OME—A world of love shut in a world of strife shut out. Where each lives for the other, and all for God.

HOLIDAY LEFT-OVERS.

Take the legs from a cold roast turkey, make some incisions across them with a sharp knife, season with pepper, salt and a dash of cayenne; squeeze over them a little lemon juice and place them on a greased broiler over a clear fire until nicely browned. Serve on a hot dish with bits of butter on top of each.

Mince chicken in a white sauce served on toast is a most appetizing dish which will use up even small bits of cold roast chicken. The bits of breast mixed with equal parts of celery and a bit of salad dressing will go a long way, with good bread and butter, in satisfying a luncheon appetite.

The livers of turkey or geese, if cooked and pounded to a paste with seasoning of lemon juice, mustard and salt, make a good substitute for pate de foie gras.

Plum pudding and any rich fruit cake which may have been cut, but is good to serve again, if carefully wrapped may be re-steamed and served with a sauce, which varies each time, and the pudding will seem entirely new.

The carcass of the Christmas turkey or chicken may be the foundation for a good, deliciously flavored soup. Break the bones and put them on covered with cold water, bring to the simmering point and simmer for several hours; add milk, bind with a table spoonful or two of butter melted and bubbling, to which has been added as much flour. Cook in the strained soup and pour over a well beaten egg. Serve hot.

Delicious fruit salads and desserts may be prepared from the fruits left over from the holiday table. The combination of orange, banana and pineapple, or grapes with a rich sugar syrup poured over the finely cut fruit and served with whipped and sweetened cream is always a favorite dessert.

Bits of salted nuts too small in quantity to serve again as salted nuts, may be cut fine and added to the cookie mixture. They are much more appetizing if a trifle thick, and may be served in place of cake with ice cream.

HE world would be more happy and the mass of people in it just as wise, if they would whistle more and argue less.

COMPANY DISHES.

During the holiday season, when there is much entertaining done, a few suggestions may be helpful. The following mince meat should stand some time in season before using: Use a third as much boiled meat as chopped apple, a cup of raisins, a cup of currants, a half cup of shredded citron, one-half pound of chopped suet, a half cup of candied orange peel, a half cup of chopped almonds, a pound of brown sugar, the juice of a lemon and an orange, with mixed spices to taste. A half ounce would be sufficient for this amount.

A cup of grape jelly or a cup of grape juice will improve this recipe. One may add individuality to the mince meat by various seasonings. Marshmallow Pudding.—Scak a fourth of a cup of candied cherries in orange juice to cover over night, then cut in small pieces; cut fine a half cup of walnut meats, add a half pound of marshmallows cut in small pieces, a cup of heavy cream, two tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar and a half teaspoonful of vanilla. Mold and chill.

Frozen Pudding.—Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of powdered gelatin in half a cup of hot water. Cook together a cup of sugar and a cup of water until it forms a thread. Add to this sirup the beaten yolks of three eggs; beat until cool, then add the gelatin. Fold in two cups of whipped cream, a cup of mixed chopped nut meats, a half pound of candied fruits and a half cup of raisins which have been soaked over night in orange juice. Freeze. The candied fruits may be added when packing, and if in layers the dish is very pretty.

If desired, a sauce of sweetened and flavored whipped cream may be served with the pudding.

Nellie Maxwell.

He Begins to See. "When I first hit town," remarked Farmer Heck, "I uster stand on a corner and wonder how all these city people managed to live."

"Well," "Well, seeing as they have got $30 out of me in four days, it ain't such a mystery after all."

In Periodical Fashion. The late John M. Palmer was one of the wits of public life. When he retired from the senate he was not discouraged, but said: "I come into fashion about every ten years in Illinois."

DYNAMITERS WILL HELP BUILD PRISON

CONVICTED MEN TO BE USED BY GOVERNMENT ON THE NEW STEEL BUILDING.

Leavenworth, Kan., Jan. 2.—For the last time in many months to come for some and several years for others, the 33 dynamiters who arrived at the United States penitentiary here Jan. 1, heard their names called as they stepped from the train. Henceforth they will be known by numbers only. The government is constructing at the federal prison one of the largest penitentiaries in the world and much steel enters into the building. In the past there have been hundreds of men who could be used for common labor, such as brick making and shoving wheel barrows, but iron workers were scarce. Now there will be plenty of material to pick foremen and other skilled men in iron, for the east cell house is shortly to be roofed and nearly all of its construction is of steel.

