NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

—Roller skating craze has struck Alliance hard.

—A farmers' institute will be held in Lordstown Jan. 27-28.

—Daniel J. Powell, a prominent citizen of Damascus, died Sunday, aged 56.

—There will be no delivery of rural mail next Thursday—Thanksgiving.

—Considerable oil is being pumped from wells in the locality of New Middletown.

—Correspondents will confer a favor by sending in news items early next week on account of Thanksgiving which the printers desire to properly observe.

—Mrs. Melinda Kwie, who lives with her daughter one mile west of Leavittsburg, is 114 years old and is still able to lend valuable assistance in work about the house. She is probably the oldest and best preserved woman in Ohio.

—An appreciative reader in West Austintown writes: "Enclosed find one dollar for the Dispatch. I hope the noisy legislators who have selected newspapers from all the industries of the U. S. to make restrictive laws for, may not discourage you from continuing to give us as good a paper in the future as you have given us in the past. Legislators are only men and their wisdom may pass with them."

—John Crum, one of the pioneer residents of Mineral Ridge died at his home there Tuesday morning, death being due to paralysis. He suffered a stroke about four years ago, but had been confined to his home but one week. He was born in Ashtabula Sept. 16, 1843, and when but a small boy moved with his parents to this county settling near Mineral Ridge. Since then he had resided in this vicinity. He leaves one son, W. J. Crum, a teacher in the Youngstown schools. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon and burial was in the Kerr cemetery.

—Open hunting season in Ohio is a very expensive time, both in money and the loss of human life, yet few people would think the ammunition bill would run into millions of dollars. The hunting season opened Friday and every day from now until it closes Ohio will burn up $265,000 worth of ammunition. It seems impossible, at first glance, but the figures are those given last year by one of the oldest and most conservative financial papers of the East. This means that Ohio's ammunition bill for one month in hunting season is $7,950,000—and some people still insist that the people are putting all their money into automobiles.

A STATE THAT SHOWS HOW.

Statistics just made public show that Missouri, aided by some of her neighbors, produced one-half of the nation's bumper corn crop. In a great many other respects this great agricultural state heads the list as a producer, and it is notable, also, that her thrifty people do their work without making much noise about it. It has been shown in the past that Missouri grows more strawberries than all the other states put together, and in the event of war in any part of the world, Missouri in the past has been able to supply all the mules that might be required to do the hard work of an invading army. The people out there appear to have formed the good habit of producing, and thereby set an example the following of which would surely reduce the cost of living.

There are hundreds of millions of acres of untilled land in this country that will in time, no doubt, be utilized in providing food for our growing population. In the last 35 years the population of the United States has doubled. We have now 100,000,000 and if the same ratio of increase is kept up we are likely to have double that number by the end of the next quarter of a century. It will be necessary to feed these myriads, and Missouri is showing us how to do it.

Reducing the cost of living is a great problem, but it is not too great to be solved. The people of all the states must do what the people of Missouri have been doing—draw their subsistence from the soil. If one state can produce almost half of the greatest corn crop on record those of a statistical turn of mind will be enabled to draw inspiration and encouragement by figuring out what the crop would be if all the states would produce in proportion.

BULGARS READY TO TALK PEACE

KING FERDINAND AGREES TO AN ARMISTICE WITH THE OTTOMAN GOVERNMENT.

BULLETIN.
Constantinople, Nov. 20.—Bulgaria has nominated the commander-in-chief of her army at Tchatalja to meet the Turkish commander at Amkeul today to negotiate an armistice.

London, Nov. 20.—Bulgarian plenipotentiaries have been appointed to arrange a general armistice with the Turks and to proceed with the conclusion of definite peace. In a message sent to the Turkish grand vizier, Czar Ferdinand said:

"The Bulgarian government, after agreement with the allied cabinets of Servia, Montenegro and Greece, informs the ports that plenipotentiaries have been appointed to arrange with the commander-in-chief of the Turkish armies the conditions of an armistice and subsequently to proceed with the conclusion of peace."

Ferdinand's move comes close upon reports that his army has been checked in its march on Constantinople. It is not believed, however, that he will be forced to recede from the demands he has already made, including the retention of all captured territory. Constantinople may be internationalized.

