FRIDAY, APRIL 28, 1911

Gov. Harmon is having his troubles with the legislature and has asked for a joint caucus of the democratic members of the house and senate...

The trial of an ordinary criminal case by a jury composed of men whose wealth approximates $100,000, such as occurred at Akron the past week, is quite out of the ordinary...

Now some of the democratic newspapers are hurling hot shot at Congressman John J. Whitacre of this district because he voted against the Canadian reciprocity measure...

Friends of State Librarian C. B. Galbreath are making heroic efforts to have him retained in office, but they will hardly succeed...

THE NEW TAX LAW.

Taxpayers generally will be interested in the new Ohio tax law which became effective January 1, 1911, fixing a maximum levy of sections 1, 2, and 3 of the law are as follows: Section 1. In any taxing district, the taxing authorities shall levy a tax sufficient to provide for sinking fund and interest purposes...

Section 2. The maximum rate of taxes that shall be levied for all purposes, by the taxing authorities of any district, on the taxable property therein shall not in any one year exceed ten mills on each dollar of the tax valuation of the taxable property of such district for that year, including the taxes levied under authority of Section 1 of this act...

BERLIN CENTER

A meeting of the Berlin Center Alumni association was held Monday night at the home of Mary Woolf. The following officers were elected: President, Ward Myers; vice president, Harry Wilson; secretary, Hazel Hoyle; treasurer, Thurman Diehl...

YOUNGSTOWN

It is claimed by those who should be in position to know that Attorney E. H. Moore of this city was tendered by Gov. Harmon the position of state insurance commissioner, a job that pays $4,000 a year, but Mr. Moore could not see his way clear to give up his law practice for so small a salary...

Ed. Peebles, deputy state fire marshal, is an avowed candidate for the democratic nomination for mayor. Ever since Edward was nominated for representative several years ago he has been ambitious to land a county or city office...

It takes a small army of men to take care of the new court house, one man devoting his entire attention to keeping the floors in the windows and doors free of dirt and dust.

Miss Westlake, charity worker, has been appointed assistant county detective to take the post of matron of the juvenile court, the law making no provision for a matron. She will assume her duties next Monday.

Charging Abe Millstone of the clothing firm of Silverman & Millstone, is the husband who deserted her eight years ago in Russia, Mrs. Pearl Feldman caused his arrest Tuesday. Before Squire Welsh she charged him with bigamy. He was married three years ago in Pittsburgh and has one child. His partner and himself call the charge absurd...

At a recent meeting of the local camp of Sons of Veterans J. E. Bentley was elected captain, J. F. Votaw first lieutenant and P. L. Probert second lieutenant.

John Stewart resigned as night ticket agent at the Pennsy station to accept a place in the shipping department of the Mullins plant.

A number of relatives from this city attended the funeral of Mrs. Margaret Queer in Alliance Sunday. She was 82 years old.

Mrs. Mary Hiddleston, wife of Thomas Hiddleston, died last week after a long illness, aged 71 years. She is survived by her husband and adopted son, Philip. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon and burial was made in Hope cemetery.

At a recent meeting of the county good roads association it was decided to start the paving of about 13 miles of roads as follows: Two miles of East Palestine on the Lisbon road toward Lisbon; two miles out of East Liverpool toward Lisbon on Lisbon road; two miles out of Wellsville on Salineville road; and one and one-half miles out of Lisbon toward Salem on Salem road; two miles out of Salem on Winona road; two miles on road leading from West corner of Depot street and Franklin avenue on the night of Jan. 20, 1910.

B. S. Ambler of Washington, D. C., formerly of this city, has been granted a temporary injunction against the collection of back taxes approximating $12,000. Mr. Ambler's defense is that the taxes claimed were assessed against him when he was a non-resident of the state and had given up his residence in this city.

Prosecuting Attorney L. P. Metzger of this city had a birthday, just what one is not definitely known. Tuesday, and while at Lisbon, what others and friends found it out and gave him a large bouquet of carnations.

A vulcanizer in the auto cycle garage on West Main street exploded Tuesday morning and did damage estimated at $500. Fortunately no one was injured.

Perry Lodge, F. & A. M., will be inspected Friday night by J. C. Davis of Toronto, a brother of W. P. Davis of this city.

While at work Monday at the American Cash & Register Co. plant Glen Sheehan, aged 18, got one of his knees too near a circular saw with the result that an artery was cut and he will be laid up for some time.

It is noted that considerable building is being done in the city.

ELLSWORTH

April 26—Miss Emma Lovelock entertained a number of friends at her home Saturday night. The evening was pleasantly spent with music and games. A fine supper served by Mrs. Lovelock. Those present were Misses Nora and Hulda Gordon, Grace Kennedy, Edith Brown, Myrtle Rose, Messrs. Edward Lovelock, Darius and Harry Brown, Francis Allen and Floyd Ross.

Mrs. R. O. Leonard of Youngstown spent Saturday and Sunday here. Miss Angie Stroup of North Jackson and Beaman Young of this place were united in marriage April 19.

Mrs. Amelia Dakin is quite ill. Mrs. J. P. Smith is among the sick. Frank Broadword of North Jackson visited with his parents here, Sunday.