Prisoners Are 'Dressed In.' The 33 prisoners, 44 guards and five newspaper men in the "dynamiting special" rode into the saltpeter of the prison at 8:10 p. m. in the morning, just 30 hours after leaving Indianapolis. The prisoners were lined up in twos and their names called alphabetically. Anderson and Berry led the line of march with Mike Young bringing up the rear. They passed through the second steel barred gate into the big prison yard and train and deputies were left behind. The march ended at the office of Deputy Warden Mackey, where the prisoners were "dressed in," such information as the prison authorities desired being given and the clothing of the prisoners searched. Each one gave up some little trinket, watches, pocketbooks, etc., which were placed in an envelope to be returned to them upon their completion of sentence.

Charles Beum, a former member of the ironworkers' executive board, broke down and wept like a child when a picture of his wife and children was taken from him. Frank M. Ryan, president of the ironworkers, had a rosary, a prayer book and 38 cents. "Nipper" Anderson was the plutocrat of the bunch, giving up $51. Several of them did not have a cent. From the deputy warden's office the men were taken to the office of the record clerk where additional information was given and their finger print records taken. They were taken back to this office this morning for their Bertillon measurements.

Don Conviot Garb. They were taken to the bath house, where they were required to bathe and give up their citizens' clothing, convict garb being exchanged for such. Some of them went to the barber shop and had their mustaches shaved off, among them being Ryan, Tveit-moe and Butler. At the noon hour the 33 marched into the big prison dining hall for their first meal inside the penitentiary and were seated before the other convicts were marched in. It was a sad procession and some of them held their heads low, both on the march and at the table and several did not eat. The first meal consisted of vegetable soup, boiled beef, parsnips, brown gravy, bread and water.

Herbert S. Hockin was the most bitterly despised man in the bunch and all of the other men had it "in" for him. On the way from Indianapolis the men dubbed the train the "Hockin" special and each man feared he was to be assigned to a cell, these being for two prisoners, with him. But the officials of the prison, scenting possible trouble, placed Hockin in a cell by himself. The men were all given numbers. President Ryan was given the first number, it being 8,420, and the last one to be numbered was Charles Wachtmeister of Detroit, his number being 8,452. The first numbers were given men with the longest sentences and the last was for the man with the lightest sentence, one year and one day. Ryan was placed in a cell with Michael J. Young of Boston.

Auto Hits Car, Eight Hurt. Akron, O., Jan. 2.—Five people are lying in the City hospital in a critical condition and three others are at their homes seriously bruised as the result of a street car hitting an automobile at the corner of Buchtel-av and Union-st. The auto, which was being driven by Samuel Wein, president of the Wein Tailoring Co., and which contained seven others beside the driver, was turning into Buchtel-av from Union-st when it was hit squarely in the center by a loop line car. The auto was thrown 30 feet against a telegraph pole and demolished.

$19,000,000 to Fight Tuberculosis. New York, Jan. 2.—Almost $19,000,000 was spent in the anti-tuberculosis campaign in the United States in 1912, the total showing an increase of nearly $4,500,000, or 29 per cent over 1911. These figures are given in the fourth annual statistical statement of expenditures in this movement by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. Of this year's expenditures, 65.6 per cent came from federal, state, county or municipal funds.

COMPLYING WITH LAW

NATIONAL PACKING CO. STARTS FINANCIAL 'UNSCRAMBLING.'

Files Petition in New Jersey to Reduce Its Capital From $15,000,000 to $1,000,000. Chicago, Jan. 2.—The National Packing Co., which the government insists on card-indexing as the beef trust, started in the new year by divesting itself of some evidence of an unpleasant past. As the last step but one toward its obliteration from the industrial world, it filed with the secretary of state of New Jersey a petition to reduce its capital from $15,000,000 to $1,000,000.

This action follows the physical dissolution of the company, which was compelled by the department of justice last July on threats of civil prosecution, following an ineffectual effort to sustain criminal charges against the company's officers. At that time the plants and other properties were divided among the Armour, Swift and Norris interests, stockholders receiving shares in proportion to the amounts they held.

The financial "unscrambling," however, has proved a more intricate matter. The National Packing Co., as such, had much money going out and a lot more coming in when the government smote it between the eyes. In the parlance of make a new book. This work has proceeded down to a point where $1,000,000 capital is considered sufficient to cover all contingencies between now and the day of final interment.