Turkish Army Rallies.
While the Servians are rejoicing over surrender by the Turks of Monastir, there was total suppression at Belgrade, the Bulgarian capital, of all news relating to the progress of Czar Ferdinand's army before Constantinople.

It is believed here the Bulgarians have met at Chatalja with a resistance altogether unexpected, considering the shattered condition of the sultan's army.

There were reports the Bulgarian left wing gained slight advantages in the neighborhood of Derkos in Tuesday's fighting, but as against these reports Nasim Pasha notified the Turkish government officially of continued Ottoman successes all along the Chatalja line.

Another War Scare.
With a vision of peace taking outline over the worn-out Balkan states as a result of Bulgarian notification to Turkey that she and her allies had appointed peace plenipotentiaries, a new war scare has reared itself to the north of the Turkish domain and diplomatic circles express fear lest it become an open declaration of hostilities.

Austria is the aggressor and Serbia the threatened nation. The Vienna Reichspost, the official organ of the Austrian government, openly declares for war; Emperor Francis Joseph vents his wrath at the Servians, and the Vienna ministers show themselves in complete accord with their sovereign.

Emperor Francis Joseph, enraged at the occupation of Alessio, an Adriatic port, by the combined Montenegrin and Serbian armies, is reported to have said: "We are in favor of peace, but not peace at any price."

REMOVES CITY POLICE CHIEF

Mayor of Canton, O., Takes Office After a Hard Fight for Over a Year.

Canton, O., Nov. 20.—One of the first acts of Mayor Schilling when he took office was the suspension of Chief of Police Smith. Patrolman S. A. Lengel was made chief of the force. Smith is now under charges of having accepted $25 "protection" money from a woman who has been running a disorderly house. He has given bond to appear for arraignment.

Schilling, who took the office Nov. 19, fought for the place for nearly two years. He was elected as a Socialist. In the count of the votes at the election he was three ahead of A. R. Turnbull, the Republican candidate who was up for re-election. The board of elections claimed to have found three fraudulent votes and threw them out. This made the count a tie and the candidates agreed to guess odd or even on the number of kernels of corn in a cup. Turnbull guessed right and retained the office. Schilling took the contest into court and the case was removed to Youngstown on a change of venue. Judge Barnum of that city decided the other day that Schilling was legally elected as it was found that Schilling was three votes ahead.

HOLD ROOSEVELT ASSAILANT INSANE?

ALIENISTS DECIDE THAT JOHN SCHRANK IS CRAZY, ACCORDING TO REPORT.

Milwaukee, Nov. 20.—That John Schrank, who shot Col. Theodore Roosevelt on the night of Oct. 14 is insane, will be the substance of a unanimous report of the five alienists appointed by Judge A. C. Backus to examine into the prisoner's mental condition. It was the statement of a court official, presuming that Schrank will be found insane, it will be impossible to try him on the charge of attempting to kill Col. Roosevelt. The only alternative is confinement in the hospital for the criminal insane.

Because there was a leak in the report of the insanity commission which was named to pass on the sanity of John Schrank, Judge A. C. Backus threatens to discharge the commission and name a new board. The leak is blamed by the judge to District Attorney Zabel, who was accused by local newspapers of giving out a summary of the report to publications to which he was friendly. The court threatens to punish every one concerned heavily for contempt. The commission, according to the statement given out, had decided unanimously that Schrank was insane and upon this report the trial would have ended automatically and the assailant of Col. Roosevelt sent to an asylum uncurd.

GOOD ROADS MEN IN SESSION

First Annual Congress of American Association for Highway Improvement Opens in Richmond.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 20.—The first annual congress of the American Association for Highway Improvement convened here today. The congress will adjourn on Nov. 24. All the road associations in the United States and Canada which were affiliated with the American association when it was inaugurated last year were well represented at the opening meeting. These comprised 23 state and interstate organizations. In addition to these delegates, many highway engineers and officials, legislators and manufacturers of road machinery, are among the delegates.

FIND FOUR BODIES IN CANAL

Police Uncover Corpses of People in "Crime Sewer" After Waters Recede From Stream.

