WASHINGTONVILLE WAVELETS

Bright, breezy paragraphs telling the happenings in the village on Mahoning's Southern Border.

By Peter M. Herald

Death rides on every passing breeze, and lurks in every flower...

Our eyes have seen the rosy light of youth's soft cheek decay...

Our eyes have seen the steps of age halt feebly to the tomb...

An extra session of congress has been called to convene on April Fool's day.

Leetonia people are very hopeful of getting the steel plant at Grafton furnace.

Eggs are quoted here at 24 cents a dozen, and butter at 26 to 42c per pound.

Mrs. David Summerville entertained the ladies' home sewing circle Thursday night.

We are now living under a democratic administration. Can anybody tell the difference?

Morg DeJana has moved back from Allegheny and occupies the Katy Wings property on 14th street.

The Hitchens bill has passed the Ohio senate, which puts state convicts at work manufacturing road materials.

Andy Masso has bought the Charles Daniels property, and Mrs. Laura Tellow Campbell has bought the Thomas Longbottom property.

Special delivery has recently been applied to parcel post. A special delivery stamp must be affixed.

Frank G. Graham of Cleveland, a brother-in-law of Marguerite DeJana, is in the sanitarium at Colorado Springs, Col., and is the first patient in America to take Dr. Friedman's cure for cancer.

J. D. Woods was home from Aurora a few days this week. "Moody" has just passed through a siege of the grip and looks a little worse of the wear.

The Woods family appear to be having their trials by sickness.

Prof. J. W. Moore of Youngstown, a former superintendent of the Washingtonville and Leetonia schools, and a former masonic lecturer of this district, was presented with a Master Mason's apron by the lodges of the 24th district in session at East Liverpool on Thursday last week.

The Bible contains 3,566,480 letters, 773,746 words, 31,173 verses, 1,189 chapters, 66 books. The word "and" occurs 46,277 times, the word "Lord" occurs 1,855 times.

Another "thick" side of Leetonia Saturday night, when a machine miner of this village was returning with near $90 of pay upon his person.

Two men stood about 15 feet away and demanded his pay. He felt for his hip pocket and told them to "come and get it, you sons of guns."

By a postcard from Dr. C. W. Cowan, we learn that war in Washington City on Tuesday during the inauguration of Woodrow Wilson.

The doctor has the frosts of 82 winters upon his head and whiskers; he voted for the first republican president and every one of his best friends.

Remember, when he supported the democratic national ticket. His business has taken him to nearly every state of the union and the dominion of Canada, and he looks good enough for another hundred years or so.

The first day of March marks the close of the open season for killing raccoons, and the attention of hunters is being called to this fact by game wardens in this vicinity who are ready to prosecute all violations of the game laws.

As a courtesy to Miss Clara Woods of Washingtonville, whose marriage to Thomas Hutcheson will be celebrated early in March, Mrs. S. S. Mickle and Mrs. Mary McPherson entertained at a charming dinner party at the latter's home on East Fourth street Friday evening.

Pink and white was the color scheme carried out in the dainty appointments, and pink candles at each place with a candleabra the center lighted the table on which covers were laid for 12 guests.

The enjoyable diversion of the evening was cards and music. —Salem News.

Rev. Earl Les preached a 15th cent sermon in the Methodist church Sunday night, using the "Growth of the Church" as his theme.

Of course that was an intolerant age, and the mother church of today does not hold itself responsible for the acts of its fathers.

It was the religion of a nation was also its politics. If we wish to be correctly informed as to what the Catholic church teaches, we consult "The Faith of Our Fathers" by his eminence Cardinal Gibbons.

All churches, both Catholic and non-Catholic, use the same Lord's prayer, the same Apostle's creed, the same Confession of Faith, etc.

They all demand money, pay their pastors, have parsonages, houses of worship, hospitals, orphanages, parochial schools, and demand good and loyal citizenship of their members.

As a matter of faith, they all have hope of heaven.

A crowd of young men from here attended the show in Youngstown on Tuesday.

Percy Tetlow was home from Columbus over Sunday and was not feeling well.

Wm. Holt and grandson visited a few days with his son Robert in Dunlap, Pa., the past week.