NEW ALBANY

The literary society will give an entertainment in the school house Friday evening.

Roads are beginning to show some improvement.

Many fruit trees are being set out by farmers in this locality.

SALEM

April 26—Millions have been added to the tax list in Columbiana county by the State Tax Commission. The valuation in this city has been boosted 40 per cent. And despite this fact there will be a shortage of funds to meet public requirements if the one per cent tax measure becomes a law.

What remained of the Triem clothing stock and the store fixtures have been sold by Trustee Schur to Cleveland parties.

Last Saturday the Stark county commissioners adopted a resolution requesting that Stark county be permitted to withdraw from the agreement to build a joint county tuberculosis hospital. The counties interested in the proposed hospital are Columbiana, Stark, Portage, Summit and Mahoning. Just why Stark county desires to withdraw is not known.

After all, this city is to have a baseball team that will make other clubs in this locality go home. Amusement park has been leased for a ball field.

Work has been started on two miles of sewer to be laid in the city during the next few months.

George Scullion and Miss Erma Heapes of this city went to Youngstown last Saturday and were united in marriage.

George Dunlap of this city, sentenced to the Canton workhouse last week by Judge Farr at Lisbon, because he failed to provide for his wife, has been given a chance to be good, work having been secured for him at the sewer pipe plant.

Dr. Cruikshank, who has been very active in promoting a hospital for this city, has resigned as a member of the board of trustees of the Hospital Association. He thinks the prospect of the city having a hospital soon is not glittering.

At a recent meeting of the local camp of Sons of Veterans J. E. Bentley was elected captain, J. F. Votaw first lieutenant and P. L. Probert second lieutenant.

UNIQUE STORY OF WHEELER

Senator Dolliver of Iowa Enjoyed Telling Tale About Distinguished General of Late War.

The late Senator Dolliver of Iowa enjoyed telling this story about Gen. Joe Wheeler, the dashing confederate cavalry officer, a distinguished general of the Spanish-American war and the Philippine insurrection, and for a long time a member of congress from Alabama, writes A. J. Watrous, lieutenant colonel U. S. A., retired, in the Washington Herald.

Mr. Dolliver said: "I was passing along Pennsylvania avenue the day after war was declared in 1898 and met Uncle Joe Wheeler. The most of us always called him Uncle Joe, and he rather liked it. Uncle Joe called out, 'You are just the man I want to see. Go with me to the White House.'

"I am Afraid He Does Not Take Kindly to it."

I want you to say a good word for me to President McKinley."

"I am willing to do anything I can within the bounds of reason, Uncle Joe, but what do you want me to do or say?"

"I want you to ask the president to make me a brigadier general of volunteers and send me right to the front."

"Oh, Uncle Joe, you don't want to do any more fighting. You are too old to encounter the hardships of active service in time of war."

"There is where you are mistaken, Senator Dolliver. I am still as tough as a pine knot. Will you go?"

"Of course I will, Uncle Joe, and we went. I told President McKinley what Uncle Joe had said and put in as strong an appeal as I could for his appointment. I thought there was a dampness about President McKinley's eyes that was a little unusual and that there was a tremor in his voice when he said, 'General Wheeler, I will let you know in a day or two.'"

"When we left the White House Uncle Joe was still a little nervous. 'I'm afraid he does not take kindly to it,' he said. 'I think he does, Uncle Joe; I believe he will appoint you.'"

"Senator, I hope so, with all my heart. Nothing in this wide world could possibly please me as much as to have the right to put on the uniform of the army and take a part in this war."

"To tell the solemn truth, there was a dampness in my eyes, and I did not make any reply to Uncle Joe's remark."

"A few days after that the president sent a batch of appointments of generals and in the batch appeared the name of Uncle Joe as a major general of volunteers, a higher rank than he had asked for."

"As you know, those were hurrying times. Uncle Joe rushed around and got his uniform as soon as possible, was given a division to command, and helped to win glory for the American army and the American nation, both in Cuba and in the Philippine Islands."

Prospective Value of the War.

An officer from Louisville led one of Rosecrans' regiments into battle, his superior having been called to other duty. In the advance this man's son fell by a confederate bullet. The father saw him fall, but could not stop to care for him. Narrating the circumstances, the bereaved father said, with the tears fast falling from his eyes:

"My boy, you know, is gone. I was in temporary command of the regiment, and as we were pressing on I saw my boy fall. I could not turn back to him, so I said to a soldier: 'Look to Johnny,' and went on, and we did the work we went to do."

"Do you still hold to the idea you expressed when you and I talked over the questions of this war before? Do you feel now as you did then?"

"Certainly; I feel we are doing this work for ourselves and children, and for those who are to come after us. Of course, I am very sad, but the cause is just the same as before—only more sacred than ever."

A Reliable Medicine—Not A Narcotic

Mrs. F. Maril, St. Joe, Mich., says: "Our little boy contracted a severe bronchial trouble and as the doctor's medicine did not cure him, I gave him Foley's Honey and Tar Compound in which I have great faith. It cured the cough as well as the choking and gagging spells, and he got well in a short time. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has many times saved much trouble and we are never without it in the house."

F. A. Morris, Canfield.

"Not necessarily; it wasn't her wedding."
