar has been identified with many excellent movements and done many admirable things, but it has done a few none more excellent or admirable than its endorsement of Judge U. C. DeFord for appointment as federal judge to succeed the late Hon. R. W. Taylor.

And another attempt to get the scalp of Chief of Police W. W. McDowell has failed. The chief refused to give the name of the parties, but in an interview with him and with Mrs. Watson the names of Detective James Watkins and Clerk Guy Jacobs figure.

Paul Mullin, an aged recluse who lived near Fairview, in East Youngstown, was trapped in his room Monday morning when a lamp overturned and set the place afire and was seriously burned.

An extensive addition is to be built to the Price Hotel, at Champion and Boardman streets.

May be it doesn't take some coin in the shape of taxes to teach the local young idea how to educationally shoot? Director of Schools W. N. Ashbaugh has figures to prove it will take $562,000 to run the school for the first year when the new valuation of property goes into effect.

The new bridge being built by the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company across the river at Struthers is nearly completed, and will be a great convenience. As a result of the new bridge many sheet-and-tube men are expected to build homes in Struthers.

Word has come from Lowellville that a special election will be held here March 10 to vote on the water-supply ordinance.

Big delegation of local Elks going to Cleveland March 7 to attend the dedication there of the Elks' new building.

Last Sunday evening about 150 of the members of the Columbiana Men's Personal Workers' league went to New Waterford, at their head attorney W. S. Anderson of this city, and organized a men's league there.

Mr. Anderson has become one of the most effective and successful churchmen in the state. He is not so notorious as Billy Sunday, but is far superior in all that becomes an evangelist.

No small number has learned with much satisfaction that Prof. G. A. Bricker, speaking before the Independent Farmers' Institute in North Lima last Saturday, took a few falls out of the highly-classical, frigid and faded education now so prevalent, the professor emphasizing that this is essentially an industrial era and that utility is more essential than common or high school or college ornaments such as Latin and Greek and other stuff seldom used except by high school professors.

There is much joy in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Williams and also in his sanctum of the Youngstown Journal, of which he is owner and editor, since last Sunday, when the stork arrived with a healthy, wholesome winsome boy who has been christened Byron Klein Williams.

Mrs. Catherine Barber, aged 73, born in Germany and the widow of Thomas Barber, died last Friday evening in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Frankford.

Mrs. Margaret Smith-Lowry, aged 83 and widow of James J. Lowry, died in the family home in Lowellville Friday morning. She was one of the oldest of the pioneers in this section and was born in Coltsville and had always lived in this section.

M. E. Caskey, vice president and manager of the local traction lines has resigned and will step down and out March 1. His resignation was accepted with regret.

One of Youngstown's best known citizens, having lived here for over 40 years, was Courtland Schroeder, who died in the City Hospital Sunday morning. He was 74 and came to this country from Germany when 14.

Walking in his sleep about midnight Saturday Joseph Barick fell down stairs in his boarding house in South avenue and was killed, his head being fractured. He was found dead at the foot of stairs Sunday morning.

Wilbur Ashby, 33 years old, a painter, son of James Ashby, of Mingo Junction, on Monday ended his life when repulsed by a woman. He had gone to the house where she was employed and inquired for her. When the door was shut in his face he walked to the street and drank a large bottle of carbolic acid, dying on the way to the hospital.

The Mahoning County Bar Association on Monday endorsed the candidacy of Judge U. C. DeFord, of this city, for appointment as federal judge to succeed Judge R. W. Taylor.

O, yes, on and after next Monday you can do business in the new court house. It's mighty fine, as taxpayers will discover before they are through paying for it.

Some folks here are wondering why it is that porthouse steak that is reported 12c per lb. in Sharon, 14 miles away, is along at 28 here. And why such a difference here in the price of oysters when the quality is practically the same?

Another roar has gone up about the city prison. This last yell was caused by the fact that from 6 o'clock Monday morning 103 arrests had been made, something that is unusual. It is declared the city prison is a disgrace, though it has a big department, one for women, a padded cell, inside closets and so on.

And another attempt to get the scalp of Chief of Police W. W. McDowell has failed. The chief refused to give the name of the parties, but in an interview with him and with Mrs. Watson the names of Detective James Watkins and Clerk Guy Jacobs figure.

Paul Mullin, an aged recluse who lived near Fairview, in East Youngstown, was trapped in his room Monday morning when a lamp overturned and set the place afire and was seriously burned.

There is much joy in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Williams and also in his sanctum of the Youngstown Journal, of which he is owner and editor, since last Sunday, when the stork arrived with a healthy, wholesome winsome boy who has been christened Byron Klein Williams.

Dennis O'Brien, an ironworker aged 36, was found dead seated in a chair in the bathroom of his brother's home, where Dennis boarded last Sunday morning. Coroner Cross found death had resulted from apoplexy.

GEORGE DICE CALLED BY DEATH

(Youngstown Telegram.) George E. Dice, a well known and highly esteemed young man who has been a resident of this city for two years, died in his home at 338 West Main avenue early Saturday morning following a short illness. His death was unexpected, he being taken ill Monday when at work.

George E. Dice

usual, but in half an hour was overcome with illness. He was removed to his home where two days following, fever developed.