Miss Winnie Edgar of Mt. Vernon is visiting her sister, Mrs. Earl Lea, in the Methodist parsonage.

Winter, with its sudden changes, is particularly trying on old people, and young ones of sedentary habits.

A couple of musical soons were here from Leetonia Tuesday night and made a few times and drinks with guitar and mouth organ.

Mrs. O. Bossert is still confined to bed with nervous prostration, and her brother, Gideon Woods, is improving.

The teachers of our public schools accompanied by Miss Mary Fitzsimmons attended the lecture on Agriculture in Leetonia Monday evening.

Glen Davis and Clarence Baker have secured employment in the Great West works in Leetonia.

August Henry returned to his home in St. Mary's, Ind., Monday morning after a short visit with his sisters, Mrs. Rosa Girard and Mrs. Emil Guchemund.

Word reached here Monday night that Miss Sylvia Lightner had died suddenly on the streets of Youngstown that day; but the story lacks confirmation.

Joseph Aldridge, a prominent member of Burnside Post, G. A. R., of Leetonia, has moved into one of the Jos. Frederick houses south of the new school building.

The old-fashioned ball given in town hall Saturday night was well attended, both by home patrons and many from surrounding towns.

Those in charge are about $35 to the good, and have decided to give another dance March 15.

The county commissioners have arranged to sell lot 637 in Nold's addition to Leetonia and place the money in the county treasury.

The property belongs to Emma Howell, an inmate of the infirmary, who will likely end her days in some public institution.

Miss Jess Selby, of Washingtonville, went to Pittsburgh Monday morning where she will enter St. John's hospital to take a course for a trained nurse.

Mrs. Mary Woods, Washingtonville, was a Sunday guest of her sister, Mrs. William Heaps, Woodland avenue, Salem News.

John W. Berger of North Georgetown, a student of Wittenberg college, Springfield, Ohio, and a former student at Mt. Union, succeeded recently in carrying off quite a number of books from the library society.

The Philosopher, in the Inter-Society Debating contest. He won the second place among a large number of contestants.

The selection was from Ben Hur, "The Chariot Race." Otto Lasker, an aged man of Leetonia, was brought before Judge Farr in the probate court Saturday afternoon and arraigned on a charge of having furnished liquor to Tillie McCoy.

Lasker told the court that he was guilty and he was fined $10 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in the county jail.

After warning him concerning a repetition of the offense, Judge Farr agreed to suspend the jail sentence and allowed the old man to go home as soon as he settled the fines and costs imposed upon him.

One reason why Judge Farr was disposed to be lenient was that he had evidently "gotten in wrong" when he paid attention to the McCoy woman and plainly showed the marks of a beating which he received at the hands of Robert Bell at his home two weeks ago.

Bell was also brought into court and was arraigned on a charge of assault and battery. He entered a plea of guilty, and was fined $25 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in the county jail.

He had gone to the home of Lasker and had beaten him unmercifully. Both men were sent into Judge Farr's court by Mayor Ballentine, of Leetonia.

Jobe Babb, a native of England, a coal miner by occupation and a long time resident of this village, died Sunday morning, aged about 73 years, after more than a year's ailment with lung trouble and frequent hemorrhages.

He is survived by his son Alfred Babb and his daughter, Mrs. Jobe.

William Fisher died from a nervous breakdown at 4 o'clock Tuesday morning, aged 47 years and 6 months. He had been on the decline for more than a year, but the collapse came suddenly.

He is survived by his widow (nee Sarah Tetlow), daughter Elsie and little son William; besides two brothers, John and James, and one sister, Mrs. John Fynes. Wm. Fisher was born in England in August, 1865, and came to America with his parents when less than a year old.

His youthful days were spent in various occupations among the factories of New York state and New Jersey, and after locating in this vicinity he mined coal in the upper vein of Cherry Valley mine until he embarked in the saloon business, which proved his undoing.

He had many kindly qualities, took much pride in his person, and in his children's education. He had many friends, but was too good to himself. Funeral will take place from the home Friday afternoon, with interment in Grandview burial park at Salem.