GIVES BIRTH TO FIVE BOYS

Louisiana Woman Will Only Be Able to Mother Three, as Two of the Babies Died. Abbeville, La., Jan. 2.—Five male children, all perfectly formed, were born to Mrs. Audrey Lassen, wife of a local carpenter. Two of the children were dead at birth, but the others lived. The babies were born at intervals of from five minutes to more than an hour. The smallest of the children weighed 22 ounces, and the largest tipped the scales at slightly over five pounds. Physicians in attendance say that other than the unusual number of the children there were no abnormal circumstances attending the births.

Mrs. Lassen weighs nearly 300 pounds, while her husband weighs 140.

TO END BIG STRIKE IN GOTHAM

Conference of Manufacturers and Garment Workers Who Are Out is Sited for Today. New York, Jan. 2.—It was stated on good authority that machinery would be set in motion today toward a quick settlement of the strike of the 90,000 garment workers in this city. The information came from a man intimately acquainted with the leading employers. He said a conference between representatives of both sides would be held today. Both sides, he said, wish to bring about a settlement without the assistance of the chamber of commerce, the peace forum or the department of labor.

The strikers declare that overtures have been made to them already by a number of the manufacturers to have the strike called off at their establishments.

Talk Father to Death. Sandusky, O., Jan. 2.—Paul Leroy, a gangster, died of heart disease in the Royal theater, a moving picture house, while trying to answer questions concerning the film story, put to him in rapid succession by his two little children who were sitting by his side. Leroy told an acquaintance who was sitting behind him that he was "all in," gasped and fell forward. Leroy until recently lived at Findlay.

New Use for Chewing Gum. Who hasn't had difficulty in dislodging a cinder from the eye? Some-times one can succeed with a corner of a handkerchief, but frequently the cinder is too deeply imbedded to be got out in that way. It would be hard to find a more sticky substance than chewing gum. The next time you see any one with a cinder in his eye, just chew a piece of gum till it becomes soft and pliant, twist it to a fine point and you will find as soon as you touch the cinder with it out the cinder will come.—Leslie's Weekly.

SULZER IS SWORN IN NEW YORK'S NEW GOVERNOR TAKES OATH OF OFFICE.

Executive of Empire State and His Predecessor, John Alden Dix, Walk to the Capitol.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 2.—New York's new governor walked to the capitol to take the oath of office Jan. 1, and his predecessor walked along with him. It took exactly half an hour to make a governor of William Sulzer and an ex-governor of John Alden Dix. There were crowds and speeches, and a sprinkling of gold mounted national guardsmen, but in the main the ceremonies were as simple as those of that far-off day when Thomas Jefferson is chronicled by some historians as having ridden on horseback to Washington and tied his horse to a congressman—or a hitching post—while he went in to be inducted into the great office.

In the evening Mr. Sulzer, who had spent the afternoon receiving his well wishers in the executive mansion, returned to the capitol and sent a list of appointments to the senate.

His message was as direct and straightforward as his inaugural address, and made a deep impression upon the majority of both houses of the legislature.

The swearing in of Sulzer took place in the assembly chamber, which was jammed to the doors. The chamber was handsomely decorated with flags and bunting.

On the stage were Mrs. Sulzer, Lieut. Gov.-elect and Mrs. Martin H. O'Connell, Senator O'Gorman, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Randolph Hearst, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Belmont, Clarence J. Sherman and all the former state officers and officers-elect.

Gov. William N. Ferris, Democrat, Michigan, took the oath of office Jan. 1.

Eugene N. Foss, Democrat, began his third term as governor of Massachusetts Jan. 2.

William T. Haines, Republican, became governor of Maine Jan. 2.

Samuel D. Felker, Democrat, who obtained a majority at the polls in New Hampshire, but did not get enough votes to elect, will be chosen governor by the legislature.

LIVES OF SEVEN BLOTTED OUT

Men Are Killed When Work Train Crashes Through the Bridge Into River Below.

Huntington, W. Va., Jan. 2.—A few minutes after a passenger train on the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad had passed over a bridge spanning the Guayandot river near here, a work train, carrying 30 or more iron workers, crashed through the structure into the river.

Seven men were killed and others are supposed to be buried in the debris at the bottom of the stream. Twelve of the workmen who were injured were taken to hospitals or homes.