The deceased was born in Franklin, West Virginia, 25 years ago, and lived his early life there, earning his trade and working for several years in that place. Six years ago he removed from there to Morefield and from there came to this city.

At the time of his death the deceased was a member of the First Presbyterian church of this city and was also a member of the Typographical Union, No. 200, of this city. He was very well known among the printers here.

The deceased is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Dice of Franklin, W. Va., two sisters, Edith and Nan and two brothers, Sherman and William, all of Franklin. His wife, Lulu, who was attendant at his bedside, also survives. The funeral was private and was held from the residence at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. Interment was made in Belmont park cemetery.

Shortly after the noon hour Friday Irvin Ruhlman, Frank Paulin and Sylvester Covert of Woodworth drove to the Evangelical church with a 2-horse load of good things of every description for Rev. Myers and family; nor was the good horse at the barn forgotten. After unloading the wagon, they presented the pastor a purse in behalf of the people of Woodworth.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Good of Youngstown attended the funeral of Roy Snyder Monday.

Roy, eldest son of William Snyder and wife, died Saturday morning after an illness of over a year with a complication of diseases. He was 19 years of age, having been born in North Lima Dec. 25, 1891.

"Foley's Honey and Tar is the best cough remedy I ever used as it quickly stopped a severe cough that had long troubled me," says J. W. Kuhn, Princeton, Neb. Just so quickly and surely it acts in all cases of coughs, colds, laryngitis and lung trouble. Refuse substitutes. F. A. Morris.

SALEM

The stock of the Wellworth shoe store was sold last week to Alliance parties and Mr. Levy, the late owner, will return to his old home in Cincinnati.

John Paulos, formerly of this city, was tried at Marion this week on charge of stealing a gold watch from a man on a train several weeks ago.

Edward Carille, a brother of Mayor Al Carille, died Friday in the state hospital for epileptics at Gallipolis. Deceased was 55 years of age and a native of Salem. The remains were brought here and funeral services Monday afternoon were conducted by Rev. M. J. Grable. Burial in Hope cemetery.

A Cleveland man purchased the Stranahan confectionery store and took charge of same the first of this week.

P. J. Brennan, the well known horseman, who some time since filed a petition in bankruptcy, has asked the courts for his discharge.

A good many residents of this city have of late been in the past through get-rich-quick schemes, but it would be too much to expect that there would be no more such foolishness, despite frequent warnings.

John N. Kennedy, 73 years old, died Saturday at the home of his son, Albert. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon and the remains were taken to Mansfield Tuesday for burial.

The Elks will elect officers Thursday night and a banquet will follow at which C. S. Speaker of Lisbon will be the guest of honor.

The Campbells will move their book store early next month from the room in the Metzger hotel building to quarters in the Masonic block.

A. M. Carr's cow sale last week attracted a large crowd and quite a number of fine animals were sold.

Harry James of this city was last week found guilty in Mayor Hinchliffe's court in Lisbon of having illegally handled stimulants.

Capt. Ryan, who was connected with the local Salvation Army, the past year, left Monday for Columbus where he will make his home and continue in the service of the Salvation Army.

"Kinky" Nelson was fined $200 and costs by Mayor Hinchliffe of Lisbon for illegal liquor selling and after arranging for payment of same he was released Sunday night.

Fred Keffer, who has been living on a farm near Hickory for several years, will return to the city next month and resume work in the Silver Mfg. Co. plant.

Last Sunday for the first time since the new order became effective, carriers' windows and the general delivery window at the postoffice were closed and the postoffice employees enjoyed a full day of rest.

The Woodruff Stove Co. men were laid off Saturday night. It is said the sale of the plant is contemplated.

Mrs. L. T. Pow and daughter, Miss Margaret, spent Sunday with Cleveland friends.

The Agricultural Extension school opens Monday in the First Presbyterian church, the state instructors being Prof. F. E. Bear, E. F. Rinehart and D. W. Galehouse.

Plans are being perfected by the shareholders of the men's club to open a grocery to be known as the Salem Store Co. A part of the capital stock has been paid in and articles of incorporation will be filed in the city next week.

The Bell Telephone Co. has secured a lease of another room in the Victoria block, which gives the company the entire building in which the exchange has been located for ten years, and extensive improvements are being planned by manager J. K. Slitt.

W. H. Stiver, employed in the Deming plant, fell the other day and painfully injured one of his legs.

Peter Harding, long a member of the street cleaning force, died Monday night of paralysis with which he was stricken a week before. He was 57 years old and leaves several children. Funeral services Thursday afternoon with burial in Hope cemetery.

Washingtonville lodge of Knights of Pythias conferred the Knight rank on five candidates in this city Wednesday night. A large number of members of the order in this city and neighboring towns witnessed the excellent work of the degree team.

Word comes from Lisbon that Mayor Hinchliffe will hereafter refuse to hear outside liquor cases in his court, believing that each municipality in the county should take care of its own cases.

Miss Hattie Hofmann of Greenford visited friends here this week.

THE SPENDING HABIT produces joys which are but momentary and which are sure to be followed by lasting regrets and often by the pangs of poverty.

THE SAVING HABIT gives contentment for the present and promises prosperity and comfort for the future.