Indianapolis, Nov. 20.—Four bodies have been uncovered by the receding waters of the canal known to the police as "the crime sewer," which is being drained. The first body given up was that of an unidentified baby. A brick was fastened about its neck with a ribbon. Blanche Kimple, 17, of Peoria, Ill., was another victim. A hole was found in her forehead. William Phebus, another victim, is believed to have fallen into the canal accidentally. Another body of a man showed no marks of violence.

Woman for Vice President.

Salt Lake City, Nov. 20.—Mrs. Margaret Jane Witcher, county clerk of Salt Lake county and one of the Taft electors, will receive Utah's electoral vote for vice president of the United States. The project was launched by Eph Homer, another Taft elector. A telegram will be sent to the Vermont Taft electors asking them that they join with Utah in casting their vote for Mrs. Witcher for vice president.

Allens Granted Respite.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 20.—Gov. Mann of Virginia respite until Dec. 13, Floyd Allen and his son Claude Swanson Allen, both condemned to die on Friday for their complicity in the murder of Judge Massie's court room in Hillsville, Va.

McKelvey's THE BIG STORE

Sale of the Boston Dry Goods Company's Stock In Progress This Week.

The Boston Dry Goods Company of Boston, Mass., have for many years been rated among the most reliable and trustworthy importing and jobbing houses of America. Their great buildings sheltered nothing but the finest dry goods the world's mills produced. Their progressive business methods kept this merchandise constantly moving so that when the time came to close out their business by the quickest method—the Public Auction—the hundreds of merchants present secured only the choicest, reasonable new goods—but at prices in some cases 50 per cent under value.

The prompt, judicious action of our New York buying syndicate secured for us many thousands of dollars' worth of the Boston Dry Goods Company's stock at a tremendous low price. Two solid carloads of this merchandise is now in our store.

All dry goods departments worked overtime to get this merchandise ready for the sale which began Tuesday morning, Nov. 19. Never in the history of this store have we ever secured such a grand lot of merchandise at such ridiculously low prices.

Not the stock of a retail store, but all new, crisp, clean, reasonable merchandise of the highest standard. Goods that you would proudly put into your home.

The Technical Way Out.
Of Sabbath-breaking north of the Tweed there is the story of the Scot and his wheelbarrow, which has been fathered upon Sir Archibald Geikie. Donald was hammering away at the bottom of his garden when his wife came to the door. "Mon," she said, "ye're making much clatter. What will the neebours say?" "Dom the neebours," said the busy one. "I maun get ma' barra mendit." "Oh, but Donald, it's vera wrang to work on Sawbath," expostulated the good wife; "ye ought to use screws."

Masks for Reading.
The bookseller displayed a kind of muzzle—a contrivance of silk and wire to fit over the mouth and nostrils. "Reading mask," he said. "Latest thing from Paris. It is worn at the Bibliotheque Nationale by the students of old books and manuscripts to prevent the inhalation of disease germs."
"Those age volumes are nests of germs. In the great French library masked readers are as common as masked motorists in the boulevards."

Foul or Fair Weather.
Small Wallace accepted an invitation to a party, as follows:
"Dear Louis: I will come to your party if it don't rain" (then thinking that he might have to stay home in that case)—"and if it does."

Many Canfield Citizen Knows How Sure They Are.

Nothing uncertain about the work of Doan's Kidney Pills in Canfield. There is plenty of positive proof of this in the testimony of citizens. Such evidence should convince the most skeptical doubter. Read the following statement:

Eli Rhodes, Canfield, Ohio, says: "I still use Doan's Kidney Pills when my kidneys are out of order, and I think just as highly of them as when I made a statement in 1906. You may continue to publish that testimonial. The pains I had were something awful. My back was occasionally so lame that I could not get out of bed without assistance. I frequently got up seven or eight times at night and to stand, they deposited sediment. I suffered from these troubles until I could stand the misery no longer. A friend told me that Doan's Kidney Pills had cured him of kidney trouble and I got them at Morris' Drug Store. I noticed relief from the second box. I was encouraged and continued using Doan's Kidney Pills until I had taken six boxes. By that time I was well. For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States."

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