Hutchinson, at whose home he received good care until his death. He carried a policy of life insurance, and died as he had lived, without a known enemy, a harmless and law abiding citizen. Funeral services were held at his late home at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Rev. L. W. Gross of the Lutheran church officiated, followed by interment in Oakland cemetery.

There are now 123 inmates in the county infirmary at Lisbon.

The driveway through Oakland cemetery is said to be in need of repair.

Wednesday was the monthly payday for gas bills, paid to H. A. Gager at Weikart's store.

The Salem News reports $150 from the sale of red tags in Washingtonville. Wish this were true.

Palm Sunday, March 16, followed by Easter the following Sunday, being the end of the lenten season.

Miss Eptha Wilson was off duty as teacher Wednesday forenoon with a beaded jaw, and Miss Marie Weikart was made the substitute teacher.

The old veterans who once wore the blue were kindly remembered by Uncle Sam this week, circulating a few hundred dollars in gratiation here.

Saul Kyser has moved to New Philadelphia, and his daughter, Mrs. Warren Wilson has located in Detroit, Mich., where she is reported to be married again.

The Dramatic club has bought Mrs. R. E. Schaffner's square piano for $65. As town hall is in need of an instrument of this kind, this piano may finally land there.

Arthur and Edwin Johnson have taken charge of the Johnson meat market and will continue to make semi-weekly delivery of beef and pork through the village.

Mrs. Margaret Summers of Leetonia was granted a divorce by Judge Moore in common Pleas court Monday from Elmer Summers who was granted the custody of her two minor daughters aged 11 and 3 years.

The collection taken at the close of the school literary entertainment last Wednesday night was $9.65. This will be applied toward new books for the library. A drama will be given in the near future for the same purpose.

There are not enough miners working at Millville to justify a check-weighman, so Dick Holland who has filled that position for the miners is now being retained by the company as weigh boss. This shows that both miners and operators have confidence in Dick's honesty.

A ground squirrel discovered that there were several bushels of nuts in Weikart's store and proceeded to help itself Wednesday noon, but the school youths who went in to test the shocking machine made quick work of the "grunny."

In the case of Elmer Coyle, administrator of the estate of the late John Gogaware, of Columbiana, against the Pennsylvania Railroad company, judgment in the sum of $4,000 was given by the federal court at Youngstown Tuesday.

Gogaware, Gogaware and his son were killed by a train at the Pennsylvania crossing at Columbiana. Preaching Sunday morning and evening at Lutheran church; also Sunday school and Endeavor Society.

James Paisley will be leader for the Endeavor meeting "Men in the church" will be the subject of the evening sermon. A cordial welcome extended to all at the various services of the day. L. W. Gross, pastor.

Mrs. Laura Thompson, for many years a resident of Leetonia, died of dropsy at her home there Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, in her 77th year. Buried in the Lisbon cemetery at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Besides her sister, Mrs. Morrison, Otto Lasker, she is survived by her son, Frank Thompson, and a granddaughter, Susie Thompson.

Elden Holt was in Cleveland on Wednesday buying improved machinery for use in the Leetonia Tool works. Should the million dollar steel plant locate in that village it will likely buy everything for miles around and may absorb this village, which would be entirely satisfactory to us.

Options are being taken there on building the mill, and the redoubtable are being worked into high expectations. "Frogtown" may yet be of some earthly use when cleared of swamps and malaria, and Leetonia may be a strong rival of Youngstown in the iron and steel industry. Here's hoping.

The Lutheran ladies Aid Society met at the home of Mrs. James Weikart Tuesday night and have the following financial report to submit concerning their Red Flag week in aid of the church building fund: Receipts from social and supper Saturday night, $35.17; expenses of same, $10.75. From baking and sale of homemade candy, $12.20. The last report from sale of tags was $35. The Aid society donated $15. The men secured $63 on subscription. These ladies are untiring workers in the interest of the church and are surely entitled to be called "Aid Society."

Ed Frankford and family visited at the home of Mead Lynn in Canfield Saturday and Sunday.

Measles are the fashion in and around the Corners.

The sewing circle met at the home of Gilbert Rowe last Friday, sewing and discussing the fashion of the day.

B. Culp is housed up for several weeks with grippe and asthma.

Harry Shoop bought a cow at the Callahan & Miller sale in Canfield.
